EXPLANATORY NOTE

HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Fund L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (“HSEC,” the “Fund” or the “Registrant”), is filing this registration statement on Form 10 (the “Registration Statement”) with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”), to provide current public information to the investment community in anticipation of the Registrant being required to register under Section 12(g) of the Exchange Act in the future and to comply with applicable requirements thereunder.

In this Registration Statement, except where the context suggests otherwise:

- the term “Aggregating Partnership” refers to HSEC Holdings L.P., a Delaware limited partnership that is intended to be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes through which HSEC and the Parallel Funds will conduct their investment strategies;
- the term “Business Day” is any day other than a Saturday, Sunday or any other day on which banks in New York, New York are required by law to be closed;
- the term “Delaware Parallel Fund” refers to HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Delaware Parallel Fund L.P., a Delaware limited partnership intended to be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”);
- the term “Cayman Parallel Fund” refers to HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Cayman Parallel Fund L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership that will elect to be treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes under the Code;
- the term “Parallel Funds” refers to the Fund, Delaware Parallel Fund, the Cayman Parallel Fund and any other parallel vehicles formed hereafter (each, a “Parallel Fund”);
- the term “TE Feeder” refers to HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Fund (TE) L.P., a Delaware limited partnership intended to be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes under the Code, which will conduct its investment strategy by investing in the Aggregating Partnership indirectly through the Cayman Parallel Fund;
- the terms “HarbourVest” and “Firm” refer to HarbourVest Partners, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (together, with its affiliates, predecessors, and successors) acting as general partner of HarbourVest Partners L.P., a Delaware limited partnership, which terms shall, as the context requires, include HarbourVest Partners, LLC and affiliates and predecessors of HarbourVest Partners, LLC;
- the term “Feeder Funds” refers to the TE Feeder and any other feeder vehicles formed hereafter;
- the term “General Partner” refers to HarbourVest GP LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, as the general partner of the Fund;
- the terms “HSEC,” the “Fund” or the “Registrant” refers to HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Fund L.P., a Delaware limited partnership that will elect to be treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes under the Code;
- the term “Manager” refers to HarbourVest Partners L.P., a Delaware limited partnership which will be responsible for portfolio management for the Fund;
- the terms “Net Asset Value” or “NAV” refers to, as the context requires, transactional Net Asset Value (i.e., the price at which purchases and redemptions of Units (as defined below) are made, calculated in accordance with the valuation policy);
- the term “Secondary Funds” or “Secondary Partnerships” refers to pooled investment vehicles that buy interests in pooled investment vehicles on a secondary basis;
- the term “Secondary Market” refers to the financial market pursuant to which investors buy and sell interests in pooled investment vehicles among themselves, rather than from the pooled investment vehicle itself;

- the term “Secondary Investments” refers to investments in existing partnerships, portfolios, and investments in the Secondary Market, including GP-Led secondaries and other types of continuation solutions (including, but not limited to, solutions involving only one or a few assets), structured liquidity solutions, team spin-outs/buy-ins, public market transactions and other investments deemed to be Secondary Investments;
- the term “Secondary Transactions” refers to the purchase and sale of Secondary Investments;
- the term “Secondary Market Purchaser” refers to purchasers of Secondary Investments;
- the term “Units” refers to the Class A Limited Partnership Units, Class D Limited Partnership Units and Class I Limited Partnership Units of HSEC, with each such class of the Units a “Class”; and
- the term “Unitholders” refers to the limited partners of HSEC.

References to the “Fund” or “Registrant” include one or more of the Parallel Funds and the Feeder Funds, as the context requires. The terms “we,” “us” or “our” refer to the Fund and the Aggregating Partnership, as the context requires. One or more other Parallel Funds or Feeder Funds may be established by, or at the direction of, HarbourVest to invest alongside the Fund (as determined in the General Partner’s discretion), either directly or through one or more shared aggregation vehicles. The TE Feeder has filed a separate registration statement on Form 10 with the SEC. The information contained in the TE Feeder’s registration statement on Form 10 is not incorporated by reference in or otherwise a part of this Registration Statement.

The Registrant is an emerging growth company as defined in the Jumpstart Our Business Startups Act of 2012 (the “JOBS Act”) and the Registrant will take advantage of the extended transition period provided in Section 7(a)(2)(B) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder (the “Securities Act”).

This Registration Statement does not constitute an offer of HSEC or any other partnership, or any other pooled investment vehicle, separate account or other investment program (including any “funds-of-one”) sponsored, managed or advised (including on a sub-advisory basis) by HarbourVest (collectively, “HarbourVest funds”). An offering of the Registrant may only be made pursuant to the Registrant’s Private Placement Memorandum. Once this Registration Statement has been deemed effective, the Registrant will be subject to the requirements of Section 13(a) of the Exchange Act, including the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, which will require the Registrant, among other things, to file annual reports on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, and current reports on Form 8-K, and the Registrant will be required to comply with all other obligations of the Exchange Act applicable to issuers filing registration statements pursuant to Section 12(g) of the Exchange Act.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Registration Statement contains forward-looking statements, which involve certain known and unknown risks and uncertainties. Forward-looking statements predict or describe the Registrant's future operations, business plans, business and investment strategies and portfolio management and the performance of the Registrant's investments. These forward-looking statements are generally identified by their use of such terms and phrases as "intend," "goal," "estimate," "expect," "remain," "project," "projections," "plans," "seeks," "anticipates," "will," "should," "could," "may," "designed to," "foreseeable future," "believe," "scheduled" and similar expressions. The Fund's actual results or outcomes may differ materially from those anticipated. You are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date the statement was made. Potential investors should not rely on these statements as if they were fact. The Registrant assumes no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as required by law. The forward-looking statements contained in this Registration Statement may include statements as to:

- the Registrant's business prospects and the prospects of the portfolio companies the Registrant owns and controls;
- the impact of the acquisitions that the Registrant expects to make;
- the Registrant's ability to raise sufficient capital to execute its acquisition strategies;
- the ability of the Manager to source adequate acquisition opportunities to efficiently deploy capital;
- the ability of the Registrant's portfolio companies to achieve their objectives;
- the Registrant's current and expected financing arrangements;
- changes in the general interest rate environment;
- the adequacy of the Registrant's cash resources, financing sources and working capital;
- the timing and amount of cash flows, distributions and dividends, if any, from the Registrant's portfolio companies;
- the Registrant's contractual arrangements and relationships with third parties;
- actual and potential conflicts of interest with the Manager, General Partner or any of their affiliates;
- the dependence of the Registrant's future success on the general economy and its effect on the industries in which the Registrant owns and controls portfolio companies;
- the Registrant's use of financial leverage;
- the ability of the Manager to identify, acquire and support the Registrant's portfolio companies;
- the ability of the Manager or its affiliates to attract and retain highly talented professionals;
- the Registrant's ability to structure acquisitions and joint ventures in a tax-efficient manner and the effect of changes to tax legislation and its tax position; and
- the tax status of the enterprises through which the Registrant owns and controls portfolio companies.

Although the Registrant believes that the assumptions on which these forward-looking statements are based are reasonable, any of those assumptions could prove to be inaccurate, and as a result, the forward-looking statements based on those assumptions also could be inaccurate. In light of these and other uncertainties, the inclusion of any projection or forward-looking statement in this Registration Statement should not be regarded as a representation by the Registrant that its plans and objectives will be achieved. These risks and uncertainties include those described or identified in the section entitled "Item 1A. Risk Factors" and elsewhere in this Registration Statement. These projections and forward-looking statements apply only as of the date of this Registration Statement. Moreover, the Fund neither assumes any duty nor makes any undertaking to update the forward-looking statements, except as required by applicable law.

References herein to “expertise,” any party being an “expert,” or awards or honors received, degrees conferred or other particular skillsets, are based solely on the belief of the General Partner and are provided only to indicate proficiency as compared to an average person. Such references in no way limit the exculpation provisions and related standard of care as more fully described herein. Such references should not be construed or relied upon as an indication of future performance or other future outcomes. Similarly, references herein to “unique” and similar expressions and derivations are also based solely on the belief of the General Partner and are not intended to refer to an exclusively single practice, but to possessing characteristics of distinctiveness not found universally in the market. In addition, unless the context otherwise requires, the words “include,” “includes,” “including” and other words of similar import are meant to be illustrative rather than restrictive.

RISK FACTOR SUMMARY

The following is only a summary of the principal risks that may materially adversely affect the Fund's business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. This summary should be read in conjunction with the more complete discussion of the risk factors the Fund faces, which are set forth in the section entitled "Item 1A. Risk Factors" in this Registration Statement.

- Although HarbourVest has had extensive experience investing in private markets, the Fund and the General Partner are newly formed entities with no significant operating history upon which to evaluate the Fund's likely performance. Therefore, the past performance of other funds and accounts managed by HarbourVest is not a reliable indicator of the future results that will be achieved by the Fund. There can be no assurance that the Fund will be able to achieve its investment objectives or that the investors will receive a return on their capital and investors could lose all or part of their investment in the Fund.
- The long-term focus of private markets investing and the limited partnership structure is not suitable for all investors. An investment in the Fund requires a long-term commitment, with no certainty of return. The Fund's investments are expected to be illiquid and in particular comprised predominantly of privately-negotiated investments, which may include investments in operating companies as well as partnerships (the issuer of each such investment, an "Underlying Portfolio Fund") and there could be little or no near-term cash flow available to the Unitholders.
- The Fund is designed primarily for long-term investors, and an investment in the Units may be more illiquid than other investment products or portfolios. We do not expect any Secondary Market to develop for the Units. While, in accordance with the Fund's Partnership Agreement, Unitholders may request that the Fund redeem all or any portion of their Units on a quarterly basis, there is no guarantee that the Fund will be able to make such redemptions. In addition, the total amount of Units permitted to be redeemed per calendar quarter will generally be limited to no more than 5% of the Fund's Net Asset Value, measured as of the last Business Day of the calendar quarter immediately preceding the Valuation Date and requests for redemptions are subject to an early redemption fee of up to 5% if Units are redeemed on a date that is within 12 months of the purchase date of such Units. The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds may be unable to raise sufficient cash to satisfy redemption requests due to their inability to dispose of investments. Further, redemption requests may require the Fund or Underlying Portfolio Funds to liquidate investments at unfavorable times or reduce the amount of borrowings available to the Fund or Underlying Portfolio Funds and the Fund may suspend or cap redemptions which would limit the ability of Unitholders to redeem their Units.
- Valuation of the Fund's investments is difficult to determine and the Fund is subject to the risk that one or more of the securities in which the Fund invests are valued at prices that the Fund is unable to obtain upon sale due to factors such as incomplete data, market instability, human error, or, with respect to securities for which there are no readily available market quotations, the inherent difficulty in determining the fair value of certain types of investments. Valuations of portfolio companies are estimates of fair value and may not necessarily correspond to reasonable value and valuations of investments used by the General Partner—and, accordingly, Net Asset Value per Unit calculations used for subscriptions and redemptions—likely will not reflect the prices at which such investments are ultimately sold.
- The Fund might not obtain suitable investments, and, even if it does, there is a risk that the Fund's investment objectives will not be achieved. The business of identifying and structuring investments of the types contemplated by the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds is competitive and involves a high degree of uncertainty, and the availability of investment opportunities generally will be subject to market conditions and competition from other groups as well as, in some cases, the prevailing regulatory or political climate. Interest rates, general levels of economic activity, the price of securities, and participation by other investors in the financial markets could affect the value and number of investments made by the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds or considered for prospective investment.

- The Fund will be subject to regulations not typically applicable to private funds, such as the Exchange Act and provisions of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. Efforts to comply with such regulations will involve significant expenditures, and non-compliance with such regulations may materially adversely affect the Fund.
- The Fund may make a limited number of investments or investments that are concentrated in certain portfolio companies, geographic regions, asset types or sectors, which could negatively affect the Fund's performance to the extent such concentrated investments perform poorly. Further, the Fund will be subject to risks that are unique to each underlying portfolio company and the specific investment strategies deployed.
- The exercise of the General Partner's discretion with respect to mandatory withdrawals and redemptions may have an adverse impact on a Unitholder's return on investment.
- The Fund will utilize leverage which may amplify losses, increase costs and limit cash flow that negatively affect the value of investments. The use of leverage involves a high degree of financial risk and will increase the exposure of the investments to adverse economic factors.
- The success of the Fund will depend in substantial part on the skills and expertise of the investment professionals of HarbourVest. The loss of one or more key individuals could have a material adverse effect on the performance of the Fund. Conflicts may arise between the Fund and other investment funds, separate accounts or other investment vehicles that HarbourVest sponsors or manages, whether currently existing or formed or acquired in the future and HarbourVest with respect to allocation of investment opportunities and of investment professional time and resources, among other things.

These factors should not be construed as exhaustive and should be read in conjunction with the other cautionary statements that are included in this Registration Statement and in the Fund's other periodic filings.

ITEM 1. BUSINESS

HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Fund L.P. (previously defined as the Registrant, HSEC or the Fund) is a private investment fund exempt from registration pursuant to Section 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Investment Company Act”). HSEC intends to provide a private equity-focused solution for its Unitholders, with a mix of investments designed to accelerate capital deployment and to provide cash flow to support limited liquidity in a private portfolio.

HSEC was formed on September 29, 2025 as a Delaware limited partnership. HSEC intends to conduct the Private Offering on a monthly basis to prospective investors who are both (i) accredited investors (as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act) and (ii) qualified purchasers (as defined in the Investment Company Act and rules thereunder) in reliance on exemptions from the registration requirements of the Securities Act, including under Regulation D (the “Private Offering”). HSEC is structured as a perpetual life vehicle, meaning HSEC has no maturity or termination date, with monthly fully funded subscriptions and periodic redemptions.

Each of the General Partner and the Manager is an affiliate of HarbourVest.

Overview of the Fund

The Fund seeks to build a global, diversified, private equity-focused portfolio in an open-ended fund that delivers capital growth over the medium to long-term through direct or indirect exposure to the equity and debt of primarily private businesses, across geographies, sectors and stages primarily through Secondary Investments (as defined below) and complemented by certain Primary Partnership Investments (as defined below), in the private equity space, with the potential to generate medium to long-term outperformance compared to public markets while striving to limit volatility and downside risk. HSEC and each of the Parallel Funds will carry out its investment objectives through its investment in the Aggregating Partnership, and the TE Feeder will carry out its investment strategy through its indirect investment in the Aggregating Partnership through its investment in the Cayman Parallel Fund.

The Fund will generally invest via Secondary Transactions in buyout, and to a lesser extent, growth equity and venture capital, special situations, and other private market investments globally. In addition, the Fund may make investments via Secondary Transactions in credit investments and real assets investments.

The actual diversification of the Fund will be determined based upon market conditions and available investment opportunities.

Secondary Investments

The Fund intends to purchase interests in existing partnerships, portfolios, and investments in the Secondary Market. The Manager seeks to identify undervalued assets and develop innovative liquidity solutions for complex transactions. The private equity Secondary Market of the 1980s and 1990s was comprised almost entirely of traditional transactions (i.e., the sale of one or more limited partnership interests by a single seller). While traditional transactions are still a significant part of the current Secondary Market activity, the market has evolved substantially to include a broad range of complex transactions that provide holders of private market assets with liquidity options through increasingly sophisticated, non-traditional deal types, including GP-Led secondaries (Secondary Transactions initiated by the sponsor or an affiliate thereof of the applicable pooled investment vehicle for purposes of restructuring such investment vehicle or providing liquidity to current investors of such investment vehicle) and other types of continuation solutions (including, but not limited to, solutions involving only one or a few assets), structured liquidity solutions, team spin-outs/buy-ins, public market transactions and other investments deemed to be Secondary Investments (such investments are referred to herein as “Secondary Investments”). HarbourVest expects the Secondary Market to continue to evolve with new and innovative transactions and structures and the secondaries team intends to leverage HarbourVest’s leadership in the complex Secondary Market to take advantage of such opportunities that the Manager believes are appropriate for the Fund.

HarbourVest expects to treat any stapled primary partnership investment made in connection with a Secondary Investment as a Secondary Investment for all purposes of the Fund, including, but not limited to, for investment allocation purposes. The Manager may determine in its discretion to treat a series of related Secondary Transactions as a single Secondary Investment or a single secondary transaction with discrete components as separate Secondary Investments where appropriate under the circumstances applicable to such transactions and investments.

Primary Partnership Investments

The Fund may also invest in newly formed funds raised by experienced managers that invest in buyout, and to a lesser extent, growth equity and venture capital, special situations, infrastructure and real assets, and other private markets transactions (any such partnership investment or other investment deemed to be a primary partnership investment by HarbourVest, a “Primary Partnership Investment”). HarbourVest seeks to identify and select Primary Partnership Investments that it believes to be high-quality and managed by experienced fund managers. HarbourVest expects that Primary Partnership Investments by the Fund are likely to enhance HarbourVest’s ability to source other investment opportunities for the Fund, as well as other HarbourVest-Managed Funds (as defined below).

The Fund’s investment strategy may be carried out through investments in other unlisted funds, at inception or through a secondary purchase, as well as listed private equity companies, funds, or other vehicles.

The Fund may also make investments in cash or cash-equivalent instruments (i.e. which are typically short term, highly liquid and convertible to known amounts of cash), fixed income instruments and funds including money market funds or related instruments where required for liquidity management purposes (each, a “Liquid Investment”, and together with the Secondary Investments and Primary Partnership Investments, the “Investments”). For the avoidance of doubt, the Fund will access a portion of its investment strategy by way of investments into commingled funds or special purpose vehicles managed by the Manager or its affiliates. Effective March 2, 2026, HSEC held its first closing and sold 10,000 of the Fund’s Class I Units at a price per Unit of $10.00 as part of the Private Offering. The business of the Fund includes the realization and distribution of the Fund’s net assets to Unitholders during a wind down of the Fund’s operations.

HarbourVest and HarbourVest Private Equity Overview

The HarbourVest team has been investing in global private equity across primary investments, Secondary Investments, and direct co-investments for more than 40 years, in credit for more than 30 years, and in infrastructure and real assets for more than 15 years. HarbourVest has built an extensive global private investments platform that offers investors access to attractive opportunities in key markets around the world. HarbourVest’s investments span a broad spectrum of private market strategies, including buyout, venture capital, growth equity, special situations, credit, infrastructure and real assets, and other niche strategies.

HarbourVest’s founders began making venture capital partnership investments in 1978 and expanded their investment focus in 1981 to include buyout partnerships. In 1982, HarbourVest formed its first fund designed to provide institutional investors with an efficient means of investing in private equity partnerships and operating companies. In 1984, HarbourVest began investing outside of the U.S., and in 1990, it began offering programs dedicated to Europe, Asia Pacific, and other geographies.

Structure

The following chart shows the Registrant's current structure and its relationship with HarbourVest.

Note: The above structure chart is for illustrative purposes only. Certain entities (including corporations) used to acquire, hold or dispose of any investment asset or otherwise facilitate the Fund's investment activities are not reflected.

The Fund's investment program is designed to provide eligible investors with access to a private equity-focused solution through the Parallel Funds or a Feeder Fund, including the TE Feeder. The Fund will invest in a mix of investments designed to accelerate capital deployment and to provide cash flow to support limited liquidity in a private portfolio. HarbourVest expects to form one or more collective investment vehicles or other arrangements for eligible investors. In particular, in addition to HSEC, HarbourVest has formed two additional Parallel Funds and one Feeder Fund (defined below):

- HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Fund (TE) L.P. (the "TE Feeder", and together with any other feeder vehicles formed hereafter, the "Feeder Funds"), a Delaware limited partnership intended to be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes under the Code, which invests all or substantially all of its assets in the Cayman Parallel Fund (as defined below).
- HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Cayman Parallel Fund L.P. (the "Cayman Parallel Fund"), a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership that will elect to be treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes under the Code.
- HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Fund L.P. ("HSEC"), a Delaware limited partnership that will elect to be treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes under the Code.
- HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Delaware Parallel Fund L.P. (the "Delaware Parallel Fund" and, together with HSEC, the Cayman Parallel Fund and any other parallel vehicles formed hereafter, the “Parallel Funds”), a Delaware limited partnership intended to be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes under the Code.

Together, HSEC, the Cayman Parallel Fund, and the Delaware Parallel Fund will invest together through the Aggregating Partnership. The TE Feeder will invest in the Aggregating Partnership indirectly through the Cayman Parallel Fund. Unless the context otherwise requires, the limited partnership units of the TE Feeder, HSEC and each of the other Parallel Funds are referred to in the Registration Statement as the “Units” and those individuals and entities who hold them as the “Unitholders.”

As each of HSEC, the Cayman Parallel Fund, the Delaware Parallel Fund and the TE Feeder will, directly or indirectly, invest via the Aggregating Partnership, each of these funds share the same underlying investment strategy and objectives. The Registrant expects that investors will invest in classes of units of either HSEC, the Cayman Parallel Fund, the Delaware Parallel Fund and/or the TE Feeder based primarily on their tax profile and that there will not be competition between these investment vehicles for investors or investments.

References to the “Fund” or the “Registrant” include the TE Feeder, one or more of the Parallel Funds and the other Feeder Funds, as the context requires. The terms “we,” “us” or “our” refer to the Fund and the Aggregating Partnership, as the context requires. One or more other parallel vehicles or feeder vehicles may be established by, or at the direction of, HarbourVest to invest alongside the Fund (as determined in the General Partner’s discretion), either directly or through one or more shared aggregation vehicles.

The General Partner and the Board of Directors

The General Partner shall cause the Fund to appoint HarbourVest Partners L.P. (the “Manager”), a Delaware limited partnership, to manage the affairs of the Fund. Each of the General Partner and the Manager is an affiliate of HarbourVest.

Overall responsibility for the Fund’s oversight rests with the General Partner, subject to certain oversight rights that shall be held by the Fund’s Board of Directors (the “Board” or “Board of Directors” and each director appointed to the Board, a “Director” and any Directors appointed that would be independent under the tests set out in Rule 303A.02 of the New York Stock Exchange Listed Company Manual or other policy as determined by the General Partner, an “Independent Director”) once established pursuant to the terms of the Partnership Agreement. While the Independent Directors will meet the independence standards described herein, certain Independent Directors may have various business and other relationships with the Manager, the General Partner and their respective personnel and affiliates. In addition, certain Independent Directors may have relationships with third parties that engage in business with the Manager, the General Partner, the Fund or their respective affiliates. These relationships may influence the decisions made and approval given by such Independent Directors and present conflicts of interest. There can be no assurance any such conflicts will be resolved in favor of the Fund.

Once established, the Board shall be responsible for overseeing the Fund’s periodic reports under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the “Exchange Act”) and certain conflicts of interest related to HarbourVest in accordance with the provisions of the Fund’s Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement (as amended from time to time, the “Partnership Agreement”) and any policies of the General Partner. Specifically, the Independent Directors will (i) review and approve or disapprove any potential conflicts of interest in any transaction or relationship between the Fund and the General Partner or any employee or affiliate thereof that the General Partner determines to present to the Independent Directors and (ii) review and approve any matter (x) for which approval is required under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended (the “Advisers Act”), including Section 206(3) thereof, (y) as provided for under the Partnership Agreement or (z) as deemed appropriate by the General Partner. The General Partner may appoint additional directors to the Board from time to time. The Independent Directors shall be unaffiliated with the Fund, HarbourVest, the General Partner, the Manager, or any of their affiliates. The General Partner has the right to change or replace any Director with or without “Cause” (as defined in the Partnership Agreement). The Board will function in accordance with the Fund's policies and procedures. Members of the Board have the benefit of certain exculpation and indemnification provisions set forth in the Partnership Agreement. Unitholders are not entitled to nominate persons to serve as directors of HSEC or vote in elections of HSEC's directors. Further, Unitholders are not able to bring matters before any meeting of the Unitholders nor are they generally able to submit proposals under Rule 14a-8 of the Exchange Act.

The Fund shall also have an audit committee (the "Audit Committee"), which is comprised solely of the Independent Directors. The Audit Committee will, among other matters, approve (1) the Fund's auditor, as selected by the General Partner, (2) the Fund's financial statements, (3) any material modification to the valuation policies adopted by the General Partner with respect to the Registrant and (4) such other matters as the General Partner determines to present to the Audit Committee.

To the extent the General Partner has not appointed Independent Directors, any matters for which the Independent Directors have authority or obligation to act pursuant to the Partnership Agreement can be effected by consent of the Board. To the extent the General Partner has not appointed a Board, any matters for which the Board has authority or obligation to act pursuant to the Partnership Agreement can be effected by consent of either the General Partner or Unitholders holding a majority of Units, which may include Unitholders who are affiliated with the General Partner.

See "Item 5. Directors and Executive Officers—Biographical Information" for further information regarding the members of the Board and "Item 11. Description of Registrant's Securities to be Registered" for further information regarding the rights of Unitholders.

The Manager

The Fund is managed by the Manager, a wholly owned subsidiary of HarbourVest and an investment adviser registered under the Advisers Act. The Manager manages the Fund pursuant to the terms of the Investment Management Agreement (as may be amended from time to time, the "Management Agreement") and supports the Fund in managing its Investments consistent with the Fund's investment objective.

In consideration for its services, the Manager will be entitled to receive the Management Fee and the Incentive Fee (each as defined herein) payable by the Fund.

Each of the Manager and General Partner is an affiliate of HarbourVest and, as such, the Manager and General Partner have access to the broader resources of HarbourVest, subject to HarbourVest's policies and procedures regarding the management of conflicts of interest.

Management Agreement

The description below of the Management Agreement is only a summary and is not necessarily complete. The description set forth below is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Management Agreement attached as an exhibit to this Registration Statement.

The management and operation of the Registrant will be vested in the General Partner. Except as otherwise expressly provided in the Partnership Agreement (including with respect to matters which the Partnership Agreement provides the Board will have oversight of) or by law, the General Partner has the full, exclusive and complete right, power and discretion to operate, manage and control the affairs of the Registrant. The General Partner will be ultimately responsible for managing and operating the Registrant and will control the making and disposition or other realization of Investments. The General Partner will delegate the management and operation of the Registrant to the Manager on the terms set forth in the Management Agreement, including all decisions affecting the Registrant's affairs, as deemed proper, convenient or advisable by the General Partner to carry on the business of the Registrant.

The Manager will provide management services to the Registrant pursuant to the Management Agreement and will be responsible for the day-to-day management and operation of the activities of the Registrant. Generally, the HarbourVest personnel servicing the General Partner are the same as those serving the Manager. The duties of the Manager, subject to the supervision of the General Partner and to the terms of the Partnership Agreement, include, without limitation, the following:

- maintaining the books and records of the Fund;
  - providing office space to the Fund and the General Partner;
  - screening and evaluating promising investment proposals and submitting such proposals to the Fund;
  - assisting the General Partner in transactions in which the Fund makes investments; and
  - monitoring the Portfolio Investments,
- in each case if and to the extent requested by the General Partner.

The Manager’s services under the Management Agreement are not exclusive, and it is free to furnish similar services to other entities, so long as its services to the Registrant are not materially impaired. For the avoidance of doubt, the Registrant’s management, policies and operations shall be the ultimate responsibility of the General Partner acting pursuant to and in accordance with the Partnership Agreement. The Management Agreement may not be amended in a manner that materially adversely affects the Unitholders without the written consent of the General Partner and the Board. See “Item 1. Business—Partnership Agreement” below for further information.

Compensation of the Manager

Management Fee

In consideration of the investment advisory and other services provided by the Manager, the Fund will pay a quarterly management fee (the “Management Fee”) on behalf of each Class of Units at an annual rate equal to the Annual Management Fee Rate applicable to such class as set forth below (the “Annual Management Fee Rate”), multiplied by HSEC’s Net Asset Value calculated and accrued monthly as of the last day of each month, before giving effect to any accruals for the Management Fee, the Incentive Fee, the Servicing Fees, any Subscription Fees (as defined below), any distributions, and without taking into account any accrued and unpaid taxes of HSEC or any HarbourVest-controlled entity through which the Fund directly or indirectly invests in an Investment or any comparable entities of other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or taxes paid by any such entity during the applicable month, as determined in the good faith judgment of the General Partner. In the event the Fund makes any investment in HarbourVest-Managed Funds that charge a management fee, the General Partner will seek to ensure that Unitholders do not ultimately bear duplicative management fees by reducing the Net Asset Value of the Fund on which the Management Fee is calculated for each applicable period by the Net Asset Value of the Fund’s investment in any such HarbourVest-Managed Fund as of the applicable valuation date.

Class	Annual Management Fee Rate
Class D .....	1.25%
Class I .....	1.25%

The Manager may waive, reduce or calculate differently the Management Fee with respect to one or more Unitholders in its sole discretion. Other classes of Units not registered on this Form 10 are subject to a different Management Fee Rate.

Incentive Fee

In remuneration for its portfolio management services and in addition to any other fees paid to the Manager under the Management Agreement, at the end of each calendar quarter of the Fund, the Fund will pay to the Manager (or, to the extent permitted by applicable law, an affiliate of the Manager) a quarterly incentive fee (the “Incentive Fee”), in respect of each Class equal to the Incentive Fee Percentage applicable to such class as set forth below (the “Incentive Fee Percentage”) of the excess, if any, of (1) the Net Profit for such Class during the relevant period over (2) the Loss Recovery Account balance for such Class for such period, in each case, except where otherwise decided by the General Partner in its full discretion and as provided in the Memorandum.

Class	Incentive Fee Percentage
Class A .....	12.5%
Class D .....	12.5%
Class I .....	12.5%

Incentive Fees are accrued monthly, calculated as of the last day of the calendar quarter and paid quarterly (or at such other times as the General Partner may determine in its full discretion, in agreement with the Manager) (the “Reference Period”). Other classes of Units not registered on this Form 10 are subject to a different Incentive Fee Percentage.

For the purposes of the Incentive Fee and Loss Recovery Account, “Net Profit” and “Net Loss” shall mean, for a Class, in relation to any Reference Period, the change in Net Asset Value during such Reference Period, excluding any of the following which are paid, accrued or allocated during the relevant period, if applicable: (i) subscriptions, redemptions, conversions and unit holder distributions recognized during the same period, (ii) Servicing Fees and/or Subscription Fees, (iii) taxes and (iv) any Incentive Fees. For the avoidance of doubt, (x) Net Profit and Net Loss includes unrealized appreciation or depreciation and realized income and gains or losses, management fees and expenses (other than those referenced in the prior sentence), for such period, and (y) for any Reference Period, the change of Net Asset Value calculated as per the prior sentence shall result in a corresponding (A) Net Profit, if greater than zero, or (B) Net Loss, if less than zero.

The “Loss Recovery Account” shall, with respect to each Class, have an initial balance of zero and will, with respect to any Reference Period, be: (i) increased by the amount of the Net Loss for such Class for such Reference Period or decreased (but not below zero) by the amount of the Net Profit for such Class for such Reference Period; and (ii) decreased proportionately in respect of any Units redeemed during the relevant period.

The recipient of the Incentive Fee (the “Recipient”) will not be obligated to return any portion of the Incentive Fee paid as described herein as a result of subsequent performance of the Fund or any Class. For the avoidance of doubt, the Net Asset Value will include any amounts that would be payable as Incentive Fees based on the Net Profits, if any, on the applicable Valuation Date and Units redeemed will be subject to the Incentive Fee upon redemption. The balance of any Loss Recovery Account will have no bearing on the Net Asset Value other than for the purpose of determining the Incentive Fee. The Manager may waive, reduce or calculate differently the Incentive Fee with respect to one or more Unitholders in its sole discretion.

The Manager may in its discretion designate an affiliate to receive the Incentive Fees.

The Manager may elect for the Recipient to receive the Incentive Fee in cash and/or Units of the Fund. If the Incentive Fee is paid in Units, such Units may be redeemed at HarbourVest’s request and would not be subject to the Fund-Level Limit or the Early Redemption Fee.

Fee Offset

Subject to the Partnership Agreement, the Management Fee owed with respect to an applicable Class will be reduced, but not (including all other reductions described herein) below zero, by any directors’ compensation and similar fees (including break-up, management, consulting, monitoring, or transaction fees, whether paid in cash or in kind) received by HarbourVest, the General Partner, their affiliates, or indirect partners from any Portfolio Entity or proposed Portfolio Entity, net of applicable taxes and excluding amounts that constitute Fund Expenses or relate to investors other than the Fund and its affiliates. If such fees are also allocable to other investment entities managed by HarbourVest or its affiliates, only the portion attributable to the Fund's interest shall reduce the Management Fee. Any excess reduction shall be carried forward to subsequent quarters.

Subscription Fees

Certain financial intermediaries may charge Unitholders upfront selling commissions, placement fees, subscription fees or similar fees (the "Subscription Fees") on certain classes of Units sold in the Private Offering. No Subscription Fee will be paid with respect to certain classes of Units, as determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion. In certain circumstances, the Subscription Fees may be paid to the Fund and reallocated, in whole or in part, to the financial intermediary that placed the applicable Unitholder into the Fund. For the avoidance of doubt, Subscription Fees shall be paid by the applicable Unitholder in addition to its investment in the Fund and will not impact the Fund's Net Asset Value. Each Class A Unit may be subject to a Subscription Fee of up to 3.50% of the NAV on Class A Units on the date of the purchase. Each Class D Unit may be subject to a Subscription Fee of up to 1.50% of the NAV on Class D Units on the date of the purchase. No Subscription Fees will be payable with respect to Class I Units.

Ongoing Servicing Fees

In respect of certain classes of Units, the Fund is expected to pay participating broker dealers and other intermediaries ongoing servicing fees ("Servicing Fees") equal to a percentage of Net Asset Value per annum for the applicable classes of Units. Class A Units bear a Servicing Fee equal to 0.85%. Class D Units bear a Servicing Fee equal to 0.25%. Class I Units will not bear a Servicing Fee. No Servicing Fee will be paid with respect to certain classes of Units, as determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion. Where Servicing Fees are applicable, such Servicing Fees are expected to be calculated based on Net Asset Value for the applicable classes of Units, which is the price at which the Fund sells and redeems such Units. The Fund may also pay for certain sub-transfer agency, sub-accounting and administrative services outside of the Servicing Fees.

The Manager may remit payment of the ongoing Servicing Fees on behalf of the Fund and be reimbursed by the Fund for such payments.

Expenses

The Manager or an affiliate will bear ordinary administrative costs and expenses relating to its operations, but excluding expenses associated with Insourced Services (as defined below). The Fund (and indirectly, the Unitholders) will bear all Organizational Expenses (as defined below), and all costs and expenses relating to the operations of the Fund (including such costs and expenses relating to any related feeder fund and the General Partner of the Fund and any such feeder fund). Such costs and expenses may be substantial and include, without limitation:

- (i) legal, accounting, regulatory (including expenses incurred in connection with certain filings and registrations), compliance, administrator, consulting (including expert network and media consultants), valuation, custodial, depositary auditing (including fees charged by an independent auditor in connection with in-kind subscriptions or redemptions), costs associated with any regulatory audit, investigation, settlement or review of any entity of the fund, costs incurred with any action, suit or proceeding of any kind of nature, transfer agency, third-party director, administrator and Unitholder onboarding and servicing, banking and other external professional fees and expenses;
- (ii) out-of-pocket costs of sourcing and evaluating potential portfolio investments (including broken deal expenses in the case of unconsummated investments) or temporary investments (including expenses related to meetings or conferences hosted or attended by HarbourVest, its affiliates or its employees to source investments, attendance at industry conferences and trade association memberships, and, in the case of unconsummated investments, broken deal expenses, including break-up fees), and of making, monitoring, holding, or selling portfolio investments (including, without limitation, expenses

- relating to risk assessment, due diligence or ongoing monitoring of potential and existing portfolio investments, including the environmental, social and governance risks related thereto and temporary investments, record-keeping expenses, travel, hotel accommodations, meals and entertainment expenses (collectively, "Travel Expenses," and which include expenses for first class or equivalent travel and have in the past and may in the future include the cost of non-commercial air travel), record-keeping expenses, finder's fees, placement fees, consulting fees, brokerage fees and other fees, costs and expenses;
- (iii) expenses associated with the preparation of the Fund's financial statements and tax returns, and the representation of the Fund or the partners of the Fund in tax matters and the preparation of tax forms and the Fund's information reporting regimes and similar tax-related compliance;
  - (iv) expenses related to the organization or maintenance of any entity (including intermediate entities) used to acquire, hold, or dispose of any portfolio investment or otherwise facilitate the Fund's investment activities, including without limitation Travel Expenses, related to such entity, the salary and benefits of any non-HarbourVest personnel reasonably necessary for the maintenance of such entity and other overhead expenses in connection therewith;
  - (v) out-of-pocket costs of meeting with prospective Unitholders (including in connection with the offering of the Fund), meeting with Unitholders and reporting to the Unitholders, including Travel Expenses;
  - (vi) costs and expenses related to the Fund's periodic and annual meetings, including Travel Expenses of the representatives of Unitholders, employees of HarbourVest, speakers and vendors;
  - (vii) any taxes, fees, or other governmental charges levied against the Fund or its income or assets or in connection with its business or operations;
  - (viii) Independent Directors' compensation and expenses, including expenses relating to the meetings and activities of the Board (including venue, food and beverage, travel and accommodation expenses (and any cancellation fees associated with any of the foregoing)), and fees, costs and expenses associated with any legal counsel or other third-party service providers, or advisors retained by, at the direction of or for the benefit of the Board);
  - (ix) costs and expenses (including any legal or other professional expenses) incurred in connection with the formation and operation of the General Partner;
  - (x) premiums or fees for directors' and officers' liability insurance and other insurance protecting the Fund or any indemnitee from liabilities in connection with the affairs of the Fund;
  - (xi) all costs and expenses of litigation or other matters that are the subject of indemnification;
  - (xii) interest on, and fees and expenses related to or arising from, any incurrence of indebtedness, including any credit facilities (or guarantees of indebtedness) or hedging activities of the Fund;
  - (xiii) expenses incurred in connection with complying with provisions in Other Agreements;
  - (xiv) fees paid to locally licensed intermediaries or distributors required to be engaged as a result of one or more Unitholders being domiciled in, or otherwise affiliated with, a particular jurisdiction;
  - (xv) Insourced Services (as defined herein);
  - (xvi) the Fund's allocable share of salaries, wages, payroll taxes, bonuses and cost of employee benefit plans for HarbourVest employees (collectively, "Employee Expenses") providing legal, compliance (including, without limitation, know-your-investment, anti-money laundering, sanctions and anti-corruption related due diligence) or tax advisory or tax structuring services in connection with the Fund's portfolio investments, including the execution, ongoing monitoring, holding and disposition of portfolio investments, where the Fund would otherwise bear any external fees, costs and expenses for such services as Fund expenses;

- (xvii) fees, costs and expenses (including the costs of any professional service providers) related to procuring, developing, implementing, maintaining, updating or transitioning information technology, data subscription and license-based services, research publications, hardware/software and other technology fees, costs and expenses relating to researching, identifying, investigating (and conducting due diligence with respect to), evaluating, monitoring, valuing, or obtaining market data in respect of, potential or existing portfolio investments (including license fees and maintenance costs for workflow technology that facilitates the closing of investments), managing allocations of investments between the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts, investor reporting (including costs relating to the provision of access to such information and other Unitholder communications, including through a web portal), regulatory compliance, the monitoring and administration of indebtedness, hedging activities and treasury activities and other activities of, and services provided to, the Fund as described in this paragraph, including the Employee Expenses of HarbourVest IT professional personnel engaged in such services;
- (xviii) costs of winding-up and liquidating the Fund;
- (xix) expenses incurred in connection with transfers of Units;
- (xx) expenses relating to ongoing administrative, governance and compliance services necessary for the operation of the Fund (including, without limitation, expenses relating to the preparation and filing of Form PF, Exchange Act reports, filings (including tender offer filings) and registration statements (including Form 10), reports and notices to be filed with the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission, reports, filings, disclosures and notices prepared in connection with the laws and/or regulations of jurisdictions in which the Fund engages in activities and any related regulations, or the laws and/or regulations of jurisdictions in which the Fund engages in activities and/or any other regulatory filings, notices or disclosures of the Manager and/or its affiliates relating to the Fund and their activities, and preparing materials and coordinating meetings of the Board;
- (xxi) all other costs and expenses of the Fund, HarbourVest or its affiliates in connection with the Partnership Agreement; and
- (xxii) in the case of each of the foregoing items in clauses (i) through (xxi) above, all similar items in connection with any alternative investment vehicles, Portfolio Entities, or other entities in which or through which the Fund invests, to the extent not borne by such entities (collectively with Organizational Expenses (as defined below), "Fund Expenses"). HarbourVest has historically borne the expenses of certain database subscriptions used in connection with evaluating, making, monitoring, holding or selling portfolio investments even though such expenses could have been treated as Fund Expenses. Such expenses are expected to be treated as Fund Expenses in the future and HarbourVest therefore expects such expenses to be borne by the Fund.

For the avoidance of doubt, the management fee received by the Manager or an affiliate thereof will not be reduced by any amounts received directly or indirectly from a portfolio company, proposed portfolio company or any other person to the extent such amounts constitute Fund Expenses, including, but not limited to amounts charged for Insourced Services.

The Fund will bear all organizational expenses and other expenses of the Fund (including, but not limited to, all fees, costs and out-of-pocket expenses (including any legal and other professional fees and expenses and platform fees and expenses paid to placement agents and other financial intermediaries reimbursed or otherwise borne by the Fund) incurred by the Fund, the Manager or its affiliates in connection with the formation of, and direct and indirect offering and distribution of interests in, the Fund (including all or a portion of such amounts in respect of the Fund and the development, formation and operation of investment vehicles (including, for the avoidance of doubt, actual or prospective feeder vehicles even if any such feeder vehicle does not admit investors) established to facilitate the investment by certain investors indirectly in the Fund, as well as master funds in which the Fund invests as a feeder fund or other vehicles through which the Fund makes or holds investments) and the respective general partners or equivalent (if not a partnership) of such entities, the incorporation and registration of such entities, related regulatory filings (such as Form PF and others), any related taxes, the offering and distribution of the interests therein (including jurisdictional legal and tax advice, preparation of disclosures, notifications, translations, publications (including without limitation on a website for regulatory, commercial or other purposes) and registrations for marketing required in various jurisdictions and for certain investors, negotiation of distribution arrangements, any cost relating to the initial seed asset contribution (including without limitation, advice, structuring and the cost of issuing a valuation report), for the avoidance of doubt, out-of-pocket costs and expenses (including without limitation, Travel Expenses (as defined below)) related to meeting with prospective and actual Unitholders or distributors or placement agents (“Organizational Expenses”).

Fund Expenses may be aggregated and allocated between the Fund and the Parallel Funds pro rata based on the relative Net Asset Value of the Fund and net asset value of each Parallel Fund, respectively, at the time of such allocation (unless the General Partner determines in good faith that a different share is appropriate). Fund Expenses allocated to the Fund or a Parallel Fund will generally be borne by the Unitholders of such entity pro rata, unless the General Partner determines in good faith that a different share is appropriate. The Fund will engage the services of third-party service providers to carry out certain Fund-related services, including but not limited to, accounting, tax, reporting, valuation and compliance. The costs, fees and expenses of any such service providers will be treated as Fund Expenses and will be borne by the Fund.

Certain or all Organizational Expenses may be amortized, in the General Partner’s sole and absolute discretion, for up to a 60-month period beginning from the Initial Closing Date for purposes of calculating the Fund’s Net Asset Value, although U.S. generally accepted accounting principles require organizational expenses to be expensed when incurred.

The Fund expects to engage and pay placement agents in connection with marketing the Fund in certain jurisdictions.

HarbourVest has and may in the future enter into arrangements with certain persons to provide services to HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts. HarbourVest will allocate fees and expenses with respect to such services on a fair and equitable basis. For example, HarbourVest has entered, and could in the future enter, into arrangements with certain persons to provide services to the Fund and to other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts, and in particular HarbourVest has engaged a consultant to provide earnings analysis, in-depth market research and other due diligence services with respect to certain Secondary Investments. Among other approaches, HarbourVest could determine to allocate fees and expenses with respect to such consultant (which could include, without limitation, a retainer or similar compensation arrangement) among the Fund and HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts based on aggregate amounts invested in Secondary Investments, regardless of whether or not such consultant provided services on a particular secondary investment or provided services for an investment in which the Fund invested, or on another basis that takes into account the overall benefits of such consultant’s services for Secondary Investments across the HarbourVest platform. HarbourVest has also engaged a consultant to provide credit monitoring and restructuring advice with respect to certain credit investments held by HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts and generally expects to allocate fees and expenses with respect thereto among such HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts (and the Fund) based on their respective participation in such credit investments.

Expenses to be borne by the Fund will reduce the actual returns realized by Unitholders on their investment in the Fund (and may, in certain circumstances, reduce the amount of capital available to be deployed by the Fund in investments). Fund Expenses include recurring and regular items, as well as extraordinary expenses for which it may be hard to budget or forecast. As a result, the amount of Fund Expenses ultimately incurred may exceed amounts expected or budgeted by the General Partner and/or Unitholders of the Fund.

The General Partner will make judgments with respect to allocation of expenses in its good faith discretion, notwithstanding its interest in the outcome, and may make corrective allocations after the fact should it determine that such corrections are necessary or advisable. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the portion of an expense allocated to the Fund for a particular item or service may not reflect the relative benefit derived by the Fund from that item or service in any particular instance.

The Manager or its affiliates may pay certain Fund Expenses to be borne by the Fund. The Fund will then reimburse the Manager or such affiliate by any such amounts as determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion.

Pursuant to an expense limitation agreement (the “Expense Limitation Agreement”) by and among the Manager, the TE Feeder, HSEC, the Cayman Parallel Fund and the Delaware Parallel Fund, the Manager has agreed to waive fees that it would otherwise be paid, and/or to assume or reimburse expenses of the Fund, if required to ensure that certain Fund Expenses (excluding the Management Fee, Incentive Fee, any Servicing Fees, Subscription Fees, interest, taxes, brokerage commissions, fees and expenses charged to the Fund by Investments, dividend and interest expenses relating to short sales, borrowing costs, merger or reorganization expenses, Unitholder meetings expenses, litigation expenses, expenses associated with the acquisition and disposition of investments (including (i) with respect to unconsummated transactions, and (ii) interest and structuring costs for borrowings and line(s) of credit), expenses related to the winding up and liquidation of the Fund, if applicable, certain insurance costs, and extraordinary expenses, if any; collectively, the “Excluded Expenses”) do not exceed 0.75% per annum of the Fund’s net asset value. Any waiver of fees or assumption or reimbursement of expenses by the Manager under the Expense Limitation Agreement shall be allocated among the Parallel Funds and Feeder Funds as reasonably determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion. With respect to each Class of Units, the Fund agrees to repay the Manager any fees waived and/or the expenses assumed or reimbursed under the Expense Limitation Agreement for such class of Units, provided the repayments do not cause the Fund’s Organizational Expenses and certain annual operating expenses (excluding Excluded Expenses) for that class of Units to exceed the expense limitation in place at the time the fees were waived, or the expense limitation in place at the time the Fund repays the Manager, whichever is lower. Any such repayments must be made within thirty-six months after the month in which the Manager waived the fee or assumed or reimbursed the expense. The Expense Limitation Agreement has a term ending March 31, 2027. The Manager may not terminate the Expense Limitation Agreement during its term.

For further information regarding the reimbursement of the costs and expenses incurred by the General Partner or the Manager, as applicable, see “Item 2. Financial Information—Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Expenses.”

The Registrant’s Partnership Agreement

The description below of the Partnership Agreement is only a summary and is not necessarily complete. The description set forth below is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Registrant’s Partnership Agreement attached as an exhibit to this Registration Statement.

HarbourVest GP LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, is the general partner of the Fund. Overall responsibility for the Fund’s oversight rests with the General Partner, subject to certain oversight rights that shall be held by the Board. Without limitation, and subject to the terms of the Registrant’s Partnership Agreement, the General Partner is responsible for and authorized with the following:

- performing all acts and entering into and performing all contracts (including contracting with the Manager); and
- other documents and tasks as it may deem necessary or advisable for the Fund.

Additionally, the General Partner or any of its affiliates may, in its sole discretion, cause the Fund to hold certain investments directly or indirectly through intermediate entities or to structure or re-structure the Fund’s investments, holdings and business operations in a manner that would allow the Fund to rely on a different exclusion from the definition of “investment company” under the Investment Company Act or to become subject to Investment Company Act requirements. Management Fees and Incentive Fees (each as described herein) may be paid, as applicable, in whole or in part, at the level of the Fund or any such intermediate entity and will generally not take into account accrued and unpaid taxes of any intermediate entity (or the receipts of such intermediate entity).

Material Conflicts of Interest

The Fund is subject to certain conflicts of interest arising out of its relationship with HarbourVest, including the Manager, the General Partner and their affiliates. There is no guarantee that the policies and procedures adopted by the Fund, the terms of the Partnership Agreement, the terms and conditions of the Management Agreement, or the policies and procedures adopted by the Board, the General Partner, the Manager, and their respective affiliates, will enable the Fund to identify, adequately address or mitigate these conflicts of interest, or that the Manager or General Partner will identify or resolve all conflicts of interest in a manner that is favorable to the Fund, and investors may not be entitled to receive notice or disclosure of the occurrence of these conflicts or have any right to consent to them. Some examples of conflicts of interest that may arise by virtue of the Fund's relationship with HarbourVest include, but are not limited to, the allocation of investment opportunities, the amounts paid to the General Partner, the Manager and their affiliates, Fund fees and expenses, the Fund's use of leverage, and the valuation of the Fund's assets. See "Item 1A. Risk Factors—Certain Conflicts of Interest" for more discussion of the Fund's conflicts of interest.

Allocation of Investment Opportunities

In general, investment opportunities appropriate for the Fund (indirectly through the Aggregating Partnership) will be allocated among the Fund and other investment entities and products managed by HarbourVest (collectively, the "HarbourVest-Managed Funds"), on a fair and equitable basis in accordance with HarbourVest's allocation policy as in effect from time to time, provided that in some cases other HarbourVest-Managed Funds will have priority over the Fund with respect to certain investments as described in the governing legal agreements of such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and/or such allocation policy.

In particular, with respect to Secondary Investments, such opportunities will generally be allocated among HarbourVest's flagship Secondary Funds, Dover Street XII AIF SCSp and Dover Street XII L.P. (collectively with any parallel vehicles, and including their respective predecessor or successor funds, as applicable, "Dover"), the Fund and certain other funds or accounts with secondary allocations managed by HarbourVest currently or in the future, based on a sharing arrangement whereby Dover is entitled to at least 70% of such investment opportunities, and the remainder is allocated to the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds on a fair and equitable basis pursuant to HarbourVest's allocation policies and procedures. In certain circumstances (including, but not limited to, commercial, portfolio construction, structural, regulatory, and legal considerations), HarbourVest can cause Dover to acquire less than 70% of an investment opportunity. In such a case, the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds may be allocated more than 30% of such investment opportunity. In addition, the Fund may make investments that are not pursued by Dover (including, but not limited to, investments that are of smaller scale or have significant unfunded commitments and therefore are determined to be not appropriate for the Dover program). For the foregoing allocation purposes, a Secondary Investment with respect to which the above priority allocation right will apply will not include any investment opportunity classified in good faith by HarbourVest as a direct investment in a single asset or as an investment in a highly concentrated Secondary Partnership, and such investments are expected to be allocated on a fair and equitable basis among the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts, including those that invest primarily in direct investment opportunities.

Furthermore, other HarbourVest-Managed Funds may be required as a legal or regulatory matter, including under the Investment Company Act, and similar or comparable laws or regulations of any jurisdiction, to be exempt from Dover's entitlement to at least 70% of such investment opportunities as described above, which in turn impacts allocation availability of such investments to the Fund. For example, the 70% priority right applicable to Dover will not at any time apply to allocations of investment opportunities between Dover and any registered investment companies or business development companies registered under the Investment Company Act (“Regulated Funds”) established by HarbourVest from time to time.

Additionally, certain other HarbourVest-Managed Funds have allocation priority in respect of certain investments for reasons other than legal or regulatory requirements. Some examples may include, but are not necessarily limited to: (1) other HarbourVest-Managed Funds that are part of HarbourVest’s real assets program may have priority over Secondary Investments in real assets-oriented investments; (2) other HarbourVest-Managed Funds that are part of HarbourVest’s credit program may have priority over Secondary Investments in credit-oriented investments, and (3) other HarbourVest-Managed Funds may have priority over investments offered to them primarily as a result of either (i) such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds’ ownership in pre-existing investments or (ii) relationships that one or more beneficial owners of such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds have with the sponsors of certain investments.

Competition

The General Partner believes that competition for investment opportunities varies across the private equity strategies in which it intends to invest but is generally based on industry expertise and potential for value-add pricing, terms, the structure of a proposed investment and certainty of execution. The General Partner believes that HarbourVest’s position as a leading private equity investor with scale, experienced investment teams and strong sourcing capabilities will help HarbourVest compete for quality investment opportunities and that HarbourVest’s operational expertise will help the Fund’s portfolio companies compete in their respective markets. HarbourVest competes for investment opportunities with other investment funds, business development companies, strategic industry acquirers, special purpose acquisition companies and other financial investors investing directly or through affiliates. New competitors constantly enter the market, and in some cases existing competitors combine in a way that increases their strength in the market.

Unit Redemptions

The Fund is designed primarily for long-term investors, and an investment in the Fund’s Units should be considered illiquid.

The Fund does not currently intend to list its Units for trading on any securities exchange or any other trading market. There is currently no Secondary Market for its Units, and the Fund does not expect any Secondary Market to develop for its Units. While a Unitholder should view its investment as long term with limited liquidity, in accordance with the Fund’s Partnership Agreement, on a quarterly basis, Unitholders may request that the Fund redeem all or any portion of their Units. The Fund may redeem fewer Units than have been requested in any particular quarter, or none at all, in its discretion at any time. In addition, the total amount of Units permitted to be redeemed per calendar quarter will generally be limited to no more than 5% of the Fund’s Net Asset Value, measured as of the last Business Day of the calendar quarter immediately preceding the Valuation Date (the “Fund-Level Limit”). For example, for a Redemption Date of July 1, the Valuation Date would be June 30, and the Fund-Level Limit would be measured on March 31 (assuming, in each case, that such date was a Business Day). The Fund does not expect to make redemptions of its Units until after the 12-month anniversary of the Fund’s Initial Closing Date (excluding, for the avoidance of doubt, Units that have been issued to other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and Seed Investors that have been admitted to the Fund as Unitholders). Units redeemed within 12 months of the acceptance date of such Units are subject to an Early Redemption Fee as set forth below under “Early Redemption Fee.”

The General Partner of the Fund currently expects to redeem Units as of the first Business Day of each calendar quarter, with economic effect as of the first calendar day of such quarter (each, a “Redemption Date”), using a purchase price equal to the Net Asset Value per Unit of the applicable Class (the “Redemption Price”) as of the last Business Day of the immediately preceding calendar quarter, or on such other date as the General Partner may determine (the “Valuation Date”).

In order to request a redemption of Units on a Redemption Date, a Unitholder must submit a notice to the General Partner on or before the close of business 20 Business Days prior to the applicable Valuation Date (the “Redemption Notice Deadline”), unless such deadline is waived by the General Partner; provided, that Units redeemed on a Redemption Date that is within 12 months of the purchase date of such Units will be subject to an Early Redemption Fee (as defined below), for the benefit of the Fund, of up to 5% of the applicable Redemption Price. Unitholders will generally not know the applicable Redemption Price until after the Redemption Notice Deadline. Unitholders whose Units are redeemed bear the risk that the Fund’s Net Asset Value may fluctuate significantly between the Redemption Notice Deadline on which they submit their redemption requests and the Valuation Date on which such Units are valued for purposes of such redemptions.

A Unitholder who submits a notice to redeem some but not all of its Units will be required to maintain a minimum account balance equal to the minimum initial investment amount applicable to the relevant Class of Units (the “Minimum Account Balance”). Such Minimum Account Balance requirement may be waived by the General Partner, in its sole discretion. If such requirement is not waived by the General Partner, to the extent a redemption of some, but not all of a Unitholder’s Units would cause such Unitholder to maintain an account balance of less than the applicable Minimum Account Balance the Fund may redeem all of the Unitholder’s Units. To the extent a Unitholder seeks to redeem all of the Units it owns and the Fund redeems less than the full amount of Units that the Unitholder requests to redeem, the Unitholder may maintain a balance of Units of less than the Minimum Account Balance following such redemption.

In the event that the Fund determines to redeem some but not all of the Units submitted for redemption during any quarter, Units submitted for redemption during such quarter will be redeemed on a pro rata basis after the Fund has redeemed all Units for which redemption has been requested due to death, disability or divorce and other limited exceptions (including, without limitation, a full redemption to prevent a Unitholder from maintaining a Unitholder’s account balance of less than the applicable Minimum Account Balance). All unsatisfied redemption requests must be resubmitted after the start of the next quarter, or upon the recommencement of redemptions, as applicable.

In addition to the quarterly redemptions, the General Partner may consider other potential avenues for providing Unitholders with potential liquidity.

There may be quarters in which the Fund does not redeem Units, and it is possible that the Fund will not redeem Units at all for an extended period. If the Fund does not redeem Units, Unitholders may not be able to sell their Units as it is unlikely that a Secondary Market for the Units will develop or, if a Secondary Market does develop, Unitholders may be able to sell their Units only at substantial discounts to the applicable Net Asset Value per Unit. If the Fund does redeem Units, the Fund may be required to borrow cash or to sell assets to purchase Units that are submitted for redemption, which may increase risks for remaining Unitholders and increase expenses as a percentage of assets.

The Fund may fund redemption requests from sources other than cash flow from operations, including, without limitation, borrowings, offering proceeds and the sale of its assets, and the Fund has no limits on the amounts it may fund from such sources. In an effort to have adequate cash available to support redemptions, the Fund may reserve borrowing capacity under an unsecured line of credit with a third party, HarbourVest or one of its affiliates. The Fund could then elect to borrow against this line of credit in part to redeem Units presented for redemption during periods when the Fund does not have sufficient proceeds from operating cash flows or the sale of Units in this continuous offering to fund all redemption requests. If the Fund determines to obtain a line of credit, the Fund expects that it would afford the Fund borrowing availability to fund redemptions.

The Fund is permitted to satisfy in kind the payment of the redemption amount to any Unitholder who requests it by allocating to the Unitholder investments from the portfolio of assets of the Fund equal to the value of the Units to be redeemed. The assets to be transferred in such case shall be determined on a fair and reasonable basis as determined by the General Partner and may result in a distribution of a particular asset on a non-pro rata basis. All costs associated with a redemption in kind, including the costs of issuing a valuation report, shall be borne by the Unitholder requesting the redemption.

The Fund will have no obligation to redeem Units, including if the redemption would violate the restrictions on distributions under U.S. federal law, Delaware law, Cayman Islands law or any other applicable law. Furthermore, the Fund may pledge some or all of its assets, including the Fund's liquid assets, to third-party lenders pursuant to credit facilities it enters into in the future or may be subject to contractual restrictions in such credit facilities, which could limit the Fund's ability to redeem Units submitted pursuant to the procedures described herein (as may be updated from time to time). The limitations and restrictions described above may prevent the Fund from accommodating any or all redemption requests made in any quarter. Unitholders who are exchanging a class of the Units for an equivalent aggregate Net Asset Value of another class of the Units will not be subject to, and will not be treated as redemptions for the calculation of, any quarterly limitation on redemptions and will not be subject to the Early Redemption Fee.

The Fund-Level Limit, redemption price and Early Redemption Fee (as defined below) are calculated based on the Fund's Net Asset Value, which is the price at which the Fund sells and redeems its Units.

There will be a substantial period of time between the date as of which Unitholders must submit a request to have their Units redeemed and the date they can expect to receive payment for their Units from the Fund.

The Fund expects, under normal market conditions, to provide payment with respect to at least 95% of the redemption proceeds within 10 Business Days of the NAV Publication Date but may hold back up to 5% of redemption proceeds until after the Fund's year-end audit. Any such proceeds that are held back generally will be paid no later than two Business Days after the annual audit of the Fund's financial statements for the fiscal year in which the applicable redemption is effected is made available to Unitholders.

The General Partner is permitted to make exceptions to, modify, or suspend redemptions at any time if, in its reasonable judgment it deems such action to be in the best interest of the Fund or the Unitholders, including, but not limited to, for tax, regulatory or other structuring reasons. As a result, Unit redemptions may not be available each quarter.

The Fund intends to disseminate monthly transactional NAV through the filing of current reports on Form 8-K or other means, and will disclose material changes to the policies, procedures, and guidelines regarding the determination of NAV in either current reports on Form 8-K or in the Fund's periodic reports, each to be filed with the SEC, as applicable.

Early Redemption Fee

Requests for redemption are subject to an early redemption fee, for the benefit of the Fund, of up to 5% of the applicable Redemption Price if Units are redeemed on a Redemption Date that is within 12 months of the purchase date of such Units (the "Early Redemption Fee"). The General Partner may, from time to time, waive or reduce the Early Redemption Fee in its discretion, including without limitation in the case of redemptions resulting from death, qualifying disability or divorce, in the case of redemptions arising from the rebalancing of a model portfolio sponsored by a financial intermediary, in the case of redemptions requested by HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts, trade or operational errors and in certain other circumstances.

Mandatory Redemptions

The General Partner, in its sole discretion, may require a Unitholder to surrender and have all or any portion of its Units redeemed at any time for any reason or no reason, with or without prior notice, if the General Partner determines that it would be in the interest of the Fund for the Fund to redeem the Units. To the extent the Fund requires the mandatory redemption of any Units of any Unitholder, such redemption will not be subject to the Fund-Level Limit or the Early Redemption Fee, unless otherwise determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion. To the extent the General Partner requires the mandatory redemption of any Units of any Unitholder, such withdrawal will be subject to the same terms as voluntary redemptions of Unitholders (including the limitations imposed thereon), unless otherwise determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion, and provided that the mandatory redemption of all or any portion of a Unitholder's Units is permitted to be satisfied in priority to other requested redemptions in the discretion of the General Partner. Accordingly, any mandatory redemption could cause the Unitholder to be redeemed at an inopportune time as compared to when a Unitholder may have determined on its own to redeem Units and the applicable Net Asset Value of Units could be less than the Unitholder might have otherwise received had it not been redeemed.

Leverage

The Fund may utilize leverage, incur indebtedness and provide other credit support to one or more other investment funds and entities managed by HarbourVest (including on a joint, several, joint and several or cross-collateralized basis) for any purpose, including, without limitation, to fund all or a portion of the capital necessary for an Investment, to fully or partially pay down any existing indebtedness, to engage in restructuring of the Fund or any of its subsidiaries, to satisfy Fund or portfolio investment expenses or other obligations, to provide funds for distributions to Unitholders, to pay management fees and Fund Expenses, to make payments under hedging transactions, to build reserves to cover actual or potential obligations and to fund redemptions. Other than borrowings incurred solely to provide interim financing prior to the receipt of capital (and not for permanent or long-term financing with respect to the Investments or the Fund Expenses), the Fund does not intend to incur cash borrowings if such borrowings would cause the aggregate amount of recourse indebtedness for borrowed money incurred by the Fund to exceed 33 1/3% of the Fund's total assets, measured at the time of such borrowings, provided that any indebtedness incurred by subsidiaries or in respect of any assets of the Fund (in each case, including in respect of any NAV Facility (as defined below)) or any guarantees by the Fund of indebtedness shall not be taken into account for the purpose of the 33 1/3% restriction, and, notwithstanding the foregoing restriction, all or any portion of any indebtedness of any subsidiary or in respect of any assets of the Fund may be secured by the investments of the Fund or other assets of the Fund without the consent of the Board or any investor in the Fund. During the initial ramp-up period of the Fund, and at other times as determined by the General Partner, in its sole discretion, borrowing by the Fund may exceed the 33 1/3% target. The Fund may incur indebtedness in excess of the limitations described above at other times, particularly during a market downturn or in connection with a large acquisition. Additionally, the Fund may incur additional indebtedness for borrowed money that causes the leverage ratio to exceed the limitation described above to the extent the General Partner expects at the time of each such incurrence that the leverage ratio shall be reduced to less than or equal to the stated limitations within 12 months from the date the leverage ratio initially exceeded such threshold.

From time to time, the Fund may enter into one or more revolving credit facilities with one or more unaffiliated third-party lenders pursuant to which the Fund may borrow for various purposes, including, but not limited to, funding investments, paying down existing indebtedness, engaging in restructuring of the Fund or any of its subsidiaries, providing liquidity to portfolio investments, paying management fees, incentive fees and operating expenses, making distributions, making payments under hedging transactions, building reserves to cover actual or potential obligations, financing the redemption of Units, and otherwise providing the Fund with liquidity. In addition, the Fund may enter into an unsecured line of credit with HarbourVest or one of its affiliates for such purposes. HarbourVest or one of its affiliates may face conflicts of interest in connection with any borrowings or disputes that arise relating to any such unsecured line of credit. Third-party lenders to such credit facilities or credit lines may obligate the Fund to (i) pledge some or all assets of the Fund, including, but not limited to, liquid assets, economic and beneficial interests in and rights to receive distributions in respect of portfolio investments, and (ii) comply with financial and negative covenants, which could limit the ability of the Fund to redeem Units in certain circumstances.

Prior to the effectiveness of this Form 10, Aggregating Partnership expects to enter into a revolving asset backed credit facility with an aggregate principal amount of up to approximately $75 million that would be secured by certain assets and bank accounts of the Aggregating Partnership, the Cayman Parallel Fund and HSEC, including the Cayman Parallel Fund's and HSEC's respective interests in the Aggregating Partnership. It is expected that the revolving credit facility will include competitive pricing and other terms, which are currently being negotiated with prospective lenders. No assurance can be given that it will be consummated on the terms described herein or at all and, if consummated, the terms may differ from those set forth herein and such differences could be material.

The Manager, the General Partner or one or more of its affiliates may advance amounts to the Fund on a temporary basis in anticipation of the receipt of borrowings from third parties, which amounts will be reimbursed to the Manager or the relevant party at cost (without interest or other carrying charges) as and when the relevant borrowings are received.

Hedging & Derivatives

The Fund may, but is not obligated to, whether directly or indirectly through a holding vehicle use derivative instruments for the purpose of hedging certain currency, interest rate or other market exposures, and for investment purposes (including, without limitation, synthetic secondaries, stock collars, structured financing arrangements and warrants) and to gain exposure to target assets.

Term

The Fund intends to continue in existence indefinitely but is subject to earlier winding up, dissolution and termination as further described in the Partnership Agreement.

Administrator

State Street Bank and Trust Company of 1 Congress Street, Boston, MA 02114 (the "Administrator") serves as the Fund's administrator and accounting agent. Pursuant to the administration agreement, the Administrator is responsible for generally managing the Fund's administrative affairs. The Administrator is entitled to receive a monthly fee based on the monthly Net Asset Value, subject to a minimum annual fee, plus out-of-pocket expenses.

Custodian and Transfer Agent

State Street Bank and Trust Company of 1 Congress Street, Boston, MA 02114 serves as the Fund's custodian and transfer agent (the "Transfer Agent").

Emerging Growth Company

The Registrant will be and will remain an "emerging growth company" as defined in the JOBS Act until the earlier of (a) the last day of the fiscal year (i) following the fifth anniversary of the date of its initial public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act, (ii) in which the Registrant has total annual gross revenue of at least $1.235 billion, or (iii) in which the Registrant is deemed to be a large accelerated filer, which means the market value of Units that is held by non-affiliates exceeds $700 million as of the date of the Registrant's most recently completed second fiscal quarter, and (b) the date on which the Registrant has issued more than $1.0 billion in non-convertible debt during the prior three-year period. For so long as the Registrant remains an "emerging growth company," the Registrant may take advantage of certain exemptions from various reporting requirements that are applicable to other public companies that are not "emerging growth companies" including, but not limited to, not being required to comply with the auditor attestation requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 ("Sarbanes-Oxley Act"). The Registrant cannot predict if investors will find Units less attractive because the Registrant may rely on some or all of these exemptions.

In addition, Section 107 of the JOBS Act also provides that an “emerging growth company” can take advantage of the extended transition period provided in Section 7(a)(2)(B) of the Securities Act for complying with new or revised accounting standards. In other words, an “emerging growth company” can delay the adoption of certain accounting standards until those standards would otherwise apply to private companies. The Registrant will take advantage of the extended transition period for complying with new or revised accounting standards, which may make it more difficult for investors and securities analysts to evaluate the Registrant since its financial statements may not be comparable to companies that comply with public company effective dates and may result in less investor confidence.

Employees

The Fund does not currently have any employees and does not expect to have any employees. Services necessary for the Fund’s business are provided by individuals who are employees of the General Partner, the Manager or their affiliates pursuant to the terms of the Management Agreement and the Partnership Agreement. See “Item 1. Business-Management Agreement” and “—The General Partner and the Board of Directors.”

The Private Offering

The Fund intends to conduct the Private Offering on a monthly basis to prospective investors who are both (i) accredited investors (as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act) and (ii) qualified purchasers (as defined in the Investment Company Act and rules thereunder) in reliance on exemptions from the registration requirements of the Securities Act, including under Regulation D.

The General Partner may convert Units of one Class to another Class without the consent of any person; provided, if the terms applicable to a Unitholder’s Units will be materially worse as a result of such conversion, such Unitholder’s consent will be required to convert such Unitholder’s Units to another Class.

Following the Fund’s commencement of operations, Units are generally offered for purchase as of the first Business Day of each calendar month, with economic effect as of the first calendar day of such month, except that Units may be offered and investors may be admitted as Partners more or less frequently as determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion (any such date on which Units are issued, a “Trade Date”). To the extent that any given Trade Date is not a first Business Day of a month, the economic effect of such Trade Date may not be treated as the first Business Day of such month, as may be determined by the General Partner or the Board in its sole discretion. Unless otherwise agreed by the General Partner, subscriptions are generally subject to the receipt of cleared funds on or prior to the Subscription Funding Deadline (as defined below). Except as otherwise permitted by the General Partner, initial and subsequent purchases of Units will be payable in United States dollars.

A prospective investor is required to review, complete, and execute a subscription document. The subscription document is designed to provide the Fund with important information about the prospective investor. A prospective investor must submit a completed subscription document at least five Business Days before the acceptance date (the “Subscription Dealing Deadline”). Unless otherwise agreed to with the General Partner, each initial or subsequent purchase of Units will be payable in one installment which will generally be due three Business Days prior to the date of the proposed acceptance of the purchase set by the Fund (the “Subscription Funding Deadline,” and together with the Subscription Dealing Deadline, the “Subscription Deadlines”), with the acceptance date expected to be the next Trade Date (in each case, unless waived by the General Partner in its sole discretion). Although the Fund may, in its sole discretion, elect to accept a subscription prior to receipt of cleared funds, a prospective investor will not become a Unitholder until cleared funds have been received. In the event that cleared funds and/or a properly completed subscription document are not received from a prospective investor prior to the Subscription Deadlines, the Fund may hold the relevant funds and subscription document for processing in the next offering.

The Fund reserves the right to accept or reject, in its sole discretion, any request to purchase Units at any time. The Fund also reserves the right to suspend or terminate offerings of Units at any time. Unless otherwise required by applicable law, any amount received in advance of a purchase ultimately rejected by the Fund will be returned promptly to the prospective investor without the deduction of any fees or expenses.

Reporting Obligations

The Registrant will file annual reports containing audited financial statements, quarterly reports, and such other periodic reports as it determines to be appropriate or as may be required by law. The Registrant is filing this Registration Statement under the Exchange Act to provide current public information to the investment community in anticipation of being required to register under Section 12(g) of the Exchange Act in the future, to comply with applicable requirements thereunder.

The Registrant intends to make available on its website, when available, its annual reports on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q and current reports on Form 8-K. The SEC also maintains a website (www.sec.gov) that contains such information. The Registrant's website will contain additional information about its business, but the contents of the website are not incorporated by reference in or otherwise a part of this Registration Statement. From time to time, the Registrant may use its website as a distribution channel for material company information. Financial and other important information regarding the Registrant will be routinely accessible through and posted on its website.

The Fund's fiscal year is the 12-month period ending on March 31, unless otherwise determined by the General Partner.

CERTAIN TAX, ERISA AND OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations

The following is a discussion of certain U.S. federal income tax considerations relating to an investment in the Fund and does not purport to address all of the U.S. federal income tax consequences that may be applicable to any particular Unitholder. For example, except as expressly described below, the discussion does not address the tax consequences of the disposition of an interest in the Fund. This discussion is based on laws, including the Code, the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder, and administrative, judicial, and other authorities in effect as of the date of this Registration Statement, all of which are subject to change, possibly with retroactive effect.

The Fund may be subject to, and adversely affected by, potential changes in tax laws in the United States and other jurisdictions, including as a result of current and future proposals in the United States Congress. Changes in such tax laws (including tax rates) and changes in the enforcement or interpretation of such tax laws could occur during the term of the Fund that may adversely affect the Fund and the Unitholders. This summary may not discuss in detail the impact of all recently enacted laws (including pursuant to the "One Big Beautiful Bill Act" enacted into law in July 2025), which could change certain of the tax consequences or considerations relating to an investment in the Fund, including certain tax consequences described below. No assurance can be given regarding the actual level of taxation that may be imposed upon the Fund or its investments. All prospective Unitholders should consult with their advisors as to all current and possible future proposals with respect to U.S. federal, state and local tax legislation and the effect, if any, that such legislation may have on an investment in the Fund.

The following discussion assumes the Unitholder is sophisticated and fully familiar with the U.S. federal income tax rules applicable to such Unitholder. The tax treatment of each Unitholder in the Fund will depend on its individual circumstances and may be subject to change in the future. Prospective investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors prior to investing in the Fund with respect to their particular tax situations, including, in the case of prospective investors subject to special rules under U.S. federal income tax laws, with reference to any special issues that investment in the Fund may raise for such persons. The activities of a Unitholder unrelated to such Unitholder's status as a Unitholder of the Fund may affect the tax consequences to such Unitholder of an investment in the Fund. Certain prospective investors may be subject to special rules, including, but not limited to, banks, thrifts, insurance companies, persons liable for the net investment income tax imposed under Section 1411 of the Code, charitable remainder trusts, dual residents, organizations that are generally exempt from U.S. federal income tax under Section 115 of the Code, persons liable for the excise tax on charitable endowments, and non-U.S. governments and international organizations that qualify for U.S. tax benefits under Section 892 of the Code. Such special rules are not addressed in the following discussion and prospective investors who are subject to such rules should consult their own tax advisors as to the tax considerations relating to an investment in the Fund. Furthermore, except to the extent set forth below, this discussion does not address all of the tax consequences that may be relevant to tax-exempt U.S. Unitholders and Non-U.S. Unitholders (as defined below).

For purposes of this discussion, a "U.S. Person" is an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States, as determined for U.S. federal income tax purposes, a corporation or an entity treated as a corporation for such purposes that is created or organized in or under the laws of the United States, any state thereof or the District of Columbia, an estate, the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source, or a trust if (1) it is subject to the primary supervision of a court within the United States and one or more U.S. Persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust, or (2) it has a valid election in effect under applicable U.S. Treasury Regulations to be treated as a U.S. Person. A "Non-U.S. Person" is a person that is not a U.S. Person.

A "U.S. Unitholder" is a Unitholder that is a U.S. Person, and a "Non-U.S. Unitholder" is a Unitholder that is a Non-U.S. Person. If Units are held by an entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the tax treatment of such entity or arrangement and the owners thereof generally will depend on the activities of such entity or arrangement and the status of such owners and as such, the discussion set forth below does not apply to such entities, arrangements or the owners thereof. Prospective investors that are treated as partnerships for U.S. federal income tax purposes and their owners should consult their tax advisors regarding the tax consequences of an investment in the Fund.

HarbourVest has formed the Fund, the two other Parallel Funds and the TE Feeder to which investors may subscribe:

1. HSEC, a Delaware limited partnership that will elect to be treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes.
2. The TE Feeder, a Delaware limited partnership intended to be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes.
3. The Delaware Parallel Fund, a Delaware limited partnership intended to be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes.
4. The Cayman Parallel Fund, a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership that will elect to be treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

HSEC, the Delaware Parallel Fund and the Cayman Parallel Fund, will each own interests in the Aggregating Partnership intended to be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The TE Feeder will own interests in the Cayman Parallel Fund.

The Fund

Taxation of the Fund

The Fund will make an election pursuant to Treasury Regulations Section 301.7701-3 to be treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes. This discussion hereafter assumes that such treatment will apply.

The Fund is expected to exclusively hold a limited partner interest in the Aggregating Partnership. The Aggregating Partnership is intended to be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes and will generally not be subject to U.S. federal income tax; instead, the Fund will be required annually to take into account its distributive share of all items of the Aggregating Partnership's income, gain, loss, deduction, and credit, whether or not distributed.

The Fund will be taxed, at the then-applicable federal, state and local income tax rates on its distributable share of the income of the Aggregating Partnership, net of available deductions. The U.S. federal income tax rate for corporations is currently 21%. The Fund may be subject to limitations on its ability to deduct certain expenses and losses, in amount or timing. For example, the Fund will not be entitled to deduct its share of the Aggregating Partnership's losses in excess of its tax basis in the Aggregating Partnership at the end of the tax year in which such losses are recognized. Additionally, the Fund may experience an "ownership change" within the meaning of the Code as a result of transfers or redemptions or compulsory redemptions under the terms of the Fund's Partnership Agreement, and as a result, this may limit the Fund's ability to offset taxable income from capital loss carryovers in such year.

As soon as reasonably practicable after the end of each calendar year, the Fund intends to provide to each Unitholder an applicable U.S. Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") Form 1099 as required by applicable law. Unitholders in the Fund that are required to file U.S. income tax returns are not expected to be required to file such returns on extension solely as a result of their investment in the Fund.

Each Unitholder of the Fund will bear (and, under certain circumstances, fund) their pro rata shares of any taxes paid by the Fund, and any distributions to the Unitholders of the Fund (to the extent applicable) will be net of such taxes.

An investment in the Fund may result in a Unitholder bearing more or less taxes than otherwise would be incurred had such Unitholder invested in the Cayman Parallel Fund or the Delaware Parallel Fund and such difference could be substantial.

Taxable U.S. Unitholders

While ownership of the Fund is not restricted to any category of U.S. Unitholder, the discussion below is addressed to a prospective investor that is a taxable U.S. Unitholder (including, but not limited to, a U.S. individual) or a tax-exempt U.S. Unitholder that has incurred any acquisition indebtedness in respect of its interest in the Fund. This discussion does not address the tax consequences of investing in the Fund to other types of U.S. Unitholders, who are urged to consult their own tax advisors.

Redemptions or Other Taxable Disposition of Units: A U.S. Unitholder may have its Units in the Fund redeemed either pursuant to the procedures described herein (as updated from time to time) or as a result of compulsory redemption under the terms of the Fund's Partnership Agreement. Amounts received by a U.S. Unitholder generally in connection with such a redemption will either be treated as a payment in exchange for the Units or as a distribution that would be treated as a dividend for U.S. federal income tax purposes to the extent of the Fund's current and accumulated earnings and profits (and to the extent such distribution exceeds the Fund's current and accumulated earnings and profits, as a tax-free return of basis, to the extent thereof, and then as gain from the sale of the Units).

In order for any such redemption to be treated as a payment in exchange for the redeemed Units and not as a distribution, such a redemption generally must be considered (i) to be "substantially disproportionate" with respect to such U.S. Unitholder, (ii) to result in a complete termination of such U.S. Unitholder's interest in the Fund (taking into account any constructive ownership rules), and/or (iii) otherwise be determined to be "not essentially equivalent to a dividend". A distribution in redemption generally will be "not essentially equivalent to a dividend" if it results in a "meaningful reduction" of such U.S. Unitholder's interest in the Fund. A redemption that results in a reduction in the proportionate interest of a U.S. Unitholder whose relative interest in the Fund is minimal may be regarded as a “meaningful reduction”, although no assurances can be provided in this regard.

In the case of a redemption treated as a sale or exchange or other taxable disposition of Units, a U.S. Unitholder generally will recognize capital gain or loss. Any such capital gain or loss generally will be long-term capital gain or loss if such U.S. Unitholder’s holding period for such Units exceeds one year. Long-term capital gain realized by a U.S. Unitholder treated as an individual is currently eligible to be taxed at reduced rates. The amount of gain or loss will be equal to the difference between (i) the sum of the amount of cash and the fair market value of any property received in such disposition and (ii) such U.S. Unitholder’s adjusted tax basis in the Units being disposed. A U.S. Unitholder’s adjusted tax basis in its Units generally will equal such U.S. Unitholder’s acquisition cost reduced by any prior distributions treated as a return of capital. The deduction of capital losses is subject to certain limitations. Under the “wash sale” rules of the Code, loss recognized on Units will ordinarily be disallowed to the extent the U.S. Unitholder acquires other Units or substantially identical securities within 30 days before or after the date of disposition. In that event, the basis and holding period of the Units (or substantially identical securities) acquired will generally be adjusted to reflect the disallowed loss.

In the event a redemption is treated as a distribution and not a sale or exchange (or other taxable disposition), the U.S. Unitholder may recognize dividend income under the rules described below “Taxation of Distributions on Units”. Furthermore, the amount of the distribution generally will be measured by the amount received by the U.S. Unitholder without being reduced by the U.S. Unitholder’s adjusted tax basis. The U.S. Unitholder’s adjusted tax basis in the redeemed Units generally will be transferred to the U.S. Unitholder’s remaining Units in the Fund. If the U.S. Unitholder does not retain any Units, the U.S. Unitholder may lose such basis entirely. Subject to satisfaction of certain holding period and ownership requirements, all or a portion of such dividend income may be eligible for the “dividends received deduction” for U.S. Unitholders that are U.S. corporations.

Under Section 305 of the Code, a redemption of Units that is treated as a dividend (under the rules described above) may, in certain circumstances, be treated as a “disproportionate distribution” and cause other Unitholders (including other Unitholders whose Units are not being redeemed) to be treated as having received a constructive dividend to the extent of the Fund’s earnings and profits (as determined for U.S. federal income tax purposes). A “disproportionate distribution” is a distribution or part of a series of distributions (including a redemption treated as a distribution under the rules described above) that has the effect of the receipt of cash or other property by some Unitholders and an increase in the proportionate interests of other Unitholders in the Fund’s assets or earnings and profits (as calculated for U.S. federal income tax purposes). These provisions could potentially apply to a redemption of Units if the redemption was not treated as isolated, although these provisions should not apply to the extent that any such redemptions qualify for sale or exchange treatment under the rules described above. The determination of whether any given redemption will be treated as a dividend, and if so, whether such redemption should cause other Units to be treated as having received a constructive dividend, is dependent on the particular facts and circumstances surrounding such redemption and can be made only at the time such redemption occurs. Unitholders should consult with their tax advisors regarding the consequences of these rules on their investment in the Fund.

Taxation of Distributions on Units: A U.S. Unitholder in the Fund generally will be required to include in gross income as dividend income the amount of any distribution to the extent the distribution is paid or deemed to be paid out of the Fund’s current or accumulated earnings and profits (as determined under U.S. federal income tax principles). All or a portion of such dividend income may be eligible for the “dividends received deduction” for U.S. Unitholders that are U.S. corporations depending on the satisfaction of certain holding period and ownership requirements. With respect to U.S. Unitholders treated as individuals, subject to certain exceptions (including, but not limited to, dividends treated as investment income for purposes of investment interest deduction limitations), distributions from the Fund are expected to consist of qualified dividend income and taxed at the lower applicable long-term capital gains rate provided certain holding period requirements are met.

Distributions in excess of such earnings and profits generally will be applied against and reduce a U.S. Unitholder's basis in its Units (but not below zero) and, to the extent in excess of such basis, generally will be treated as gain from the sale or exchange of such Units.

Tax-Exempt U.S. Unitholders

While ownership of the Fund is not restricted to any category of tax-exempt U.S. Unitholder, this discussion is addressed to a prospective investor that is a U.S. entity described in Section 501(a) of the Code. This discussion does not address the tax consequences of investing in the Fund to other types of tax-exempt U.S. Unitholders, who are urged to consult their own tax advisors.

A tax-exempt U.S. Unitholder that holds its interest in the Fund should not be directly subject to U.S. federal income tax or filing requirements in respect of unrelated business taxable income ("UBTI") earned by the Fund. Furthermore, if a tax-exempt U.S. Unitholder does not incur any acquisition indebtedness in respect of its interest in the Fund, then the tax-exempt U.S. Unitholder should not be subject to U.S. federal income tax in respect of distributions received from the Fund or on a disposition of the Units in the Fund.

Non-U.S. Unitholders

While ownership of the Fund is not restricted to any category of Non-U.S. Unitholder, this discussion is addressed to a prospective investor that is a Non-U.S. Person that is not, and will not be, engaged in trade or business within the U.S., and does not, and will not, have U.S. source income other than from the Fund. This discussion does not address the tax consequences of investing in the Fund to other types of Non-U.S. Unitholders, who are urged to consult their own tax advisors.

Generally, a Non-U.S. Unitholder of the Fund is not expected to be directly subject to U.S. federal income tax or filing requirements in respect of income (including any income treated as effectively connected with a conduct of U.S. trade or business ("ECI")) earned by the Fund or on a disposition of Units in the Fund. Furthermore, a Non-U.S. Unitholder should not be subject to U.S. federal income tax (other than potential withholding, as described below) in respect of distributions received from the Fund.

A Non-U.S. Unitholder will generally be subject to U.S. federal withholding tax at a rate of 30% on U.S. dividends received from the Fund.

Information Reporting Regimes

The Fund will be subject to various information reporting and withholding regimes, including the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act provisions of the Code and related U.S. Treasury regulations and guidance ("FATCA"), Council Directive 2018/822/EU amending Council Directive 2011/16/EU and related regulations and guidance (collectively, "DAC 6"), and possibly other similar reporting regimes.

Under FATCA, a withholding tax of 30% will be imposed in certain circumstances on (i) payments of certain U.S. source income (including interest and dividends) ("withholdable payments"), and (ii) payments made after the date that is two years after the date on which the final Treasury Regulations that define "foreign passthrough payments" are published by certain foreign financial institutions (such as banks, brokers, investment funds, or certain holding companies) ("FFIs") that are "attributable" to withholdable payments ("foreign passthrough payments"). It is uncertain at present when payments will be treated as "attributable" to withholdable payments.

Under FATCA, a Non-U.S. Unitholder's distributive share of withholdable payments generally will be subject to a 30% withholding tax if the Unitholder fails to provide certain information and tax forms, including in some cases a certification that the Unitholder does not have any substantial U.S. owners or certain information with respect to each of its substantial U.S. owners. A Unitholder that is an FFI, however, generally will be subject to a 30% withholding tax on its distributive share of withholdable payments, unless the Unitholder (a) is subject to an agreement with the IRS or (b) establishes that an exemption (including an exemption under an applicable intergovernmental agreement) applies.

FATCA may also apply to certain non-U.S. entities held by or affiliated with the Fund.

Under DAC 6, certain EU intermediaries, and in certain cases, parties such as the Fund or the Unitholders, are required to disclose certain information on cross-border arrangements that exhibit characteristics or features identified by the EU Council as having potential risk of tax avoidance. The reported information will be automatically exchanged with other EU member states. It is possible that certain transactions entered into by the Fund or the Fund's underlying investments, or the structure of the Fund itself, will require the Fund or its Unitholders to make such disclosures. The failure to timely and properly report arrangements that are required to be reported may result in penalties for the Fund or its investors.

In addition to FATCA and DAC 6, the Fund could be subject to other reporting regimes that could require the Fund to report to an applicable government authority information about its Unitholders and certain persons who indirectly hold, or who control, an interest in the Fund through a Unitholder, for example the OECD Common Reporting Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information in Tax Matters ("CRS").

Under the Partnership Agreement, a Unitholder will be required to provide such information and documentation, and comply with such procedures, as are required for the Fund or any related entity to comply with any requirements relating to FATCA, DAC 6, and any other similar reporting regimes. The failure of a Unitholder to comply with these requirements could result in adverse consequences to such Unitholder pursuant to the Partnership Agreement, including, possibly, the transfer of such Unitholder's interest in the Fund to a person selected by the General Partner for whatever consideration could be obtained for such interest.

Prospective investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of FATCA, DAC 6, and other applicable tax information exchange regimes to an investment in the Fund.

Certain U.S. Federal Estate Tax Considerations

The foregoing discussion does not address the U.S. federal estate tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. Prospective investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding U.S. federal estate tax matters.

Certain U.S. State and Local Tax Considerations

The foregoing discussion does not address the U.S. state and local tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. Unitholders should not expect to receive the relevant tax information prior to when their tax return reporting obligations become due and should expect to have to request extensions of time in which to file. Prospective investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding U.S. state and local tax matters.

Certain Other Tax Considerations

The Fund may be subject to withholding and other taxes imposed by, and Unitholders may be subject to taxation and reporting requirements in, the other jurisdictions in which the Fund has activities or makes investments. It is possible that tax conventions between such countries and the jurisdiction in which a Unitholder is a resident may reduce or eliminate certain of such taxes. In some cases taxable Unitholders may be entitled to claim foreign tax credits, refunds or deductions with respect to such taxes, subject to applicable limitations.

Treatment of Withholding Taxes

The Partnership Agreement authorizes the Fund to withhold and remit any withholding taxes with respect to any Unitholder. Any such withholding tax attributable to a Unitholder and actually withheld from a distribution to such Unitholder will be treated as a distribution to such Unitholder. Any other withholding or other tax that is attributable to a Unitholder shall be treated as an advance to such Unitholder, which shall be repaid, together with interest, at the option of the General Partner, by deduction from distributions thereafter made to such Unitholder or earlier payment by such Unitholder. Each Unitholder shall, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, reimburse the Fund for all liabilities for taxes attributable to such Unitholder. If the Fund receives a distribution from which tax has been withheld and such tax is attributable to one or more Unitholders, each such Unitholder will be treated as having received as a distribution or advance the portion of such amount that is attributable to such Unitholder's interest in the Fund.

Alternative Investment Vehicles

The foregoing discussion generally does not address the tax consequences of an investment made through an alternative investment vehicle ("AIV"). The tax consequences in the case of an AIV may be different from those described above (including, in the case of a non-U.S. AIV, as they relate to withholding). In addition, in the case of a non-U.S. AIV, certain U.S. Unitholders may be required to file Form 8865, Return of U.S. Persons With Respect to Certain Foreign Partnerships, reporting transfers of cash or other property to the AIV and information relating to the AIV, including information relating to the Unitholder's ownership interest in the AIV and allocations of the items of income, gains, losses, deductions, and credits from the AIV to the Unitholder and, in some circumstances, the names and addresses of certain of the other interest holders in the AIV. Substantial penalties may be imposed upon a U.S. Unitholder that fails to comply. Also, in the case of a non-U.S. AIV, certain information reporting regimes may apply as described under "Information Reporting Regimes" above and may require U.S. Unitholders to comply with certain reporting obligations. Prospective investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding an investment in an AIV.

Certain ERISA Considerations

The Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), governs the investment of the assets of certain employee benefit plans that may be Unitholders in the Fund. ERISA and the rules and regulations of the Department of Labor ("DOL") under ERISA contain provisions that should be considered by fiduciaries of those plans and their legal advisers. The Code also has certain provisions that apply to such plans as well as IRAs and so-called "Keogh Plans." Certain similar state and other local statutory rules may apply to plans that are not subject to ERISA, such as government plans, church plans and plans maintained outside of the United States; fiduciaries of these plans should be familiar with the rules governing those plans.

Fiduciary Duty of Investing Plans

In considering an investment in the Fund, plan fiduciaries should consider their basic fiduciary duty under section 404 of ERISA, which requires them to discharge their investment duties prudently and solely in the interest of the plan participants and beneficiaries.

Before authorizing an investment in the Fund, plan fiduciaries should consider, among other things: (i) the fiduciary standards under ERISA; (ii) whether the investment in the Fund satisfies the prudence and diversification requirements of ERISA; (iii) whether such fiduciaries have authority to make the investment under the appropriate plan investment policies and governing instrument and under Title I of ERISA; and (iv) whether the investment will give rise to a non-exempt "prohibited transaction" within the meaning of section 406 of ERISA or section 4975 of the Code. In analyzing the prudence of an investment in the Fund, special attention should be given to the DOL regulation on investment duties 29 C.F.R. section 2550.404a-1.

Plan Assets

Department of Labor regulations at 29 CFR 2510.3-101, as amended by Section 3(42) of ERISA (the "Plan Asset Regulations") concern whether investment by a plan in a partnership will result in the assets of the partnership being deemed “plan assets” and therefore subject to ERISA. The Plan Asset Regulations contain a general rule that when an “employee benefit plan” subject to ERISA invests in an entity such as a partnership, and the interest acquired by the plan is neither a publicly-offered security nor a security issued by a registered investment company, the plan’s assets include both the partnership interest and an undivided interest in each of the underlying assets of the partnership, unless the aggregate equity participation in the partnership by benefit plan investors subject to ERISA or the Code is not “significant” (i.e., such participation is less than 25% of the total value of each class of the partnership’s equity, disregarding certain amounts held by the general partner, manager, or their affiliates) or the partnership is operated as an operating company, including a venture capital operating company.

The General Partner will use commercially reasonable efforts to conduct the affairs of the Fund so that the Aggregating Partnership’s assets should not be deemed to constitute “plan assets” of any Unitholder that is a “benefit plan investor” (within the meaning of the ERISA and the Plan Asset Regulations) and in this regard, the Fund intends to rely on the “publicly-offered securities” exception or another exception to holding “plan assets”, such as limiting equity participation by “benefit plan investors”, each within the meaning of the Plan Asset Regulations). The “publicly-offered securities” exception requires that interests in the Fund be “widely held” and “freely transferable”. While the General Partner expects that interests in the Fund will meet such criteria, there is a lack of significant guidance from the DOL in this area, and accordingly, there can be no assurances in this regard. The Fund will rely on representations made by the Unitholders in their subscription materials in determining what percentage of the Fund is held by benefit plan investors.

If the portfolio securities of the Aggregating Partnership were plan assets of plans subject to Title I of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code, various provisions of ERISA would apply. Among other things, the General Partner and the Manager would be fiduciaries (as defined in ERISA) with respect to the assets of each such plan invested in the Fund, and would be subject to the fiduciary responsibility provisions and prohibited transaction rules under Title I of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code, which prohibit certain transactions in which a plan and a fiduciary or other “party in interest” or “disqualified person” participate. Such a problem could exist if, for example, a fiduciary or other service provider of an investing plan sold securities to the Fund. There can be no assurance that, in such event, the Aggregating Partnership would be able to comply with ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code.

For the avoidance of doubt, each Parallel Fund and the TE Feeder is intended to be a “hardwired” feeder fund for purposes of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code, and it is intended that the only investment activity of such vehicle will be investing in securities of the Aggregating Partnership (in the case of the TE Feeder, indirectly through the Cayman Parallel Fund). Consistent with this intention, the Manager and General Partner (acting in their capacities as investment manager and general partner of such vehicles, respectively) will not exercise any discretion regarding the investment activities of any Parallel Fund or the TE Feeder or otherwise take actions that could be deemed to be fiduciary in nature (for purposes of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code) with respect to any Parallel Fund, the TE Feeder or any of their respective Unitholders, and all references to the “discretion” or “sole discretion” of the Manager or the General Partner regarding investment activities should be interpreted as such entity causing the Parallel Funds and the TE Feeder to operate consistent with the objective of investing in securities of the Aggregating Partnership or taking actions as are necessary to give effect to the actions of the Aggregating Partnership.

Plan administrators of investors that are subject to ERISA may be required to report on Form 5500 Annual Return/Report compensation paid to service providers. The descriptions contained herein of fees and compensation are intended to satisfy the disclosure requirements for “eligible indirect compensation” for which the alternative reporting option on Schedule C of Form 5500 may be available. Prospective Unitholders such as pension funds that are subject to the provisions of ERISA should consult with their counsel and advisers as to the provisions of ERISA applicable to an investment in the Fund.

Trustees, investment managers and other fiduciaries of all plan investors, whether or not subject to ERISA or similar applicable laws, are advised to consult their counsel with respect to questions arising under ERISA, the related provisions of the Code, and any similar state or local laws applicable to such plan.

Compliance With Anti-Money Laundering Requirements

In response to increased regulatory concerns with respect to the sources of funds used in investments and other activities, the General Partner may request prospective and existing Unitholders to provide additional documentation verifying, among other things, such Unitholder's identity and source of funds used to purchase its Units in the Fund. The General Partner may decline to accept a subscription if this information is not provided. Requests for documentation and additional information may be made at any time during which a Unitholder holds Units in the Fund. The General Partner may be required to provide this information, or report the failure to comply with such requests, to appropriate governmental authorities, in certain circumstances without notifying the Unitholders that the information has been provided. The General Partner will take such steps as it determines are necessary to comply with applicable law, regulations, orders, directives or special measures. Governmental authorities are continuing to consider appropriate measures to implement anti-money laundering laws and at this point it is unclear what steps the General Partner may be required to take; however, these steps may include prohibiting such Unitholder from making further contributions of capital to the Fund, depositing distributions to which such Unitholder would otherwise be entitled to an escrow account or causing the withdrawal of such Unitholder from the Fund.

ITEM 1A. RISK FACTORS

Risk Factors

The following discussion of risk factors supplements the matters discussed in “Item 1A. Risk Factors—Certain Conflicts of Interest.” The following considerations, which include a discussion of certain risks that are relevant to the investment strategies employed in each of the Fund’s portfolio investments, which may include investments in operating companies as well as partnerships (the issuer of each such investment, an “Underlying Portfolio Fund”) should be carefully evaluated before making an investment in the Fund. Although the various risks discussed herein are generally described separately, prospective investors should consider the potential effects of the interplay of multiple risk factors. Where more than one significant risk factor is present, the risk of loss to an investor is likely to be significantly increased. As a result of these factors, as well as other risks inherent in any investment or set forth elsewhere in this Registration Statement, there can be no assurance that the Fund will meet its investment objectives or otherwise be able to successfully carry out its investment strategy. For the avoidance of doubt, the order in which the risks are presented below is not intended to provide an indication of the likelihood of their occurrence or of their magnitude or significance. The following discussion, together with the discussion in “Item 1A. Risk Factors—Certain Conflicts of Interest,” does not purport to be a complete enumeration or explanation of the investment considerations and risks involved in an investment in the Fund. Additional risks and uncertainties not currently known to the Fund, or that have not been noted in these risk factors, could also have a negative or adverse effect, which could be material, on the performance of the Fund. There can be no assurance that the Fund will be able to achieve its investment objectives or that investors will receive a return on their capital and investors could lose all or part of their subscription to the Fund. The past performance of funds and accounts managed by HarbourVest is not a reliable indicator of the future results that will be achieved by the Fund. While it is likely that Underlying Portfolio Funds and their managers will be subject to similar investment considerations and risks, investors should note that such Underlying Portfolio Funds, managers and sponsors could be subject to additional or alternative investment considerations and risks.

RISKS RELATED TO THE BUSINESS AND FUND STRUCTURE

The long-term focus of private markets investing and the limited partnership structure is not suitable for all investors.

An investment in the Fund requires a long-term commitment, with no certainty of return. The Fund’s investments are expected to be illiquid and in particular comprised predominantly of privately-negotiated investments in Underlying Portfolio Funds. There could be little or no near-term cash flow available to the Unitholders. The Fund will typically be prohibited by contract or applicable laws from selling certain investments for a period of time. The General Partner expects the managers of the Underlying Portfolio Funds to hold their investments for a number of years, and generally expects to hold investments in the Underlying Portfolio Funds for a number of years. Illiquidity can also result from the absence of an established market for certain investments. As a result, the Fund or an Underlying Portfolio Fund could be unable to realize its investment objectives by sale or other disposition of investments at attractive prices or could otherwise be unable to complete any exit strategy. There can be no assurance that the Fund will be able to dispose of its investments or otherwise cause the disposal of investments in which it participates at the price and at the time the General Partner would otherwise wish to do so. Further in this regard, the Fund will be an open-ended fund with no stated term and significantly different economic and other terms from other HarbourVest funds (such as, among others, redemption terms and annual incentive fee on unrealized performance). Because of the risks involved in the Fund’s investments, the lack of a public market for Units in the Fund and restrictions on transfers of Units and the open-ended nature of the Fund, investment in the Fund is only suitable for sophisticated investors who understand that they could lose all or a significant portion of their investment.

The Fund does not currently intend to list its Units for trading on any securities exchange or any trading market. There is currently no Secondary Market for its Units, and the Fund does not expect any Secondary Market to develop for its Units. Therefore, the transfer or redemption of Units by the Fund will likely be the only way for an investor to dispose of their Units. The General Partner has a right of first refusal with respect to transfers of Units as set forth in the Partnership Agreement. Consequently, Unitholders that wish to transfer their Units to a person other than an affiliate could be obligated to sell to the General Partner or an affiliate of the General Partner rather than to their chosen transferee.

Additionally, on a quarterly basis, Unitholders may request that the Fund redeem all or any portion of their Units. However, the Fund is permitted to redeem fewer Units than have been requested in any particular quarter, or none at all. Additionally, the total amount of Units permitted to be redeemed per calendar quarter will generally be limited to no more than 5% of the Fund's Net Asset Value, measured as of the last Business Day of the calendar quarter immediately preceding the Valuation Date and are subject to an early redemption fee of up to 5% if Units are redeemed on a date that is within 12 months of the purchase date of such Units.

The General Partner is permitted to make exceptions to, modify, or suspend redemptions at any time if, in its reasonable judgment it deems such action to be in the best interest of the Fund or the Unitholders, including, but not limited to, for tax, regulatory or other structuring reasons. As a result, Unit redemptions are not expected to be available in certain cases, such as when a redemption offer would have an undue burden on the Fund's liquidity, adversely affect its operations or risk having an adverse impact on the Fund and its remaining Unitholders that would outweigh the benefit of the redemption offer.

In the event that the Fund determines to redeem some but not all of the Units submitted for redemption during any quarter, Units submitted for redemption during such quarter will be redeemed on a pro rata basis after the Fund has redeemed all Units for which redemption has been requested due to death, disability or divorce and other limited exceptions. All unsatisfied redemption requests must be resubmitted after the start of the next quarter, or upon the recommencement of redemptions, as applicable.

There may be quarters in which the Fund does not redeem Units, and it is possible that the Fund will not redeem Units at all for an extended period. If the Fund does not redeem Units, Unitholders may not be able to sell their Units as it is unlikely that a Secondary Market for the Units will develop or, if a Secondary Market does develop, Unitholders may be able to sell their Units only at substantial discounts to the applicable Net Asset Value per Unit. If the Fund does redeem Units, the Fund may be required to borrow cash or to sell assets to purchase Units that are submitted for redemption, which may increase risks for remaining Unitholders and increase expenses as a percentage of assets. It is also possible that the Fund may not be able to sell assets in order to purchase Units that are submitted for redemption, and the Fund is not expected to have any priority, compared to other investors, in redeeming from, or selling, such assets.

Investors should consult their professional advisers to assist them in making their own legal, tax, regulatory, accounting and financial evaluation of the merits and risks of investment in the Fund in light of their own circumstances and financial condition.

The Fund has certain reporting obligations not typically applicable to private funds, which could materially adversely impact the Fund.

The Fund will be subject to regulations not typically applicable to private funds, such as the Exchange Act and provisions of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. Efforts to comply with such regulations will involve significant expenditures, and non-compliance with such regulations may adversely affect the Fund. Upon the effectiveness of the Registration Statement, the Fund will be required to comply with all periodic and current reporting and other applicable requirements under the Exchange Act. The Fund will make available to its Unitholders annual reports containing audited financial statements, quarterly reports, and such other periodic reports as the Fund determines to be appropriate or as may be required by law. The Fund will be subject to the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, and the related rules and regulations promulgated by the SEC. Management will be required to report on the Fund's internal control over financial reporting pursuant to Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act by the time the Fund files its second annual report on Form 10-K. The Fund is required to review on an annual basis its internal control over financial reporting, and on a quarterly and annual basis to evaluate and disclose changes in its internal control over financial reporting. Developing and maintaining an effective system of internal controls may require significant expenditures, which may negatively impact the Fund's financial performance and its ability to make distributions (if any). The Fund cannot be certain of when its evaluation, testing and remediation actions, if any, will be completed or the impact of the same on its operations. In addition, the Fund may be unable to ensure that the process is effective or that its internal controls over financial reporting are or will be effective in a timely manner. In the event that the Fund is unable to develop or maintain an effective system of internal controls and maintain or achieve compliance with the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and related rules, the Fund may be adversely affected. The Fund's independent registered public accounting firm will not be required to attest to the effectiveness of its internal control over financial reporting until there is a public market for its Units, which is not expected to occur.

Lack of coordination among investment decisions of Underlying Portfolio Funds could materially adversely impact the Fund.

Investment decisions of the Underlying Portfolio Funds are made by such funds' managers independently of one another. Consequently, at any particular time, one Underlying Portfolio Fund may be purchasing interests in an issuer that at the same time are being sold by another Underlying Portfolio Fund. Investing by the Underlying Portfolio Funds in this manner could cause the Fund to incur indirectly certain transaction costs without accomplishing any net investment result.

Valuations of portfolio companies are estimates of fair value and may not necessarily correspond to reasonable value and valuations of investments used by the General Partner—and, accordingly, NAV per Unit calculations used for subscriptions and redemptions—likely will not reflect the prices at which such investments are ultimately sold.

The Fund is subject to valuation risk, which is the risk that one or more of the securities in which the Fund invests are valued at prices that the Fund is unable to obtain upon sale due to factors such as incomplete data, market instability, human error, or, with respect to securities for which there are no readily available market quotations, the inherent difficulty in determining the fair value of certain types of investments.

The Fund will primarily hold or otherwise participate in investments in securities and other assets that will not have readily assessable market values. In such instances, the General Partner will determine the fair value of such securities and assets in its reasonable judgment in accordance with HarbourVest's valuation policies based on various factors and can rely on internal pricing models. Such valuations might vary from similar valuations performed by independent third parties for similar types of securities or assets. The valuation of illiquid securities and other assets is inherently subjective and subject to increased risk that the information utilized to value such assets or to create the price models could be inaccurate or subject to other error. Generally, Underlying Portfolio Funds will be valued at the valuations contained in the latest financial reports supplied by the manager or sponsor of such Underlying Portfolio Funds, unless the General Partner, in good faith, determines that the valuation of any Underlying Portfolio Fund does not reflect the fair market value of such investment, in which case such Underlying Portfolio Fund will be valued in good faith by the General Partner in accordance with HarbourVest's valuation policies. In cases where the Fund has purchased an interest in an Underlying Portfolio Fund in a third-party transaction at a discount to the valuation contained in the financial reports of such Underlying Portfolio Fund, the General Partner expects to value such interest at the higher valuation stated in such financial reports. Investments in Underlying Portfolio Funds will be difficult to value because it could be difficult for the General Partner to obtain sufficient financial information with respect to the portfolio investments held by such Underlying Portfolio Funds including to assess whether it is appropriate to rely on valuations provided by the relevant manager or sponsor. There is no guarantee that the value determined by the General Partner (or the manager or sponsor of an Underlying Portfolio Fund) will represent the value that will be realized by the Fund from its investments on its eventual disposition or liquidation by the Fund or Underlying Portfolio Fund, as applicable, or that would be realized upon an immediate disposition of the investment. In addition, the General Partner may engage a third-party valuation firm to review the valuation of investments.

The valuations used by the General Partner will impact the Fund's Net Asset Value and the number of Units issued or redeemed as it relates to subscriptions and redemptions prices available to Unitholders and prospective investors based on the Net Asset Value. Valuations of investments used by the General Partner (and, accordingly, Net Asset Value per Unit calculations used for subscriptions and redemptions) likely will not reflect the prices at which such investments are ultimately sold (and therefore also not reflect the Incentive Fee payments, if any, that will actually be paid upon such ultimate realization). In addition, such valuations will only reflect information that has been processed by the General Partner as of the Valuation Date. Some investments of the Fund may require multiple tranches of funding over time and may make distributions to the Fund over time, which could result in greater fluctuation in the amount of Incentive Fee payments owed to the Unitholders in connection with such investments, increasing the likelihood that a redeeming Unitholder redeems at a Net Asset Value that is not reflective of the ultimate net proceeds after Incentive Fee payments available to the Fund upon realization of such investments. The General Partner may determine that certain fees and expenses are specific to a Feeder Fund and, to the extent it allocates such expenses to that Feeder Fund and assesses the Incentive Fee at the level of a Parallel Fund into which a Feeder Fund invests, such amounts will not be taken into account for the calculation of the Net Profits and Net Losses on which the Incentive Fee is calculated, which will result in Unitholders of a Feeder Fund bearing higher expenses, and as a result experiencing different returns, than Unitholders in the Parallel Funds. Prospective investors and Unitholders must rely upon their own examination of, and ability to understand, the terms of investment in, and redemption out of, the Fund, including the valuation process involved, in making a decision to invest in, or redeem out of, the Fund. Additionally, valuations used by the General Partner will impact the Fund's Net Asset Value, which in turn will impact the amount of Management Fees paid, creating a conflict of interest between the Fund and the General Partner and its affiliates. For example, the General Partner's valuation process is expected to result in delays in application of some or all of the underlying investment expenses to the Fund's Net Asset Value due to timing of processing and allocation determinations among applicable entities. Delayed application of expenses could result in a higher Net Asset Value on which the Management Fees are charged during interim periods and no adjustment will be made after application of expenses. The Fund's Net Asset Value is also a critical component in other operational matters including computation of the Servicing Fees.

There is no process for Unitholders to review the inputs from the General Partner or the overall Net Asset Value determined by the Administrator under the responsibility of the General Partner, and Unitholders may pay higher Management Fees than they would have otherwise paid. In light of the illiquid nature of the interests in the Underlying Portfolio Funds, any Net Asset Value determination will be based on the General Partner's good faith determination as to the fair value of those interests. In connection with the foregoing and, as described above, the General Partner may rely on underlying sponsors and/or retain the services of a third-party valuation firm. Notwithstanding the foregoing, there can be no assurance that valuations by the General Partner, underlying sponsors or third-party valuation firms will be accurate or up-to-date, or that third-party pricing or valuations will be available. Furthermore, the Net Asset Value per Unit will be determined based on the information (including without limitation information from Underlying Portfolio Fund managers, tax estimates and information provided) available to and processed by the Administrator and the General Partner as of the applicable Valuation Date and, as such, may not reflect information subsequently received or processed in connection with the preparation of any financial statements delivered to the Unitholders (including without limitation updated information from Underlying Portfolio Fund managers, actual tax amounts and other pricing information subsequently available to the General Partner). As a result, the subscription amount and redemption amount for a given Valuation Date will differ from the ultimate determination made regarding the value of the Fund's assets as of such Valuation Date that is made subsequent to the Net Asset Value Publication Date (as defined below). The Fund will not retroactively adjust the number of any Units issued or redemption amounts to reflect amounts subsequently reported in any financial statements. The Net Asset Value calculated for a given Valuation Date will differ from GAAP NAV. If the Net Asset Value per Unit is overvalued or undervalued relative to the actual value of the assets (including as ultimately reflected in the GAAP NAV), redeeming Unitholders may receive a redemption amount that is too high or low, respectively, and prospective investors may receive too many or not enough Units, respectively, and could result in dilution of existing Unitholders. Generally, neither redeeming Unitholders nor remaining Unitholders will have any recourse against the Fund, the General Partner or any of their respective affiliates if information available after a Valuation Date indicates that a prior Net Asset Value per Unit was too overvalued or undervalued. Any such overvaluation or undervaluation will also impact current Unitholders as of the applicable Valuation Date who are not redeeming or taking any action if other Unitholders redeem or subscribe and are paid redemption proceeds reflecting a larger amount than their actual share of the true value of the assets at such time (including as subsequently reflected in the GAAP NAV) or are permitted to make subscription payments in an amount reflecting less than their actual share of the true value of the assets at such time (including as subsequently reflected in the GAAP NAV), respectively. Due to various factors, including without limitation, different management fee rates amongst Classes, hedging gains and losses attributable to a particular Class, and expenses allocable to a particular Class, prospective investors and Unitholders should expect that the Net Asset Value per Unit and GAAP NAV per Unit in respect of one Class will differ from the Net Asset Value per Unit and GAAP NAV per Unit, respectively, in respect of another Class, and that such divergences may grow over time.

Unitholders will receive different information, which may affect a prospective investor's decision to invest in the Fund, inform transfer decisions by certain Unitholders and allow certain Unitholders to act on additional information not available to other Unitholders and may make it difficult for investors to monitor the General Partner and its performance.

Unitholders' rights to information regarding the Fund are specified, and strictly limited, in the Fund's Partnership Agreement. In particular, it is anticipated that the General Partner will obtain certain types of material information from investments that will not be disclosed to Unitholders because such disclosure is prohibited due to contractual, legal, or similar obligations that may be outside of the General Partner's control. Decisions by the General Partner to withhold information may have adverse consequences for Unitholders in a variety of circumstances, may make it difficult for Unitholders to monitor the General Partner and its performance and in particular, may result in the General Partner and its affiliates having substantially more and different information than the Unitholders will have, including when the General Partner and its affiliates make decisions regarding whether to permit transfers of Units and/or purchase or redeem Units of the Fund.

Additionally, due in part to the fact that prospective investors and Unitholders are expected to ask different questions and request different information, the General Partner expects to, from time to time and to the extent permitted by law, provide certain information to one or more prospective investors or Unitholders in connection with their investment decision or in response to such questions and requests or otherwise that it does not provide to all Unitholders. In addition, certain Unitholders will, through separate written agreements or side letters entered into with the Fund or HarbourVest, have access to information regarding the Fund's investments, including access to HarbourVest's investment committee materials and attendance at HarbourVest investment committee meetings, which is not available to other Unitholders. Such information may affect a prospective investor's decision to invest in the Fund, and Unitholders (which may include personnel and affiliates of the General Partner) may be able to act on such additional information, for example, by seeking to transfer their Units. None of such additional information is or will be integrated into this Registration Statement, the Memorandum, or otherwise provided to the other Unitholders.

The Fund may be obligated to disclose certain confidential information related to its transactions, which could materially adversely affect the Fund or Unitholders.

Some of the Units likely will be held, directly or indirectly, by investors, such as public pension plans and listed investment vehicles, that are subject to public disclosure requirements, including, without limitation, as a result of any governmental public records access law or other freedom of information laws or laws with a similar intent or effect. The amount of information about their investments (including private investment fund investments) that is required to be disclosed has increased in recent years, and that trend may continue. To the extent permitted by the Partnership Agreement and applicable law, the General Partner can, in order to prevent any such potential disclosure, withhold all or any part of the information otherwise to be provided to such investors. Without limiting the foregoing, in the event that any party seeks the disclosure of information relating to the Fund, its affiliates, and/or any entity in which an investment is made under the U.S. Freedom of Information Act (“FOIA”) or any such similar law, the General Partner may, in its discretion, initiate legal action and/or otherwise contest such disclosure, which may or may not be successful, and any expenses incurred therewith will be borne by the Fund. In addition, the General Partner may be required to, or may determine it is appropriate to, disclose certain information relating to the Fund or the Unitholders, subject to any applicable confidentiality obligations or restrictions, including their names, subscription amount, jurisdictions, beneficial owners, type or category of investor (such as governmental investors) and percentage ownership in the Fund or other entities, in connection with anti-money laundering and know-your-customer requirements and/or requests by the Fund’s counterparties (for example, in connection with obtaining financing on behalf of the Fund or its investments or the subscription of a prospective investor to the Fund), as well as in connection with certain other investment-related matters, including regulatory, governmental or other applications or approvals and the ongoing operation of the Fund and/or its Underlying Portfolio Funds and underlying portfolio companies. If such disclosure is not mandatory, the General Partner will determine whether and to what extent such disclosure is appropriate, subject to any applicable confidentiality obligations or restrictions and, notwithstanding that the Fund or Unitholders may be adversely affected by such disclosure, the General Partner will not be liable to the Fund or the Unitholders for any such disclosure. Furthermore, potential future regulatory changes applicable to investment advisors and/or the accounts they advise could result in HarbourVest and/or the Fund becoming subject to additional disclosure requirements the specific nature of which is unknown.

Certain transactions could be precluded due to existing or prospective relationships of another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account, which could materially adversely impact the performance of the Fund.

The Fund could be precluded from making certain investments or taking certain actions by reason of (i) an existing or prospective relationship of another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account in a potential or actual portfolio investment of the Fund, (ii) an existing or prospective relationship between the sellers or sponsors of a potential portfolio investment (or its officers or unitholders) and an ERISA plan invested in such other HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account or (iii) a determination by HarbourVest that such investment or action otherwise could result in a conflict with other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts or HarbourVest or its affiliates. For example, where one or more other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts could participate in a potential transaction through an existing portfolio investment that is (or is considering) pursuing such transaction, HarbourVest could determine not to permit other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts, including the Fund, to pursue the same potential transaction. Furthermore, certain HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts permit one or more investors or related parties to source and present investment opportunities to HarbourVest, and therefore the actions of such investors or related parties (which are not within HarbourVest’s control) could preclude the Fund from making investments or taking actions where HarbourVest has determined it could result in a conflict of interest. In addition, certain transactions could be precluded or limited due to ERISA. The inability of the Fund to pursue investments or take certain actions due to conflicts of interest arising with respect to other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts could adversely impact the Fund.

The Fund can make commitments in excess of its available capital, which could result in insufficient capital available to satisfy all of the Fund’s obligations.

The Fund can make commitments to Underlying Portfolio Funds in excess of its aggregate subscriptions. Therefore it is possible that the Fund, at any given time, could have outstanding obligations in excess of its aggregate subscriptions. Accordingly, there is a risk that, should the Fund make commitments in excess of its available capital and should a significant portion of the Fund’s obligations come due in a short period of time, there could be insufficient capital available to satisfy all of the Fund’s obligations. Additionally, redemptions made following the Fund making any commitment may reduce the Fund’s available capital to an amount less than what the Fund initially expected to reserve, thereby negatively impact the Fund’s ability to fund such commitment. In each case, the Fund could be at risk of defaulting on such obligations and being subject to related penalties and other liabilities pursuant to the terms of the relevant investment.

Certain risks and consequences similar to those applicable with respect to the utilization of leverage by the Fund (see “The Fund will utilize leverage which may amplify losses, increase costs and limit cash flow that negatively affect the value of investments” below) are also applicable and could arise in connection with the use of over-commitment strategies by the Fund. For example, over-commitment by the Fund will increase its exposure to investments in excess of its aggregate subscriptions, which could cause greater fluctuations in the net asset value of the Fund’s assets and the investment returns achieved by the Fund and, to the extent the Fund’s available cash flows are applied in the sole discretion of HarbourVest to meet the Fund’s contribution obligations with respect to its commitments, could limit the Fund’s ability to make redemption payments. In addition, the Fund could be subject to penalties and other liabilities if it defaults on any such obligations.

Subject to the limitation described above, HarbourVest will determine in its sole discretion on an ongoing basis the extent to which the Fund will employ over-commitment strategies with respect to individual investments and the Fund’s portfolio of investments as a whole. HarbourVest could determine to over-commit the Fund to a greater or lesser extent than it has historically determined, or contemporaneously determines, is appropriate for other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts that have the ability to employ over-commitment strategies. Accordingly, the Fund could be exposed to a greater risk of loss than prior or other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts or, alternatively, could deploy a smaller percentage of capital relative to its subscriptions than prior or other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts.

The Fund will have limited liquidity and Unitholders’ ability to have Units redeemed is limited and at times Unitholders may not be able to liquidate their investments.

Liquidity refers to the speed and ease with which investments can be sold or liquidated or a position closed. On the asset side, liquidity risk refers to the inability of the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds to dispose of investments at a price equal or close to their estimated value within a reasonable period of time. On the liability side, liquidity risk refers to the inability of the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds to raise sufficient cash to meet their payment obligations, including in particular payment of redemption proceeds, due to their inability to dispose of investments. The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds will generally invest in highly illiquid investments, for which there are no liquid markets. The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds may be required to hold such investments until maturity or otherwise be restricted in disposing such investments. As a result, the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds may not be able to sell their investments when they otherwise desire to do so or realize what they perceive to be the fair value of an investment upon its disposition. In addition, the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds may invest in financial instruments traded over-the-counter or OTC, which generally tend to be less liquid than instruments that are listed and traded on exchanges. Market quotations for less liquid or illiquid instruments may be more volatile than for liquid instruments and/or subject to larger spreads between bid and ask prices. Difficulties in disposing of investments may result in a loss for the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds and/or compromise the ability of the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds to meet a redemption request.

Liquidity risk for the Fund may be harder to determine due to differentiated management fee and incentive fee rates and terms for different classes of Units, particularly as the relative mix of outstanding Units of each class is expected to change regularly. As a result, the amount of net proceeds from realization of any given asset that are available for the Fund after satisfaction of payment of Incentive Fees, if any, owed in connection with such realization and any other unpaid expenses (including Management Fees) are unpredictable. Where such amounts differ between classes of Units (including new classes of Units that may be created in the future), realization events will lead to relative changes amongst the classes of Units in respect of ownership of unrealized assets. Furthermore, the Fund may have less cash available from such net proceeds than a Unitholder might have anticipated on the basis of the Management Fees and Incentive Fees such Unitholder bears if other Unitholders in other classes of Units are paying higher Management Fees and Incentive Fees, and thereby reducing the total net cash proceeds actually available to the Fund and causing the Fund to have less liquidity to satisfy redemption requests than such Unitholder may have anticipated.

There may be a significant period of time before the Fund is able to invest substantially all capital contributions that were contributed at the time of investment in the Fund and, during such time, the Fund's performance may suffer.

The Fund anticipates requiring Unitholders to fully fund their subscription amounts as of the applicable settlement date when Units are issued to the applicable Unitholders (as opposed to accepting commitments from Unitholders to fund capital over time). Because the Fund may accept a large amount of capital as of any subscription date, there may be a significant period of time before the Fund is able to invest all or substantially all of such capital contributions. The Fund may also misjudge projected upcoming capital needs and as a result accept more subscriptions than needed or otherwise maintain an unnecessarily large cash reserve. During any period in which the Fund's assets are not substantially invested in accordance with its principal investment strategies, the Fund's performance may suffer. Furthermore, the General Partner may determine to deploy subscription proceeds to fund redemptions, Fund expenses or other liabilities or obligations of the Fund, rather than deploy such proceeds for investment purposes.

The Fund's reliance on underlying portfolio company managers may expose it to the risks of undetected improper conduct or fraud.

The General Partner will conduct due diligence reviews of managers and sponsors of Underlying Portfolio Funds that it believes is sufficient to select such investments. However, due diligence is not a perfect process and it is possible that problems associated with a particular manager or sponsor will not be uncovered. Such managers and sponsors could be operating at a loss or have significant variations in operating results, be engaged in a rapidly changing business, require additional capital to support their operations or maintain their competitive position or otherwise have a weak financial condition that could ultimately adversely impact the Fund. The potential that any such manager or sponsor engages in improper conduct or fraud cannot be eliminated. The General Partner is expected to rely on representations with respect to the managers and sponsors of Underlying Portfolio Funds made by such managers and sponsors, their accountants, attorneys and other associated investment professionals or service providers. If any such representations are misleading, incomplete or false, Underlying Portfolio Funds could be selected for investment by the Fund that might otherwise have been eliminated from consideration. Any of the foregoing risks could be more significant in the context of managers that are "emerging managers" with limited operational histories and track records or existing managers that have recently experienced significant changes in the composition of their teams or organizational structures.

Redemption requests may require the Fund to liquidate investments at unfavorable times or reduce the amount of borrowings available to the Fund and the Fund may suspend or cap redemptions which would limit the ability of Unitholders to redeem their Units.

On account of redemptions by Unitholders, the Fund could be forced to liquidate investments prematurely and at a potentially significant discount, causing losses to the Fund. Actions taken to meet redemption requests from the Fund could result in prices of securities held by the Fund decreasing and in Fund expenses increasing (e.g., due to increased transaction costs, including but not limited to, taxes incurred in the liquidation of positions or in connection with the termination of counterparty agreements). Selling assets to meet redemptions could also reduce the amount of borrowings available to pay future redemption amounts by drawing on the credit facility. Substantial redemptions could also significantly restrict the Fund's ability to obtain financing or counterparties needed for its investment strategies or disrupt portfolio construction and risk management strategies, which would have a further material adverse effect on the Fund's performance. Further, the Fund may suspend or cap redemptions, which actions would limit the ability of Unitholders to redeem their Units, and the value of the Fund's investments may decline prior to the time when redemption is permitted.

The Fund may accept contributions in kind, which may result in adverse consequences for the Fund and/or the Unitholders.

Pursuant to the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner may accept, on behalf of the Fund, a subscription to the Fund in the form of a non-cash contribution on terms and conditions that the General Partner deems appropriate in good faith. In connection therewith, the General Partner is permitted to accept a contribution in-kind of any asset (or portion thereof) held by another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account. The conditions on which any contribution in-kind is made can be expected to result in the contributing Unitholder receiving more favorable terms than other Unitholders or other contributing Unitholders with respect to the Units it acquires in exchange for such contribution. The General Partner is under no obligation to value any asset contributed in-kind at its fair market value and conflicts of interest may arise as a result. Unitholders will not receive a copy of any agreement memorializing any agreement related to a contribution in-kind (even if in the form of an Other Agreement) and will be unable to elect in any “most favored nations” election process any such rights or benefits afforded through such contribution in-kind. The Fund can also be expected to bear costs and expenses in connection with the acquisition of any such asset, similar to the acquisition of any other investment by the Fund. Such costs and expenses will be determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion on a case-by-case basis and will result in the Fund bearing more costs and expenses in certain contributions-in-kind than others and, in turn, certain contributing Unitholders paying more costs and expenses than others. In addition, with respect to contributions in-kind of assets held by any HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account, if such HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account remains co-invested in such investment or if a HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account is co-invested in such investment, the General Partner or its affiliates may have contractual obligations to such HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account to divest such investment pro rata between the Fund and such HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account generally at the same time and on substantially the same terms. As the General Partner or its affiliates are expected to have capital invested in such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts, and are expected to be entitled to the realization of an incentive allocation (or its equivalent) with respect to such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts in connection with the contribution in-kind of all or any portion of the assets of such vehicle to the Fund, conflicts of interest are expected to arise from time to time in connection with any allocation of an investment opportunity to the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts, the General Partner’s decision to cause the Fund to accept a contribution in-kind (which may be influenced in part by the potential of realizing such incentive allocation (or its equivalent)) and other matters.

A contribution in-kind may result in adverse tax consequences for the Fund and/or the Unitholders. Contributing Unitholders should consult their own advisers regarding the legal, tax, and accounting treatment of the contribution in-kind.

The Fund is new and has no operating history.

Although HarbourVest has had extensive experience investing in private markets, the Fund and the General Partner are newly formed entities with no significant operating history upon which to evaluate the Fund’s likely performance. Therefore, the past performance of other funds and accounts managed by HarbourVest is not a reliable indicator of the future results that will be achieved by the Fund. There can be no assurance that the Fund will be able to achieve its investment objectives or that the investors will receive a return on their capital and investors could lose all or part of their investment in the Fund. Similar risks could apply with respect to any Underlying Portfolio Funds.

Losses or other liabilities sustained by one Class in excess of the assets attributable to such Class may be charged against the assets of another Class which could materially adversely affect the performance of certain Classes of Units.

The Fund is permitted to issue Units in several Classes. The Units provide for the manner in which the liabilities are to be attributed across the various Classes. If the Fund were to seek to limit recourse with respect to the liabilities of any Class to the assets of such Class, such limitation may be subject to various legal, regulatory or other constraints. The Fund is a single entity, and there is no limited recourse protection for any Class. Accordingly, all of the assets of the Fund will be available to meet all of its liabilities regardless of the Class to which such assets or liabilities are attributable. It is possible that losses or other liabilities sustained by one Class in excess of the assets attributable to such Class will be charged against the assets of another Class. In practice, cross-class or cross-series liability is only expected to arise where liabilities referable to one Class are in excess of the assets referable to such Class and such Class is unable to meet all liabilities attributed to it. In such a case, the assets of the Fund attributable to other Classes would be applied to cover such liability excess.

Allocation of Loss Recovery Amount is determined on a class by class basis, rather than an individual basis, which means the benefit any individual Unitholder receives from the loss recovery amount may differ materially from the benefit a Unitholder would have received if the Loss Recovery Amount was determined individually for each Unitholder.

Where the Fund maintains a loss recovery account for calculating the Incentive Fee, Unitholders will benefit from the loss recovery account in proportion to their holdings of Units, irrespective of when such Unitholders subscribed to the relevant Class. As a result, the benefit any individual Unitholder receives from the loss recovery amount will be determined by the performance of the Fund from the time such class is initially issued rather than from the time any individual Unitholders subscription, and may differ materially from the benefit a Unitholder would have received if the Loss Recovery Amount was determined individually for each Unitholder based on the Fund's performance from the time that individual Unitholder subscribed to the Fund.

The Fund will utilize leverage which may amplify losses, increase costs and limit cash flow that negatively affect the value of investments.

The Fund, its direct and indirect portfolio companies and certain of the Underlying Portfolio Funds will directly or indirectly utilize leverage in their investment strategies, including derivatives and potentially for transactions involving the recapitalization of their portfolio investments or assets (and, for the avoidance of doubt, such leverage may take the form of what is commonly referred to as a NAV Facility (as defined below)). Except to the extent the use of borrowing proceeds is limited by the Partnership Agreement, borrowing proceeds may be used by the Fund for various purposes, including to make or facilitate new or follow-on portfolio investments, to fully or partially pay down any existing indebtedness, to engage in restructuring of the Fund or any of its subsidiaries, to satisfy Fund or portfolio investment expenses or other obligations, to pay management fees and organizational expenses, to provide funds for distributions to Unitholders, to make payments under hedging transactions, to build reserves to cover actual or potential obligations or to fund redemptions. In addition, credit facilities for the Fund may be available to provide borrowed funds directly to the portfolio companies of the Fund, in which case such borrowed funds would be guaranteed by the Fund.

Although leverage will increase investment returns if the Fund earns a greater return on the investments purchased with borrowed funds than it pays for the use of those funds, the use of leverage will decrease the returns of the Fund if it fails to earn as much on investments purchased with borrowed funds as it pays for the use of those funds. It is possible that HarbourVest's targeted leverage for the Fund will not be available to the Fund as a result of competition between the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts for access to available leverage from banks and other lenders.

When the Fund utilizes leverage to make investments, such leverage may but need not be short-term. The Fund expects any credit facility to be supported by the Fund's assets and may not have the same maturity date as a credit facility supported by uncalled capital commitments to a fund would have. Additionally, the Fund may create subsidiary special purpose vehicles in connection with Secondary Investments and other investments that borrow in order to fund all or a portion of such secondary or other investments, as applicable, and the Fund may guarantee the indebtedness of one or more such special purpose vehicles. Any such guarantee will put other assets of the Fund at risk despite use of the special purpose vehicle to make the borrowing. Guarantees provided by the Fund in respect of its investments will not be included in the calculation of the borrowing limitations otherwise applicable to the Fund. The credit exposure of the Fund as a result of such guarantees may be in excess of any limitation on direct borrowing permitted by the Fund, which increases the risks of leverage. Furthermore, leverage that may remain outstanding for longer periods increases the risks described herein of the use of such leverage.

Moreover, the Fund expects to use leverage in other ways that generally differ from Underlying Portfolio Funds, including for purposes of paying redemption proceeds to the Unitholders. Such leverage may be paid down until receipt of proceeds from existing investments or from new subscriptions from prospective investors. While those provide different sources of potential cash flow to repay investments, neither is certain and both may be negatively affected by market downturns or volatility. If any outstanding borrowings become due and no cash is available to repay the borrowing, the Fund may be required to sell assets at unfavorable times or valuations. In addition to interest costs related to borrowing, the Fund will bear any related facility fees, commitment expenses and any other costs related to the borrowing.

To the extent the Fund uses borrowed funds, the Fund will bear the expense of interest on such borrowed funds. In addition to interest costs related to borrowing, the Fund will bear any related facility fees, commitment expenses and any other costs related to the borrowing. Because Unitholders may redeem from the Fund, such costs may be borne solely by the non-redeeming Unitholders.

The Fund's utilization of credit facilities may also benefit third party co-investors who acquire securities of an investment from the Fund after the closing of an investment. While the Manager expects that the third party co-investors participating in an investment will bear their pro rata share of the principal, interest expense and fees allocable to any outstanding loan, there is no assurance that such third party co-investors will bear such pro rata expense and the Fund may end up bearing the portion of the principal, interest expense and fees otherwise allocable to such third party co-investor and, in any event, the Fund will bear all of the credit risk related to the portion of the borrowing attributed to the third party co-investor until the sell down of the investment to the third party co-investor.

While HarbourVest expects that all parties participating in an investment (including the General Partner and/or any co-investors) will bear their pro rata shares of the interest expenses but not necessarily origination and other costs allocable to the extension of credit, if multiple entities comprising the Fund incur debt in connection with that investment, certain such entities may bear a disproportionate amount of the credit risk in incurring the debt on behalf of the other such entities. An entity comprising the Fund could not have the necessary diversification of Unitholders or sufficient aggregate subscriptions to qualify for borrowing under any credit facility and, therefore, the amount of leverage available and attributable to the entities comprising the Fund could differ and, in such case, the investment results of the entities comprising the Fund could differ as well. Furthermore, the use of Fund level borrowings will differ based on available credit facility capacity and contractual terms applicable to the Fund and each such credit facility.

Furthermore, as the credit facilities utilized by the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds may have different terms, while the Fund and such HarbourVest-Managed Funds may be invested in the same investment, and while the valuation of such investment would be consistently determined pursuant to the relevant organizational documents of such HarbourVest-Managed Funds, the investment return can, in certain circumstances, differ among the Fund and such HarbourVest-Managed Funds as a result.

Borrowing by the Fund will generally be secured by the Fund's assets, and documentation relating to such borrowing may provide that during the continuance of a default under such borrowing, the interests of the investors may be subordinated to such borrowing at the level of the Fund.

Borrowing by the Fund could be structured so that the entities comprising the Fund are jointly and severally liable on a cross-collateralized basis for any repayment of indebtedness under any such credit facility and security could be granted by one or more entities comprising the Fund or the General Partner over assets of the Fund to secure indebtedness obtained for the benefit of, or indebtedness incurred by, one or more entities comprising the Fund. Under any such arrangement, each entity comprising the Fund will be responsible for all outstanding amounts. Therefore, if an entity comprising the Fund defaults on its obligations in respect of such indebtedness, the other assets of the Fund could be foreclosed upon in order to satisfy such defaulted obligations. Each entity comprising the Fund is expected to enter into reciprocal guarantees with regards to its obligations and liabilities under any joint credit agreements. The Fund will only enter into such joint and several borrowing arrangements when the Manager determines it is in the best interests of the Fund. The Fund may enter into such arrangements even if a different arrangement could have been more beneficial for the Fund, and there can be no assurance such arrangements wouldn't increase expenses of, or potential liability to, the Fund.

Borrowing by an Underlying Portfolio Fund will also involve risks. The Fund's Underlying Portfolio Funds and their subsidiaries are also expected to incur leverage which could have risk implications similar to those described above to the Fund. The interest expense and other costs incurred in connection with such leverage might not be recovered by the appreciation in any investment purchased or carried by such amounts. The consequences of borrowing could include, without limitation (i) greater fluctuations in the net assets of the applicable Underlying Portfolio Fund or subsidiary; (ii) use of cash flow (including capital contributions) for debt service, distributions, or other purposes; (iii) to the extent that Underlying Portfolio Fund revenues or subsidiary revenues, as applicable, are required to meet principal payments, investors (including the Fund) might be allocated income (and therefore could incur tax liabilities) in excess of cash available for distribution; (iv) in certain circumstances, an Underlying Portfolio Fund or subsidiary could be required to prematurely realize investments to service its debt obligations; and (v) limitations on the flexibility of the Underlying Portfolio Fund to make distributions to its investors (including the Fund) or sell assets that are pledged to secure indebtedness. The assets of an Underlying Portfolio Fund or a subsidiary, as applicable will generally be available to satisfy all liabilities and other obligations of such Underlying Portfolio Fund or subsidiary, respectively. If a leveraged Underlying Portfolio Fund or a subsidiary defaults on secured indebtedness, the lender could foreclose and the Underlying Portfolio Fund or an applicable entity could lose its entire investment in the security for such loan. If an Underlying Portfolio Fund or a subsidiary itself becomes subject to a liability, parties seeking to have the liability satisfied could have recourse to its assets generally and not be limited to any particular asset, such as the investment giving rise to the liability. In addition, borrowing of an Underlying Portfolio Fund could be secured by assignment of the obligations of its investors (including the Fund) to make capital contributions to the applicable entity.

In addition, the General Partner may cause the Fund and/or one or more subsidiaries or special purpose vehicles to enter into Fund level "NAV" facilities that are secured by some or all of the Fund's investments (each such facility a "NAV Facility"). Lenders under any NAV Facility may foreclose on the Fund's assets if the Fund fails to repay the amounts borrowed under such NAV Facility or experiences another event of default.

The Fund could forgo investment opportunities due to insufficient borrowing capacity under credit facilities the Fund may enter into which could materially adversely affect the performance of the Fund.

HarbourVest generally expects to manage the level of cash reserves, in part, by utilizing amounts borrowed under a credit facility to support redemption requests, which could result in the Fund foregoing investment opportunities that would be otherwise suitable for it because capital from new subscriptions is needed to repay borrowings rather than fund new investments. Any borrowing by the Fund will be subject to the limitations on fund-level indebtedness set forth in the Partnership Agreement and the risks relating to the use of leverage described herein, including, but not limited to, the risk that the Fund will not qualify for, or otherwise will not be able to obtain, HarbourVest's targeted amount of indebtedness for the Fund (see "The Fund will utilize leverage which may amplify losses, increase costs and limit cash flow that negatively affect the value of investments" above and "Leverage available to the Fund could be limited as a result of allocations of available leverage to other HarbourVest-Managed Funds." below). The General Partner could, in its sole discretion, determine not to cause the Fund to participate in any portfolio investment (or any portion thereof) that would otherwise be appropriate for the Fund solely because the Fund does not have sufficient available capacity to make such portfolio investment using borrowing under its credit facility or other indebtedness (or would not have sufficient available capacity after borrowing under its credit facility or other indebtedness to support anticipated redemption requests) even though the Fund could have otherwise utilized capital from new subscriptions to make such investment. As a result, HarbourVest could determine to allocate such investment opportunities to other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts, and such a determination could adversely impact the Fund or could otherwise result in such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts pursuing similar investments achieving returns that are better than the returns achieved by the Fund.

Movements in currency exchange rates could negatively affect the Fund or Unitholders.

The Fund will be denominated in U.S. dollars. However, the Fund could make investments in Underlying Portfolio Funds denominated in currencies other than U.S. dollars. Distributions received by the Fund in a local currency will be converted back to U.S. dollars for distribution to partners. Short-term currency fluctuations are not expected to significantly affect the Fund's performance because capital calls (cash out-flows) and distributions (cash in-flows) will occur over an extended period of time. However, changes in currency exchange rates could result in the Fund becoming over- or under- concentrated in one or more particular strategies, Underlying Portfolio Funds, or having unfunded obligations that exceed its remaining commitments allocated thereto (or its remaining commitments in the aggregate), which could adversely affect the performance of the Fund. While HarbourVest has expertise in hedging and the use of forward currency contracts, the nature and timing of liquidity opportunities might not allow sufficient circumstances to protect against currency swings. While the Fund could occasionally hedge such currency risks, the Fund is not required to do so, and, in any event, such hedging activities could be costly or unsuccessful. Investors should understand that currency risk is inherent in long-term, international private equity investing.

The returns to investors whose local currency is not U.S. dollars could be increased or decreased as a result of currency fluctuations between their local currency and the U.S. dollar.

Certain countries have implemented or could implement strict controls on foreign exchange of its local currency, which could result in artificially pegged exchange rates that distort the results of, and returns on, investment in such countries. The ability of the Fund and Underlying Portfolio Funds and their portfolio companies to convert freely between the U.S. dollar the local currencies could be restricted or limited and, in a number of instances, exchange rates and currency conversion are controlled directly or indirectly by governments or related entities. Further, the Fund will incur costs in converting investment principal and income from one currency to another.

Underlying Portfolio Funds and their underlying portfolio companies could in many cases be subject to risks relating to changes in currency values which could indirectly adversely affect the Fund. Among the factors that could affect currency values are trade balances, levels of short-term interest rates, differences in relative values of similar assets in different currencies, long-term opportunities for investment and capital appreciation, and political developments. Any returns on, and the value of, the Fund and its Underlying Portfolio Funds could, therefore, be materially affected by these factors and by exchange rate fluctuations, local exchange control, limited liquidity of the relevant foreign exchange markets, the convertibility of the currencies in question and/or other factors.

In connection with Secondary Investments, the Fund could make certain investments in Underlying Portfolio Funds that own a limited number of assets, or only a single asset, the performance of which could significantly impact the performance of any such Underlying Portfolio Fund.

While the Underlying Portfolio Funds are generally expected to invest in diversified portfolios, in connection with Secondary Investments, the Fund could make investments in Underlying Portfolio Funds that hold a limited number of assets or only a single asset. Accordingly, the performance of any one asset could significantly impact the performance of any such Underlying Portfolio Fund.

The fund-of-funds structure results in multiple expenses being borne by the investor.

Each Underlying Portfolio Fund will impose carried interest payments as well as management fees and other expenses on the interests held by the Fund in such Underlying Portfolio Fund. In addition, the Fund will incur management costs and other administrative costs and due diligence costs and carried interest payments which will be imposed on the Unitholders. This fund-of-funds structure will result in greater expenses for Unitholders than if Unitholders invested directly in the Underlying Portfolio Funds.

The departure or reassignment of some or all of HarbourVest's key individuals could prevent the Fund from achieving its investment objectives.

The success of the Fund will depend in substantial part on the skills and expertise of the investment professionals of HarbourVest. The loss of one or more key individuals could have a material adverse effect on the performance of the Fund.

The Fund is not regulated as an investment company under the Investment Company Act and related rules and is therefore not subject to certain regulatory oversight.

The Investment Company Act and related rules provide certain protections to investors and impose certain restrictions on companies that are registered as investment companies. While the Fund could be considered similar in some ways to a registered investment company, it is not required, and does not intend, to register as such under the Investment Company Act and, accordingly, Unitholders are not accorded the protections of the Investment Company Act.

RISKS RELATED TO THE FUND'S INVESTMENTS

The Fund may make a limited number of investments or investments that are concentrated in certain portfolio companies, geographic regions, asset types or sectors, which could negatively affect the Fund's performance to the extent such concentrated investments perform poorly.

The Fund is expected, from time to time, to participate in a limited number of investments and, while such investments could themselves include some level of diversification, the overall investment returns of the Fund could be substantially adversely affected by the unfavorable performance of even a single investment by the Fund. Other than as summarized in "Item 1. Business" above, there are no requirements as to the degree of diversification of the Fund's investments, either by size, geographic region, stage, asset type, investment strategy, sector or vintage year. Although the Fund will seek to construct a diversified portfolio of investments in Underlying Portfolio Funds as described herein, the Fund could fail to achieve its targeted level of portfolio diversification. To the extent the Fund's investment portfolio is overly concentrated in a particular investment, industry, stage, geographic region or vintage, or is otherwise not adequately diversified, the Fund could be more susceptible to fluctuations in value resulting from adverse economic, business or market conditions. Moreover, there can be no assurances that all of the Fund's investments will perform well or even return capital. Therefore, if certain investments perform unfavorably, for the Fund to achieve above-average returns, one or a few of its investments must perform very well. There are no assurances that this will be the case.

The Fund may not have sufficient coverage of insurance against certain catastrophic losses.

With respect to investments acquired by the Fund, liability, fire, flood, extended coverage and rental loss insurance with insured limits and policy specifications that HarbourVest, or, if applicable, underlying portfolio fund management, believes are appropriate for such properties will be maintained. However, certain losses of a catastrophic nature, such as wars, natural disasters, terrorist attacks or other similar events, may be either uninsurable or insurable at such high rates that to maintain such coverage would cause an adverse impact on the related Investments. In general, losses related to terrorism are becoming harder and more expensive to insure against. Many insurers are excluding terrorism coverage from their all-risk policies. In some cases, the insurers are offering significantly limited coverage against terrorist acts for additional premiums, which can greatly increase the total costs of casualty insurance for a property. As a result, not all Investments may be insured against terrorism. If a major uninsured loss occurs, the Fund and/or Underlying Portfolio Funds could lose both invested capital in and anticipated profits from the affected investments.

Consideration of sustainable investing factors could negatively impact the Fund's performance.

Consideration of sustainable investing factors could increase the Fund's exposure to certain companies, sectors, regions, countries or types of investments, which could negatively impact the Fund's performance to the extent there is underperformance in such companies, sectors, regions, countries or investments. Applying sustainable investing goals to investment decisions is qualitative and subjective by nature, and there is no guarantee that the criteria utilized by HarbourVest, the managers of Underlying Portfolio Funds or any judgment exercised by any of the foregoing in making an investment decision will reflect the sustainable investing-related beliefs or values of any particular investor or group of investors. In evaluating an investment, HarbourVest is dependent upon information and data obtained through voluntary or third-party reporting that could be incomplete, inaccurate or unavailable, which could cause HarbourVest's assessment of an investment's sustainable investing practices and/or related risks and opportunities to be incorrect. In addition, HarbourVest makes investment decisions based on circumstances as they exist at the time the investment is made. Developments within or otherwise impacting an investment that take place subsequent to the Fund's investment, might not conform to HarbourVest's expectations regarding sustainable investing (for example, but not by limitation, an underlying portfolio company could pivot in its use of technology or change its business plan in a manner that is not consistent with and conflicts with, the Fund's sustainable investing objectives and expectations in respect of the Fund's investment in the company).

Sustainable investing-related investment practices and applicable regulatory regimes and considerations differ by region, sector and issue and are continually evolving and accordingly, an underlying portfolio company's or an Underlying Portfolio Fund's sustainable investing-related practices or HarbourVest's assessment of such practices are likely to change over time.

The Fund might not obtain suitable investments, and, even if it does, there is a risk that the Fund's investment objectives will not be achieved.

The business of identifying and structuring investments of the types contemplated by the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds is competitive and involves a high degree of uncertainty. Furthermore, the availability of investment opportunities generally will be subject to market conditions and competition from other groups as well as, in some cases, the prevailing regulatory or political climate. Interest rates, general levels of economic activity, the price of securities, and participation by other investors in the financial markets could affect the value and number of investments made by the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds or considered for prospective investment.

As of the date of this Registration Statement, the General Partner has not selected the investments that it will make on behalf of the Fund. Purchasers of Units will not have an opportunity to evaluate for themselves the relevant economic, financial and other information regarding the investments to be made by the Fund and, accordingly, will be dependent upon the judgment and ability of the General Partner and HarbourVest in investing and managing the capital of the Fund. No assurance can be given that the Fund will be successful in obtaining suitable investments, or if such investments are made, that the objectives of the Fund will be achieved. There can be no assurance that the Fund will be able to identify and complete attractive investments in the future or that it will be able to fully invest its subscriptions.

It is possible that competition for appropriate investment opportunities could increase, thus reducing the number of investment opportunities available to the Fund and adversely affecting the terms upon which investments can be made.

The Fund will be subject to risks that are unique to each underlying portfolio company and the specific investment strategies deployed.

The Fund and Underlying Portfolio Funds may pursue a range of different investment strategies, each of which carry specific risks to the strategy. For example:

Leveraged Buyout Transactions. The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds can invest in leveraged buyouts of companies; leveraged buyouts by their nature require companies to undertake a high ratio of leverage relative to available income. Such leveraged investments as further discussed below are inherently sensitive to declines in portfolio company revenues and increases in portfolio company expenses and to increases in interest rates.

Growth Equity and Venture Capital Investments. The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds can make growth equity and venture capital investments. Such investments involve a high degree of business and financial risk that can result in substantial losses. The most significant risks include the risks associated with investments in (i) companies in an early stage of development or with little or no operating history; (ii) companies operating at a loss or with substantial fluctuations in operating results from period to period; and (iii) companies with the need for substantial additional capital to support or to achieve a competitive position.

Investments in Credit-Related Transactions. The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds could invest in credit-related transactions involving junior and senior debt investments. Although junior debt securities are typically senior to common stock and other equity securities in the capital structure of a portfolio company, they could be subordinated to large amounts of senior debt and could be unsecured. Such credit investments are subject to material risks as further discussed below.

Investments in Special Situation, Recapitalization, and Distressed Debt Transactions. The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds can invest in securities of financially troubled companies or companies involved in work-outs, liquidations, reorganizations, recapitalizations, bankruptcies and similar transactions and securities of highly leveraged companies. While these investments could offer the potential for high returns, they also bring with them correspondingly greater risks as discussed below.

The Fund's investment in debt securities and private debt instruments may reduce returns and increase financial risks.

The Fund's and Underlying Portfolio Fund's investments in junior and other debt instruments, if any, will entail normal credit risks (e.g., the risk of non-payment of interest and principal) and market risks (e.g., the risk that certain market factors will cause the value of the instrument to decline). The value of an investment could be subject to fluctuations due to changes in the issuer's credit quality. Adverse changes in the financial condition of an issuer or in general economic conditions (or both) could impair the ability of such issuer to make payments and result in defaults on, and declines in, the value of its debt securities. The Fund's and Underlying Portfolio Fund's return to investors would be adversely impacted if an issuer in which the Fund or an Underlying Portfolio Fund invests becomes unable to make such payments when due. There can be no assurance that a portfolio company will generate sufficient cash to service its contractual obligations to the Fund or an Underlying Portfolio Fund, and, in any such case, the Fund or the Underlying Portfolio Fund could suffer a partial or total loss of the capital invested in such issuer.

Certain of the Fund's investments carry interest rate risks.

Certain investments of the Fund and Underlying Portfolio Funds are expected to expose the Underlying Portfolio Funds and therefore the Fund to interest rate risk, meaning that changes in prevailing market interest rates could negatively affect the value of such investments. Factors that can affect market interest rates include, without limitation, inflation, deflation, slow or stagnant economic growth or recession, unemployment, money supply, governmental monetary policies, international disorders and instability in domestic and foreign financial markets. The Fund is permitted to, but is not required to (and is not expected to), hedge interest rate risk of investments. Similarly, such risks might not be hedged by any Underlying Portfolio Fund. In light of the current interest rate environment, the Fund's and Underlying Portfolio Funds' cost of capital (including any borrowing or hedging arrangements) are expected to be heightened (which could, among other things, increase the risk of default under certain borrowing arrangements of the Fund, its Underlying Portfolio Funds or their respective investments) as compared to the lower interest rate environments which the Fund or its Underlying Portfolio Funds may have experienced in prior periods. Any deterioration of the global debt markets, any possible future failures of financial services companies and/or a significant rise in market perception of counterparty default risk, interest rates and/or taxes may adversely affect the Fund's and its Underlying Portfolio Funds' ability to generate attractive risk-adjusted investment returns.

The Fund may become subject to collateral management risk.

The Fund may invest in derivatives that (i) do not require the counterparty to post collateral, (ii) require collateral but do not provide for perfection of the Fund's security interest, (iii) require significant upfront deposits (initial margin) unrelated to the derivatives' fundamental fair (or intrinsic) value, or (iv) do not require that collateral be regularly marked-to-market. When a counterparty's obligations are not fully secured by collateral, the Fund runs a higher risk of not being able to recover what it is owed if the counterparty defaults. Counterparty risk will also be higher if the Fund has concentrated its derivatives with a single or small group of counterparties as a result of its use of swaps and other over-the-counter derivatives. To the extent the Fund has significant exposure to a single counterparty, this risk will be particularly pronounced for the Fund. If a counterparty defaults, the Fund may need to sell non-cash collateral received at prevailing market prices. In such a case the Fund could realize a loss due, inter alia, to inaccurate pricing or monitoring of the collateral, adverse market movements, deterioration in the credit rating of issuers of the collateral or illiquidity of the market on which the collateral is traded. Difficulties in selling collateral may delay or restrict the ability of the Fund to meet redemption requests.

Counterparty risk arising from investments in OTC financial derivative instruments is in part mitigated by ensuring that counterparties are appropriately rated and capitalized and that counterparties across the Fund's and the Underlying Portfolio Funds' portfolio of derivative instruments are diversified. Counterparty risk may also be further mitigated by the transfer of margin to the Fund by its counterparties.

The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds may also incur a loss in reinvesting cash collateral received, where permitted. Such a loss may arise due to a decline in the value of the investments made. A decline in the value of such investments would reduce the amount of collateral available to be returned by the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds to the counterparty as required by the terms of the transaction. The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds would be required to cover the difference in value between the collateral originally received and the amount available to be returned to the counterparty, thereby resulting in a loss to the Fund and such Underlying Portfolio Funds.

Due diligence failures, including as a result of expedited transaction processes and reliance on outside or independent advisors, may subject the Fund to loss on investments and legal liability.

Investment analyses and decisions by HarbourVest could frequently be required to be undertaken on an expedited basis to take advantage of investment opportunities. In such cases, the information available to HarbourVest at the time of making an investment decision could be limited, and HarbourVest might not have access to detailed information regarding the investment. Therefore, no assurance can be given that HarbourVest will have knowledge of all circumstances that could adversely affect an investment, and the Fund could make investments which it would not have made if more extensive due diligence had been undertaken. In addition, HarbourVest expects often to rely upon outside or independent advisors or consultants in connection with its evaluation of proposed investments. Furthermore, HarbourVest also expects to rely upon the outside advisors of third-party joint venture partners and other sponsors in connection with its evaluation of proposed joint investments, including legal diligence. No assurance can be given as to the accuracy or completeness of the information provided by such outside or independent advisors, consultants or parties and the Fund could incur liability as a result of such parties' actions or limitations on the Fund's right of recourse against such independent parties in the event that an error or omission does occur.

The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds may acquire portfolio companies subject to commodity price risk.

Where specified in this Registration Statement, the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds may invest in instruments providing exposure to the commodities market, including financial derivative instruments referencing commodities indices and financial instruments or funds linked to, or backed by the performance of, commodities. Investments in derivatives and other instruments related to commodities can be highly volatile: market prices of commodity derivatives and other commodity-related instruments may fluctuate rapidly. The price of commodity derivatives and other commodity-related instruments may fluctuate based on numerous factors, including changes in supply and demand (whether actual or perceived, anticipated or unanticipated) and other trading considerations generally or in the relevant commodity, domestic and international political, monetary and economic events and policies, and other public or private policies, actions or inactions, natural events such as weather conditions, agricultural factors, diseases, insufficient storage capacity, wars, or technological developments. The current or "spot" prices of commodities may also affect the prices of futures contracts in respect of the relevant commodity. Certain commodities (and related derivatives and instruments) are susceptible to negative prices due to factors such as supply surpluses caused by global events. Commodities may be subject to the risk of theft, spoilage, destruction, delivery disruption and similar risks. In addition, storage, insurance and other costs associated with holding commodities will affect the value of commodity-linked derivatives and instruments.

The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds may make investments that are or may be volatile, which may cause the Net Asset Value per Unit to experience significant increases or decreases in value over short periods of time.

The volatility of a financial instrument is a measure of the variations in the price of that instrument over time. A higher volatility means that the price of the instrument can change significantly over a short time period in either direction. The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds may make investments in instruments or markets that are likely to experience high levels of volatility. This may cause the Net Asset Value per Unit to experience significant increases or decreases in value over short periods of time.

The Fund could be subject to additional risks upon the disposition of an equity investment.

In connection with the disposition of an investment in a portfolio company, an Underlying Portfolio Fund (and potentially the Fund) could be required to make representations about the business and financial affairs of the portfolio company typical of those made in connection with the sale of any business, or could be responsible for the contents of disclosure documents under applicable securities laws. The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds could also be required to indemnify the purchasers of such investment or underwriters to the extent that any such representations or disclosure documents turn out to be incorrect, inaccurate or misleading. These arrangements could result in contingent liabilities, and the Fund may be required to return amounts previously received to Underlying Portfolio Funds under the terms of the governing documents of such Underlying Portfolio Funds. In such instances, the Unitholders who suffer the loss resulting from such obligation to the Underlying Portfolio Funds may include Unitholders who purchased interests only after the applicable distribution had been made by the Underlying Portfolio Fund to the Fund and/or the time that the circumstances leading to such liability existed, although such liability would not necessarily have been priced into the Net Asset Value for any interim subscriptions or redemptions because it was not known to the General Partner or the Administrator.

The Fund may be subject to the liabilities of controlling interests and the provision of third-party managerial assistance.

The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds (alone, or together with other investors) could have or be deemed to have a control or management position with respect to one or more underlying portfolio companies including as a result of their and/or their affiliated investors' investments in such portfolio companies (for example, an affiliated private equity fund). Pursuant to applicable law and regulation, depending on the circumstances, this in turn could expose the Fund or the Underlying Portfolio Funds to risk of liability for underfunded pensions, environmental damage, product defects, failure to supervise management, anti-competitive activities or other anti-trust matters, violation of governmental regulations, and other types of liability, including, in the case of debt investments, lender liability.

The Fund or the Underlying Portfolio Funds could directly or alongside a lead sponsor designate directors to serve on the boards of directors of portfolio companies. The designation of directors could expose the assets of the Fund or the Underlying Portfolio Funds to claims by a portfolio company, its security holders and its creditors, including claims that the Fund or the Underlying Portfolio Funds are a controlling person and thus are liable for securities laws violations of a portfolio company. These measures also could result in certain liabilities in the event of the bankruptcy or reorganization of a portfolio company; could result in claims against the Fund or an Underlying Portfolio Fund if the designated directors violate their fiduciary or other duties to a portfolio company or fail to exercise appropriate levels of care under applicable corporate or securities laws, environmental laws or other legal principles; and could expose the Fund or the Underlying Portfolio Funds to claims that they have interfered in management to the detriment of a portfolio company.

Investing in derivatives, including short positions, may expose the Fund to substantial risks, including counterparty credit risk, leverage risk, and regulatory compliance costs

The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds may use financial derivative instruments such as swaps, futures and forwards in order to obtain a short exposure to certain securities or other assets. A synthetic short position replicates the economic effect of a transaction in which a fund sells a security or asset it does not own but has borrowed, in anticipation that the market price of that security or asset will decline. When the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds initiate such a synthetic short position in a security or asset that it does not own, they enter into a derivative-based transaction with a counterparty or broker-dealer and close that transaction on or before their expiry date through the receipt or payment of any gains or losses resulting from the transaction. If the price of the security or asset on which the synthetic short position is written increases between the time of the initiation of the synthetic short position and the time at which the position is closed, the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds will incur a loss; conversely, if the price declines, the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds will realize a gain. Any gain will be decreased and any loss increased by transactional costs and fees. Although the Fund's and Underlying Portfolio Funds' gain is limited to the price at which they opened the synthetic short position, their potential loss may be substantially higher. Stop loss policies are typically employed to limit losses. The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds are required to maintain sufficiently liquid assets to cover any obligations arising from their short positions at any time. Short positions are expected to be used for hedging purposes only.

The Fund may employ hedging techniques which may not always be effective and could negatively affect the Fund.

The Fund is permitted to employ hedging techniques designed to reduce the risks of adverse movements in, among other things, interest rates, securities prices, and currency exchange rates (including exchange rates with respect to cryptocurrencies or tokens as well as traditional currencies). The Fund may enter into these arrangements in connection with any one or more investments (including with respect to the Fund's portfolio as a whole), and the costs associated with, any income or loss, disposition proceeds derived from, and/or payments related to such arrangement, will be attributed to such investments for purposes of calculating the Incentive Fee payable to HarbourVest. While such transactions can reduce these risks, such transactions themselves can entail certain other risks, including the possible bankruptcy, or insolvency of, or default by the counterparty to the transaction and the illiquidity of the hedging instrument acquired by the Fund. Thus, while the Fund could benefit from the use of these hedging mechanisms, changes in interest rates, securities prices, or currency exchange rates (including exchange rates with respect to cryptocurrencies or tokens as well as traditional currencies) could result in the Fund foregoing investment returns it could have achieved if it had not entered into such hedging transactions. Furthermore, the costs associated with these arrangements could reduce the returns that the Fund would have otherwise achieved if these transactions were not entered into by the Fund. It is not possible to hedge fully or perfectly against any of the above portfolio risks, which are impacted by independent and variable factors that are outside of HarbourVest's control. The Underlying Portfolio Funds could similarly employ such hedging techniques and be subject to such risks. The use of derivatives involves a number of risks, including counterparty risk, leverage risk, liquidity risk and documentation risk.

The Fund relies on certain banks, brokers, hedging counterparties, lenders or other custodians, which may not be able to meet their obligations to the Fund.

In the event the Fund determines to change its banks, brokers, hedging counterparties, lenders or other custodians of some or all of the Fund's assets, there is a risk that the transfer of cash or other assets, especially if done in an expedited manner, will result in a technical violation of Rule 206(4)-2 (the "Custody Rule") under the Advisers Act, even if performed in the Fund's best judgment of its efforts to fulfill its obligations and maintain operations, including its ability to close transactions, make payroll or otherwise.

Further, such banks, brokers, hedging counterparties, lenders or other custodians, as a condition to using their services or otherwise, may require that the Fund maintain all or a set amount or percentage of its assets with such financial institutions or their affiliates (each, a "Custodian"), which heightens the risks with respect to such Custodians. Although the Fund seeks to do business with Custodians that it believes are creditworthy and capable of fulfilling their respective obligations to the Fund, it is under no obligation to use a minimum number of Custodians, or to maintain account balances at or below the relevant insured amounts.

The Fund and Underlying Portfolio Funds may invest in real assets which carry specific risks.

The Fund's and Underlying Portfolio Funds' investments in real assets, if any, will entail certain specific risks, including fluctuations of commodity prices, uncertainty of reserves, exploration and development risks, uncertainty in the developing alternative energy markets and technology, and governmental support and regulations.

The Fund is subject to various counterparty risks, including the risk that counterparties and custodians may be unable or unwilling to perform with respect to transactions or to safeguard assets due to insolvency or bankruptcy.

The Fund is subject to the risk that counterparties and custodians may be unable or unwilling to perform with respect to transactions or to safeguard assets, whether due to insolvency, bankruptcy or other causes, which could cause the Fund to incur substantial losses. There can be no assurance that an issuer or counterparty will not be subject to credit or other difficulties leading to a default on its contractual obligations and the loss of all or part of the amounts due to the Fund. This risk may arise at any time the assets of the Fund are deposited, extended, committed, invested or otherwise exposed through actual or implied contractual agreements.

For instance, counterparty risk may arise if the Fund has deposited cash with a financial institution or invests into debt securities and other fixed income instruments. Counterparty risk also arises if the Fund enters into financial derivative instruments obtained via exchange traded products, over-the-counter and buy-sell back transactions.

The Fund may be required to deliver collateral to its trading counterparties under the terms of its derivatives trading master agreements on a daily mark-to-market basis, and may be required to post initial margin as well. Circumstances may arise where a counterparty may be over-collateralized and/or the Fund may from time to time have uncollateralized mark-to-market exposure to a counterparty in relation to its rights to receive securities and cash. In both circumstances, the Fund will be exposed to the creditworthiness of any such counterparty and, in the event of the insolvency of a trading counterparty, the Fund will rank as an unsecured creditor in relation to amounts equivalent to any such over-collateralization and any uncollateralized exposure to such trading counterparty. In such circumstances it is likely that the Fund will not be able to recover any such amount in full, or at all.

Some derivatives transactions (such as futures and certain interest rate swaps) are required to be centrally cleared and certain other derivatives transactions may be voluntarily cleared. A party to a cleared derivatives transaction is subject to the credit risk of the clearing house and the clearing member through which it holds its cleared position. In such cases, the Fund's counterparty is a clearing house, rather than a bank or broker. Since the Fund is not a member of a clearing house and only members of a clearing house ("clearing members") can participate directly in the clearing house, the Fund will hold cleared derivatives through accounts at a clearing member. In cleared derivatives transactions, the Fund will make payments (including margin payments) to and receive payments from a clearing house through its accounts at a clearing member. The Fund might not be fully protected in the event of the bankruptcy of the Fund's clearing member. Clearing houses (and in many cases clearing members) have broad rights to increase margin requirements for existing transactions or to terminate those transactions at any time. Such increase or termination could interfere with the ability of the Fund to pursue its investment strategy. Also, the Fund is subject to risk if it enters into a derivatives transaction that is required to be cleared (or that the Manager expects to be cleared), and no clearing member is willing or able to clear the transaction on the Fund's behalf. Such transactions might have to be terminated, and the Fund could lose some or all of the benefit of the transaction, including loss of an increase in the value of the transaction and/or loss of hedging protection.

The Fund is directly or indirectly exposed to the credit risk of all of its counterparties, including brokers, dealers, exchanges and clearinghouses through which they deal, whether they engage in exchange-traded or off exchange transactions. If, for example, the Fund's clearing brokers become bankrupt or insolvent, or otherwise default on their obligations to the Fund, the Fund may not receive all amounts owed to it in respect of its trading, despite the clearinghouse fully discharging all of its obligations. In the event of the insolvency of one of the clearing brokers or clearinghouses, the Fund could be limited to recovering only a pro rata share of all available funds segregated on behalf of the clearing broker's combined customer accounts, even though certain property specifically traceable to the Fund (for example, Treasury bills deposited by the Fund with the clearing broker as margin) was held by the clearing broker. Credit risk of market participants with respect to derivatives that are centrally cleared is concentrated in a few clearinghouses, and it is not clear how an insolvency proceeding of a clearinghouse would be conducted and what impact an insolvency of a clearinghouse would have on the financial system. In the event of the insolvency of a clearinghouse, the Fund might experience a loss of funds deposited through its clearing broker as margin with the clearinghouse, a loss of unrealized profits on its open positions, and the loss of funds owed to it as realized profits on closed positions. Such an insolvency might also cause a substantial delay before the Fund could obtain the return of funds owed to it by a clearing broker who was a member of such clearinghouse. In addition, certain of the instruments which the Fund may directly or indirectly trade are traded in markets in which performance is the responsibility only of the individual counterparty with whom the trader has entered into a contract and not of an exchange or clearing corporation. The Fund is directly or indirectly subject to the risk of the inability or refusal to perform on the part of the counterparties with whom such contracts are traded.

The Underlying Portfolio Funds (and potentially the Fund directly) will invest in portfolio companies which are significantly debt-financed by third parties.

While investments in leveraged companies offer the opportunity for capital appreciation, such investments also involve a higher degree of risk. As a result of the use of leverage, economic downturns, operating problems, and other general business and economic risks can have a more pronounced effect on a company's profitability or survivability. Moreover, rising interest rates can significantly increase portfolio company interest expense, causing losses and/or the inability to service debt. In addition, cash flow from operations or investment that could otherwise be available to a leveraged portfolio company to fund growth could instead be diverted to repay the company's debt obligations. If a portfolio company cannot generate adequate cash flow to meet debt obligations, the Underlying Portfolio Funds (or the Fund) could suffer a partial or total loss of its invested capital.

Events of default could in some cases be triggered by events not related directly to the performance of the company itself. A decrease in the availability of financing from banks, debt capital markets or other sources or an increase in either interest rates or risk spreads demanded by finance providers, whether due to adverse changes in economic or financial market conditions or a decreased appetite for risk, could make it more expensive to acquire or maintain company financing on an ongoing basis. There could be times when a portfolio company might not be able to access those markets at attractive rates, or at all, which could have a material adverse impact on it. A portfolio company's obligations to its lenders (other than the Underlying Portfolio Fund or the Fund) will likely be senior to an Underlying Portfolio Fund's or the Fund's investment in the company and could also be secured by the assets of the company. The junior status of an Underlying Portfolio Fund or the Fund could result in a loss of investment by an Underlying Portfolio Fund in liquidations or sale transactions. It could also be necessary from time to time for a leveraged portfolio company to seek refinancing or restructuring of its debt financing, and there can be no assurance that any needed refinancing or restructuring could be available on terms that are favorable to the investment by an Underlying Portfolio Fund or the Fund in the portfolio company.

Investments in portfolio companies experiencing or expected to experience financial difficulties, or that otherwise may become distressed, may ultimately cause such portfolio companies to become subject to bankruptcy proceedings.

The Fund could be exposed, through the investments of Underlying Portfolio Funds, to portfolio companies that are experiencing or are expected to experience financial difficulties. If such financial difficulties are not overcome, any such portfolio company could become subject to bankruptcy proceedings. Such investments could, in certain circumstances, subject the relevant Underlying Portfolio Fund or the Fund to certain additional potential liabilities that exceed the value of the original investments. For example, under certain circumstances, a lender who has inappropriately exercised control over the management and policies of a debtor could have its claims subordinated or disallowed or could be found liable for damages suffered by parties as a result of such actions. In addition, under certain circumstances, payments to an Underlying Portfolio Fund or the Fund and distributions by an Underlying Portfolio Fund to investors (including the Fund) could be reclaimed if any such payment or distribution is later determined to have been a fraudulent conveyance, preferential payment, or similar transaction under applicable bankruptcy and insolvency laws, which could result in a corresponding return of related distributions by the Fund to Unitholders. Furthermore, investments in companies undergoing restructuring could be adversely affected by local statutes relating to, among other things, fraudulent conveyances, voidable preferences, lender liability and the bankruptcy court's discretionary power to disallow, subordinate or disenfranchise particular claims.

The Fund may make investments in technology industries which are subject to a range of industry-specific risks and challenges.

The Fund could, through an Underlying Portfolio Fund, make investments in portfolio companies involved in the technology industry. The technology industry is challenged by various factors, including rapidly changing market conditions and/or participants, new competing products, changing consumer preferences, short product life cycles, services and/or improvements in existing products or services. Portfolio companies in the technology sector will compete in this volatile environment. There is no assurance that products or services sold by such portfolio companies will not be rendered obsolete or adversely affected by competing products and services or that such portfolio companies will not be adversely affected by other challenges. Barriers to entry in the software and technology industries are low, and new products and services can be distributed broadly and quickly at relatively low cost. Moreover, competition in this sector can result in significant downward pressure on pricing.

The Fund may acquire companies that are heavily dependent on patents, trademarks and other intellectual property, which could adversely impact the value of certain of the Fund's investments or subject the Fund to significant liability .

Certain of the Fund's investments through its Underlying Portfolio Funds could depend heavily on intellectual property rights, including patents, trademarks, trade secret protection, non-disclosure agreements and service marks. The ability to effectively enforce patent, trademark and other intellectual property laws will affect the value of many of these companies. Patent disputes are frequent and can preclude commercialization of products, and patent litigation is costly and could subject an issuer to significant liabilities to third parties. The presence of patents or other proprietary rights belonging to other parties could lead to the termination of the research and development of a portfolio company's particular product.

The Fund may acquire companies that are heavily dependent on source code, which is subject to security risks, including risks of unauthorized disclosure.

Source code is often critical to portfolio companies in the technology sector. If an unauthorized disclosure of a significant portion of source code occurs, a portfolio company of an Underlying Portfolio Fund could potentially lose future trade secret protection for that source code. This could make it easier for third parties to compete with such portfolio company products by copying functionality, which could adversely affect revenue and operating margins. Unauthorized disclosure of source code could also increase security risks (e.g., viruses, worms, and other malicious software programs that may attack portfolio company products and services). Costs for remediating the unauthorized disclosure of source code and other cybersecurity breaches, may include, among other things, increased protection costs, reputational damage and loss of market share, liability for stolen assets or information and repairing system damage that may have been caused. Remediation costs may also include incentives offered to portfolio company customers or other business partners in an effort to maintain the business relationships after a security breach.

The Fund may invest in companies in the health care sector which carry certain industry-specific risks.

The Fund could, through an Underlying Portfolio Fund, make investments in the health care sector. Investing in health care companies involves substantial risks, including, but not limited to, the following: limited operating histories and limited experience instituting compliance policies, rapidly changing technologies and the obsolescence of products, change in government policies and governmental investigations, potential litigation alleging negligence, products liability torts, breaches of warranty, intellectual property infringement and other legal theories, extensive and evolving government regulation, disappointing results from preclinical testing, indications of safety concerns, insufficient clinical trial data to support the safety or efficacy of the product candidate, difficulty in obtaining all necessary regulatory approvals in each proposed jurisdiction, inability to manufacture sufficient quantities of the product candidate for development or commercialization in a timely or cost-effective manner, and the fact that, even after regulatory approval has been obtained, the product and its manufacturer are subject to continual regulatory review, and any discovery of previously unknown problems with the product or the manufacturer could result in restrictions or recalls. Each of these risks could have a material adverse effect on the indirect investments of the Fund.

Investments involving non-controlling interests and the reliance on third-party managers and company management may result in reduced control and potential conflicts of interest.

The returns achieved by the Fund will depend in large part on the efforts and performance results obtained by the managers of the Underlying Portfolio Funds. Furthermore, the Fund will not have an active role in the day-to-day management of the Underlying Portfolio Funds or in the tax structuring of investments made by the Underlying Portfolio Funds or the ability to approve the specific investment or management decisions made by the managers of the Underlying Portfolio Funds. As a result, the returns of the Fund will primarily depend on the performance of unrelated investment managers and other management personnel. Any of the foregoing risks could be more significant in the context of managers that are “emerging managers” with limited operational histories and track records or existing managers that have recently experienced significant changes in the composition of their teams or organizational structures.

In addition, the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds could make minority equity investments in portfolio companies where the Fund or the Underlying Portfolio Funds do not expect to be able to protect their portfolio investments or to control or influence effectively the business or affairs of such entities. In many cases, the Fund or the Underlying Portfolio Funds could invest in such companies through an investment vehicle controlled by the majority equity holders. In such investments, the Fund or the Underlying Portfolio Funds will rely significantly on the existing management and board of directors of such companies, which could include representatives of other financial investors with whom the Fund or the Underlying Portfolio Funds are not affiliated and whose interests could at times conflict with the Fund’s or the Underlying Portfolio Funds’ interests. Such investments involve additional risks not present in investments where the Fund or Underlying Portfolio Fund has control, including the possibility that such other investors have financial difficulties resulting in a negative impact on such investments or take actions contrary to the investment objectives of the Fund or Underlying Portfolio Funds. In addition, the Fund or Underlying Portfolio Funds could in certain circumstances be liable for the actions of third-party co-investors. Furthermore, in such investments, the majority or control investors will in many cases control the form and timing of the sale of such investments by the Fund or Underlying Portfolio Funds. In addition, the ability to sell any related publicly traded stock held by the Fund or the Underlying Portfolio Funds could be controlled by the lead investor, not the Fund or the Underlying Portfolio Funds. The Fund or the Underlying Portfolio Funds could therefore be adversely affected by actions taken by the majority equity holders of the portfolio companies in which they invest. There can be no assurance that meaningful minority unitholder rights will be available to the Fund or the Underlying Portfolio Funds in such circumstances or that any rights received will provide full protection of the Fund’s or the Underlying Portfolio Funds’ interests.

The Fund will acquire interests in Underlying Portfolio Funds through Secondary Market transactions, which may result in higher expenses and investments that may be difficult to successfully value.

The Fund will acquire interests in Underlying Portfolio Funds through Secondary Market transactions. The due diligence costs involved in such investments could be higher than those involved in direct subscriptions and primary investments (if any) by the Fund and by other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts. Secondary Market transactions could also require the Fund to assume related contingent liabilities associated with events occurring prior to the Fund’s investment and, in particular, could require the Fund to “return” payments of distributions made by an Underlying Portfolio Fund to the seller of the Underlying Portfolio Fund interest. In certain circumstances, the Fund could be able to recover such payments from the seller. Such ability cannot, however, be guaranteed. The overall performance of an Underlying Portfolio Fund interest acquired through a secondary transaction will depend in large part on the purchase price paid by the Fund. Such price will be negotiated by the General Partner on the basis of information regarding the relevant Underlying Portfolio Fund provided by the seller and such Underlying Portfolio Fund, which could be inaccurate or incomplete. In addition, the Fund will generally not have any ability to negotiate terms with respect to interests in Underlying Portfolio Funds invested in through Secondary Market transactions.

The Fund may use futures contracts and options on futures contracts which involve certain special risks, including increased volatility.

The Fund may use futures contracts and options on futures contracts. A futures contract is an agreement between two parties to buy and sell a specific quantity of a security, commodity, rate, index, currency or other asset for a set price on a future date. The Fund may also buy and sell call and put options on futures. The use of futures and options on futures involves certain special risks. The low margin deposits normally required when trading futures or selling options on futures permit a high degree of leverage, which can result in the Fund experiencing substantial gains or losses due to relatively small price movements or other factors. The prices of futures and related options may be highly volatile. Certain risks arise because of the possibility of imperfect correlations between movements in the prices of futures and options on futures and movements in the prices of the underlying security, commodity, rate, index, currency or other asset or of the securities, currencies or other assets in the Fund's portfolio which are the subject of the hedge (to the extent the Fund uses futures and options on futures for hedging purposes). The successful use of futures and options on futures further depends on the Manager's ability to forecast market movements correctly. Other risks arise because the Fund may at times be unable to close out its futures or options on futures positions. There can be no assurance that a liquid market will exist for any futures contract or option on futures contract at a particular time. Additionally, there can be no assurance that any use of futures and related options by the Fund will be successful or have the intended effect. Certain rules or actions of regulators or exchanges, such as trading halts and limits on price fluctuations in a single day, may also limit the Fund's ability to engage in futures and options on futures transactions. To the extent that the Fund enters into futures contracts or options on futures contracts, it is subject to the credit risk of the clearinghouse and the clearing member through which the Fund holds its position.

The Commodity Futures Trading Commission, certain foreign regulators, and many futures exchanges have established (and continue to evaluate and revise) limits, referred to as "position limits," on the maximum net long or net short positions which any person, or group of persons acting in concert, may hold or control in particular futures and options on futures contracts. In addition, U.S. federal position limits apply to swaps that are economically equivalent to futures contracts on certain agricultural, energy and metals commodities. All positions owned or controlled by the same person or entity, even if in different accounts, must be aggregated for purposes of determining whether the applicable position limits have been exceeded, unless an exemption applies. Thus, even if the Fund does not intend to exceed applicable position limits, it is possible that positions of different clients managed by the Manager and its affiliates (or by the investment manager of an Underlying Portfolio Fund and its affiliates) may be aggregated for this purpose. Any modification of trading decisions or elimination of open positions that may be required to avoid exceeding such limits may adversely affect the performance of the Fund. A violation of position limits could also lead to regulatory action materially adverse to the Fund's investment strategy. The Fund may also be affected by other regimes, including those of the European Union and United Kingdom, and trading venues that impose position limits on commodity derivative contracts.

The Fund may become subject to risks related to special purpose acquisition companies.

The Underlying Portfolio Funds could form or sponsor one or more special purpose acquisition companies (each, a "SPAC") that will seek to conduct an initial public offering and seek to merge with or acquire a private company in order to take such target company public. There can be no guarantee that any such SPAC will be able to identify a suitable acquisition target, or that a proposed acquisition will be approved by the shareholders of the relevant SPAC, and an Underlying Portfolio Fund could incur significant expenses in connection with a SPAC without the relevant SPAC ever successfully merging with a target company. If a SPAC successfully merges with or acquires a target company, such Underlying Portfolio Fund could be prohibited from selling its shares for twelve months or longer to comply with applicable regulations and as could be agreed in connection with such acquisition. The risks related to portfolio companies held by Underlying Portfolio Funds set forth elsewhere in this section of the Registration Statement will also apply with respect to any company held by a SPAC and such risks could result in losses for the applicable Underlying Portfolio Fund and the Fund. In addition, existing or new regulations enacted with respect to SPACs and enforcement thereof by regulators could hinder the execution of any SPAC's business plan or otherwise result in losses for the applicable Underlying Portfolio Fund and the Fund.

The Fund may acquire interests in digital assets, the value of which could be volatile and subject to impairment, and are subject to regulatory risks.

The Underlying Portfolio Funds could invest in cryptocurrencies, decentralized application tokens and protocol tokens, blockchain-based assets and other cryptofinance and digital assets, or instruments for the purchase of such (“Digital Assets”), which represent speculative investments and involve a high degree of risk. As relatively new products and technologies, Digital Assets have not been widely adopted as a means of payment for goods and services by major retail and commercial outlets. Conversely, a significant portion of the demand for Digital Assets is generated by speculators and investors seeking to profit from the short- or long-term holding of Digital Assets. In their brief history, Digital Assets have experienced extreme price volatility that could continue, or worsen, in the future. Historical price increases in Digital Assets provide no assurance of future results. The value of Digital Assets also will be affected by the worldwide acceptance or rejection of Digital Assets. In particular, problems with the supply of Digital Assets, security flaws (or perceived security flaws), supply and demand, the effects of and investors’ expectations with respect to the rate of inflation, interest rates, currency exchange rates, prices of correlated assets or future regulatory measures, difficulties with converting Digital Assets to fiat currencies, and concerns that Digital Assets could disproportionately facilitate criminal activities could negatively affect the acceptance, growth and development of Digital Assets. For example, the exchange rate of Bitcoin into U.S. dollars has been very volatile, including dropping by more than 50% in a single day. To the extent any Underlying Portfolio Fund holds specific investments in Digital Assets, the value of those investments could be volatile and subject to impairment, and such investments could lose their entire value.

Many Digital Assets will derive their speculative value from the perceived usefulness of the blockchain networks they are attached to as many are designed to be consumed in transactions that record data or provide access to certain functionality on these networks. The ability of many Digital Assets to be used for transactions is contingent on persons continuing to “mine” such Digital Assets, and so a material reduction in the mining of any Digital Asset could make such Digital Asset very cumbersome or even unusable for transactions, which could result in the loss of some or all of the value of such Digital Assets held by any Underlying Portfolio Fund. The relative lack of acceptance of Digital Assets beyond their own blockchain networks in retail and commercial marketplaces limits the ability of end-users to pay for other goods and services with Digital Assets. There is no assurance that Digital Assets will maintain their long-term value in terms of purchasing power in the future, or that acceptance of Digital Asset payments by mainstream retail merchants, commercial businesses and regulators will become more widespread. Certain promoters of Digital Assets, including for example, Confido, LoopX and Yfdex, have taken the money raised from their investors and disappeared, resulting in a total loss for such investors. Some blockchain networks are further interdependent on other blockchain networks whose attached Digital Asset could have limited to no interoperability but where changes to the protocol could adversely affect some or all interdependent blockchain networks. It is possible these protocols have undiscovered flaws which could result in the loss of some or all assets held by any Underlying Portfolio Fund. There could also be network scale attacks against these protocols which result in the loss of some or all of the Digital Assets held by any Underlying Portfolio Fund. Some Digital Assets held by any Underlying Portfolio Fund could be created, issued or transmitted using experimental cryptography which could have underlying flaws. Advancements in quantum computing could break the cryptographic rules of protocols which support the assets held by any Underlying Portfolio Fund. The developers and/or stakeholders of a blockchain network or open source software project could alter the network protocol in a manner adverse to Digital Asset holders or any Underlying Portfolio Fund. Any of the foregoing could result in the loss of some or all of the value of Digital Assets held by any Underlying Portfolio Fund. The Fund makes no guarantees about the reliability of the cryptography used to create, issue, or transmit Digital Assets held by any Underlying Portfolio Fund.

Digital Assets are often controllable only by the possessor of unique private keys relating to the addresses in which the Digital Assets are held. The theft, loss or destruction of a private key required to access Digital Assets could be irreversible, and any such private key would not be capable of being restored by the relevant Underlying Portfolio Fund. Any loss of private keys relating to digital wallets used to store any Underlying Portfolio Fund’s Digital Assets could result in the loss of such Digital Assets, and the Underlying Portfolio Fund and the Fund could incur substantial, or even total, loss of capital.

Digital Assets are not legal tender in the United States, and federal, state, local or foreign governments could restrict the use and exchange of Digital Assets at any time, including by treating Digital Assets as securities for purposes of existing securities laws. Digital Assets have attracted the attention of various national and international regulatory agencies, and future regulation is likely. Various jurisdictions have or could, in the near future, adopt laws, regulations or directives that affect Digital Assets and parties that come into contact with such assets. Such laws, regulations or directives could negatively impact the Fund or the Underlying Portfolio Funds in a variety of ways, including increasing the compliance burden of the Fund or of the Underlying Portfolio Funds and their respective related parties or diminishing or eliminating the value of the Underlying Portfolio Funds' investments in Digital Assets or increasing the tax rate on Digital Assets. To the extent that new regulations are imposed, regulatory authorities find ways to apply existing regulations to Digital Assets in unanticipated ways or governments develop their own competing Digital Assets, the Underlying Portfolio Funds' investments could be materially adversely affected. Further, the taxation of Digital Assets is uncertain in many jurisdictions, and those jurisdictions that have formulated a position have reached varying (and continuously evolving) conclusions.

Uncertainty surrounding Digital Assets has led to the promotion of so-called "stablecoins" that purport to define their value relative to an external marker, such as the U.S. dollar or gold. However, any "stablecoin" could be subject to any of the risks mentioned above regarding any other type of Digital Asset. Furthermore, it is possible that a given Digital Asset (including any "stablecoin") could be used to manipulate the value of another Digital Asset, which could result in the loss of some or all of the value of Digital Assets held by any Underlying Portfolio Fund.

The Fund's investments in non-U.S. portfolio companies carry risks not typically associated with investing in U.S. securities and may adversely affect investment returns.

A portion of the assets of the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds is expected to be invested outside of the United States. Non-U.S. securities involve certain factors not typically associated with investing in U.S. securities, including risks relating to (i) differences between the U.S. and non-U.S. securities markets, including greater price volatility in and less liquidity of some non-U.S. securities markets, the absence of uniform accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards, practices and disclosure requirements and less government supervision and regulation; (ii) certain economic, social and political risks, including potential exchange control regulations and restrictions on foreign investment and repatriation of capital, the risks of political, economic or social instability and the possibility of expropriation or confiscatory taxation; (iii) the possible imposition of non-U.S. taxes on income and gains recognized with respect to such securities; and (iv) the impact of changes in the value of non-U.S. currencies relative to the U.S. dollar and other currencies.

The Fund may invest in developing or emerging markets that involve additional risks and considerations not typically associated with investing in more established markets.

A portion of the assets of the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds is expected to be directly and indirectly invested in developing countries. Investing in developing countries exposes the Fund and Underlying Portfolio Funds to risks of a nature and degree not normally encountered in relation to more developed economies and additional to those inherent in any private equity investment. These risks include, but are not limited to (i) the risk of adverse political developments, such as nationalization, confiscation without fair compensation, confiscatory taxation, war, or construction of trade barriers or other protectionist measures in countries with which such target countries trade; (ii) the risk of fluctuations in currency exchange rates; (iii) greater price fluctuations and market volatility, less liquidity and smaller capitalization of securities markets; (iv) higher rates of inflation; (v) greater governmental involvement in and control over the economies; (vi) the risk of governmental, market, exchange, and other restrictions on capital movements, which can make it difficult or impossible to exchange or repatriate non-U.S. currency; (vii) the risk of inadequate or immature legal systems in some countries reducing the ability of the Fund or the Underlying Portfolio Funds to obtain satisfactory legal advice or recourse or protect their interest in investments; (viii) the risk of inadequate financial information and accounting and auditing standards and controls limiting the ability to assess investment opportunities and monitor investments; (ix) the risk of pollution-related liabilities arising out of historically poor environmental controls and inability to determine the extent of legal responsibility for, and size of, such potential liabilities;

(x) limitations on obtaining and enforcing judgments against residents in developing countries; (xi) the risk that regulations might prevent portfolio companies from implementing strategies to pursue expansion, to reduce costs or to improve operations, or otherwise to enhance the value of the investment by the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds in such portfolio companies; (xii) less extensive regulation of the securities markets; (xiii) operational clearance, settlement, and custody problems that could result in failed securities transactions or longer settlement periods for securities transactions; (xiv) differences in tax regimes and changes in tax treaties; (xv) less developed corporate laws regarding fiduciary duties and the protection of investors; and (xvi) the risk of encountering organized crime and/or corruption. The foregoing factors could increase transaction costs and adversely impact the value of the direct and indirect investments by the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds in such portfolio companies. In addition, laws and regulations of emerging countries could impose restrictions or approvals that do not exist in the United States and other more developed markets and could require financing and structuring alternatives that differ significantly from those customarily used in the United States and other more developed markets. Other countries could also impose taxes, including retroactively, on the Fund or the Unitholders.

Difficult market, economic, political and/or regulatory conditions could materially adversely affect the Fund.

The activities of the Fund and its investments could be materially adversely affected by the instability in the global financial markets or changes in market, economic, political or regulatory conditions, as well as by numerous other factors outside the control of the General Partner, HarbourVest, or their respective affiliates, such as interest rates, availability of credit, inflation rates, economic uncertainty, changes in applicable laws, trade barriers, currency exchange controls, terrorism, war, other armed conflicts, cyber attacks, economic and trade sanctions and local, national and international political and socioeconomic circumstances in respect of the countries in which the Fund may invest, including sanctions, restrictions and counter-measures by governments of NATO member states and other countries relating to the 2022 invasion of Ukraine by Russia. These factors could affect the level and volatility of security prices and liquidity of the securities held by the Fund or its Underlying Portfolio Funds. Unexpected volatility or liquidity could impair the Fund's profitability or result in losses to the Fund. General levels of economic activity could affect the value and number of investments made or considered for prospective investment by the Fund or Underlying Portfolio Funds. Public markets from time to time experience bouts of volatility. In addition, future disruptions in the global markets could affect the price of, as well as the ability to make, certain types of investments, and there can be no assurance that these disruptions will not occur. In particular, global, regional, and local political dynamics, including recent populist and anti-globalization movements could result in material changes in economic, trade, and immigration policies, all of which could lead to significant disruption of global markets and could have materially adverse consequences on the investments of the Fund, including, in particular, on portfolio companies whose operations are directly or indirectly dependent on international trade, including, in particular, trade with the United States. For example, the United States under President Donald J. Trump has implemented a 10% baseline tariff across the board on nearly all imports into the United States and higher country-specific tariff rates on imports from certain trading partners, which tariffs could be subject to further changes in the future. Certain countries targeted by U.S. tariff measures have implemented, or announced that they are considering implementing, reciprocal tariffs against the United States. The ultimate outcome of the developing trade disputes between the United States and other countries, as well as their impact, is uncertain. Escalating trade measures can create several legal and operational risks for Underlying Portfolio Funds or underlying portfolio companies, including increased costs and supply chain disruptions, contractual uncertainty with counterparties and increased regulatory compliance costs, among others. If the ongoing trade disputes continue for a sustained period of time or escalate, including through the imposition of additional tariff measures or the modification and/or withdrawal of certain countries from existing trade agreements, there could be material adverse effects on local economies and the broader global economy, all of which in turn could materially and adversely affect the Fund and/or its Underlying Portfolio Funds and underlying portfolio companies and the value of the Fund's investments.

In the event of a market downturn, each of the investments held by the Fund could be adversely affected. Underlying Portfolio Funds invested in by the Fund could face reduced opportunities to sell and realize value from their existing investments and there could be a lack of suitable new investments for the Underlying Portfolio Funds and the Fund to make. In addition, economic downturns could make it more difficult for portfolio companies to meet their debt service obligations and satisfy financial covenants, either of which could have a material adverse effect on their businesses and negatively affect the performance of the Fund.

Epidemics, pandemics and other health risks may adversely affect the Fund.

The 2019-nCoV (together with any variants, “Covid-19”) pandemic resulted in significant disruption in global public and private markets and supply chains, and government restrictions put in place included the institution of quarantines, border closures, travel restrictions and closures of businesses, schools, courts and other public venues. These events had a material adverse effect on the economic environment as a whole, and in particular on businesses in the transportation, hospitality, tourism, entertainment and other similar industries. Although restrictions have generally been lifted, they could be reimposed from time to time in response to the emergence of new variants or outbreaks of new diseases. The potential impacts of any such health crisis are uncertain and difficult to assess. As a result, the extent and duration of any such health crisis and its negative impacts with respect to the Fund and global markets as a whole are generally unknown.

Any health crisis could have a material adverse impact on underlying portfolio companies, local economies in the affected jurisdictions and also on the global economy if supply chains are disrupted and cross-border commercial activity and market sentiment are impacted by any such outbreak and government and other measures seeking to contain its spread. In addition to any adverse consequences for underlying portfolio investments of the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds and the value of the Fund’s and the Underlying Portfolio Funds’ investments therein, the operations of HarbourVest and the Fund could be adversely impacted, including through quarantine measures and travel restrictions imposed on HarbourVest’s or its affiliates’ personnel or service providers based around the world, and any related health issues of such personnel or service providers. In addition, managers of the Underlying Portfolio Funds could experience similar impacts. The Fund’s or the Underlying Portfolio Funds’ operations could be disrupted if any of their or their affiliates’ personnel contract Covid-19 and/or any other infectious disease. Any of the foregoing events could materially and adversely affect the Fund’s and the Underlying Portfolio Funds’ ability to source, manage and divest investments and their ability to fulfill their investment objectives.

The Fund may engage in OTC financial derivative instruments which are subject to various risks, including counterparty risks.

In general, there is less government regulation and supervision of transactions in the OTC markets than of transactions entered into on organized exchanges. OTC derivatives are executed directly with the counterparty rather than through a recognized exchange and clearing house. As discussed in more detail above, Counterparties to OTC derivatives are not afforded the same protections as may apply to those trading on recognized exchanges, such as the performance guarantee of a clearing house.

The principal risk when engaging in OTC derivatives (such as non-exchange traded options, forwards, swaps or contracts for difference) is counterparty risk, as discussed in more detail above. In addition to counterparty risk relating to a counterparty’s default or insolvency, OTC derivatives may expose the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds to the risk that the counterparty will not settle a transaction in accordance with its terms, or will delay the settlement of the transaction, because of a dispute over the terms of the contract (whether or not bona fide). Counterparty risk may be mitigated by the transfer of margin to the Fund by its counterparties; however, as discussed above, not all OTC derivatives transactions are subject to margin requirements. The value of the margin posted by a party may fluctuate, however, so there are no assurances that the value of collateral held will be sufficient to cover the amount owed to the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds.

Through comprehensive global regulatory regimes impacting derivatives (e.g., the U.S. Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the “Dodd-Frank Act”) and the European Market Infrastructure Regulation, Markets in Financial Instruments Regulation/Markets in Financial Instruments Directive (II)) and comparable regulation in the United Kingdom, certain derivatives transactions in which the Fund may engage are subject to various requirements, including mandatory central clearing of transactions, trading on electronic platforms, pre- and post-trade transparency reporting requirements and mandatory bilateral exchange of variation and initial margin for non-cleared derivatives. Any of these regulations, changes to these regulations or future regulations may increase the costs of the Fund and potentially reduce market liquidity. Regulatory requirements may also adversely affect the Manager's ability to pursue the Fund's investment program, make investments and achieve its investment objectives. Because these requirements are evolving, their ultimate impact remains unclear. However, even if the Fund itself is not located in a particular jurisdiction or directly subject to the jurisdiction's derivatives regulations, the Fund may still be impacted to the extent the Fund enters into a derivatives transaction with a regulated market participant or counterparty that is organized in that jurisdiction or otherwise becomes subject to that jurisdiction's derivatives regulations.

The effect of such requirements is generally expected, and is generally expected to continue (directly or indirectly), to increase the Fund's overall costs of entering into derivatives transactions. In particular, margin requirements, position limits and significantly higher capital charges resulting from global capital regulations, even if not directly applicable to the Fund, can cause an increase in the pricing of derivatives transactions entered into by market participants to whom such requirements apply or affect the overall ability of the Fund to enter into derivatives transactions with certain counterparties. Such global capital regulations and the need to satisfy various requirements by counterparties have resulted in increased funding costs, increased overall transaction costs, and significant balance sheet effects, thereby resulting in changes to financing terms and potentially impacting the Fund's ability to obtain financing. Administrative costs, due to requirements such as registration, recordkeeping, reporting, and compliance, even if not directly applicable to the Fund, may also be reflected in the Fund's derivatives transactions. Requirements to trade certain derivatives transactions on electronic trading platforms and trade reporting requirements may lead to (among other things) fragmentation of the markets, higher transaction costs or reduced availability of derivatives, and/or a reduced ability to hedge, all of which could adversely affect the performance of certain of the Fund's trading strategies. In addition, changes to derivatives regulations may impact the tax and/or accounting treatment of certain derivatives, which could adversely impact the Fund.

Investments in OTC derivatives may be subject to the risk of differing valuations arising out of different permitted valuation methods. Although the Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds have implemented appropriate valuation procedures to determine and verify the value of OTC derivatives, if any, certain transactions are complex and valuation may only be provided by a limited number of market participants who may also be acting as the counterparty to the transactions. Inaccurate valuation can result in inaccurate recognition of gains or losses and counterparty exposure.

Unlike exchange-traded derivatives, which are standardized with respect to their terms and conditions, OTC derivatives are generally established through negotiation with the other party to the instrument. While this type of arrangement allows greater flexibility to tailor the instrument to the needs of the parties, OTC derivatives may involve greater legal risk than exchange-traded instruments, as there may be a risk of loss if the agreement is deemed not to be legally enforceable or not documented correctly. There also may be a legal or documentation risk that the parties may disagree as to the proper interpretation of the terms of the agreement. However, these risks are generally mitigated, to a certain extent, by the use of industry-standard agreements such as those published by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association ("ISDA").

In the case of OTC derivatives, the bankruptcy or insolvency of the counterparty may (or may not) allow the Fund to elect to terminate early with respect to some or all the transactions under the agreement with that counterparty, and the relevant agreement may permit the non-defaulting party to calculate a single net payment to close out applicable transactions. However, there is no guarantee that the terms of such agreement will be enforceable, including, for example, when applicable insolvency laws impose restrictions on or prohibitions against rights to terminate, offset obligations or apply collateral to the counterparty's obligations.

Additionally, in the event of a counterparty's (or its affiliate's) insolvency, the possibility exists that the Fund's ability to exercise remedies, such as the termination of transactions, netting of obligations or realization on collateral, could be stayed or eliminated under special resolution regimes adopted in the United States, the European Union, the United Kingdom and various other jurisdictions. Such regimes provide governmental authorities broad authority to intervene when a financial institution is experiencing financial difficulty. In particular, in the European Union, governmental authorities could reduce, eliminate or convert to equity the liabilities of a counterparty experiencing financial difficulties (sometimes referred to as a "bail-in").

Underlying Portfolio Funds may recall distributions from the Fund.

Underlying Portfolio Funds will have the right to recall some or all of the distributions to their investors, including the Fund, in order to make additional investments, pay expenses, satisfy an indemnity obligation or for other purposes. Furthermore, it is also possible that an Underlying Portfolio Fund in which the Fund invested on a secondary basis will request that the Fund return distributions originally made to the transferor (in addition to any amount distributed to the Fund).

Certain investments could require, or present an opportunity to make, follow-on investments.

The Fund and the Underlying Portfolio Funds could be called upon to provide follow-on funding for their portfolio investments or have the opportunity to increase their investment in such portfolio investments (a "Follow-On Investment"). Certain Follow-On Investments could include an Underlying Portfolio Fund restructuring or reorganization transaction in which the Fund could (i) commit additional capital to an Underlying Portfolio Fund (or to a new limited partnership or other entity established for the purposes of acquiring one or more assets from an existing Underlying Portfolio Fund) or (ii) rollover all or a portion of its existing indirect interest in a portfolio investment to another vehicle. There can be no assurance that the Fund or an Underlying Portfolio Fund will wish to make Follow-On Investments or that it will have sufficient funds to do so (or will be permitted to make such Follow-On Investments under investment restrictions applicable to the Fund or Underlying Portfolio Fund). Any decision by the Fund or an Underlying Portfolio Fund not to make Follow-On Investments or their inability to make them could have a substantial negative impact on a portfolio investment in need of such an investment or could result in a lost opportunity for the Fund or Underlying Portfolio Fund to increase its participation in a successful investment, and could result in the Fund's or Underlying Portfolio Fund's investments in the relevant portfolio investment becoming substantially diluted, particularly where such Follow-On Investment comprises a rescue financing transaction. In addition, in circumstances where the Follow-On Investment is offered at a discount to market value, any failure by the Fund or Underlying Portfolio Fund to participate could result in a loss of value for the Fund or Underlying Portfolio Fund.

"Acts of God" may adversely affect the Fund and may not be insured.

Force majeure is the term generally used to refer to an event beyond the control of the party claiming that the event has occurred, including acts of God, fire, flood, earthquakes, war, terrorism and labor strikes. Disease outbreaks have occurred in certain countries in the past and are currently occurring (including severe acute respiratory syndrome, or SARS, avian flu, H1N1/09 flu, COVID-19 and other coronaviruses) and any prolonged occurrence of infectious disease or other adverse public health developments or natural disasters in any country in which Underlying Portfolio Funds target investments could have a material adverse effect on the macro economy and/or the business operations of portfolio companies in which they invest. Some force majeure events can adversely affect a party's ability to perform its obligations until it is able to remedy the force majeure event. In some cases, project agreements can be terminated if the force majeure event is so catastrophic as to render it incapable of remedy within a reasonable, pre-agreed time period. Additionally, a major governmental intervention into industry, including the nationalization of an industry or the assertion of control over one or more investments or its assets, could result in a loss to an Underlying Portfolio Fund (and the Fund), including if its investment in such investment or asset is cancelled, unwound or acquired (which could be without what the Fund considers to be adequate compensation). Any of the foregoing can therefore adversely affect the performance of the Fund and its investments.

The Fund and portfolio companies may be materially and adversely affected by inflation, financial crises, and the governmental efforts to address them.

If a portfolio company of an Underlying Portfolio Fund is unable to increase its revenue in times of higher inflation, its profitability might be adversely affected. The portfolio companies of an Underlying Portfolio Fund could have long-term rights to income linked to some extent to inflation including, without limitation, by government regulations and contractual arrangements. Typically, as inflation rises, a portfolio company will earn more revenue but also will incur higher expenses, including in the form of increased cost of capital. As inflation declines, a portfolio company might be unable to reduce expenses in line with any resulting reduction in revenue. A rise in real interest rates would likely result in higher financing costs for portfolio companies and could therefore result in a reduction in the amount of cash available for distribution to investors (including the Fund).

LEGAL AND REGULATORY RISKS

New regulations relating to private funds and related negative perceptions of the private funds industry could materially adversely affect the Fund.

U.S. and non-U.S. governments have enacted and could enact various regulations that could adversely impact the Fund, the Underlying Portfolio Funds and their investments. In the U.S., certain parts of Europe, and other jurisdictions, the private funds industry has, over the last few years, been subject to criticism by some politicians, regulators and market commentators. The negative perception of this industry in certain countries could make it harder for funds sponsored by alternative investment management firms, such as the Fund and Underlying Portfolio Funds, to bid for and complete investments. U.S. regulatory agencies continue to focus on the implementation of extensive financial regulatory reform legislation adopted by the U.S. Congress since the enactment of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010 following the 2008 global financial crisis. Such reforms require, among other things, increased registration and regulation of alternative investment management firms and disclosure with respect to such firms and the funds they sponsor that could impact the General Partner's management of the Fund and the management of Underlying Portfolio Funds by their managers and sponsors. Other jurisdictions, including the EU, have passed and are in the process of implementing similar measures. Such increased regulatory burdens and reporting requirements could divert the attention of personnel and the management teams of Underlying Portfolio Funds and could furthermore place the Fund or its Underlying Portfolio Funds at a competitive disadvantage to the extent that the General Partner, its affiliates or managers of the Underlying Portfolio Funds (or their underlying portfolio companies) are required to disclose sensitive business information. Investors should note that the outcome of U.S. and non-U.S. elections creates uncertainty with respect to legal, tax and regulatory regimes in which the Fund and its Underlying Portfolio Funds and underlying portfolio companies, as well as the General Partner, and its affiliates, will operate. Any significant changes in, among other things, economic policy (including with respect to interest rates and foreign trade), the regulation of the asset management industry, tax law, immigration policy and/or government entitlement programs could have a material adverse impact on the Fund and its investments.

Economic Sanctions and Anti-Bribery Considerations may restrict the Fund's activities, delay investments or cause legal, financial and reputational harm.

Economic sanction laws in the United States and other jurisdictions may prohibit HarbourVest, HarbourVest's professionals and the Fund from transacting with or in certain countries and with certain individuals and companies. For example, in the United States, the U.S. Department of the Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC") administers and enforces laws, Executive Orders and regulations establishing certain U.S. economic and trade sanctions. Such sanctions prohibit, among other things, transactions with, and the provision of services to, certain foreign countries, territories, entities and individuals. These entities and individuals include specially designated nationals, sanctions evaders, specially designated narcotics traffickers and other parties subject to OFAC sanctions and embargo programs. The lists of OFAC prohibited countries, territories, persons and entities, including the List of Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons, as such list may be amended from time to time, can be found on the OFAC website at www.treas.gov/ofac. In addition, certain programs administered by OFAC prohibit dealing with individuals or entities in certain countries regardless of whether such individuals or entities appear on the lists maintained by OFAC. These types of sanctions may restrict the Fund's investment activities. Other jurisdictions maintain different and/or additional economic and trade sanctions. Should an investor be, or become (or is believed by the Fund or its duly authorized delegates or agents (including the administrator or affiliates) to be or become) at any time while it owns or holds an interest in the Fund, (a) an individual or entity named on any sanctions list maintained by the United States, the EU or any of its member states, the UK (including as extended to the Cayman Islands by Orders in Council) or the Cayman Islands or any similar list maintained under applicable law or is otherwise subject to applicable sanctions (a "Sanctions Subject") or (b) an entity owned or controlled directly or indirectly by a Sanctions Subject, as determined by the Fund in its sole discretion, then (i) the Fund and its duly authorized delegates or agents (including the administrator or affiliates) may immediately and without notice to such investor cease any further dealings with such investor or freeze any dealings with the interests or accounts of such investor (e.g., by prohibiting payments by or to such investor or restricting or suspending dealings with the interests or accounts) or freeze the assets of the Fund (including interests or accounts of other subscribers who are not Sanctions Subjects), until the relevant person ceases to be a Sanctions Subject or a license is obtained under applicable law to continue such dealings (a "Sanctioned Persons Event"), (ii) the Fund and its duly authorized delegates or agents (including the administrator or affiliates) may be required to report such action or failure to comply with information requests and to disclose such investor's identity (and/or the identity of such investor's beneficial owners and control persons) to OFAC, HM Treasury, the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority (the "Monetary Authority"), the Cayman Islands Financial Reporting Authority, or other applicable governmental or regulatory authorities (without notifying such investor that such information has been so provided) and (iii) the Fund and its duly authorized delegates or agents (including the administrator or affiliates) have no liability whatsoever for any liabilities, costs, expenses, damages and/or losses (including but not limited to any direct, indirect or consequential losses, loss of profit, loss of revenue, loss of reputation and all interest, penalties and legal costs and all other professional costs and expenses) incurred by such investor as a result of a Sanctioned Persons Event.

In some countries, there is a greater acceptance than in the United States of government involvement in commercial activities, and of corruption. HarbourVest has a policy and procedure framework designed to comply with the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act ("FCPA") and other anti-corruption laws, anti-bribery laws and regulations, as well as anti-boycott regulations, to which it is subject. As a result, the Fund may be adversely affected because of its unwillingness to participate in transactions that violate such laws or regulations. Such laws and regulations may make it difficult in certain circumstances for the Fund to act successfully on investment opportunities and for underlying portfolio companies to obtain or retain business.

In recent years, the U.S. Department of Justice and the SEC have actively enforced the FCPA, subject to the enforcement priorities of each presidential administration. In addition, the UK has continued to broadly enforce the UK Bribery Act of 2010 ("UK Bribery Act"). While HarbourVest has developed and implemented policies and procedures designed to result in compliance by HarbourVest and its personnel with applicable anti-corruption and anti-bribery laws, such policies and procedures may not be effective in all instances to prevent violations. In addition, in spite of HarbourVest policies and procedures, affiliates of Underlying Portfolio Funds, particularly in cases where the Fund or another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account does not control such investments, may engage in activities that could result in violations of applicable anti-corruption and anti-bribery laws. Any determination that HarbourVest has violated the FCPA, the UK Bribery Act or other potentially applicable anti-corruption laws or anti-bribery laws could subject HarbourVest to, among other things, civil and criminal penalties, material fines, profit disgorgement, injunctions on future conduct, securities litigation and a general loss of investor confidence, any one of which could adversely affect HarbourVest's business prospects and/or financial position, as well as the Fund's ability to achieve its investment objectives and/or conduct its operations. The Fund may incur costs and expenses associated with engaging external counsel or other third-party consultants or professionals in connection with inquiries or investigations relating to FCPA or other applicable anti-corruption laws or anti-bribery laws including with respect to its Underlying Portfolio Funds and underlying portfolio companies.

The U.S. government has imposed restrictions that limit or impede the ability of U.S. persons to transact with and invest in certain Chinese companies, including companies deemed by the United States to be so-called “Communist Chinese military companies,” and restrict the ability of Chinese companies to engage in activities or transactions in the United States. In response to these U.S. measures, China has adopted various counter-measures that could be applied to the Fund. These restrictions, as well as increased scrutiny of widely-adopted practices, such as China’s “crackdown” on variable interest entities used to list Chinese companies in the United States, could limit the ability of the Fund to make certain investments in an Underlying Portfolio Fund. In addition, the Fund could be forced to withdraw from an Underlying Portfolio Fund to address U.S. sanctions concerns or China counter-measures. Furthermore, if the US-China relationship worsens and additional U.S. sanctions are imposed or Chinese counter-measures are adopted, there could be a material adverse impact on the Fund and its investments. Similar considerations could apply with respect to similar sanctions or restrictions, and any related counter-measures, imposed by the U.S. government or by foreign governments, including, sanctions, restrictions and counter-measures by governments of NATO member states and other countries relating to the 2022 invasion of Ukraine by Russia, which could have a severe and/or prolonged adverse impact on all or a portion of the global economy and trade.

The United Kingdom’s exit from the European Union could materially adversely affect the Fund.

The UK withdrew from the European Union (“EU”) and the European Economic Area (the “EEA”) on January 31, 2020 (“Brexit”). Following the end of the Brexit transition period, the EU and the UK’s approach to regulating the financial services sector including the private fund industry will continue to diverge. This divergence will be particularly apparent in respect of those EU financial services regulations that the UK chose to retain as part of its post-Brexit regulatory framework. The UK Financial Services and Markets Act 2023 contains a mechanism that allows for the revocation of financial services retained by EU law. Keeping up to date with these changes is likely to result in increased legal, regulatory and compliance obligations for HarbourVest.

CFIUS could adversely impact the Fund’s ability to make certain investments in the United States or delay or add expenses to the Fund’s investments and increase compliance burdens.

Review by the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States (“CFIUS”), an inter-agency committee of the U.S. government, of foreign persons’ control of or investments in certain types of U.S. businesses that can raise national security concerns could adversely affect the timing of the Fund’s or an Underlying Portfolio Fund’s entering into such transactions, or their ability to do so, or could otherwise restrict the Fund’s ability to access information, exercise voting rights or take other actions relating to any such investment that are advantageous to the Fund. Even where the Fund’s or Underlying Portfolio Fund’s acquisition of an interest in any such business is not controlling, CFIUS could have jurisdiction to review the transaction if the relevant investor is accorded certain rights. An Underlying Portfolio Fund could seek to limit the Fund’s access to certain types of information about any such U.S. business in which the Fund invests through such Underlying Portfolio Fund, for example through excluding or restricting the ability of the Fund’s representative on a limited partner advisory committee of an Underlying Portfolio Fund to participate in a decision impacting any such investment or by otherwise curtailing the Fund’s rights to board seats or involvement in substantive decision making in respect of such businesses. In addition, the Fund could be forced to withdraw from an Underlying Portfolio Fund or excluded completely from participating in certain investments by Underlying Portfolio Funds as a result of measures taken to address CFIUS concerns. In most circumstances, review by CFIUS is triggered by a voluntary filing by the parties to a transaction; the Fund does not expect to be in a position to determine whether such a filing will be made in respect of any transaction in which it participates. If a filing is made, CFIUS review can take up to 90 days or more. Furthermore, as a condition of its approval, CFIUS could impose conditions on the parties to, or the U.S. business subject to, a transaction, certain of which could adversely affect the Fund's or an Underlying Portfolio Fund's ability to execute its investment strategy. CFIUS also can refer a transaction to the President for decision, including where it recommends that the transaction be suspended or prohibited. With respect to any particular investment in a U.S. business by the Fund or an Underlying Portfolio Fund, there can be no assurance that CFIUS will approve the Fund's or an Underlying Portfolio Fund's investment.

Investors are subject to certain indemnification obligations that could result in a recall of distributions.

The Fund will be required to indemnify the General Partner, affiliates of HarbourVest, their respective agents, partners, officers, employees, directors, members, shareholders and trustees and their respective successors, assignees and legal representatives, and each Director for liabilities incurred in connection with the affairs of the Fund and otherwise as provided in the Partnership Agreement. Such liabilities could be material and have an adverse effect on the returns to the Unitholders. The indemnification obligations of the Fund will be payable from the assets of the Fund. If the assets of the Fund are insufficient, the General Partner could recall distributions previously made to the Unitholders (subject to certain limitations set forth in the Partnership Agreement). The partnership agreements of the Underlying Portfolio Funds are expected to contain similar provisions. Each Underlying Portfolio Fund has similar indemnification obligations to its general partner, investment manager and their affiliates, including HarbourVest, and therefore Unitholders are also subject to bearing indemnification indirectly through each Underlying Portfolio Fund.

Natural disasters and other major events may adversely affect the Fund.

HarbourVest's, the Fund's, the Underlying Portfolio Funds' and their portfolio companies' business operations could be vulnerable to disruption in the case of catastrophic events such as fires, natural disasters (e.g., tornadoes, floods, hurricanes, volcanic eruptions and earthquakes), epidemics, pandemics, terrorist attacks, public unrest, war and other armed conflicts, cyber attacks, or other circumstances resulting in, among other things, property damage, network interruption and/or prolonged power outages, disruptions in markets or supply chains and/or prolonged office closures. Although HarbourVest has, and portfolio companies and the managers of its Underlying Portfolio Funds are expected to have, implemented various measures to manage risks relating to these types of events, there can be no assurances that all contingencies can be planned for. If such business operations are disrupted or suspended for extended periods of time, the Fund could be adversely affected.

RISKS RELATED TO TAXATION

There are tax risks associated with an investment in the Fund and the Fund's investments.

The Fund is a Delaware limited partnership that will elect to be treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Legal, tax, and regulatory changes could occur that could adversely affect the Fund or the Aggregating Partnership's investments, or the Unitholders.

The Fund and the Unitholders could be subject to tax return filing obligations and income, franchise, or other taxes in the jurisdictions in which the Aggregating Partnership invests. In addition, income or gains from investments held by the Aggregating Partnership could be subject to withholding or other taxes in such jurisdictions.

Prospective investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors with reference to their specific tax situations, including any applicable U.S. federal, state, and local and non-U.S. taxes and, in the case of prospective investors subject to special rules under U.S. federal income tax laws such as tax-exempt U.S. investors and non-U.S. investors, with reference to any special issues that an investment in the Fund could raise for such Unitholders.

The tax structuring of the Fund or the Aggregating Partnership's investments will not necessarily be tax efficient for any particular investor. No undertaking is given that amounts distributed to investors will have any particular tax characteristics or that any specific tax treatment will be enjoyed. Prospective investors are urged to take their own professional advice in this regard.

The Fund could be subject to numerous information reporting regimes (including FATCA, CRS, and DAC 6) that could require the Fund (or its advisors or other third parties) to report to an applicable government authority information about its investments, the partners and certain persons that indirectly hold, or that control, an interest in the Fund through a partner. A partner will be required to provide such information and documentation, and comply with such procedures, as are required to comply with any requirements relating to such reporting regimes. The failure of a partner to comply with these requirements could result in adverse consequences to the Fund and/or such partner. There remains some uncertainty regarding the interpretation of DAC 6, and it is not clear how such rules will apply to the Fund, the Fund's investments or the investors. The failure to timely and properly report transactions that are required to be reported could result in penalties for the Fund or the investors.

The Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (the "OECD") together with the G20 countries has committed to reduce perceived abusive global tax avoidance, referred to as base erosion and profit shifting ("BEPS" including "BEPS 2.0"). As part of this commitment, an action plan has been developed to address BEPS by realigning taxation with economic activities and value creation by creating a single set of consensus-based international tax rules. As part of the BEPS project new rules have been, and it is anticipated that additional new rules will be, introduced dealing with minimum levels of taxation, the operation of double tax treaties, the definition of permanent establishments and how hybrid instruments are taxed. Depending on whether and how these proposals are implemented, they could have a material impact on the Fund or the investors. Such implementation could also give rise to additional reporting and disclosure obligations for investors and the Fund. Some OECD countries have begun the process of implementing the BEPS proposals. As part of the BEPS project, a number of jurisdictions have signed the so-called multilateral instrument (the "MLI") that will transpose certain BEPS proposals into double tax treaties worldwide. To the extent that treaty benefits were relevant to one or more of the Fund's investments, the changes pursuant to the application of the MLI and any other subsequent changes in tax treaties could significantly affect returns to the Fund and the investors. Such implementation could also give rise to additional reporting and disclosure obligations for investors and the Fund. Further BEPS initiatives are anticipated under the action plan as well as the BEPS 2.0 'Two Pillar' proposals for taxing multi-national enterprises released in October 2021. These have two parts, known as Pillar I and Pillar II, which are targeted at large multi-national enterprises ("MNE") and respectively seek to reallocate taxing rights to jurisdictions where the consumers of certain digital services provided by MNE are based and to ensure that large MNE groups pay a minimum level of tax on the income arising in each of the jurisdictions where they operate. Pillar II changes have been implemented by some jurisdictions but the implementation of the Two Pillars remains subject to change, especially Pillar I where consensus has not been achieved. Effective tax rates could increase for the Fund's underlying investments and costs of tax compliance may also increase as a result of these changes, which could adversely affect any returns to the investors.

In addition, the Council of the European Union has adopted Directives 2016/1164 and 2017/952 (collectively, "ATAD") that address many of the same issues as the BEPS project, including the taxation of hybrid vehicles and instruments. The implementation of ATAD into the domestic laws of the individual EU member states could have negative impacts on the Fund or the investors, including additional taxable income or additional tax expenses due to the disallowance of tax deductions. In addition, the Fund could require additional information from the partners to determine the status of the Fund or the Fund's investments. A partner will be required to provide such information and documentation, and comply with such procedures, as are required for the Fund or the Fund's investments to make such determinations.

Under the UK Criminal Finances Act 2017, a failure to prevent the criminal facilitation of tax evasion is treated as a corporate offense, the commission of which can result in the imposition of unlimited financial penalties. The offense can be committed by bodies corporate and partnerships, wherever incorporated or formed and could therefore impact the Fund and the Fund's investments. The offense is committed when an associated person of the body corporate or partnership commits criminal facilitation of tax evasion when acting in the capacity of an associated person. The offense is wide in scope and catches facilitation of non-UK tax evasion as well as UK tax evasion. It is a complete defense to prosecution if the body corporate or partnership has in place reasonable procedures designed to prevent associated persons from committing tax evasion facilitation offenses. The Fund is in the process of documenting the procedures that are in place in order to avail itself of this defense.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

The exercise of the General Partner's discretion with respect to mandatory withdrawals and redemptions may have an adverse impact on a Unitholder's return on investment.

The General Partner, in its sole discretion, may require a Unitholder to redeem all or any portion of its Units and withdraw from the Fund, as determined by the General Partner at any time for any reason or for no reason, with or without prior notice. To the extent the General Partner requires the mandatory redemption of any Units of any Unitholder, such withdrawal will be subject to the same terms as voluntary redemptions of Unitholders (including the limitations imposed thereon), unless otherwise determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion, and provided that the mandatory redemption of all or any portion of a Unitholder's Units is permitted to be satisfied in priority to other requested redemptions in the discretion of the General Partner. Accordingly, any mandatory redemption could cause the Unitholder to be redeemed at an inopportune time as compared to when a Unitholder may have determined on its own to redeem Units and the applicable net asset value of Units could be less than the Unitholder might have otherwise received had it not been redeemed.

Misconduct of employees and of third-party service providers could result in poor investment performance, litigation or serious financial harm, including limiting the Fund's business prospects or future activities.

There have been a number of highly publicized cases involving fraud or other misconduct by employees in the financial services industry in recent years, and there is a risk that employee misconduct could occur with respect to the Fund. Misconduct by employees or by third-party service providers could cause significant losses to the Fund. Employee misconduct could include, among other things, binding the Fund to transactions that exceed authorized limits or present unacceptable risks and other unauthorized activities or concealing unsuccessful investments (which, in either case, can result in unknown and unmanaged risks or losses), or otherwise charging (or seeking to charge) inappropriate expenses to the Fund or HarbourVest. In addition, employees and third-party service providers could improperly use or disclose confidential information, which could result in litigation or serious financial harm, including limiting the Fund's business prospects or future activities. Furthermore, because of HarbourVest's diverse businesses and the regulatory regimes under which they operate, misdeeds by a HarbourVest entity (or its personnel) could result in foreclosing the Fund's ability to conduct its activities in the manner otherwise intended. It is not always possible to deter misconduct by employees or service providers, and the precautions HarbourVest and its affiliates take to detect and prevent this activity might be ineffective in some cases.

Investors have limited control over the Fund.

Unitholders will have no right or power to participate in the management or control of the activities of the Fund and thus must depend solely upon the ability of the General Partner and HarbourVest with respect to the conduct of the affairs of the Fund.

In addition, the Registrant is a limited partner of and generally does not control decisions and actions taken by the Aggregating Partnership. Accordingly, there may be changes to the fees, expenses and valuation policies applicable to the Aggregating Partnership impacting the Registrant over which the Registrant does not have control. For example, the valuation policies applicable to the Aggregating Partnership may be modified without the approval of the Audit Committee of the Registrant.

The Partnership Agreement may be amended without the consent of the Unitholders which could result in changes that are materially adverse to certain Unitholders.

Except as otherwise required by law or in the Partnership Agreement, the Partnership Agreement may be amended, modified or supplemented, and any provision of the Partnership Agreement may be waived, by the written consent of the General Partner (without the consent of the Unitholders). However, any amendment, modification or supplement (including an amendment in the form of a merger, consolidation, conversion or similar transaction into a successor entity to the Partnership) that is viewed by the General Partner in its discretion, exercised in good faith, as having a material adverse effect on the Unitholders in the aggregate, will require the approval of the Independent Directors and any amendment, modification or supplement (including an amendment in the form of a merger, consolidation, conversion or similar transaction into a successor entity to the Partnership) related to Class-specific management fees or liquidity terms that is viewed by the General Partner in its discretion, exercised in good faith, as having a material adverse effect solely on the Unitholders of a particular Class of Units in the aggregate, the approval of the Independent Directors, acting in the best interests of the Unitholders in such affected Class, shall be required. To the extent the General Partner has not appointed Independent Directors, any matters for which the Independent Directors have authority or obligation to act pursuant to the Partnership Agreement can be effected by consent of the Board. To the extent the General Partner has not appointed a Board, any matters for which the Board has authority or obligation to act pursuant to the Partnership Agreement can be effected by consent of either the General Partner or Unitholders holding a majority of Units, which may include Unitholders who are affiliated with the General Partner. The General Partner intends to give notice to Unitholders through its public filings and otherwise only to the extent that such amendment, modification or supplement is viewed by the General Partner in its discretion, as a whole together with all such amendments, modifications or supplements, as having a material adverse effect in the aggregate on the Unitholders of the Fund.

Developments with respect to social networks, message boards and other means of mass communication could adversely affect HarbourVest, the Fund, the Fund's Underlying Portfolio Funds and underlying portfolio companies or the Unitholders.

The use of social networks such as Facebook, X (formerly known as Twitter) and Instagram, message boards such as Reddit and other internet channels has become widespread within the U.S. and globally. As a result, individuals now have the ability to rapidly and broadly disseminate information or misinformation without relying on traditional media intermediaries. Information often spreads rapidly across large segments of the U.S. and global population, frequently without any independent verification as to its accuracy, which has led to the spread of misinformation in many cases. The spread of information or misinformation regarding HarbourVest, the Fund, the Fund's Underlying Portfolio Funds (including their underlying portfolio companies) or their respective affiliates could result in material and adverse effects on any of the foregoing. For example, a publicly-traded portfolio company held by several HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts was named in a widely-circulated story that made various claims, which are widely understood to be unfounded, about the company's operations. In that instance, HarbourVest believes there has been no identified material adverse effect on the portfolio company, but it is possible that the spread of such information or misinformation could lead to a negative reputational and/or financial impact on HarbourVest, the Fund, the Fund's Underlying Portfolio Funds (including their underlying portfolio companies) or their respective affiliates in the future. Furthermore, certain administrators of or other service providers to social networks, message boards, app stores, websites and other internet outlets have taken actions to ban, block, verify or censor the content disseminated on their networks. Such actions, or similar actions taken by government regulators or courts, could negatively affect HarbourVest, the Fund, the Fund's Underlying Portfolio Funds (including their underlying portfolio companies) or their respective affiliates (e.g., if a portfolio company were to face public backlash or regulatory penalties for taking such actions, or if a portfolio company were itself the subject of such a ban). In addition, the debt or equity securities of portfolio companies held by the Fund's Underlying Portfolio Funds or of their affiliates could become the subject of speculation, including speculation stemming from posts on websites, applications, widely-followed social networks or message boards such as Reddit. Such speculation could result in volatility in the prices of such securities, disruptions in capital availability for, or of the operations of, such portfolio companies and/or short-term or long-term losses for such portfolio companies, their affiliates, the applicable Underlying Portfolio Funds and/or the Fund.

The Fund may make in-kind distributions and the risk of loss and delay in liquidating such assets will be borne by the Unitholders.

The Fund is permitted to distribute securities and other assets to the Unitholders of the Fund that are not marketable or are otherwise illiquid upon a dissolution or winding-up of the Fund. The risk of loss and delay in liquidating such assets will be borne by the Unitholders (as applicable), with the result that Unitholders could receive less cash than was reflected in the fair value of such assets when distributed as determined by the General Partner pursuant to the Partnership Agreement. In addition, when investments are distributed to Unitholders in kind, such Unitholders could then become minority equityholders in, or lenders to, Underlying Portfolio Funds or their portfolio companies and might be unable to protect their interests effectively.

A distribution in-kind of securities or other assets may result in adverse tax consequences for the Fund and/or the Unitholders. For example, an in-kind distribution of an asset by the Fund may result in the Fund recognizing gain on such distribution equal to the difference between such asset's adjusted tax basis in the hands of the Fund and its fair market value at the time of distribution. The tax treatment of investments distributed in kind could also differ, potentially materially, from the tax treatment of Units held by a Unitholder. Unitholders should consult with their tax advisers regarding the consequences of receiving assets in kind in light of their own facts and circumstances.

The Fund is permitted to satisfy in kind the payment of the redemption amount to any Unitholder who requests it by allocating to the Unitholder investments from the portfolio of assets of the Fund equal to the value of the Units to be redeemed. The assets to be transferred in such case shall be determined on a fair and reasonable basis as determined by the General Partner and may result in a distribution of a particular asset on a non-pro rata basis.

The General Partner may elect to permit or assist some Unitholders but not all Unitholders in pursuing a transfer of their Units to a Secondary Market Purchaser.

While the General Partner may, in its discretion, permit or assist Unitholders who otherwise wish to redeem their Units in pursuing a transfer of such Units to a Secondary Market Purchaser, the General Partner will have no obligation to do so. The General Partner may, in its discretion, elect to permit or assist some Unitholders but not all Unitholders in this effort. As a result, some Unitholders may have an opportunity to exit their investment at a price that is higher than may be obtained by other Unitholders. In addition, there is no guarantee, even if the General Partner attempts to assist in such transfer, that a Secondary Market Purchaser will be available or successfully located. Furthermore, Unitholders must be prepared to receive significantly less money from the Secondary Market Purchaser in connection with such a transfer than would be paid in normal market conditions and less than would have been obtained had the Unitholder redeemed its Units in the ordinary course. To the extent that the General Partner attempts to facilitate such a transfer to a Secondary Market Purchaser, none of the General Partner, the Fund or any of their affiliates will have any liability to the Unitholders transferring such interests or to the Secondary Market Purchaser, whether in respect of the purchase price secured therefor or in any other respect. Furthermore, the General Partner will not be obligated to accept any proposed Secondary Market Purchaser who does not otherwise meet the eligibility requirements to invest in the Fund. As a result, a Unitholder may be unable to ultimately consummate the proposed transfer of Units, including where the Unitholder has already incurred significant costs in respect thereof.

The Fund may face risks relating to artificial intelligence and machine learning.

Recent technological advances in artificial intelligence and machine learning technology (collectively, "Machine Learning Technology"), including OpenAI's release of its ChatGPT application, could pose risks to HarbourVest, the Fund, the Underlying Portfolio Funds and their portfolio companies or their respective affiliates to the extent used by such parties or their personnel. While HarbourVest could utilize Machine Learning Technology in connection with its business activities, including investment activities, HarbourVest continues to evaluate and adjust internal policies governing use of Machine Learning Technology by its personnel. Notwithstanding any such policies, HarbourVest personnel, HarbourVest advisors or other associated persons of any HarbourVest affiliate could, unbeknownst to HarbourVest, utilize Machine Learning Technology in contravention of such policies. HarbourVest, the Fund, the Underlying Portfolio Funds and their portfolio companies or their respective affiliates could be further exposed to these risks if any third-party service providers or counterparties use Machine Learning Technology in their business activities, whether or not known to HarbourVest. HarbourVest will not be in a position to control the manner in which third-party Machine Learning Technology products are developed or maintained or the manner in which third-party service providers or counterparties may utilize such products. For example, certain revenue management system software providers are subject to lawsuits and investigations alleging antitrust violations in connection with the use of algorithmic price setting technologies. There is no guarantee that Machine Learning Technology utilized or developed by operating partners or service providers will not present similar risks in the future and HarbourVest, the Fund, the Underlying Portfolio Funds and their portfolio companies or their respective affiliates could experience directly or indirectly negative impacts or otherwise be subject to or implicated by litigation or investigations involving any possible violation of laws related to use of these technologies by operating partners or service providers.

Use of Machine Learning Technology by any of the parties described in the previous paragraph could include the input of confidential information (including material non-public information) – either by any such third parties in contravention of non-disclosure agreements, or by HarbourVest personnel or service providers in contravention of HarbourVest’s policies – into Machine Learning Technology applications, resulting in such confidential information becoming part of a dataset that is accessible by other third-party Machine Learning Technology applications and users.

Independent of the context of its use, Machine Learning Technology is generally highly reliant on the collection and analysis of large amounts of data, and it may not be possible or practicable to incorporate all relevant data into any given model that Machine Learning Technology utilizes to operate. Additionally, certain data in such models will inevitably contain a degree of inaccuracy and error – potentially materially so – and could otherwise be inadequate or flawed, which would likely degrade the effectiveness of Machine Learning Technology. To the extent that HarbourVest, the Fund, the Underlying Portfolio Funds or their portfolio companies are exposed to the risks of Machine Learning Technology use, any such inaccuracies or errors could have adverse impacts on HarbourVest, the Fund, the Underlying Portfolio Funds and their portfolio companies.

Machine Learning Technology and its applications, including in the private investment and financial sectors, continue to develop rapidly, and it is impossible to predict the future risks that may arise from such developments. For example, if HarbourVest were to share or license Machine Learning Technology, including technology that includes some degree of internal development, with investors, sponsors or managers of Underlying Portfolio Funds, underlying portfolio companies or other third parties, such activity could introduce a number of additional risks. Regulations related to Machine Learning Technology may also impose certain obligations on organizations using such technology, and the costs of monitoring and responding to such regulations, as well as the consequences of non-compliance, could have an adverse effect on HarbourVest, the Fund, the Underlying Portfolio Funds and their portfolio companies, to the extent they are subject to such regulations. For example, the EU has introduced a new regulation applicable to certain Machine Learning Technology and the data used to train, test and deploy them (the “EU AI Act”). The EU AI Act entered into force on August 1, 2024 and its requirements became effective on a staggered basis, beginning February 2, 2025. The EU AI Act imposes material requirements on both the providers and deployers of certain Machine Learning Technology, with infringements punishable by sanctions including fines of up to 7% of total annual worldwide turnover or 35 million euros (whichever is higher) for the most serious breaches. In parallel, the EU has introduced revisions to the EU Product Liability Directive, which entered into force on December 9, 2024, intended to facilitate claims for damages brought by EU users of Machine Learning Technology. Preparing for and complying with the EU AI Act and other regulations related to Machine Learning Technology could involve material compliance costs and/or adversely affect the operations or performance of HarbourVest, the Fund, its Underlying Portfolio Funds and their portfolio companies.

Machine Learning Technology and its current and potential future applications including in the private investment and financial sectors, as well as the legal and regulatory frameworks within which they operate, continue to rapidly evolve, and it is not possible to predict the full extent of current or future risks related thereto.

Cybersecurity breaches and identity theft could adversely affect HarbourVest, the Fund, the Underlying Portfolio Funds and their portfolio companies.

Cybersecurity incidents and cyber attacks have been occurring globally at a more frequent and severe level and are expected to continue to increase in frequency in the future. The information and technology systems of HarbourVest, the Fund, and the Fund's Underlying Portfolio Funds and their portfolio companies and their respective service providers could be vulnerable to damage or interruption from computer viruses and other malicious code, network failures, security threats (including ongoing cybersecurity threats to and attacks on information technology infrastructure), computer and telecommunication failures, infiltration by unauthorized persons, security breaches, usage errors or malfeasance by their respective professionals or service providers, power, communications or other service outages, and catastrophic events such as fires, tornadoes, floods, hurricanes, earthquakes, systemic risk associated with cyber-kinetic warfare, catastrophic nation-state hacks or terrorist incidents. In particular, ransomware attacks are evolving and are frequently carried out via a form of malicious software designed to encrypt files on, and/or block access to, an information system until the demanded ransom is paid, resulting in significant business disruption, financial losses (including potentially ransom payments and/or costs and expenses associated with engaging decryption specialists), reputational costs, and loss of data. If unauthorized parties gain access to such information and technology systems, or if personnel abuse or misuse their access privileges, they could be able to steal, publish, delete or modify private and sensitive information. Although HarbourVest has implemented, and its service providers could implement, various measures to manage risks relating to these types of events, such measures could be inadequate and, if compromised, information and technology systems could become inoperable for extended periods of time, cease to function properly, or fail to adequately secure private information. Even with sophisticated prevention and detection systems, breaches such as those involving covertly introduced malware, impersonation of authorized users, and industrial or other espionage could not be identified in a timely manner or at all, potentially resulting in further harm and precluding appropriate remediation. HarbourVest and the Fund could have to make significant investments to fix or replace information and technology systems. The failure of these systems and/or of disaster recovery plans for any reason could cause significant interruptions in the operations of HarbourVest, the Fund and/or their service providers and result in a failure to maintain the security, confidentiality, or privacy of sensitive data, including personal information relating to Unitholders (and their beneficial owners) and the intellectual property and trade secrets of HarbourVest and the Fund. Such a failure could harm the reputation of HarbourVest and the Fund, subject any such entities and their respective affiliates to legal claims and adverse publicity and otherwise affect their business and financial performance. Similar considerations apply to the Underlying Portfolio Funds and their managers, portfolio companies and service providers. The costs related to cyber or other security threats or disruptions or data privacy breaches may not be fully insured or indemnified by other means.

In addition, on May 25, 2018, the EU's General Data Protection Regulation ("GDPR") came into effect. The GDPR modernized the legal framework of data protection and privacy in Europe with the aim of ensuring the consistent protection of personal data by making businesses more accountable for compliance with applicable requirements. Accordingly, onerous penalties will be imposed for breaches of the GDPR, including a failure to report cybersecurity breaches or to implement or maintain appropriate cybersecurity systems and protocols and while the Fund will (and Underlying Portfolio Funds and portfolio companies could) endeavor to maintain systems to avoid such breaches and penalties, there can be no assurance that these systems will always be effective in doing so. Following its departure from the EU, the UK has retained and transposed the GDPR into domestic law pursuant to the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018.

RISKS RELATED TO CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Prospective investors should be aware that various actual and potential conflicts will arise from the overall investment activities of the Fund, the General Partner, HarbourVest, other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts and their respective affiliates. HarbourVest currently manages, and expects to form, additional funds, parallel funds and separate accounts that make investments in specific regions and/or sectors of the markets, and in the overall markets, targeted by the Fund or that otherwise have substantially the same investment objectives and investments as the Fund. Such other funds and accounts often will have economic terms that are different than those of the Fund, and can incorporate terms that individually or in the aggregate are more favorable for their limited partners (or their equivalent) than the equivalent terms of the Fund. There is no restriction on HarbourVest establishing or managing additional funds or accounts that invest in specific regions and/or sectors of, or in the overall markets targeted by the Fund.

The following discussion identifies certain potential conflicts of interest that should be carefully considered before making an investment in the Fund. In addition, prospective investors should be aware that HarbourVest, its personnel, and their respective affiliates could in the future engage in further activities that could result in additional conflicts of interest not addressed below. HarbourVest and its affiliates will attempt to resolve any conflicts of interest in good faith in a manner consistent with the procedures described herein and in the Partnership Agreement. There can be no assurance that HarbourVest will identify or resolve all conflicts of interest and, if resolved, that such conflicts will be resolved in a manner that is favorable to the Fund (or any particular HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account). While it is likely that Underlying Portfolio Funds and their managers will be subject to similar conflicts of interest, Unitholders should note that such Underlying Portfolio Funds, managers and sponsors could be subject to additional or alternative conflicts of interest.

Conflicts of interest are expected to arise in respect of Underlying Portfolio Funds and underlying portfolio companies invested in by the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds.

It is expected that other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts will, from time to time, acquire investments in the same Underlying Portfolio Fund (or underlying portfolio company) opportunity as the Fund as part of a single transaction or otherwise. In connection with any such investment by such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts, the Fund, on the one hand, and such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts, on the other hand, could have conflicting interests if they invest in the same Underlying Portfolio Fund or underlying portfolio company. Where the Fund and such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts invest in the same securities, HarbourVest could give advice to or otherwise take actions on their behalf in respect of such investments that could differ from advice given to or actions taken on behalf of the Fund. For example, other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts and the Fund could have an investment in the same securities of an Underlying Portfolio Fund or (including through an Underlying Portfolio Fund) underlying portfolio company, but could buy or sell such investments at a different time, at a different price or otherwise on different terms or conditions or could exercise voting and other rights relating to such securities in a different manner, including but not limited to as a result of their differing liquidity needs, regulatory limitations or obligations or other relevant considerations that cause their respective interests or requirements to be unaligned. Such advice or actions on behalf of other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts could adversely impact the Fund or could otherwise result in such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts achieving returns on such investments that are better than the returns achieved by the Fund.

Such conflicts of interest could be more material where the Fund and such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds invest in different securities issued by the same portfolio companies or Underlying Portfolio Funds. For example, if the Fund invests, including through an Underlying Portfolio Fund, in the equity securities of a portfolio company and another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account invests in the debt securities of the same company, the various economic and other terms of the debt and equity securities, including the interest rates to be paid on the debt securities, any security granted in respect thereof, the characterization of the debt securities as preferred equity or subordinated debt and the nature of the covenants running in favor of the other HarbourVest-

Managed Fund or account as a debt holder, could raise conflicts of interest between the Fund, on the one hand, and such other HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account, on the other hand. Questions could arise as to whether payment obligations and covenants of the debt securities should be enforced, modified or waived by the holders of the debt securities or whether the debt securities should be refinanced by the portfolio company, which decisions could be influenced by the other HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account holding the debt securities. Such conflicts of interest will be particularly heightened where the portfolio company is in financial difficulty as, in such situations, the interests of debt and equity holders typically will not be aligned. Decisions about what action should be taken by the Fund (or an Underlying Portfolio Fund), as an equity holder or by the other HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account as a debt holder in a troubled situation, including whether to enforce creditor claims, whether to advocate or initiate a portfolio company restructuring or liquidation inside or outside of bankruptcy proceedings, and the terms of any work-out or restructuring of a portfolio company or its debt, will raise material conflicts of interest. In such circumstances, the other HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account might be best served by a liquidation of the portfolio company that would result in its debt being paid but leave nothing with respect to the Fund's interest in the company's equity. It is possible in distressed situations that actions taken by the other HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account as a debt holder could materially adversely impact, if not in effect eliminate, any remaining value attaching to equity securities held by the Fund. The reverse would be the case where the Fund holds debt securities of a portfolio company and another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account acquires equity securities of the same company.

In circumstances where the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts directly or indirectly hold investments in different classes of a portfolio company's debt and/or equity (or, where applicable, different classes of securities issued by an Underlying Portfolio Fund), HarbourVest intends, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, to take steps in respect of such investments to reduce the potential for adversity between the Fund and the other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts, including by causing the Fund to take certain actions that, in the absence of such conflict, it would not take, such as, for example but without limitation (i) remaining passive in a portfolio company restructuring or similar situation (including by electing not to vote or voting pro rata with other security holders), (ii) divesting investments, (iii) appointing an independent decision-maker or (iv) otherwise taking an action designed to reduce such adversity. Any such step could have the effect of benefiting other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts and therefore could not be in the best interests of, and could be adverse to, the Fund. HarbourVest manages a number of funds and accounts that are deemed to be investing plan assets subject to ERISA and that target, in whole or in part, similar investments to those targeted by the Fund. If HarbourVest is acting in any transaction on behalf of a fund deemed to be investing plan assets subject to ERISA, applicable law will require HarbourVest to act in the best interests of such fund when considering any actions regardless of any adverse effect that could result for other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts, including the Fund. Similar considerations could apply if the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts were to invest in different parts of the debt capital structure of the same portfolio company (for example if the Fund holds debt securities that are junior to debt securities held by other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts).

In addition to investing at the same time in the same portfolio company or Underlying Portfolio Fund, including in different classes of securities issued thereby, the Fund could directly or indirectly pursue a transaction with an entity in which another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account has a pre-existing investment, or another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account could pursue a transaction with an entity in which the Fund has a pre-existing investment. For example, the Fund could lead a recapitalization of a portfolio company in which another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account has a pre-existing investment, or invest in a later-stage equity issuance by a portfolio company in which another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account has a pre-existing investment in an earlier-stage equity issuance. Similarly, the Fund could invest in a preferred equity issuance by an Underlying Portfolio Fund in which another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account has a pre-existing equity investment. As discussed above, such investments could give rise to conflicts of interest to the extent that HarbourVest takes into account the interests of such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts in its consideration of certain actions by the Fund in respect of such investments, and in certain circumstances, the pre-existing interests of the other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts in the relevant entity could preclude the Fund from taking actions it would otherwise have taken or could otherwise be detrimental to the Fund, or alternatively, such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts could benefit from actions taken on behalf of the Fund. For example, if the valuation at which an investment by the Fund is made into an existing portfolio company of another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account is below or in excess of the valuation implied by the original investment, such investment by the Fund could be dilutive or accretive to the existing investment held by such other HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account. If any such other HarbourVest fund or account is no longer making investments or does not have sufficient capital to participate (in full or in part) in such new investment in the portfolio company, such HarbourVest fund or account will be unable to protect itself against any such dilution resulting from a later issuance at a lower valuation. Conversely, if the Fund makes an investment in an existing portfolio company of another HarbourVest fund or account at a valuation higher than that implied by the original investment, the investment by the Fund will indirectly benefit such other HarbourVest fund or account. In addition, if another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account makes a preferred equity investment in an Underlying Portfolio Fund in which the Fund has a pre-existing equity interest, the interest of the Fund is likely to be very significantly diluted and could in effect be eliminated if the portfolio of the Underlying Portfolio Fund is distressed. Alternatively, if the Fund makes such an investment in an Underlying Portfolio Fund in which another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account has a pre-existing investment, such other HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account could materially benefit from the investment of the Fund which could enable the Underlying Portfolio Fund to make defensive follow-on investments in its portfolio that would not otherwise have been possible, thereby protecting the remaining value of the portfolio. It is possible that the Fund could be precluded from making certain investments or taking certain actions by reason of an existing relationship of another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account in a potential or actual portfolio investment. For example, as discussed further below, if another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account holds an investment in a public company with respect to which it has received material non-public information, the Fund could be prohibited or otherwise limited in its ability to make direct or indirect investments in the same company under applicable law. Likewise, regulatory “cross-attribution” rules could be implicated to the extent the Fund were to invest directly or indirectly in a company in which another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account holds an investment, which could result in the Fund being unable to make such investment, being required to invest less than it would otherwise invest, or being subject to legal or regulatory requirements to which it would not otherwise be subject.

The Fund could pursue a transaction with an entity in which another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account anticipates investing. For example, the Fund could participate in the warehouse of an investment for an Underlying Portfolio Fund in which another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account anticipates investing. Such transactions could give rise to conflicts of interest as HarbourVest could take into account the interests of such other fund or account in determining whether or not to cause the Fund to participate in such transactions, which transactions could incur costs and otherwise be detrimental to the Fund or be beneficial solely to the other HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account.

Where the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts target or otherwise co-invest in the same Underlying Portfolio Funds or their underlying portfolio companies, such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts are not necessarily required to share in expenses in respect thereto that are paid by the Fund, either with respect to a co-investment opportunity that is not consummated (i.e., a broken deal) or with respect to other potential investments that are offered to the Fund. In such event, the Fund could bear more than its pro rata share of such expenses (see “Allocation of expenses between the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts” below).

Transactions between the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts or HarbourVest and its affiliates are expected to give rise to conflicts of interest.

In accordance with the Partnership Agreement and to the extent not otherwise prohibited by law, the General Partner could cause the Fund (without the consent of the Board or any Unitholders) to sell securities to, or purchase securities from, another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account (a) at fair market value as determined by the General Partner in its discretion or (b) within 24 months following the acquisition of such securities by the Fund or such other HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account, as applicable, at the Fund's or such other HarbourVest-Managed Fund's or account's cost, as applicable (which cost shall include cost of funds and, without duplication, any interest, fees and other charges incurred by the Fund or such other HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account, as applicable, in connection with its acquisition of such securities) (see "Potential conflicts with respect to cross transactions" below). For these purposes, the recapitalization of a portfolio investment in which cash invested in a portfolio company (or an Underlying Portfolio Fund) by the Fund is used in whole or in part to redeem debt or equity interests in such portfolio company owned by another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account (or enable an Underlying Portfolio Fund to make distributions to another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account) (or vice versa) will not be treated as a transaction in which the Fund is the seller (or purchaser) of securities to (or from) another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account.

Except as otherwise disclosed herein or in the Partnership Agreement, without the consent of the Independent Directors, the Fund generally cannot sell any security to, or purchase any security from, the General Partner, HarbourVest, or HarbourVest-owned affiliates. To the extent the General Partner has not appointed Independent Directors, any matters for which the Independent Directors have authority or obligation to act pursuant to the Partnership Agreement can be effected by consent of the Board. To the extent the General Partner has not appointed a Board, any matters for which the Board has authority or obligation to act pursuant to the Partnership Agreement can be effected by consent of either the General Partner or Unitholders holding a majority of Units, which may include Unitholders who are affiliated with the General Partner.

Potential conflicts with respect to cross transactions.

The General Partner is expected to cause the Fund to purchase certain investments from other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts, and to cause the Fund to sell certain investments to another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account without the consent of any Directors or any Unitholders. Such transactions create conflicts of interest because, by not exposing such buy and sell transactions to market forces, the Fund may not receive the best price otherwise possible, or the General Partner might have an incentive to improve the performance of the Fund by selling underperforming assets to another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account in order, for example, to earn fees. Additionally, in connection with such transactions, the General Partner, its affiliates and/or their professionals may (i) have significant investments, or intentions to invest, in the HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account (including where such HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account was formed exclusively for such persons) that is selling and/or purchasing such an investment or (ii) otherwise have a direct or indirect interest in the investment (such as through certain other participations in the investment). The General Partner and its affiliates may receive management or other fees in connection with their management of the relevant HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account involved in such a transaction, and generally are entitled to share in the investment profits of the relevant HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account. To address these conflicts of interest, in connection with effecting such transactions, the General Partner may, but in most cases is not required to, consult with the Board.

Potential conflicts with respect to advisory committee members of the Fund's Underlying Portfolio Funds.

In certain circumstances, an investor in the Fund or another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account could have a pre-existing relationship with the sponsor of a primary partnership investment by the Fund (if any). In connection with such investment, the sponsor of such Primary Partnership Investment could decide to offer an advisory committee seat directly to such investor (and not to HarbourVest) or, where such investor invests in a HarbourVest-managed account established solely for its benefit, the sponsor could offer an advisory committee seat to HarbourVest in its capacity as the manager of such managed account acting solely for the benefit of such investor, and not in its capacity as the manager of all participating HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts including the Fund. In such circumstances, the advisory committee seat would be made available to HarbourVest solely to serve the interests of the investor with the pre-existing relationship with the sponsor. While HarbourVest could be offered an additional advisory committee seat to be exercised for the benefit of any other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts participating in the relevant primary investment, including the Fund, there can be no assurance of this and in many if not all instances, this could not be the case. Conflicts of interest will arise where HarbourVest is offered advisory committee seats in such circumstances. The interests of the investor with the pre-existing relationship with the sponsor of the Primary Partnership Investment on the one hand, and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts (including the Fund) participating in such investment on the other hand, may not be aligned in all circumstances in which HarbourVest is called on to take any action as the holder of an advisory committee seat made available to HarbourVest solely for the benefit of such investor. Any action taken by HarbourVest for the benefit of such investor could adversely impact the Fund.

Transactions between the Fund and Unitholders or prospective unitholders of the Fund or other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts.

Unitholders and prospective unitholders of the Fund or other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts can sell or buy portfolio investments to or from the Fund or any Underlying Portfolio Fund and, in the case of such a sale, can use the proceeds to make investments in the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts. Such transactions can give rise to conflicts of interest to the extent that HarbourVest is incentivized to facilitate such transactions on terms acceptable to the relevant Unitholders or prospective unitholders to facilitate such investments in the Fund or other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts.

Transactions involving Underlying Portfolio Funds and other third-party funds in which the Fund, other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts or HarbourVest have an interest, may involve conflicts of interest.

The Fund could invest in an Underlying Portfolio Fund whose general partner or manager is partially owned by another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account, entitling such other HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account (and indirectly HarbourVest itself) to receive a portion of the carried interest and/or management fees borne by the Fund with respect to such Underlying Portfolio Fund. Further, the Fund could invest in an Underlying Portfolio Fund whose general partner, manager or sponsor (or the individual owners or principals thereof) is an investor or prospective investor in the Fund or other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts. In such circumstances, conflicts of interest will arise as HarbourVest could be incentivized to take such actual or prospective investments by such general partner, manager or sponsor (or the individual owners or principals thereof) and the potential carried interest, management fees and/or other economic benefits to HarbourVest and its affiliates from such investments, into consideration in determining to invest the Fund in such Underlying Portfolio Fund.

Furthermore, the Fund could buy securities from a third-party fund in which other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts are limited partners (or their equivalent) and/or have an investment in the general partner or manager of such third-party fund. The other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts invested in such selling fund could indirectly benefit from such transaction. The Fund could also buy securities of a company that is owned, in whole or in part, by other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts or third-party funds in which other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts are limited partners, and the transaction could allow such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts or such third-party funds, to increase their holding value of such securities, which could benefit such HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts and HarbourVest.

Transactions between portfolio companies of the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts could conflict with each other and could preclude HarbourVest from taking actions it would otherwise have taken on behalf of the Fund, which could materially adversely affect the performance of the Fund.

The activities of the portfolio companies invested in by the Fund through an Underlying Portfolio Fund and of other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts could conflict with each other. The Fund could, for example, invest in a portfolio company that competes with a different portfolio company held by the Fund or another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account or that becomes involved in a legal dispute with such portfolio company. Conflicts among portfolio companies could preclude HarbourVest from taking actions it would otherwise have taken on behalf of the Fund to the extent HarbourVest determines such action would be detrimental to one or more of the other funds and accounts it manages, including the Fund.

Allocation and classification of investment opportunities and related conflicts of interest may materially adversely affect the Fund.

The Fund and certain other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts will target the same investments in Underlying Portfolio Funds. HarbourVest has sole discretion to determine the manner in which investment opportunities are allocated between the Fund and such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts in such circumstances. Such allocation decisions present inherent conflicts of interest where demand exceeds available supply. As a result, the Fund's share of investment opportunities could be materially affected by competition from another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account. Such conflicts will not always be resolved to the advantage of the Fund, and the Fund is not expected to receive allocation priority over other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts.

HarbourVest adheres to an Investment Allocation Policy that will apply to the Fund and HarbourVest's other funds and accounts and that takes into account a variety of factors, currently including, but not limited to: (i) capital available for investment by each fund or account; (ii) the size and characteristics of the investment; (iii) risk / return profile of the fund or account; (iv) contractual obligations, including any priority rights with respect to investment allocations, such as the priority rights of Dover with respect to Secondary Investments described under "Item 1. Business—Allocation of Investment Opportunities;" (v) principles of diversification; (vi) the tactical plan of each fund or account, including without limitation its targeted strategies, pacing, investment minimums and maximums, level of portfolio concentration and investment guidelines; (vii) other investment opportunities that are expected to be available in the near term; (viii) restrictions imposed by the underlying manager, portfolio company or lead sponsor of the investment opportunity (e.g., restrictions relating to ERISA concerns); (ix) structural, tax or legal issues of a transaction that could make an investment not appropriate for a particular fund or account; (x) whether the specific characteristics of the investment opportunity are consistent with one or more investment strategies; (xi) regulatory restrictions applicable to participating funds and accounts; (xii) a determination by HarbourVest that the investment is inappropriate, in whole or in part, for one or more of the funds or accounts; (xiii) whether a fund or account has a narrow or specific objective or focus; (xiv) whether a fund or account has discretion and the necessary timeframe for the approval and funding process; (xv) whether a conflict waiver could be required and the necessary timeframe for obtaining such waiver; (xvi) applicable transfer or assignment provisions; (xvii) the investment period of a fund or account, including the proximity of a fund to the end of its investment period or specified term, if any; (xviii) the liquidity terms of a fund or account including whether it permits withdrawals or redemptions or targets a specified yield; (xix) ability to borrow and available borrowing capacity on any applicable subscription line or other credit facility; (xx) excessive transaction costs relative to the size of a fund or account's participation; (xxi) whether a fund or account has an existing interest in the investment; (xxii) whether a fund or account has an existing interest in an investment managed by the same manager; or (xxiii) such other factors as HarbourVest reasonably deems relevant. Among others, the above factors provide substantial discretion to HarbourVest in allocating any individual investment opportunity. The outcome of any allocation decision could result in the Fund receiving all or none of an investment opportunity or a non-pro rata interest in the opportunity. In situations where there is insufficient investment supply relative to demand, HarbourVest, in its sole discretion, will make subjective judgments using some or all of the above factors.

Secondary investment opportunities meeting the Fund's investment objectives that are offered to HarbourVest will generally be allocated among the Fund, Dover and other funds or accounts managed by HarbourVest or its affiliates based on a sharing arrangement whereby at least 70% of such investment opportunities can be allocated in priority to Dover and the remainder to such other HarbourVest funds or accounts. Additionally, as discussed further below, certain other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts have allocation priority (including priority over Dover) in respect of certain investment opportunities.

There can be circumstances where HarbourVest funds or accounts, including the Fund, are precluded from participating in a certain investment opportunity. Such circumstances include instances in which the use of multiple buyers is prohibited or not feasible. There can also be commercial, structural, regulatory, or other legal (including ERISA or the Investment Company Act) or other reasons as described above, that could prevent the investment by other HarbourVest funds or accounts. The respective general partners of the other HarbourVest funds or accounts could determine that a prospective investment would not be prudent for such funds or accounts.

Notwithstanding the above, certain HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts have in the past been, and are expected in the future to be allocated investment opportunities sourced by one or more beneficial owners, or due to the relationships that one or more beneficial owners thereof has with other sponsors (including, for the avoidance of doubt, relationships arising from pre-existing investments by HarbourVest-managed accounts in which such a beneficial owner participates, as determined by HarbourVest in its sole discretion, taking into account the nature of the relationship and such other factors as HarbourVest deems appropriate under the circumstances). Accordingly, such investment opportunities would not be allocated to the Fund in whole or in part. Such investment opportunities could be allocated solely or disproportionately to such other funds or accounts.

HarbourVest has in the past established and/or managed, and may in the future establish and/or manage certain funds and accounts that are regulated by local regulators and, as such, are subject to material investment restrictions and obligations in respect of their investment activities. For example, HarbourVest has established certain regulated investment funds in Luxembourg that are regulated by the Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier and regulated investment companies or business development companies registered under the Investment Company Act established by HarbourVest from time to time (a “Regulated Fund”). HarbourVest may in the future establish other Regulated Funds. Such Regulated Funds invest and are expected to continue to invest alongside the Fund to the extent permitted under applicable laws and related regulations (including, if applicable, the terms of any exemptions or other regulatory relief from limitations and restrictions that would otherwise apply to such Regulated Funds). The Fund may invest alongside certain Regulated Funds managed by HarbourVest in reliance on an exemptive order from the SEC (as may be amended or superseded, the “Exemptive Order”). In some circumstances, due to regulatory considerations applicable to such regulated HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts, including the Exemptive Order, such funds and accounts will not be considered eligible to participate in specific investments for allocation purposes or may be required to satisfy various conditions in order to invest alongside the Fund. As a result, certain of such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts may not be able to participate in all of the same investments as the Fund and/or may not be able to participate in follow-on investments even when such other funds and accounts have initially participated in investments alongside the Fund. In certain other circumstances, the Fund may not be able to participate at all in an investment opportunity if certain of such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts are participating. Allocations of investment opportunities to the Fund and such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts pursuing a similar investment strategy could therefore vary materially from investment to investment as a result of such regulatory considerations. In such situations, allocations of investment opportunities to the Fund can be expected to materially increase or decrease, or the terms of such investment opportunities may be modified, where such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts are participating alongside the Fund in such investments and such allocations, including where they relate to follow-on investments, could have an adverse impact on the Fund and their desired investment returns and/or disproportionately benefit such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts.

In addition, from time to time sponsors of the Fund’s potential portfolio investments could determine which HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account could participate in HarbourVest-sourced investment opportunities, and any such determination could differ from the allocation HarbourVest would have made under its Investment Allocation Policy. Although the core focus of the Fund will be in Secondary Investments in buyout, and to a lesser extent, growth equity and venture capital, special situations, and other private market investments globally, the Fund may also make investments via Secondary Transactions in credit investments and real asset investments. HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts that are part of HarbourVest’s real assets program have priority (including priority over Dover) over Secondary Investments which are determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion to have as their principal investment objective investing in power, energy, oil and gas, natural resources, real estate or infrastructure assets. Additionally, other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts that are part of HarbourVest's credit program have priority (including priority over Dover) over Secondary Investments which have as their principal investment objective investing in debt.

The Fund can invest in opportunities that other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts have declined or could decline to invest in opportunities in which other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts have invested or will invest.

The classification of an investment opportunity as appropriate or inappropriate for the Fund or any of the other HarbourVest funds will be made by HarbourVest, in good faith, at the time of purchase and will govern in this regard. This determination frequently will be subjective in nature. Consequently, HarbourVest could determine that an investment opportunity is more appropriate for another HarbourVest fund and such investment could be allocated to such other HarbourVest fund.

The classification of a potential portfolio investment as a primary investment, direct investment or a secondary investment frequently will be subjective in nature and will be made by HarbourVest in good faith based on its view of what is appropriate in the relevant circumstances at the time of investment. For example, the Fund could acquire an interest in an Underlying Portfolio Fund holding a single or very small number of assets representing a highly concentrated underlying portfolio and HarbourVest could determine to treat such investment as either a direct investment or a secondary investment depending on the specific structure and terms of the proposed transaction, the timing of the Fund's investment and other relevant considerations. As a further example, while a portfolio investment comprising a subscription for a new interest issued by an Underlying Portfolio Fund that has not made or committed to make portfolio investments will typically be treated as a primary investment, HarbourVest could in the circumstances determine that a subscription for a new interest issued by an Underlying Portfolio Fund that has made and/or committed to make material portfolio investments is more appropriately treated as a secondary investment. HarbourVest could classify the Fund's interest in a portfolio investment differently than HarbourVest classifies the interest of another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account in the same or a similar portfolio investment (for example, if two or more HarbourVest-Managed Funds each have an existing investment in an Underlying Portfolio Fund, HarbourVest could cause each such fund to make a follow-on investment in such Underlying Portfolio Fund at the same time, with such follow-on investment being classified as a primary investment with respect to one HarbourVest-Managed Fund and as a secondary investment with respect to the other HarbourVest-Managed Fund, as determined by HarbourVest in accordance with the specific investment guidelines governing each such fund). In addition to impacting the basis upon which a potential portfolio investment is allocated among HarbourVest managed funds and accounts, including the Fund, the classification of a potential portfolio investment could have economic consequences for HarbourVest. HarbourVest is typically not entitled to carried interest or Incentive Fee payments in connection with primary investments by HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts, whereas it is expected to receive carried interest or Incentive Fee payments in connection with Secondary Investments and direct investments. Such varied economic consequences will give rise to an additional conflict of interest for HarbourVest in determining the appropriate classification of a potential portfolio investment. HarbourVest could receive different amounts of compensation from the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts with similar investment objectives as the Fund. HarbourVest could have an incentive to favor those HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts from which it receives higher compensation in making its allocation decisions. HarbourVest has in place policies and procedures to address these conflicts, including policies and procedures designed to ensure allocation of investments to the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts on a fair and equitable basis.

HarbourVest employees, including their family members, and the Fund can own investments in the same securities and such jointly-held investments can lead to conflict of interests. HarbourVest seeks to mitigate these conflicts through its code of ethics and other applicable policies and procedures.

Investors are urged to carefully review the additional information regarding HarbourVest's allocation policies as they apply to the Fund set forth in "Item 1. Business—Allocation of Investment Opportunities."

Leverage available to the Fund could be limited as a result of allocations of available leverage to other HarbourVest-Managed Funds.

To access more favorable leverage terms, to warehouse an investment for another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account, to allow another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account to participate in an investment at a later date than the Fund or otherwise for operational efficiency purposes, HarbourVest could cause the Fund to join an umbrella credit facility with other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts pursuant to which the total amount of leverage available to the HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts that are party to such umbrella credit facility, including the Fund, will be limited. In addition, many banks limit their exposure to all funds under management by a single manager and accordingly the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts could be limited in the amount they can borrow from a particular bank. HarbourVest has sole discretion to determine the appropriate amount of leverage to make available to the Fund and any such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts under any such umbrella credit facility or separate credit line. As a result, HarbourVest could ultimately determine to allocate less (or no) leverage to the Fund relative to other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts. Such a determination could adversely impact the Fund or could otherwise result in such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts achieving returns that are better than the returns achieved by the Fund.

In these situations, the other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts party to any such umbrella credit facility may utilize all or a portion of the Fund's borrowing capacity thereunder, resulting in a reduction in the Fund's borrowing ability, and the other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts could benefit from lower interest rates or more favorable terms than they could obtain from their own lenders, while the Fund could incur higher costs by sharing its credit capacity. Additionally, the Fund would incur additional risk under any such line of credit, as it would be required to be jointly and severally liable with the other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts for such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds' or accounts' obligations under the line of credit. The other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts could impair the liquidity of the Fund or its ability to meet its own obligations by delaying or defaulting on the repayment of the funds borrowed by such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts under the line of credit or by using the borrowed funds as collateral for other transactions, in which event the Fund would be responsible for all such amounts (and any accrued but unpaid interest thereon or other outstanding amounts related thereto), and the lender would have the ability to exercise remedies against the Fund. Additionally, while it is expected that any other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts would also be responsible for all outstanding amounts under any such line of credit, the other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts might not bear the interest related to any funds that they borrow under the line of credit, which would increase the costs borne by the Fund. Further, there is no assurance that any other HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account will be permitted under its organizational or governing documents, or will be otherwise authorized, to be jointly and severally liable for all such amounts. In such a scenario, the borrowing base under the arrangement may be limited to the collateral pledged by the Fund. Thus, although the Fund would not benefit from increased borrowing capacity under the arrangement, the Fund would end up bearing the portion of the principal, interest expense and fees otherwise allocable to such other HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account, and, in any event, the Fund would bear all of the credit risk related to the portion of the borrowing attributed to the other HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account until the arrangement is paid down or otherwise terminated. Moreover, even if the borrowing base under the arrangement includes the collateral pledged by another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account (and the facility size is correspondingly increased), if the proportion of the collateral of the Fund that is included in the borrowing base is larger than the proportion of the collateral in another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account that is included in the borrowing base, the Fund will bear an increase in credit risk that is disproportionate to its increased borrowing capacity.

The Fund could pay more than its proportionate share of expenses.

The appropriate allocation between the Fund and other funds and accounts managed by HarbourVest of deal sourcing expenses and expenses and fees generated in the course of evaluating and making investments which are not consummated, such as out-of-pocket fees associated with due diligence, attorneys' fees and the fees of other professionals, will be determined by the General Partner generally based on expected participation in such investment. However, certain of the funds and accounts managed by HarbourVest will not bear sourcing or broken deal expenses, and in such event the Fund could bear more than its share of expenses. Expenses related to consummated investments will generally be allocated by invested capital among the Fund and other funds and accounts managed by HarbourVest. Fund-specific expenses will generally be allocated to the fund incurring such expenses, however certain other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts could indirectly benefit from products or services paid for by another fund.

HarbourVest could, in its sole discretion, make one or more short-term interest-free loans to the Fund.

To the extent permitted under the Partnership Agreement, HarbourVest could, in its sole discretion, make one or more short-term loans to the Fund in certain circumstances, including, but not limited to, prior to the Fund entering into a credit facility (or before borrowing proceeds become available under any such credit facility). Such loans could be made for various purposes, such as to fund other obligations related to, Underlying Portfolio Funds and to address any shortfall in available capital in circumstances where the Fund has capital needs prior to the date on which new subscriptions or distributions from existing investments are anticipated. Any such loans by HarbourVest will be subject to the affiliate transaction provisions of the Partnership Agreement (see “Transactions between the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts or HarbourVest and its affiliates are expected to give rise to conflicts of interest” above). Such loans are expected to be interest-free for the Fund, in the sole discretion of HarbourVest. HarbourVest has no obligation to make any such loans and, consequently, Unitholders should not have any expectation that such loans will be available to the Fund. The Fund will be obligated to repay such loans on the terms set by HarbourVest and, similar to the typical treatment of debt obtained from a third party, such loans will be repayable prior to the Fund making distributions to partners regardless of whether the borrowed capital is used in a manner that results in a loss for the Fund, such as to fund a poorly performing investment.

Allocation of expenses between the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts may result in the Fund bearing more or less of certain fees and expenses than other participants or potential participants in the same investments or strategies in which the Fund invests, which could materially adversely affect the Fund’s performance.

HarbourVest will determine, in its sole discretion, the appropriate allocation of investment and other expenses borne by the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts pursuant to the Partnership Agreement. Out-of-pocket expenses associated with a completed investment in which the Fund participates will generally be borne by the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts on a pro rata basis relative to the size of their investments. Expenses related more generally to an investment strategy, including broken deal expenses, fees and expenses of consultants and costs and expenses of research relating to a strategy, and certain fees and expenses included as organizational expenses that are generally related to a strategy, will generally be allocated to the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts on what HarbourVest determines is a fair and equitable basis. For example, HarbourVest has engaged a consultant to provide credit monitoring and restructuring advice with respect to certain credit investments held by HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts, and generally expects to allocate fees and expenses with respect thereto among such HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts (and the Fund) based on their respective participation in such credit investments. Expense allocation decisions by HarbourVest could result in the Fund bearing more or less of certain fees and expenses than other participants or potential participants in the same investments or strategies in which the Fund invests. The General Partner will make judgments with respect to allocation of expenses in its good faith discretion, notwithstanding its interest in the outcome, and can make corrective allocations after the fact should it determine that such corrections are necessary or advisable (any amounts payable to the Fund in respect of any overpayment of expenses by the Fund will not bear interest). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the portion of an expense allocated to the Fund for a particular item or service will not necessarily reflect the relative benefit derived by the Fund from that item or service in any particular instance and certain HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts could indirectly benefit from products or services paid for by the Fund and vice versa. For example, the cost of the Fund's review of a prospective investment, structuring a vehicle in a novel jurisdiction, or other organizational costs will generally be borne by the Fund, which could result in cost efficiencies for other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts when such other funds or accounts subsequently evaluate similar or related investments. Additionally, for example, certain organizational expenses borne by the Fund (including expenses related to the generation and dissemination of information relating to the Fund's investment strategy), could result in benefits to HarbourVest to the extent the relevant activities assist HarbourVest in raising capital for other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts.

The Fund may engage in warehousing activities that could expose the Fund to additional risks and expenses.

In certain circumstances, subject to applicable law, the Fund could initially acquire or agree to acquire an investment with the expectation of selling or reallocating a portion of such investment to other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts or third-party co-investors. In such circumstance, the Fund can (but is not required to) charge interest for the time period the investment was held by the Fund or any other related expenses to such other HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account or third-party co-investor, as applicable. Furthermore, after entering into an agreement to acquire an investment, but prior to closing such transaction, HarbourVest could reallocate such investment either by allocating an additional amount to the Fund with respect to such investment, or allocating amounts to other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts or third-party co-investors. Any such reallocation prior to the closing of the purchase of the underlying investment will not constitute a purchase or sale of a security by the Fund from or to another HarbourVest-Managed Fund or account for purposes of the Partnership Agreement.

There can be no assurance that, if the Fund has initially acquired or agreed to acquire an investment with the expectation of selling or reallocating a portion of such investment to other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts or third-party co-investors, the Fund will be successful in subsequently selling or reallocating such portion of such investment and the Fund could consequently hold a greater concentration and have more exposure to such investment (and its related expenses) than was initially intended, which could reduce the Fund's overall investment returns. In such a case, HarbourVest could also be deemed to have control with respect to such investment, and therefore could be exposed to additional risks as set forth above in "Risks of control positions; managerial assistance." Furthermore, if such investment is not consummated, the Fund could bear all of the related broken-deal expenses, including expenses related to the portion of the proposed investment it had expected to sell.

Similarly, in certain circumstances, subject to applicable laws and applicable partnership agreements, the Fund could acquire an investment from other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts or third-party co-investors that have warehoused such investment for the Fund. In such circumstances, the Fund could be required to pay interest (and related expenses) to such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts or third-party co-investors.

The Fund could make strategic primary partnership investments that do not result in investment opportunities for the Fund and/or that do not perform as well as primary partnership investments made by other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts.

The Fund could make strategic primary partnership investments or other investments as determined by HarbourVest that have the potential for generating future investment opportunities for the Fund and/or other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts, and HarbourVest expects to primarily consider the potential for such future investment opportunities in its evaluation of, and decision to cause the Fund to make, such strategic primaries or other investments. Such investments could, for example, adversely impact the Fund's ability to participate in other investments that would have been more advantageous to the Fund and could not perform as well as primary partnership investments made by other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts. Strategic primary partnership investments will be selected primarily because such investments are expected to increase the likelihood of generating investment opportunities. Future investment opportunities attributable to such strategic primary and other investments will be allocated among the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts in accordance with HarbourVest's allocation policies and procedures, and the Fund will not have any investment priority over any other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts with respect to any such opportunities. Furthermore, the Fund could choose not to participate in such investment opportunities, if and when they arise, and, to the extent such opportunities would cause the Fund to be in breach of its investment restrictions or would require an investment in excess of the Fund's available capital, such opportunities could be allocated in full to other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts. As such, the Fund ultimately might not participate in such future investment opportunities if and when they arise.

The Fund could pay finder's fees in connection with deal sourcing.

Any finder's, placement, brokerage and other similar fees (or an allocable portion thereof) incurred in connection with sourcing portfolio investments will be payable by the Fund. One possible source of portfolio investments is limited or prospective partners of the Fund or other funds or accounts managed by HarbourVest and such persons could, to the extent permitted by law, be paid finders or other similar fees.

Possession of material non-public information could restrict the Fund's investment activities.

In connection with the management of the Fund or other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts, HarbourVest could come into possession of material, non-public information in respect of certain portfolio companies of its Underlying Portfolio Funds or could otherwise become an "insider" with respect to such companies. HarbourVest has not established information barriers between its internal investment teams. Trading by HarbourVest on the basis of such information, or improperly disclosing such information, or trading while HarbourVest has such "insider" status can be restricted pursuant to applicable law and/or internal policies and procedures adopted by HarbourVest to promote compliance with applicable law. Accordingly, the possession of such "inside information" or "insider" status with respect to such portfolio companies will likely significantly constrain the Fund's investment activities with respect to such portfolio companies. In particular, due to possession by HarbourVest of such information or status in respect of companies in respect of which the Fund holds publicly traded securities or (to the extent permitted) is targeting investment in such securities, the Fund is not likely to be able to initiate a purchase or sale transaction involving such securities other than in very limited circumstances, which could adversely impact the Fund. The Fund could also be subject to contractual "stand-still" obligations, "non-circumvent" obligations and/or confidentiality obligations that restrict its ability to trade in such securities. In certain circumstances, HarbourVest could engage an independent agent to dispose of securities of issuers in which HarbourVest is deemed to have material non-public information on behalf of the Fund. Such independent agent could dispose of the relevant securities for a price that could be lower than the Fund's valuation of such securities.

HarbourVest could outsource services it has historically performed in-house.

Services that HarbourVest has historically performed in-house for other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts could be outsourced in whole or in part to third parties in the sole discretion of HarbourVest or the General Partner in connection with the operation of the Fund. Such outsourced services could include, without limitation, accounting, tax, compliance, investment and operational due diligence, trade settlement, information technology or legal services. Outsourcing could not occur uniformly for all HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts and, accordingly, certain costs could be incurred by the Fund through the use of third-party service providers that are not incurred for comparable services used by other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts. The decision by HarbourVest to initially perform particular services in-house for the Fund will not preclude a later decision to outsource such services, or any additional services, in whole or in part to third parties. The General Partner is permitted to treat the costs, fees or expenses of any such third-party service providers as Fund expenses borne by the Fund or, in certain circumstances where the General Partner deems it appropriate (e.g., in connection with the transfer of any Units in the Fund), as costs, fees and expenses borne in whole or in part by one or more Unitholders.

HarbourVest expects to charge for certain services performed by in-house personnel.

It is expected that the Fund will be charged amounts for Insourced Services in connection with the provision of certain administrative services by in-house personnel. “Insourced Services” are expected to include amounts charged to the Fund for administrative services provided by employees of HarbourVest Partners L.P. or its affiliates in connection with the Fund’s operations, including, but not limited to, services related to maintaining capital accounts and other books and records, preparing and issuing financial statements, reports and statements, annual audits, compliance with tax matters, conducting anti-money laundering, sanctions and anti-corruption related due diligence, monitoring and administration with respect to investors in connection with their investment in the Fund and the Fund’s investments, preparation and delivery of capital call and distribution notices, other periodic and episodic investor communications and notices, portfolio reporting and similar investor services and treasury services. For the avoidance of doubt, Insourced Services will not include any Fund expenses charged to the Fund as described in clause (xiv) of the definition of Fund Expenses.

In addition, it is expected that the Fund will be charged its allocable share of Employee Expenses for HarbourVest employees providing certain legal, compliance and tax services in connection with the Fund’s portfolio investments and certain IT support services. HarbourVest will not be required to obtain pricing information from unaffiliated third-party service providers and accordingly compensation of such employees charged to the Fund could be in excess of the cost of comparable services provided in an arm’s-length transaction.

HarbourVest could receive certain fees from Underlying Portfolio Funds or proposed Underlying Portfolio Funds (or their underlying portfolio companies).

HarbourVest could, from time to time, receive cash and non-cash transaction fees, consulting fees, directors’ fees, break-up fees, advisory fees, monitoring fees or other similar fees in connection with the purchase, monitoring or disposition of investments or in connection with unconsummated transactions. Non-cash compensation could include securities, warrants, options, derivatives and other rights in respect of securities owned by the Fund. The potential to receive such fees could create an incentive for HarbourVest to engage in transactions when it might not otherwise be in the best interest of the Fund to do so. Management Fees otherwise payable to HarbourVest will be reduced by the Fund’s pro rata share (based on capital invested or proposed to be invested by the Fund and any other investment entities managed by HarbourVest) of the amount of such fees (net of applicable taxes to the extent such fees are paid to any such persons other than HarbourVest), excluding any fees received directly or indirectly from an Underlying Portfolio Fund, proposed Underlying Portfolio Fund (or its underlying portfolio company) or any other person in respect of any investor or potential investor in such Underlying Portfolio Fund or proposed Underlying Portfolio Fund (or its underlying portfolio company) other than the Fund and any other investment entities managed by HarbourVest. Unitholders will not receive the benefit of an offset of the portion of fees received by HarbourVest apportioned to any other entity investing alongside the Fund (including, without limitation, any other investment entities managed by HarbourVest) in the relevant Underlying Portfolio Fund or portfolio company, and fee income received by HarbourVest in respect of such entities will be retained by HarbourVest to the extent permitted in accordance with the relevant organizational agreements of the applicable co-investing entities. In addition, for the avoidance of doubt, the management fee received by HarbourVest will not be reduced by any amounts received directly or indirectly from an Underlying Portfolio Fund, proposed Underlying Portfolio Fund (or its underlying portfolio company) or any other person to the extent such amounts constitute Fund expenses, including, but not limited to fees related to Insourced Services.

Potential conflicts may exist with respect to service providers.

Other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts may hold equity or debt investments in certain advisors and other service providers (including, without limitation, accountants, administrators, valuation agents, lenders, bankers, brokers, attorneys, consultants, placement agents and certain other advisors and agents) to the Fund or HarbourVest (or affiliates of such advisors and service providers). Alternatively, the Fund may invest in advisors or service providers providing such services to other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts, or such advisors or service providers could otherwise have other business, personal, financial or other relationships with HarbourVest, its affiliates, other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts or their respective portfolio companies. Such advisors and service providers could also be investors in the Fund, other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts or their respective portfolio companies, affiliates of the General Partner or HarbourVest, sources of investment opportunities or co-investors or counterparties therewith. Additionally, certain HarbourVest employees could have family members or relatives employed by advisors and service providers. These service providers and their affiliates could contract or enter into any custodial, financial, banking, administration, valuation, advising or brokerage, placement agency or other arrangement or transaction with the Fund, the General Partner, HarbourVest, any investor in the Fund or any portfolio company in which the Fund has made an investment, including through an Underlying Portfolio Fund. These relationships could influence the General Partner or HarbourVest in deciding whether to select or recommend such a service provider to perform services for the Fund or a portfolio company. If the Fund or other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts invest in a company which provides services to the Fund, other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts or any of their respective portfolio companies, (i) the cost of such services will generally be borne directly or indirectly by the Fund or such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts, as applicable, and (ii) any fees paid to such service providers in connection therewith (for the avoidance of doubt, which will not include fees paid to a placement agent in connection with the placement of the Units) will not offset management fees borne by the Fund. To the extent the Fund directly or indirectly makes a portfolio investment in any such company, it is possible that actions taken by the Fund (or its Underlying Portfolio Fund) in a distressed situation as a debt holder could adversely impact such company and the HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts or their portfolio companies that such company provides services to (and vice versa, where other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts hold equity or debt investments in such companies that provide services to the Fund or their portfolio companies). These relationships could also preclude HarbourVest from taking actions it would otherwise have taken on behalf of the Fund to the extent HarbourVest determines such action would be detrimental to one or more of the other HarbourVest funds and accounts it manages or their portfolio companies.

Advisors and service providers could charge different rates or have different arrangements.

Advisors and service providers often charge different rates or have different arrangements for specific types of services. For example, the fee for a particular type of service can vary based on the complexity of the matter as well as the expertise required and demands placed on the service provider. Therefore, to the extent the types of services used by the Fund are different from those used by HarbourVest, other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts, their portfolio funds, portfolio companies or their respective affiliates, any of the foregoing could pay different amounts or rates than those paid by the Fund with respect to any particular advisor or service provider. Even if the type of service used by the Fund is the same as those services used by HarbourVest, other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts, their portfolio funds, portfolio companies or their respective affiliates, the Fund and such other parties could enter into different arrangements or pay different amounts or rates with the same advisors or service providers for the same services.

Each Parallel Fund could bear certain organizational expenses of the other Parallel Funds.

Organizational Expenses of the Fund (including organizational expenses of any related feeder funds and the respective general partners or managers) may be aggregated and allocated between the Parallel Funds and the subscriptions of the partners of the Parallel Funds (unless the General Partner determines in good faith that a different share is appropriate). Accordingly, each Parallel Fund could bear certain organizational expenses of one or more other Parallel Funds.

Incentive Fees and Management Fees have the potential to give rise to conflicts of interest.

The Manager's (or its affiliates') entitlement to receive Incentive Fees will create an incentive for the General Partner to make investments expected to generate greater cash yield than would be the case in the absence of this arrangement. In addition, the Management Fees payable to an affiliate of the General Partner will be calculated on the basis of applicable Net Asset Value, which could create an incentive for the General Partner and the Manager to make investments on behalf of the Fund that are not as focused on generating yield as would be the case in the absence of this arrangement.

In addition, the manner in which the General Partner's (or its affiliates') entitlement to Incentive Fees and the Manager's entitlement to Management Fees is determined could result in a conflict between their interests and the interests of the Unitholders with respect to the sequence and timing of disposals of investments. For example, the ultimate recipients of the Management Fee and the Incentive Fee are generally subject to U.S. federal and local income tax (unlike certain of the Unitholders). The General Partner will be incentivized to operate the Fund, including to hold and/or sell investments, in a manner that takes into account the tax treatment of its (or its affiliates') Incentive Fees.

Stapled Secondary Transactions could give rise to conflicts.

The Fund could subscribe for a new interest issued by an Underlying Portfolio Fund by the sponsor of such Underlying Portfolio Fund in connection with one or more Secondary Transactions, including but not limited to, in order to obtain the consent of such sponsor to proceed with a secondary investment in a related Underlying Portfolio Fund managed by such sponsor or could subscribe for such interests alongside a seller of Secondary Partnership investments or its affiliates, including through a co-investment or aggregating vehicle administered or otherwise operated by such seller or by HarbourVest in order to purchase such Secondary Partnership interests (any such subscription alongside a Secondary Investment, a "Stapled Secondary"). While subscribing for such a new interest in a fund that has not made and/or committed to make material portfolio investments at the time of subscription would typically be considered a "Primary Partnership" investment for purposes of the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner will deem any such investment made in connection with a Stapled Secondary to be a "Secondary Partnership" investment under the Partnership Agreement for purposes of complying with the Fund's investment guidelines. Accordingly, conflicts of interest could arise in connection with a determination by the General Partner on behalf of the Fund to invest in a Stapled Secondary (see also "Allocation and classification of investment opportunities and related conflicts of interest" above).

Incentive Fee payments and valuation can create conflicts of interest.

The entitlement to Incentive Fee payments with respect to the Fund can create incentives for the General Partner to make Fund investments that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case in the absence of the Incentive Fee although this incentive could be tempered in that losses will reduce the Fund's performance and thus the Incentive Fee payment. Similar concerns apply with respect to Underlying Portfolio Funds and carried interest or other profit participation payable to their sponsors. Also, the Incentive Fee is based on realized and unrealized appreciation of the Fund and the Manager could receive Incentive Fee payments with respect to unrealized as well as realized appreciation, which could create incentives for the General Partner to value investments more highly than their ultimate realization price.

As described under "Item 1A. Risk Factors—Valuations of portfolio companies are estimates of fair value and may not necessarily correspond to reasonable value and valuations of investments used by the General Partner—and, accordingly, Net Asset Value per Unit calculations used for subscriptions and redemptions—likely will not reflect the prices at which such investments are ultimately sold." above, the value of the Fund's investments will be determined by the General Partner in accordance with HarbourVest's valuation policies. Accordingly, the carrying value of an investment may not reflect the price at which the investment could be sold in the market, and similarly, the Net Asset Value may not reflect the net price received (net of Incentive Fee payments) at which all investments could be sold in the market. In each case, the difference between carrying value or Net Asset Value, as applicable, and the ultimate sales price or net sales prices, respectively, may be material. The valuation of investments may also affect the ability of HarbourVest to raise other HarbourVest funds and accounts because prospective investors are likely to consider performance of the Fund in making any investment decisions with respect to a fund or account. As a result, there may be circumstances where the General Partner is incentivized to determine valuations that are higher than the actual fair value of investments.

Only certain expenses are included in calculating the Incentive Fee which can create incentives for the General Partner to characterize expenses in a manner that increases the Incentive Fee. For example, indebtedness can be utilized for purposes related to an investment (in which case, expenses related to such indebtedness would reduce the Incentive Fee) or for general fund cash management purposes (in which case, expenses related to such indebtedness would not reduce the Incentive Fee), and the same facility can be utilized for both purposes at times. The General Partner will characterize all expenses in its good faith discretion. For example, interest expense with respect to indebtedness is typically only treated as related to an investment if the indebtedness was specifically contemplated as part of the investment and was intended to be repaid with proceeds from the investment (rather than from a subscription).

HarbourVest professionals can engage in other activities unrelated to the Fund which may materially adversely affect the performance of the Fund.

The managing directors and other employees of HarbourVest will devote that portion of their business time to the affairs of the Fund necessary for the proper performance of their duties. Other investment activities of HarbourVest are likely to require those individuals to devote substantial amounts of their time to matters unrelated to the business of the Fund.

The Fund can enter into other agreements with Unitholders that can contain more favorable terms.

The Fund is permitted to enter into other written agreements (“Other Agreements”) with one or more Unitholders. These Other Agreements can entitle a Unitholder to make an investment in the Fund on terms other than those described herein or in the Partnership Agreement. Any such terms, including with respect to (i) reporting obligations of, or the provision of further information in relation to, the Fund, (ii) transfer of Units in the Fund, (iii) jurisdiction or venue, (iv) consent rights to certain amendments of the Partnership Agreement, (v) ability to disclose certain confidential information, (vi) limitations on the exercise of the General Partner’s discretions under the Partnership Agreement, (vii) limitations on powers to execute documents for the Unitholders under the powers of attorney contained in the Partnership Agreement, (viii) confirmations of the way in which the General Partner will carry out certain of its duties, (ix) additional warranties relating to the Fund or its operation, (x) confirmation that the General Partner will use commercially reasonable efforts to facilitate the sale of securities distributed in kind to the Unitholder, (xi) confidentiality obligations in relation to information about a Unitholder, (xii) access to information and audit rights, (xiii) confirmation that the General Partner will use commercially reasonable efforts to encourage portfolio entities to follow relevant ethical or governance guidelines, (xiv) grants of most favored nation provisions, (xv) special economic arrangements including reduced Management Fee and Incentive Fee percentages or adjustment of redemption terms, (xvi) rights to co-invest with the Fund, (xvii) classification of a Unitholder or recognition of a Unitholder’s internal policies or applicable laws or regulations, (xviii) deferring, reducing or eliminating the obligation to make payments under circumstances where the Unitholder is required by its internal policies or applicable laws or regulations or (xix) any other matters described therein, can be more favorable than those offered to any other Unitholders. The other Unitholders will have no recourse against the Fund or any of its affiliates in the event that certain Unitholders receive additional or different rights or terms as a result of such Other Agreements. Other Agreements could be available to a Unitholder only after such Unitholder has become a limited partner of the Fund and will not be disclosed to Unitholders unless specifically requested.

Unitholders could have relationships with HarbourVest and its affiliates outside of the Fund.

Unitholders could make investments, or hold existing investments, in other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts and HarbourVest and its affiliates could provide services, including advisory and management services, to Unitholders other than in their respective capacities (and/or in addition to their respective capacities) as Unitholders of the Fund. These investments or arrangements could take into account the scope of the broader relationship of such Unitholders (or of their affiliates or other related or associated persons) with HarbourVest, including the Unitholders' (or such affiliates' or other related persons') investment in the Fund. Without limiting the foregoing, these arrangements could include strategic partnerships and multi-fund commitment arrangements. For example, a Unitholder and/or its affiliates or related persons could make a commitment or could be expected to make a commitment to invest in the Fund and/or other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts, which commitments could be required or expected to (i) reach or exceed specified amounts or targets, (ii) be made over a specified period of time or (iii) satisfy other specified conditions or targets. In consideration of these arrangements, HarbourVest could provide more favorable economic, governance, or other terms to such Unitholders and/or their affiliates with respect to any or all of their respective investments in HarbourVest funds and accounts, including with respect to the Fund. These arrangements do not constitute Other Agreements and will not be disclosed to other Unitholders or otherwise be made available to other Unitholders under most favored nation provisions granted with respect to the Fund.

The Unitholders can have conflicting investment, tax, and other interests with respect to their investments in the Fund.

The Unitholders can have conflicting investment, tax, and other interests with respect to their investments in the Fund. The conflicting interests of individual Unitholders can relate to or arise from, among other things, the nature of investments made by the Fund, the structuring or the acquisition of investments and the timing of disposition of investments. It is also possible that the Fund or the portfolio companies of the Underlying Portfolio Funds will be counterparties to or participants in agreements, transactions or other arrangements with a Unitholder or an affiliate of such Unitholder. As a consequence, conflicts of interest could arise in connection with the decisions made by the General Partner, including with respect to the nature or structuring of investments that could be more beneficial for one investor than for another investor, especially with respect to investors' individual tax situations. In addition, the Fund could make investments that could positively or negatively impact other investments made by a Unitholder or an affiliate of such Unitholder. Likewise, other investments by Unitholders and their affiliates could positively or negatively impact investments by the Fund. In selecting and structuring investments appropriate for the Fund, the General Partner will consider the investment and tax objectives of the Fund and its partners as a whole, not the investment, tax or other objectives of any Unitholder individually.

The investors to whom intermediaries provide certain services might be subject to different terms and entail the payment of Servicing Fees by certain Classes.

The Fund may enter into platform or distribution agreements or similar arrangements with placement agents and other financial intermediaries, which may involve such placement agents or other financial intermediaries providing certain administrative, reporting and other services to certain underlying investors and/or Unitholders in one or more Classes, including without limitation, by facilitating access to the Fund to such underlying investors and/or Unitholders, for instance via certain intermediary structures or platforms and/or by serving as nominee Unitholders or similar on behalf of underlying investors on an aggregate basis. Depending on the operational structure of such access facilities and/or on the terms of each specific placement or distribution agreement or similar arrangement, the Fund, or as applicable a Class, may be required to pay Servicing Fees to such placement agents or other financial intermediaries in relation to the foregoing services and/or to apply certain calculations, such as an Early Redemption Fee, redemption gates and holding period to such nominee Unitholder rather than to the underlying investors on an individual basis. As a result, certain Classes may incur Servicing Fees and, underlying investors of nominee Unitholders may in practice have different liquidity and other terms in respect of their indirect interest in the Fund through the nominee Unitholder than those applied by the Fund in respect of direct Unitholders.

There are risks associated with co-investments and strategic co-investors, including that certain Unitholders may not be permitted to participate in certain co-investment opportunities and that the General Partner could use its discretion to allocate co-investments among interested parties to the detriment of the Fund.

HarbourVest could agree to offer certain Unitholders, clients or other third parties opportunities to co-invest alongside the Fund. The General Partner will allocate any such opportunities among interested parties in its sole discretion, including, for example, on the basis of the size of investor subscriptions to the Fund and to other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts, as well as a broad range of other considerations, including commercial considerations for the applicable investment, a Unitholder's stated desire to participate in co-investments, the General Partner's determination of the appropriateness of offering a co-investment opportunity, an investor's ability to execute such offer and the approval of transaction counterparties. There can be no assurances with respect to the amount of any co-investment opportunity (if any) that will be made available to any Unitholder in connection with the Fund, and nothing in this Registration Statement constitutes a guarantee, prediction or projection of the availability of future co-investment opportunities. Investing in the Fund does not entitle any Unitholder to allocations of co-investment opportunities and such opportunities can, and typically will, be offered to some and not other Unitholders or to other HarbourVest clients, or third parties who are not investors in the Fund. In addition, an investor could be offered fewer co-investment opportunities than investors with the same, greater or smaller subscriptions to the Fund. Unitholders are not required to participate in co-investments offered by the General Partner. The performance of co-investments is not aggregated with that of the Fund, including for purposes of determining the General Partner's carried interest or management fees under the Partnership Agreement. The General Partner can, in its sole discretion, charge management fees, one-time funding fees, monitoring fees, administrative fees and/or carried interest in respect of co-investments, subject to the terms of any applicable agreements with investors. The allocation of any co-investment opportunities can directly or indirectly benefit the General Partner or its affiliates as a result of, among other things, the receipt of any such fees or Incentive Fees, subscriptions to the Fund and to other funds or accounts managed by HarbourVest. Co-investors in one or more specific investments will not in each case be required to share in broken-deal expenses that are paid by the Fund, either with respect to a co-investment opportunity that is not consummated or with respect to other potential investments that are offered to the Fund, and in such event the Fund will bear all such expenses. In certain circumstances, co-investors can acquire an interest in an investment after the Fund has made such investment.

Without limiting the above, HarbourVest may enter into partnership or other arrangements with potential co-investors to pursue certain secondary investment opportunities where HarbourVest has determined that such joint pursuit of such investments could provide "strategic" benefits to the Fund and other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts participating in such investments, for example by increasing the likelihood of the Fund and such other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts securing the investment opportunity or securing a greater allocation of the investment opportunity by virtue of the existing relationships, profile and/or geographic, sector or other specific expertise of the relevant co-investor. Such relationships, profile and/or expertise could also be beneficial to HarbourVest's ability to assess and/or execute such investment opportunities. These strategic co-investors could include Unitholders and/or investors in other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts giving rise to the potential direct and indirect benefits described above. There is no guarantee that such co-investment arrangements will achieve their objective or will not otherwise have an adverse impact on the Fund and/or other HarbourVest-Managed Funds and accounts. For example, where HarbourVest views the participation of a strategic investor as potentially beneficial to securing an investment opportunity, there is no guarantee that this will be the case (or that such participation will not in fact adversely affect its ability to do so). In addition, these arrangements could include minimum allocation rights on the part of the strategic co-investor that apply regardless of how much of the relevant investment opportunity HarbourVest would otherwise view as available for third party co-investment pursuant to its internal allocation policies. If HarbourVest does not succeed in achieving its target allocation of any given opportunity notwithstanding the participation of the strategic co-investor, any minimum allocation rights agreed with the strategic co-investor (or the need to allocate any amount of the opportunity to the strategic co-investor) could result in the Fund being allocated an amount of the opportunity that is materially less than the amount HarbourVest views as in its best interests. Depending on the performance of the relevant investment, such reduced allocation could have an adverse impact on the performance of the Fund.

HarbourVest may pursue other business activities and provide services to similar businesses to the Fund, which may compete with the Fund for investment opportunities and result in the allocation of investment opportunities to others to the detriment of the Fund's business.

HarbourVest or the HarbourVest-managed accounts will likely hold investments in entities or vehicles that are engaged in or pursue similar businesses to those of the Fund. HarbourVest continues to seek to develop or maintain relationships and enter into transactions with numerous domestic and international entities, both operating companies and financial firms. The Fund could invest, or may wish to invest, in entities or investments with which HarbourVest has a relationship and HarbourVest, on the one hand, and the Fund, on the other hand, could simultaneously pursue separate transactions with the same entity. As a result, any of the foregoing entities may compete with the Fund for investment opportunities.

HarbourVest will be able to pursue other business activities and provide services to third parties that compete directly or indirectly with the Fund, including third parties that sponsor or manage or advise a private equity fund, hedge fund or fund of funds that makes investments that are similar to the types of investments that the Fund intends to make. In addition, HarbourVest has established, sponsors or advises, and will continue to establish, sponsor or advise, other investment entities that rely on the diligence, skill and business contacts of HarbourVest's investment professionals and the information and deal flow they generate during the normal course of their activities. The requirements of these entities will be substantial and may cause HarbourVest to divert some or a material amount of the resources and professionals that would otherwise be made available to a client. Some of these entities will also have investment objectives that overlap with or are substantially similar or identical to the Fund's investment objectives and HarbourVest may have greater financial or other incentives to assist those other entities over the Fund. To the extent that HarbourVest engages in activities for itself or others, those activities can be detrimental to the Fund's business and adverse to the interests of the Unitholders and could, in some cases, lead to the allocation of investment opportunities to others.

Nothing herein precludes, restricts or in any way limits the activities of HarbourVest, including its ability to buy or sell interests in, or provide financing to, underlying funds or portfolio companies, for its own account or for the account of other investment funds or Unitholders in the Fund.

Potential conflicts may exist with respect to investments alongside a regulated fund.

HarbourVest has received an Exemptive Order that permits certain existing and future HarbourVest funds or accounts that are closed-end management investment companies that are registered under the Investment Company Act or that have elected to be regulated as a business development company (i.e., Regulated Funds), among other things, to co-invest with certain other persons, including certain affiliates of HarbourVest, and certain funds managed and controlled by HarbourVest and its affiliates (including the Fund), subject to certain terms and conditions. For so long as any privately negotiated investment opportunity falls within certain established investment criteria of one or more Regulated Funds, such investment opportunity will also be offered to such Regulated Funds. In the event that one or more Regulated Funds will participate in an investment opportunity that is consistent with the investment strategy of the Fund, and if the aggregate targeted investment sizes of the Fund and such Regulated Funds that were allocated the investment opportunity exceed the amount of such investment opportunity, allocation of such investment opportunity to the Fund and such Regulated Funds will be made pro rata on the basis of the size of the Internal Orders (as defined in an exemptive order from the SEC (as may be amended or superseded, the "Exemptive Order")), which could result in allocation to the Fund in an amount less than what they would otherwise have been if such Regulated Funds did not participate in such investment opportunity. The Exemptive Order also restricts the ability of HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts (including the Fund) from investing in any privately negotiated investment opportunity alongside a Regulated Fund except at the same time, for the same price and on same terms, conditions, class, registration rights and any other rights, as described in the Exemptive Order. As a result, the Fund could be unable to make investments in different parts of the capital structure of the same issuer in which a Regulated Fund has invested or seeks to invest, and Regulated Funds could be unable to make investments in different parts of the capital structure of the same issuer in which the Fund or other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts have invested or seek to invest. In addition, if the Fund invests alongside a Regulated Fund, it will be subject to legal, tax, financing, regulatory, accounting, contractual and other similar considerations related to the Regulated Fund, including Investment Company Act considerations (including the Exemptive Order). The Fund may be unable to participate in or effect certain transactions, or take certain actions in respect of certain investments, on account of applicable restrictions under the Investment Company Act, related guidance from the SEC and/or the Exemptive Order. For example, the Fund could be restricted from participating in certain transactions or taking certain actions in respect of portfolio companies in which certain funds managed and controlled by HarbourVest and its affiliates and/or Regulated Fund has also invested, which may include but is not limited to declining to vote, participating in a potential co-investment opportunity (as such participation may not comply with the conditions of the Exemptive Order), exercising rights with respect to any such investment, and/or declining to participate in follow-on investments. The Fund may also be required to sell an investment to avoid potential violations of the Investment Company Act and/or related rules thereunder or for other reasons. Any such determination will be made by HarbourVest in its discretion and there can be no assurance that any such determination will be resolved in favor of the Fund's interests. In such cases, the Fund's interests in an investment could be adversely affected, including by resulting in the dilution of or decrease in the value of the Fund's investment, or otherwise by resulting in the Fund being put in a disadvantageous position with respect to the investment as compared to other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts and the Regulated Funds. Whether the Fund participates or declines to participate in any such action or transaction will be made by HarbourVest taking into account HarbourVest's fiduciary duties and applicable law, including the Investment Company Act, the rules thereunder and/or the Exemptive Order. There is no assurance that any such determination will be resolved in favor of the Fund's interests. The rules promulgated by the SEC under the Investment Company Act, as well as any related guidance from the SEC and/or the terms of the Exemptive Order itself, are subject to change, and HarbourVest could undertake to amend the Exemptive Order (subject to SEC approval), obtain additional exemptive relief, or otherwise be subject to other requirements in respect of co-investments involving the Fund and any Regulated Funds, any of which may include restrictions and limitations that are not currently foreseen and extend beyond those described herein, impact the amount of any allocation made available to Regulated Funds and thereby affect (and potentially decrease) the allocation made to the Fund.

HarbourVest has filed an application to amend the Exemptive Order (the "Amended Order") which, among other things, prescribes less restrictive conditions than the Exemptive Order and permits the Fund greater flexibility to negotiate the terms of co-investments. The Amended Order, if granted, would: (i) grant HarbourVest increased freedom in the allocation of investment opportunities across HarbourVest-affiliated entities, including allowing previously ineligible affiliated entities and accounts to participate in transactions alongside a Regulated Fund; (ii) allow a Regulated Fund to more readily invest in issuers in which other HarbourVest-affiliated entities have an existing position; and (iii) allow a significantly greater number of transactions to be effected without the approval of the independent board members of the Regulated Fund, if these transactions are effected in accordance with applicable policies and procedures approved by the relevant board of trustees. There is no assurance that the Amended Order will be granted by the SEC.

Due to the potential requirements applicable to Regulated Funds under an Exemptive Order, in the event that a Regulated Fund participates in an investment alongside the Fund, the structuring options available for such investment are expected to be more limited than if a Regulated Fund were not participating in such investment, and such structuring could result in increased costs to the Fund that would not otherwise have resulted had a Regulated Fund not participated. The Fund could therefore incur materially higher expenses on an ongoing basis than would otherwise be the case, particularly with respect to Regulated Funds that share investment objectives with the Fund and invest alongside the Fund. In addition, HarbourVest and its affiliates, including the Fund, are expected to structure investments in which a Regulated Fund participates differently than if a Regulated Fund were not participating, or make or refrain from making certain investments in consideration of the participation by a Regulated Fund, which can in each case give rise to conflicts of interest between the Regulated Fund, the Fund and other participating HarbourVest-Managed Funds or accounts.

ITEM 2. FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Overview

HSEC was organized on September 29, 2025 as a Delaware limited partnership and commenced its operations on March 2, 2026. Since commencing operations, HSEC has engaged only in de minimis activities associated with its organization and offering. Effective March 2, 2026, the Manager made an initial capital contribution of $100,000 in cash in exchange for 10,000 Class I Units at a price of $10.00 per Unit, representing less than 1% of the Aggregating Partnership’s total capital as of March 31, 2026. The Registrant is a private fund exempt from registration under Section 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act. The Fund is considered an investment company under U.S. GAAP and follows the accounting and reporting guidance applicable to investment companies in the Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification Topic 946.

Revenues

The Fund plans to generate revenues primarily from its investment in the Aggregating Partnership. The Aggregating Partnership will primarily generate income through direct or indirect exposure to the equity and debt of primarily private businesses, across geographies, sectors and stages through Secondary Investments and complemented by certain Primary Partnership Investments in the private equity space, with the potential to generate medium to long-term outperformance compared to public markets while striving to limit volatility and downside risk.

Expenses

Management Fee

For a discussion of the compensation of the Manager, see “Item 1. Business—Compensation of the Manager” above.

Incentive Fee

For a discussion of the Incentive Fee, see “Item 1. Business—Compensation of the Manager” above.

Subscription Fees

For a discussion of the Subscription Fees, see “Item 1. Business—Compensation of the Manager” above.

Ongoing Servicing Fees

For a discussion of the Ongoing Servicing Fees, see “Item 1. Business—Compensation of the Manager” above.

Fund Expenses and Initial Fund Expenses Support

See “Item 1. Business—Expenses.”

Hedging

The Fund may, but is not obligated to, engage in hedging transactions for the purpose of efficient portfolio management, which may include hedging its foreign currency exchange risk. See “Item 1A. Risk Factors - The Fund may employ hedging techniques which may not always be effective and could negatively affect the Fund.”

Financial Condition, Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Fund expects to generate cash primarily from the net proceeds of its Private Offering, proceeds from net borrowings on its credit facilities and cash flows from operations.

As of March 31, 2026, the Fund had no cash and no outstanding indebtedness. The primary use of the Fund's cash is to purchase investments, funding the cost of its operations and funding redemptions, and funding cash distributions, if any, to the holders of the Units.

Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

The Fund will be subject to financial market risks, including changes in interest rates. The Fund intends to generate revenues primarily from its investments in equity and debt instruments as well as indirectly through investments in the Aggregating Partnership. Most of the Fund's investments will not have a readily available market price, and the Fund will value these investments at fair value as determined in good faith pursuant to procedures adopted by, and under the oversight of, the Board in accordance with the Fund's valuation policy. There is no single standard for determining fair value in good faith. As a result, determining fair value requires that judgment be applied to the specific facts and circumstances of each portfolio investment while employing a consistently applied valuation process for the types of investments the Fund makes. See "Item 9. Market Price of and Dividends on the Registrant's Common Equity and Related Limited Partner Matters-Calculation of Net Asset Value."

Related Parties

See "Item 7. Certain Relationships and Related Transactions, and Director Independence" for a description of certain transactions and relationships with related parties.

ITEM 3. PROPERTIES

The Fund's corporate headquarters are located at One Lincoln Street, Suite 1700, Boston, MA 02111, and are provided by the General Partner and Manager. The Fund believes that its office facilities are suitable and adequate for its business as it is contemplated to be conducted.

ITEM 4. SECURITY OWNERSHIP OF CERTAIN BENEFICIAL OWNERS AND MANAGEMENT

The following table sets out certain ownership information with respect to the Registrant’s Units for each of its directors and executive officers and all directors and officers as a group. None of the Classes of Units have voting power.

ITEM 5. DIRECTORS AND EXECUTIVE OFFICERS

Overall responsibility for the Fund’s oversight rests with the General Partner, subject to certain oversight rights to be held by the Board. The General Partner will appoint members to the Board, including Independent Directors. The Board holds certain oversight rights, including with respect to particular conflicts of interest, as outlined herein and in the Partnership Agreement.

Approval of the Independent Directors will also be required for (i) any actual or potential conflicts of interest in certain transactions or relationships between the Fund, on the one hand, and the General Partner and/or its affiliates, on the other hand, and (ii) any matter which approval is required under the Advisers Act, including Section 206(3) thereof.

Board of Directors and Executive Officers

Prior to joining HarbourVest, Mr. Misciagna served as a Senior Manager at PricewaterhouseCoopers from January 2015 through December 2021. Mr. Misciagna received Bachelor of Arts degrees in Psychology and Economics from Rutgers University.

Leadership Structure and Oversight Responsibilities

Overall responsibility for the Fund's oversight rests with the General Partner, subject to certain oversight rights to be held by the Board. The Registrant will enter into the Management Agreement pursuant to which the Manager, an affiliate of the General Partner, will manage the Fund on a day-to-day basis. See "Item 11. Description of Registrant's Securities to be Registered—Delaware Law and Certain Provisions of the Registrant's Partnership Agreement."

Committees

The Board of Directors intends to establish an Audit Committee and may form additional committees in the future.

Audit Committee

The Audit Committee will be comprised of Christopher Wilson and Peter Saperstone, each of whom is an Independent Director. Mr. Wilson will serve as Chair of the Audit Committee. The Registrant's Board determined that Mr. Wilson is an "audit committee financial expert" as that term is defined under Item 407 of Regulation S-K, as promulgated under the Exchange Act.

The General Partner may appoint additional independent directors to the Audit Committee from time to time.

In accordance with its written charter to be adopted by the Board, the Audit Committee will have, without limitation, the following duties: (i) assess the qualifications and independence of the Registrant's independent registered accounting firm (the "independent accountants") and the approval thereof, (ii) approval of any non-audit services to be provided to the Fund by the independent accountants, (iii) review the arrangements for and scope of the annual audit and any special audits, (iv) to assist Board oversight of the Registrant's internal audit function, as applicable (v) to consider information and comments from the auditors with respect to the Registrant's accounting and financial reporting policies, procedures and internal control over financial reporting (including the Registrant's critical accounting policies and practices), to consider management's responses to any such comments and, to the extent the Audit Committee deems necessary or appropriate, to promote improvements in the quality of the Fund's accounting and financial reporting, (vi) review and discuss with the Fund's independent auditors and management the Fund's annual audited and quarterly financial statements, (vii) to resolve disagreements between management and the auditors regarding financial reporting, (viii) to establish, or confirm the establishment of, procedures for the receipt, retention and treatment of complaints received by the Fund relating to accounting, internal accounting controls, or auditing matters, (ix) to review, approve and oversee any related person transaction between the Fund and any related person and any other potential conflict of interest situations, to the extent required by the Partnership Agreement that the General Partner determines in its sole discretion to present to the Board; (x) to discuss policies with respect to risk assessment and risk management, as applicable, and (xi) to consider and approve any material modifications to the valuation policies adopted by the General Partner with respect to the Registrant.

In addition, the Registrant is a limited partner of and generally does not control decisions and actions taken by the Aggregating Partnership. Accordingly, there may be changes to the fees, expenses and valuation policies applicable to the Aggregating Partnership impacting the Registrant over which the Registrant does not have control. For example, the valuation policies applicable to the Aggregating Partnership may be modified without the approval of the Audit Committee of the Registrant.

ITEM 6. EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

(a) Compensation of Executive Officers

The Registrant does not currently have any employees and does not expect to have any employees. Services necessary for the Registrant's business are provided by individuals who are employees of the Manager, the General Partner or their affiliates, pursuant to the terms of the Management Agreement and the Partnership Agreement, as applicable. The Registrant's day-to-day investment operations will be managed by the General Partner and the Manager. Most of the services necessary for the sourcing and administration of the Registrant's investment portfolio are provided by investment professionals employed by the Manager or its affiliates.

None of the Registrant's executive officers will receive direct compensation from the Registrant. The Registrant will reimburse the General Partner, the Manager and/or their affiliates for Fund Expenses incurred on its behalf, which can include the compensation, overhead (including rent, office equipment and utilities) and other expenses incurred, charged or specifically attributed or allocated by the General Partner, the Manager and/or their affiliates in performing administrative and/or accounting services for the Registrant or any portfolio entity (including but not limited to legal and compliance, finance, accounting, operations, investor relations, tax, valuation and internal audit personnel and other non-investment professionals that provide services to the Registrant). Certain executive officers and Non-Independent Directors, through their financial interests in the General Partner or the Manager, are entitled to a portion of the profits earned by the General Partner or the Manager, which includes any fees, including compensation discussed herein, payable to the General Partner or the Manager under the terms of the Management Agreement and the Registrant's Partnership Agreement, as applicable, less expenses incurred by the General Partner and the Manager in performing its services under the Management Agreement and the Partnership Agreement, as applicable. See "Item 1. Business-Management Agreement" and "Item 7. Certain Relationships and Related Transactions, and Director Independence."

(b) Compensation of Directors

No compensation is or will be paid by the Fund directly to the Fund's Directors who are not Independent Directors. The Fund pays compensation to each Independent Director. Each Independent Director is entitled to compensation for his or her services as a Director of the Fund (including for their service on the Board of each of the other Parallel Funds and the TE Feeder) in the amount of $55,000 per year, payable in cash (or, such pro-rated amount for any service of less than the full fiscal year). The Fund is also authorized to pay the reasonable out-of-pocket expenses of each Independent Director incurred by such director in connection with the fulfillment of his or her duties as an Independent Director.

ITEM 7. CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS, AND DIRECTOR INDEPENDENCE

(a) Transactions with Related Persons, Promoters and Certain Control Persons

Investment Management Agreement; the Registrant's Partnership Agreement

The Registrant has entered into a Management Agreement with the Manager pursuant to which the Registrant will pay management fees and certain Fund expenses. The Registrant will also enter into the Partnership Agreement. In addition, pursuant to the Management Agreement and the Registrant's Partnership Agreement, the Registrant will reimburse the Manager and General Partner for certain expenses as they occur. See "Item 1. Business—Management Agreement" and "—Certain Terms of the Management Agreement and Partnership Agreement."

Certain Business Relationships

Certain of the Registrant's current directors and officers are directors, officers or employees of HarbourVest and/or one or more of its affiliates. The Fund is subject to conflicts of interest arising out of its relationship with HarbourVest, including the General Partner, the Manager and their affiliates. See "Item 1A. Risk Factors—Certain Conflicts of Interest."

Statement of Policy Regarding Transactions with Related Persons

The Board recognizes the fact that transactions with related persons may present risks of conflicts or the appearance of conflicts of interest. The Board will adopt a written policy on transactions with related persons (the "Related Person Transaction Policy"). Under the Related Person Transaction Policy, the Audit Committee will review and approve any "interested transaction" (as defined below), including any amendments or modifications to any "related person transaction". An "interested transaction" is defined as any transaction, arrangement or relationship or series of similar transactions, arrangements or relationships (including any indebtedness or guarantee of indebtedness) in which (1) disclosure by the Fund would be required pursuant to Item 404(a) of Regulation S-K, (2) the aggregate amount involved exceeds or is expected to exceed $120,000 in any fiscal year, (3) the Fund or any of its subsidiaries is a participant, (4) any "related person" (as defined below) has or will have a direct or indirect material interest, and (5) Independent Director approval is required pursuant to the Partnership Agreement of the Fund or HarbourVest's governance policies. Certain transactions are specifically excluded from the definition of "interested transactions," including, without limitation, employment compensation paid to an executive officer of the Fund approved by the Board, compensation paid to a Director of the Fund for service as a director, and any transaction in which the related person's interest arises solely from the ownership of the Fund's Units and all holders of the Fund's Units received the same benefit on a pro rata basis (e.g., a distribution). A "related person" is defined as any (a) person who is or was (since the beginning of the Fund's last fiscal year, even if she or he does not presently serve in that role) an executive officer, director or nominee for election as a director; (b) beneficial owner of greater than 5% of any class of the Fund's Units; or (c) immediate family member of any of the foregoing. Subject to limited exceptions, no interested transaction will be executed without the approval or ratification of a committee of the Board composed solely of Independent Directors who are disinterested or by the disinterested members of the Board. The Audit Committee may fulfill the obligations under this policy.

In determining whether to approve or ratify an "interested transaction", the Audit Committee will take into account, among other factors it deems appropriate: (i) whether the interested transaction is on terms no less favorable to the Fund than terms generally available from an unaffiliated third party under the same or similar circumstances and the extent of the related person's interest in the transaction, (ii) the nature and extent of the related person's interest in the transaction, (iii) whether the interested transaction is material to the Fund, (iv) the business purpose of the interested transaction, and (v) if applicable, whether the interested transaction would compromise a Director's status as an Independent Director, as relevant.

(b) Promoters and Certain Control Persons

The General Partner or Manager may be deemed a promoter of the Fund. The Registrant will enter into the Management Agreement with the Manager and the Partnership Agreement with the General Partner. The management, for its portfolio management, risk management and other services to the Registrant, will be entitled to receive Management Fees and Incentive Fees in addition to the reimbursement of certain expenses. In addition, under the Management Agreement and the Registrant's Partnership Agreement, to the extent permitted by applicable law, the Registrant has indemnified the Manager and the General Partner and certain of their affiliates. See "Item 1. Business."

(c) Director Independence

See "Item 1. The General Partner and the Board of Directors" and "Item 5. Directors and Executive Officers" for information on the Registrant's Independent Directors and definition of "independent."

ITEM 8. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

The Registrant is not currently subject to any pending material legal proceedings. From time to time, the Registrant, the General Partner or the Manager may be a party to certain legal proceedings in the ordinary course of business, including proceedings relating to the enforcement of the Registrant's rights under contracts with the Registrant's portfolio companies. The Registrant may also be subject to regulatory proceedings.

ITEM 9. MARKET PRICE OF AND DIVIDENDS ON THE REGISTRANT'S COMMON EQUITY AND RELATED LIMITED PARTNER MATTERS

Market Information

The Registrant's outstanding Units will be offered and sold in transactions exempt from registration under the Securities Act under Section 4(a)(2) and Regulation D. See "Item 10. Recent Sales of Unregistered Securities" for more information. The Units are not, and will not be, listed or traded on any recognized securities exchange.

Because the Registrant's Units are being acquired by investors in one or more transactions "not involving a public offering," they are "restricted securities" and may be required to be held indefinitely. The Registrant's Units may not be sold or transferred (i) except as permitted under the Registrant's Partnership Agreement and (ii) unless the Units are registered under applicable securities laws or specifically exempted from registration. Accordingly, an investor must be willing to bear the economic risk of investment in the Units unless and until the Registrant accepts their redemption or transfer. No sale, transfer, assignment, pledge or other disposition, whether voluntary or involuntary, of the Units may be made except by registration of the transfer on the Registrant's books. Each transferee will be required to execute an instrument agreeing to be bound by these restrictions and the other restrictions imposed on the Units and to execute such other instruments or certifications as are reasonably required by the Registrant.

Holders

Please see "Item 4. Security Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners and Management" for disclosure regarding the holders of the Registrant's Units.

Calculation of Net Asset Value

The General Partner determines the Net Asset Value of the Units monthly. The General Partner will prepare valuations with respect to each of the Fund's assets in accordance with its valuation policies and procedures (as may be amended from time to time in the General Partner's sole discretion) (the "Valuation Policy"). For the calculation of the Fund's Net Asset Value for financial reporting purposes, the Fund will use accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (the "GAAP NAV"). The Net Asset Value per Unit of each class of Units is determined by dividing the Fund's total assets attributable to such class less the value of any liabilities (including accrued expenses or distributions) of such class, by the total number of Units outstanding of such class. As each of the Fund and Parallel Funds are formed for the purpose of investing in and conducting its investment program through the Aggregating Partnership, the General Partner shall rely conclusively on the valuations reported by the Aggregating Partnership in determining the Fund's and each such Parallel Fund's Net Asset Value.

The "Net Asset Value" as of a specified date, means the amount by which the value of the Fund's assets exceeds the amount of its liabilities, as of that date, with all securities valued in accordance with the Partnership Agreement. For any secondary position, any trades and applicable valuation adjustments may be recognized as of the funding date(s) of the investment, which may include investments funded on multiple dates. Certain or all Organizational Expenses may be amortized, in the General Partner's sole and absolute discretion, for up to a 60-month period beginning from the Initial Closing Date for purposes of calculating the Fund's Net Asset Value, although U.S. generally accepted accounting principles require organizational expenses to be expensed when incurred. The Net Asset Value per Unit is generally expected to be available after the Subscription Deadlines, within 20 Business Days after the Valuation Date (the "NAV Publication Date"), and the number of Units issued is generally expected to be available within five Business Days after the NAV Publication Date. Until the Fund has determined its first Net Asset Value, which is expected to be as of the end of the first full month after the Fund has accepted third-party Unitholders and begun investment operations, the subscription price for Units will be $10.00 per Unit plus applicable Subscription Fees. The GAAP NAV calculated for a given Valuation Date will differ from the later calculation of the valuation of the Fund's net assets as of such date for annual and quarterly financial reporting purposes. Please See "Item 1A. Risk Factors—Valuations of portfolio companies are estimates of fair value and may not necessarily correspond to reasonable value and valuations of investments used by the General Partner—and, accordingly, Net Asset Value per Unit calculations used for subscriptions and redemptions—likely will not reflect the prices at which such investments are ultimately sold."

The Fund intends to disclose transactional NAV on a monthly basis on current reports on Form 8-K or by other means, and will disclose any material changes to the policies, procedures, and guidelines regarding the determination of NAV in either current reports on Form 8-K or in the Fund's periodic reports, each to be filed with the SEC, as applicable.

Valuation Policy

The Fund may hold assets with different characteristics, including public and private investments, control and minority equity investments and securities with varying rights and preferences, in accordance with the Partnership Agreement. The Fund shall determine which valuation methodology or methodologies apply to each investment based on a variety of facts and circumstances that are subject to change from time to time depending on the relevant investment.

Investment Funds – General Approach

HarbourVest will determine the fair value of the Fund's investments on a monthly basis for purposes of calculating NAV. For an Investment Fund, HarbourVest will adjust the most recently available quarterly net asset value to: (1) reflect the amount of capital the Fund has contributed to such Investment Fund and the amount of capital the Fund has received as distributions from such Investment Fund through the valuation date and which were not reflected in such Investment Fund's quarterly valuation, and/or (2) make such other adjustments as HarbourVest deems appropriate in accordance with its valuation policy or any other accounting principles as may be adopted by the Fund from time to time.

Inputs used to determine fair value include financial statements provided by the Investment Funds, which typically include fair value capital account balances. In reviewing the underlying financial statements and capital account balances, HarbourVest considers compliance with Accounting Standards Codification Topic 820, Fair Value Measurement ("ASC 820"). HarbourVest shall determine whether it is appropriate to value the investments based on the capital account balance provided by the Investment Funds or to adjust such value.

If HarbourVest in good faith determines that a manager is not reporting fair value consistent with U.S. GAAP, HarbourVest will use best efforts to undertake its own valuation analysis using fair value principles as set forth in ASC 820 in accordance with U.S. GAAP, to determine the appropriate fair value.

Publicly Traded and Quoted Securities – General Approach

Securities traded in public exchanges will be valued at the closing price at the end of the valuation period. If any security was not traded on such date, the latest closing price shall be used. Discounts will be applied when a formal legal restriction exists on the securities. This restriction will apply to transferability issues related to the security and not to the holder of the instrument (i.e., restrictions on the transfer to the purchaser of the security as opposed to restrictions specific to the Fund).

Non-Marketable Securities – General Approach

In valuing private investments, HarbourVest will apply the value that is most likely to be an exit price in an orderly arm's length transaction between market participants as of the valuation date, using one of the acceptable valuation methods under U.S. GAAP for each portfolio investment. The valuation analysis will consider applicable value drivers, facts and circumstances, and HarbourVest's subjective judgment, as applicable. If appropriate, HarbourVest may use discounts or premiums to adjust for lack of marketability, lack of control and/or illiquidity.

One or more of the following methods may be applied in valuing portfolio investments:

1. Market approach – Guideline Company Method – This methodology applies an appropriate multiple derived from reference to market multiples for comparable public companies. The derived multiple is then applied to the relevant operating performance metric (revenues, EBITDA, EBIT, net income, net receivables, or book value) of the investment. Determination of the appropriate metric is done by analyzing similar companies (e.g., size, growth, profitability, comparability, financial fundamentals, etc.). Subsequently, a comparability discount may be applied. The purpose of this discount is to account for the differences between the subject company and its comparable set. A typical range is between 0- 25%. In certain cases, a further subjective discount (or premium) of 0-25% may be taken to reflect company specific circumstances (i.e., lawsuits, expiring patents, intellectual property, financial forecasts, etc.). Both discounts and premiums are applied at the enterprise value level. In addition, a marketability discount of 0-10% may be used to adjust for the illiquid nature of the investment. Generally, this discount is reduced as the company moves closer to its expected liquidity date.
2. Market Approach – Similar Transaction Method – This methodology applies an appropriate multiple derived from reference to market multiples for recent M&A transactions of similar companies. The derived multiple is then applied to the relevant operating performance metric (e.g., revenues, EBITDA, EBIT, net income, net receivables, or book value) of the investment. Determination of the appropriate metric is done by analyzing similar companies (size, growth, profitability, comparability, financial fundamentals, etc.). A comparability, illiquidity, or subject discount/premium may also be applied, as noted above.
3. Income Approach – Discounted Cash Flow – The valuation under the discounted cash flow (“DCF”), approach is calculated by discounting projected future cash flows and the anticipated terminal value of the investment to a single present value using a weighted average cost of capital (“WACC”) based on the debt-to-equity ratio of similar companies in the same industry. Determination of cash flows and discounts are done by analyzing projected company performance. Special considerations shall be given to features of the securities owned, such as liquidation preferences, seniority, participations, hurdles, etc.

Credit Investments – General Approach

In valuing credit investments, HarbourVest will apply the value that is most likely to be an exit price in an orderly arm’s length transaction between market participants as of the applicable valuation date, using one or more of the acceptable valuation methods under U.S. GAAP, for each portfolio investment. The valuation analysis will consider applicable value drivers, facts and circumstances, and HarbourVest’s subjective judgment. If appropriate, HarbourVest may use discounts or premiums to adjust for lack of marketability and/or illiquidity.

One or more of the following methods may be applied in valuing credit portfolio investments:

1. Income Approach—Discounted Cash Flow – The valuation under the DCF approach is calculated by discounting projected future cash flows (interest and principal) to a single present value using a current market yield to maturity (“YTM”) for similar credit issues of comparable companies. In determining the YTM, HarbourVest will assess current market conditions/yields in both the broadly syndicated loan market and the private direct lending market. Determination of cash flows are done by analyzing terms of credit contracts.
2. Closing Price – Securities traded in public exchanges shall be valued at the closing price at the end of the valuation period. If any security was not traded on such date, the latest closing price shall be used. Discounts shall be applied when a formal legal restriction exists on the securities. HarbourVest may also evaluate current trading and liquidity levels and may use an income approach if securities are deemed to be illiquid.

3. Distressed Securities – Securities that are deemed to be distressed (valued at or below a mark of 80) are to be valued quarterly, generally by a third-party valuation firm; however, junior credit investments that are deemed to be distressed may be valued by HarbourVest using internal models.
4. Junior Credit Positions where Equity is held – In certain instances, funds may hold both junior credit and equity in the same portfolio company. Equity positions will be valued using methodologies described above and, if there is a positive equity value, junior debt will be valued at par.

Escrows/Earn-outs – General Approach

Escrows and earn-outs will generally be valued at expected proceeds, generally discounted by 30%. Depending on the risk profile of the holdings and probability of recovering full amount of proceeds, a higher or lower discount may be applied. In the event of receiving proceeds shortly after the end of the valuation period, discounts may be eliminated to the extent of such proceeds.

Other Considerations – Foreign Currency Exchange

Investments denominated in a currency other than the fund currency will be valued in investment currency and converted to fund currency using the exchange rates in effect on the valuation date.

Distributions

The Fund may declare distributions from time to time as authorized by the General Partner. The Fund does not expect to make distributions on a regular basis. The amount of any distributions the Fund may pay in the future is uncertain.

Any distributions the Fund makes are at the sole discretion of the General Partner, considering factors such as earnings, cash flow, capital needs, taxes and general financial condition and the requirements of applicable law. As a result, the Fund's distribution rates and payment frequency may vary from time to time. There is no assurance the Fund will pay distributions in any particular amount, if at all.

Unitholders of record as of the record date will be eligible for distributions declared. The per Unit amount of distributions on Classes of Units may differ if different Class-specific fees and expenses are deducted from the gross distributions for each Class. In the event that the Fund makes a distribution, the Fund intends to adopt an "opt out" distribution reinvestment plan for investors. As a result, in the event of a declared cash distribution, each investor that has not "opted out" of the distribution reinvestment plan will have its distributions automatically reinvested in additional Units rather than receive cash distributions.

ITEM 10. RECENT SALES OF UNREGISTERED SECURITIES

Effective March 2, 2026, the Manager made an initial capital contribution of $100,000 in cash in exchange for 10,000 Class I Units at a price of $10.00 per Unit. These Units were issued and sold in reliance upon the available exemptions from registration requirements of Section 4(a)(2) of the 1933 Act. No underwriting discounts or commissions were paid with respect to such sale. As of March 31, 2026, the Manager was the only Unitholder.

ITEM 11. DESCRIPTION OF REGISTRANT'S SECURITIES TO BE REGISTERED

Description of the Registrant's Units

General

There is currently no market for the Registrant's Units, and we do not expect that a market for the Registrant's Units will develop in the future. We do not intend for the Units registered under this Registration Statement to be listed on any national securities exchange. There are no outstanding options or warrants to purchase the Registrant's Units. Under the terms of the Partnership Agreement, except as provided by other applicable law and subject to the obligations to indemnify the Registrant and the General Partner as otherwise provided in the Partnership Agreement, no Unitholder shall have any personal liability whatsoever in its capacity as a Unitholder, whether to the Registrant, to any of the Partners, or to the creditors of the Registrant, for the debts, liabilities, contracts, or other obligations of the Registrant or for any losses of the Registrant. No Unitholder shall owe any fiduciary duty to any other Partner.

Units

Unitholders are not entitled to nominate or vote in an election of the Fund's directors. Accordingly, the Registrant is not required to file proxy statements or information statements under Section 14 of the Exchange Act except in those limited circumstances where a vote of Unitholders is required under the Partnership Agreement or Delaware law. Moreover, Unitholders are not able to bring matters before meetings of Unitholders or nominate directors at such meeting, nor are they generally able to submit Unitholder proposals under Rule 14a-8 of the Exchange Act. Overall responsibility for the Registrant's oversight rests with the General Partner, subject to certain oversight rights held by the Board.

The Units registered pursuant to this Registration Statement are Class A Limited Partnership Units, Class D Limited Partnership Units and Class I Limited Partnership Units. The Fund expects to offer additional classes of Units in the future, which may include certain Classes of Units that may be made available to investors or groups of investors, including, without limitation, HarbourVest and certain of its affiliates and employees and the Fund's employees, officers and directors but not be offered to other investors, as determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion. The General Partner is authorized to convert Units of one Class to another Class (including combining Classes) without the consent of any Unitholder or the Board; provided, if the terms applicable to a Unitholder's Units will be materially worse as a result of such conversion, such Unitholder will be required to consent to such conversion.

Effective March 2, 2026, the Manager made an initial capital contribution of $100,000 in cash in exchange for 10,000 Class I Units at a price of $10.00 per Unit. HarbourVest and/or its affiliates have also subscribed for an aggregate amount of $5.0 million of Class P units of the Cayman Parallel Fund.

The Fund will pay the quarterly Management Fee on behalf of each Class of Units at an annual rate equal to the Annual Management Fee Rate applicable to such class multiplied by the Fund's Net Asset Value, calculated and accrued monthly as of the last day of each month, before giving effect to any accruals for the Management Fee, the Incentive Fee, the Servicing Fees, and Subscription Fees, any distributions, and without taking into account any accrued and unpaid taxes of the Fund or any HarbourVest-controlled entity through which the Fund directly or indirectly invests in an Investment or any comparable entities of other HarbourVest-Managed Funds or taxes paid by any such entity during the applicable month, as determined in the good faith judgment of the General Partner. In the event the Fund makes any investment in HarbourVest-Managed Funds that charge a management fee, the General Partner will seek to ensure that Unitholders do not ultimately bear duplicative management fees by reducing the Net Asset Value of the Fund on which the Management Fee is calculated for each applicable period by the Net Asset Value of the Fund's investment in any such HarbourVest-Managed Fund as of the applicable valuation date.

With respect to each Class of Units, the Incentive Fee will equal the Incentive Fee Percentage applicable to such class of the excess, if any, of (1) the Net Profit for such Class during the relevant period over (2) the Loss Recovery Account balance for such Class for such period, in each case, except where otherwise decided by the General Partner in its full discretion and as provided in the Memorandum.

Incentive Fees are accrued monthly, calculated as of the last day of the calendar quarter and paid quarterly (or at such other times as the General Partner may determine in its full discretion, in agreement with the Manager) (the “Reference Period”).

For the purposes of the Incentive Fee and Loss Recovery Account, “Net Profit” and “Net Loss” shall mean, for a Class, in relation to any Reference Period, the change in Net Asset Value during such Reference Period, excluding any of the following which are paid, accrued or allocated during the relevant period, if applicable: (i) subscriptions, redemptions, conversions and unit holder distributions recognized during the same period, (ii) Servicing Fees and/or Subscription Fees, (iii) taxes and (iv) any Incentive Fees. For the avoidance of doubt, (x) Net Profit and Net Loss includes unrealized appreciation or depreciation and realized income and gains or losses, management fees and expenses (other than those referenced in the prior sentence), for such period, and (y) for any Reference Period, the change of Net Asset Value calculated as per the prior sentence shall result in a corresponding (A) Net Profit, if greater than zero, or (B) Net Loss, if less than zero. The “Loss Recovery Account” shall, with respect to each Class, have an initial balance of zero and will, with respect to any Reference Period, be: (i) increased by the amount of the Net Loss for such Class for such Reference Period or decreased (but not below zero) by the amount of the Net Profit for such Class for such Reference Period; and (ii) decreased proportionately in respect of any Units redeemed during the relevant period.

Differences Among Class A Units, Class D Units and Class I Units

Class A Units, Class D Units and Class I Units are expected to be offered through different distribution channels. The only material difference among the Class A Units, Class D Units and Class I Units relates to the different Subscription Fees and Servicing Fees charged for each Class as further described below. Certain financial intermediaries through which a Unitholder was placed in the Fund may charge such Unitholder Subscription Fees on Units that are paid by the Unitholder outside of its investment in the Fund and not reflected in the Fund’s NAV.

Each Class A Unit may be subject to a Subscription Fee of up to 3.50% of the NAV on Class A Units on the date of the purchase. Each Class D Unit may be subject to a Subscription Fee of up to 1.50% of the NAV on Class A Units on the date of the purchase. No Subscription Fees will be payable with respect to Class I Units.

Class A Units bear a Servicing Fee of 0.85%. Class D Units bear a Servicing Fee of 0.25%. Class I Units will not bear a Servicing Fee.

Distributions

The Fund does not expect to make distributions on a regular basis. The amount of any distributions the Fund may pay in the future is uncertain.

Other Agreements

The General Partner expects that it, HSEC and/or the Feeder Funds will enter into Other Agreements with one or more Unitholders. These Other Agreements can entitle a Unitholder to make an investment in HSEC or the Feeder Funds on terms other than those described herein or in the Partnership Agreement.

Transfers

Unitholders holding Class A Units, Class D Units or Class I Units may transfer part or all of their Units in accordance with the Partnership Agreement upon 90 calendar days' notice, or such reasonably shorter period as agreed to by the General Partner (such period, the "Notice Period"), and submit an executed form to the Transfer Agent, which form shall be provided by the Transfer Agent upon request. Such transfer will be recorded on the books and records of the Fund and be effective as of the first calendar day of the quarter immediately following the end of the Notice Period. The General Partner may refuse such requested transfer for certain reasons as set forth in the Partnership Agreement including, but not limited to, if: (i) such assignment or transfer would violate the Securities Act or any state securities or "blue sky" laws applicable to the Fund or the Units to be assigned or transferred, (ii) such assignment or transfer would cause the Fund to become required to register under the Investment Company Act, (iii) such assignment or transfer would otherwise cause the Fund to violate any applicable law, regulation, court order or judicial decree, or (iv) such assignment or transfer would cause all or any portion of the assets of the Fund (or the Aggregating Partnership) to constitute "plan assets" for purposes of ERISA.

In addition, the General Partner of the Fund has a right of first refusal with respect to transfers of Units as set forth in the Partnership Agreement. If a Unitholder proposes to transfer all or any of its Units to a person who is not an affiliate of the Unitholder, the General Partner must be given 30 days' notice in writing during which time the General Partner or one of its affiliates may elect to purchase the relevant Units for the same or substantially equivalent consideration and otherwise on substantially the same terms as those on which the Unitholder proposed to make the transfer. Any such purchase by the General Partner or its affiliate must be completed within 45 days of its election to exercise its right of first refusal. If the General Partner does not exercise its right of first refusal and consents to transfer to the relevant third party then such transfer must be completed in accordance with the Partnership Agreement and on terms no more favorable to the transferee than those originally proposed within 90 days of the General Partner giving notice that it declines to exercise its right.

Each transferor will be required to pay all reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the Fund and the General Partner in connection with such transfer, including, without limitation, attorneys' and accountants' fees incurred by the Fund and any transfer, stamp, documentary or other similar taxes in connection with a transfer of Units by such transferor, including in connection with any in-house legal, administrative, accounting, finance, tax, compliance or other similar services provided by the Fund, General Partner, Manager or their respective affiliates related to such transfer. Such expenses shall be due and payable on the day the transferee is admitted to the Fund as a substitute Unitholder.

Limitation on Liability of Directors and Officers; Indemnification and Advance of Expenses

See "Item 12. Indemnification of Directors and Officers" for a description of the indemnification provisions for Directors, the General Partner and certain other related entities.

Delaware Law and Certain Provisions of the Registrant's Partnership Agreement

Organization and Duration

The Fund is constituted as a Delaware limited partnership under the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act (as amended). The Registrant will remain in existence until dissolved in accordance with the Partnership Agreement or pursuant to Delaware law. The Partnership Agreement provides that the Registrant shall continue until it is dissolved upon (a) a determination made by the General Partner at any time in its sole discretion that the liquidation, winding up and dissolution of the Registrant is in the best interests of the Registrant, (b) the occurrence of any event that results in the General Partner ceasing to be a general partner of the Fund under the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act, (as amended), unless within 90 days thereafter all the remaining limited partners agree in writing to continue the business of the Fund and to the appointment, effective as of the date of such event, of one or more general partners, (c) the entry of a decree of dissolution of the Registrant, or (d) at any time there are no limited partners of the Fund.

Purpose

The purposes and business of the Fund is making investments (indirectly through the Aggregating Partnership) in accordance with the investment objectives and policies of the Aggregating Partnership as in effect from time to time and to engage in any other lawful activity as the General Partner may from time to time determine. Subject to the provisions of the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner may from time to time adopt, amend, revise or terminate any policy or policies with respect to investments by the Fund as it shall deem appropriate in its sole discretion. Investments may be effected on a global basis, using a wide variety of investment types and transaction structures, and may have long or short anticipated holding periods.

Amendments to the Partnership Agreement

The Partnership Agreement may be amended, modified or supplemented without the approval of any other Unitholder by the written consent of the General Partner, except as otherwise required by law, and provided, that any amendment, modification or supplement (including an amendment in the form of a merger, consolidation, conversion or similar transaction into a successor entity to the Fund) that is viewed by the General Partner in its discretion as a whole together with all such amendments, modifications or supplements, as having a material adverse effect on the Unitholders in the aggregate will require the approval of the Independent Directors. Unitholders will receive a copy of any such amendment (including through an Exchange Act report).

Jurisdiction

The Partnership Agreement of the Fund will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware without regard to the principles of conflict of laws. In particular, the Fund was formed pursuant to the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act, 6 Del. Code § 17-101 et seq., and the rights and liabilities of the Unitholders will be as provided therein, except as otherwise expressly provided in the Partnership Agreement. The Unitholders hereby submit to the nonexclusive jurisdiction of the state and federal courts of the State of Delaware in any action, suit or proceeding based on or arising under the Partnership Agreement.

Fiduciary Duties

Each of the Directors (including the Independent Directors) shall use their reasonable business judgment to act in the best interests of the Fund with respect to matters of the Fund that are within the Board's authority, as described in the Partnership Agreement. Except as provided for in the immediately preceding sentence, each Director (including the Independent Directors) shall, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, have no fiduciary duties to the Fund or to any Unitholder.

ITEM 12. INDEMNIFICATION OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

As further explained in the Partnership Agreement, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the Fund will indemnify and hold harmless any of the General Partner and its affiliates (including any of their respective agents, partners, members, officers, directors, employees or shareholders, but excluding the Aggregating Partnership, and any feeder fund) and each Director (each, a “Fund Indemnified Party”) from any and all claims, demands, liabilities, costs, expenses, damages, losses, suits, proceedings and actions, whether judicial, administrative, investigative or otherwise, of any nature whatsoever, known or unknown, liquidated or unliquidated, that may be asserted against any Fund Indemnified Party or any of the Unitholders or in which any of the Fund Indemnified Party may become involved, as a party or otherwise, arising out of the conduct of the business or affairs of the Fund by the respective Fund Indemnified Party or otherwise relating to the Partnership Agreement (including serving on the board of directors or advisory committee or participating in the management of a portfolio company or a former portfolio company); provided that a Fund Indemnified Party shall not be entitled to indemnification under the Partnership Agreement if it shall have been finally determined by a court of competent jurisdiction that the Fund Indemnified Party willfully and materially breached the Partnership Agreement, or acted so as to be liable for gross negligence, fraud or bad faith, in each case, in connection with its services to the Fund.

As further explained in the Partnership Agreement and to the fullest extent permitted by law, no Fund Indemnified Party shall be liable to the Fund or any Unitholder for any mistake of fact or judgment in conducting the affairs of the Partnership or otherwise acting in respect of and within the scope of the Partnership Agreement.

The Fund’s indemnification obligations will be satisfied from the Fund’s assets. The Fund may advance expenses that are reasonably incurred by a Fund Indemnified Party in the defense or settlement of any claim that is subject to indemnification.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Management and Unitholder of HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Fund L.P.

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Fund L.P. (the “Partnership”), as of March 31, 2026, and the related statements of operations, of changes in net assets and of cashflows, for the period from March 2, 2026 (Commencement of Operations) through March 31, 2026, including the related notes (collectively referred to as the “financial statements”). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Partnership as of March 31, 2026, and the results of its operations, changes in net assets and its cash flows for the period from March 2, 2026 (Commencement of Operations) through March 31, 2026 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Partnership’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Partnership’s financial statements based on our audit. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audit of these financial statements in accordance with the auditing standards of the PCAOB and in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud.

Our audit included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audit also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

1. Organization

HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Fund L.P. (the “Partnership”) is a Delaware limited partnership formed on September 29, 2025, and is a private investment fund exempt from registration pursuant to Section 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended. The Partnership commenced operations on March 2, 2026.

The general partner of the Partnership is HarbourVest GP LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the “General Partner”). The General Partner is authorized to establish additional classes or series of Units with such terms, rights and obligations as determined in the sole discretion of the General Partner without receiving consent from the Limited Partners. The General Partner has delegated the Partnership to appoint HarbourVest Partners L.P. (the “Manager”), a Delaware limited partnership, to manage the affairs of the Partnership. The General Partner and the Manager are affiliates of HarbourVest Partners, LLC.

The Partnership’s investment objective is to deliver capital growth over the medium to long term through direct or indirect exposure to the equity and debt of primarily private businesses, across geographies, sectors and stages primarily through secondary investments (“Secondary Investments”) and complemented by certain primary partnership investments (“Primary Partnership Investments”), in the private equity space, with the potential to generate medium- to long-term outperformance compared to public markets while striving to limit volatility and downside risk.

The Partnership invests all or substantially all of its assets through its investment in HSEC Holdings, L.P. (the “Aggregator”). The Aggregator has the same investment objectives as the Partnership. The financial statements of the Aggregator should be read in conjunction with the Partnership’s financial statements and are included following these financial statements. As of March 31, 2026, the Partnership has a 0.2% ownership interest in the Aggregator.

The Partnership has entered into a limited partnership agreement as amended and restated with the General Partner. Under the terms of the Aggregator’s Partnership Agreement, overall responsibility for the Aggregator’s oversight rests with the General Partner.

The Partnership has entered into an investment management agreement with the Manager (as may be further amended and restated from time to time, the “Management Agreement”).

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The financial statements have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”). The Partnership is an investment company and therefore applies the accounting and reporting guidance issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) in Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) 946, Financial Services — Investment Companies. The following are significant accounting policies which are consistently followed in the preparation of the financial statements.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist primarily of cash and short-term investments which are readily convertible into cash. State Street Bank and Trust Company serves as the Partnership's custodian. Cash and cash equivalents are subject to credit risk to the extent those balances exceed the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") limitations. As of March 31, 2026, the Partnership did not hold any cash or cash equivalents.

Investment in the Aggregator

The Partnership's investment in the Aggregator consists of a Limited Partner interest, which is reported on the Aggregator's Statement of Changes in Partners' Capital at estimated fair value. The fair value of the Partnership's investment in the Aggregator is based on the Partnership's allocable share of the Aggregator's net asset value. Income, expense, net realized gain (loss) and net unrealized gain (loss) of the Aggregator are allocated each month to the Partnership based on its pro-rata ownership of the Aggregator. The Partnership records its contributions to, and its share of distributions received from, the Aggregator as an increase to, or reduction in, its investment in the Aggregator on the accompanying Statement of Changes in Net Assets. Required capital contributions to, and distributions from, the Aggregator are made in accordance with Aggregator's Limited Partnership Agreement.

Foreign Currency Translation

The books and records of the Partnership are maintained in U.S. dollars. The value of investments, assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than U.S. dollars are translated into U.S. dollars based upon current foreign exchange rates on the valuation date. Purchases and sales of foreign investments, income and expenses are converted into U.S. dollars based on currency exchange rates prevailing on the date of the relevant transaction. The Partnership does not isolate the effects of changes in exchange rates on the fair value of investments. Such fluctuations in exchange rates are included within the net realized and unrealized gain (loss) from investments.

Investment Transactions and Investment Income

The Partnership's net investment income or loss consists of the Partnership's pro-rata allocation of the net investment income or loss of the Aggregator, less all expenses of the Partnership. Realized and unrealized gains and losses consist of the Partnership's pro-rata allocation of the Aggregator's realized and unrealized gains and losses.

Partnership Expenses

The Partnership bears all expenses incurred in the course of its operations on an accrual basis, and through its investment in the Aggregator, a pro-rata portion of the operating expenses of the Aggregator, including, but not limited to, the following: all costs and expenses related to the Aggregator's investments, management fees, incentive fees, legal fees, professional fees, accounting and administration fees, custodian fees, transfer agent fees, valuation fees, insurance costs, registration expenses, expenses of the Board and other administrative expenses.

Organizational and Offering Costs

The Partnership has incurred certain organizational and initial offering costs of $12,833 and $62,331, respectively through March 31, 2026. Additionally, a portion of Organization and offering costs incurred by the Aggregator are indirectly borne by the Partnership. These costs will be reimbursed to the Manager by the Partnership, subject to recoupment in accordance with the Partnership's expense limitation agreement (the "Expense Limitation Agreement", as further discussed in Note 3). Organizational costs consist primarily of costs to establish the Partnership and enable it to legally conduct business. The Partnership expenses organizational costs as incurred. Offering costs consist primarily of legal fees in connection with the preparation of the initial registration statement and related filings. The Partnership treats offering costs as deferred charges and amortizes such costs into expenses over a 12-month period using the straight-line method.

Income Taxes

The Partnership has elected to be treated as a corporation for U.S. tax purposes. Accordingly, the Partnership may be subject to U.S. federal income taxes to the extent it generates taxable income, including its allocable share of income from the Aggregator and its underlying investments. In addition, the Partnership may be subject to state and local income taxes to the extent its income is sourced to, or otherwise taxable in, specific state or local jurisdictions.

The Partnership accounts for income taxes under the provisions of ASC 740, "Income Taxes." This standard establishes consistent thresholds as it relates to accounting for income taxes. It defines the threshold for recognizing the benefits of tax-return positions in the financial statements as "more-likely-than-not" to be sustained by the taxing authority and requires measurement of a tax position meeting the more-likely-than-not criterion, based on the largest benefit that is more than fifty percent likely to be realized. The Partnership may be subject to potential examination by certain taxing authorities in various jurisdictions. Any potential tax liability is also subject to ongoing interpretation of laws by taxing authorities. The tax years under potential examination vary by jurisdiction.

For the period March 2, 2026 (Commencement of Operations) through March 31, 2026, the Partnership has estimated a deferred tax asset. Management assesses the realizability of deferred tax assets on a periodic basis, considering available evidence, including the nature and character of the Partnership's income (including capital gains), historical and projected results of operations, the timing of reversal of temporary differences, and feasible tax planning strategies. Due to the inherent volatility of investment income and the uncertainty surrounding the generation of sufficient taxable income of the appropriate character within the applicable carryforward periods, management determined that it is more likely than not that the deferred tax asset will not be realized. Accordingly management has estimated a full valuation allowance against the deferred tax asset. As a result, no net deferred tax asset is reflected on the Partnership's Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Details of the Partnership's deferred tax asset are as follows:

Deferred tax asset:	As of March 31, 2026
Effective tax rate .....	24.95%
Deferred tax asset .....	$ 4,795
Valuation allowance .....	(4,795)
Net deferred tax asset .....	$ —

3. Manager and Transactions with Affiliates

Management Fee

The Partnership has entered into a management agreement (the “Management Agreement”) with the Manager.

In consideration of the investment advisory and other services provided by the Manager, the Partnership will pay a quarterly management fee (the “Management Fee”) equal to 1.25% per annum of the applicable Class, multiplied by the Partnership’s NAV in respect of such Class, calculated and accrued monthly as of the last day of each month, before giving effect to any accruals for the Management Fee, the Incentive Fee as defined below, servicing fee, any subscription fees, any distributions, and without taking into account any accrued and unpaid taxes of the Partnership or any HarbourVest-controlled entity through which such Partnership directly or indirectly invests in a Portfolio Investment or any comparable entities of other investment entities and products managed by HarbourVest (the “HarbourVest-Managed Funds”) or taxes paid by any such entity during the applicable month, as determined in the good faith judgment of the General Partner; provided, that no Management Fee will be payable with respect to Class P Units. For the avoidance of doubt, the Partnership’s NAV for purposes of the Management Fee shall be calculated without reduction for any pending redemptions that have not yet become effective. In the event the Partnership makes any investment in HarbourVest-Managed Funds that charge a management fee, the General Partner will seek to ensure that Unitholders do not ultimately bear duplicative management fees by reducing the NAV of the Partnership on which the Management Fee is calculated for each applicable period by the NAV of the Partnership’s investment in any such HarbourVest-Managed Funds as of the applicable valuation date.

The Manager may waive, reduce or calculate differently the Management Fee with respect to one or more Unitholders in its sole discretion.

The Manager may elect to receive the Management Fee in cash and/or units of the Partnership. If the Management Fee is paid in Units, such Units may be redeemed at the Manager’s request and would not be subject to the Fund-Level Limit or the Early Redemption Fee. For the period March 2, 2026 (Commencement of Operations) through March 31, 2026, the Partnership incurred $109 in Management Fees.

Incentive Fee

In remuneration for its portfolio management services and in addition to any other fees paid to the Manager under the Management Agreement, the Partnership will pay to the Manager (or, to the extent permitted by applicable law, an affiliate of the Manager) a quarterly incentive fee (the “Incentive Fee”), with respect to each class in an amount equal to 12.5%, multiplied by the excess, if any, of (1) the Net Profit as defined below for such class during the relevant period over (2) the balance in the Loss Recovery Account as defined below for such class for such period, in each case, except where otherwise decided by the General Partner in its full discretion; provided, that no Incentive Fee will be payable with respect to Class P Units.

Incentive Fees are accrued monthly, calculated as of the last day of the calendar quarter and paid quarterly (or at such other times as the General Partner may determine in its full discretion, in agreement with the Manager) (the “Reference Period”).

For the purposes of the Incentive Fee and Loss Recovery Account, “Net Profit” and “Net Loss” shall mean, for a class, in relation to any Reference Period, the change in NAV during such Reference Period, excluding any of the following which are paid, accrued or allocated during the relevant period, if applicable: (i) subscriptions, redemptions, conversions recognized during the same period, (ii) servicing fees, (iii) taxes, and (iv) any Incentive

Fees. For the avoidance of doubt, (x) Net Profit and Net Loss includes unrealized gain or loss and realized income and gains or losses, management fees and expenses (other than those referenced in the prior sentence), for such period, and (y) for any Reference Period, the change of NAV calculated as per the prior sentence shall result in a corresponding (A) Net Profit, if greater than zero, or (B) Net Loss, if less than zero.

The “Loss Recovery Account” shall, with respect to each Class, have an initial balance of zero and will, with respect to any Reference Period, be: (i) increased by the amount of the Net Loss for such Class for such Reference Period or decreased (but not below zero) by the amount of the Net Profit for such Class for such Reference Period; and (ii) decreased proportionately in respect of any units redeemed during the relevant period.

The recipient of the Incentive Fee (the “Recipient”) will not be obligated to return any portion of the Incentive Fee paid as described herein as a result of subsequent performance of the Partnership or any Class. For the avoidance of doubt, the NAV will include any amounts that would be payable as Incentive Fees based on the Net Profits, if any, on the applicable Valuation Date and units redeemed will be subject to the Incentive Fee upon redemption. The balance of any Loss Recovery Account will have no bearing on the NAV other than for the purpose of determining the Incentive Fee. The Manager may waive, reduce or calculate differently the Incentive Fee with respect to one or more Unitholders in its sole discretion.

The Manager may in its discretion designate an affiliate to instead receive the Incentive Fees.

The Manager may elect for the Recipient to receive the Incentive Fee in cash and/or units of the Partnership. If the Incentive Fee is paid in units, such units may be redeemed at Manager’s request and would not be subject to the redemption limitations of the Partnership’s quarterly unit redemptions and would not be subject to the Early Redemption Fee. For the period March 2, 2026 (Commencement of Operations) through March 31, 2026, the Partnership incurred $1,052 in Incentive Fees.

Expense Limitation Agreement

The Manager has entered into an Expense Limitation Agreement with the Partnership until March 31, 2027 (the “Limitation Period”), whereby the Manager has agreed to waive fees that it would otherwise be paid, and/or to reimburse expenses of the Partnership (a “Waiver”), if required to ensure certain annual operating expenses (excluding the Management Fee, Incentive Fee, any Servicing Fees and/or Subscription Fees, interest, taxes, brokerage commissions, fees and expenses charged to the Partnership by Investments, dividend and interest expenses relating to short sales, borrowing costs, merger or reorganization expenses, unitholder meetings expenses, litigation expenses, expenses associated with the acquisition and disposition of investments (including (i) with respect to unconsummated transactions, and (ii) interest and structuring costs for borrowings and line(s) of credit), expenses related to the winding up and liquidation of the Partnership, if applicable, certain insurance costs, and extraordinary expenses, if any; collectively, the “Excluded Expenses”) do not exceed 0.75% per annum of the Partnership’s net asset value (“NAV”), which may differ from GAAP NAV, calculated as of the last day of each month for each class of Units. The annual rate of 0.75% shall be calculated on a monthly basis by dividing 0.75% by 365 and multiplying the resulting daily rate by the actual number of days in the applicable month.

The General Partner determines the NAV monthly. The General Partner will prepare valuations with respect to each of the Partnership’s assets in accordance with its valuation policies and procedures (as may be amended from time to time in the General Partner’s sole discretion).

With respect to each class of Units, the Partnership agrees to repay the Manager any fees waived or expenses assumed or reimbursed under this agreement for such class of Units, provided the repayments do not cause Partnership Expenses (excluding Excluded Expenses) for that class of Units to exceed the expense limitation in place at the time the fees were waived and/or the expenses were assumed or reimbursed, or the expense limitation in place at the time the Partnership repays the Manager, whichever is lower. Any such repayments must be made within thirty-six months after the month in which the Manager waived the fee or assumed or reimbursed the expense.

For the period March 2, 2026 (Commencement of Operations) through March 31, 2026, the Manager has reimbursed expenses amounting to $32,051 as included in the Statement of Operations, subject to recoupment by the Manager.

Waiver Expiration Period
March 31, 2029 .....	$32,051
Total .....	$32,051

The Manager may extend the Limitation Period for a period of one year on an annual basis, subject to approval of the General Partner after the initial Limitation Period expires.

Affiliates

As of March 31, 2026, the Manager owned 10,000 Class I units of the Partnership.

4. Financial Highlights

The following financial highlights for the period March 2, 2026 (Commencement of Operations) through March 31, 2026 are calculated for the individuals and entities who hold the units (“Unitholders”) as a whole and exclude data for the General Partner, except as otherwise noted herein. Calculation of these highlights on an individual Unitholder basis may yield results that vary from those stated herein due to the timing of capital transactions and differing fee arrangements.

Manager expense recoupment (reimbursement) . . . . .	(141.89)%
Net expenses . . . . .	226.17%

- (1) Per unit data has been calculated using the average units method.
- (2) The NAV and total returns have been calculated on net assets which include adjustments made in accordance with U.S. GAAP required at period end for financial reporting purposes.
- (3) Total return based on NAV per unit reflects the change in the NAV based on the effects of the performance of the Partnership during the period. Total return for periods less than 1 year have not been annualized.
- (4) Total return would have been lower had certain expenses not been waived and assumed by the Manager during periods of reimbursement.
- (5) Ratios have been annualized for periods of less than twelve months, except for organizational costs, offering costs which are one time expenses and incentive fees which are not annualized. Ratios include allocations of investment income and expenses from the Aggregator.

5. Net Assets

The Partnership, at the discretion of the General Partner, has the authority to issue an unlimited number of units of each Class (as defined below).

The Partnership offers four classes of limited partnership units: Class A, Class D, Class I and Class P (each a “Class”). The purchase price per unit of each Class is equal to the transactional NAV per unit (i.e., the price at which transactions in the Partnership’s units are made) for such Class as of the last calendar day of the immediately preceding month. Until the Partnership has determined its first Net Asset Value for the corresponding Class, the subscription price for Units will be $10.00 per Unit plus applicable subscription fees. Units are generally offered for purchase as of the first Business Day of each calendar month, with economic effect as of the first calendar day of such month, except that Units may be offered and investors may be admitted as Partners more or less frequently as determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion.

Servicing Fees

In respect of certain classes of Units, the Partnership is expected to pay participating broker dealers and other intermediaries ongoing servicing fees (“Servicing Fees”) equal to a percentage of Net Asset Value per annum for the applicable classes of Units. Class A Units bear a Servicing Fee of up to 0.85%. Class D Units bear a Servicing Fee of up to 0.25%. Class I and Class P Units will not bear a Servicing Fee.

Unit Redemptions

The General Partner of the Partnership currently expects to redeem Units as of the first Business Day of each calendar quarter, with economic effect as of the first calendar day of such quarter (each, a “Redemption Date”), using a purchase price equal to the Net Asset Value per Unit of the applicable Class (the “Redemption Price”) as of the last business day of the immediately preceding calendar quarter, or on such other date as the General Partner may determine (the “Valuation Date”). Unitholders may request that the Partnership redeem all or any portion of their Units. The Partnership may redeem fewer Units than have been requested in any particular quarter, or none at all, in its discretion at any time. In addition, the total amount of Units permitted to be redeemed per calendar quarter will generally be limited to no more than 5% of the aggregate Net Asset Value of the Partnership and its parallel funds, measured as of the last Business Day of the calendar quarter immediately preceding the Valuation Date. Units redeemed on a Redemption Date that is within 12 months of the purchase date of such Units will be subject to an Early Redemption Fee, for the benefit of the Partnership, of up to 5% of the applicable Redemption Price.

The following table presents transactions in Units for the period March 2, 2026 (Commencement of Operations) through March 31, 2026:

Units outstanding as of March 2, 2026 . . . . .	—	—	—	—

6. Indemnifications

In the normal course of business, the Partnership may enter into contracts that contain a variety of representations and warranties and which provide for general indemnifications. The Partnership’s maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Partnership that have not yet occurred. Based on the prior experience of the General Partner, the Partnership expects the risk of loss under these indemnifications to be remote.

7. Subsequent Events

Management has evaluated all events subsequent to March 31, 2026, through June 16, 2026, the date these financial statements were available to be issued. There were no events or transactions that occurred during this period that materially impacted the amounts or disclosures in these financial statements.

Report of Independent Auditors

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of HSEC Holdings L.P. (the “Aggregator”), which comprise the statement of assets, liabilities and partners’ capital, including the condensed schedule of investments, as of March 31, 2026, and the related statements of operations, of changes in partners’ capital and of cash flows, including the related notes for the period from March 2, 2026 (commencement of operations) through March 31, 2026 (collectively referred to as the “financial statements”).

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Aggregator as of March 31, 2026, and the results of its operations, changes in its partners’ capital and its cash flows for the period from March 2, 2026 (commencement of operations) through March 31, 2026 in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (US GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors’ Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Aggregator and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Aggregator’s ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditors’ Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors’ report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with US GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with US GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Aggregator's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Aggregator's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

1. Organization

HSEC Holdings L.P. (the “Aggregator”) is a Delaware limited partnership formed on September 29, 2025 and is a private investment fund exempt from registration pursuant to Section 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended. The Aggregator commenced operations on March 2, 2026 (“Commencement of Operations”). The Aggregator offers Limited Partner Interests (“Interests”).

The general partner of the Aggregator is HarbourVest GP LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the “General Partner”). The General Partner is authorized to establish additional classes or series of Interests with such terms, rights and obligations as determined in the sole discretion of the General Partner without receiving consent from the Limited Partners. The General Partner has delegated HarbourVest Partners L.P. (the “Manager”), a Delaware limited partnership, to manage the affairs of the Aggregator. The General Partner and the Manager are affiliates of HarbourVest Partners, LLC. HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Fund L.P. and HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Cayman Parallel Fund L.P. are limited partners of the Aggregator (the “Limited Partners”). New Limited Partners may be admitted to the Aggregator at any time with consent of the General Partner and without approval of any Limited Partner.

The Aggregator’s investment objective is to deliver capital growth over the medium to long term through direct or indirect exposure to the equity and debt of primarily private businesses, across geographies, sectors and stages primarily through secondary investments (“Secondary Investments”) and complemented by certain primary partnership investments (“Primary Partnership Investments”), in the private equity space, with the potential to generate medium- to long-term outperformance compared to public markets while striving to limit volatility and downside risk.

The Aggregator has entered into a limited partnership agreement as amended and restated with the General Partner. Under the terms of the Aggregator’s Partnership Agreement, overall responsibility for the Aggregator’s oversight rests with the General Partner.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The financial statements have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”). The Aggregator is an investment company following the accounting and reporting guidance issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) in Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) 946, Financial Services — Investment Companies. The following are significant accounting policies which are consistently followed in the preparation of the financial statements.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires the General Partner to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist primarily of cash and short-term investment which are readily convertible into cash. State Street Bank and Trust Company serves as the Aggregator’s custodian. Cash and cash equivalents are subject to credit risk to the extent those balances exceed the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (“FDIC”) limitations.

As of March 31, 2026, the Aggregator did not hold any cash. Short-term investment presented on the Condensed Schedule of Investments include deposits in money market accounts, which are classified as Level 1 assets. As of March 31, 2026, the Aggregator held short-term investment of $6,810,138.

Valuation of Investments

The Aggregator's investments are valued monthly at fair value consistent with the principles of ASC Topic 820 of the FASB ("ASC 820"). Where available, the Aggregator uses net asset value ("NAV") per share (or equivalent, such as member units, or an ownership interest in partners' capital to which a proportionate share of net assets is attributed), as reported by the sponsors and managers of the Aggregator's investments. In reviewing the underlying financial statements and NAVs, the Manager considers compliance with authoritative guidance on fair value measurements, the currency in which the investment is denominated, and other information deemed appropriate. If the Manager determines in good faith that a sponsor or manager is not reporting NAV consistent with U. S. GAAP, the Manager will undertake its own valuation analysis using fair value to determine the appropriate fair value. The amounts shown in the accompanying financial statements will include adjustments in accordance with U.S. GAAP, and as such, the NAVs reported for financial reporting purposes and the returns based on those NAVs may differ from the NAVs and returns used for partners' transactions.

Foreign Currency Translation

Foreign currency transactions, if any, are translated into U.S. Dollars at the exchange rate in effect at the transaction dates. Foreign currency balances are translated at the rates in effect at the valuation date. The Aggregator does not isolate that portion of net income or loss resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in fair value of investments. Such fluctuations are included on the Statement of Operations in net realized gains/(losses) and unrealized gain/(loss) on investments. Foreign currency gains and losses on cash and other receivables and payables, if any, are included in net realized gains/(losses) and unrealized gain/(loss) on foreign currency transactions on the Statement of Operations.

Investment Income

Distributions received from Primary Partnership Investments and Secondary Investments occur at irregular intervals and the exact timing of the distributions cannot be determined. The classification of distributions received in cash or in-kind, including return of capital, realized gains, interest income and dividend income, is based on information received from the manager or general partner of the Primary Partnership Investments and Secondary Investments. Excluding short-term investment, dividend income and interest income are recorded on a trade date and accrual basis. For short-term investment, dividend income from money market investments is accrued on a daily basis.

Aggregator Expenses

The Aggregator bears all expenses incurred in the course of its operations on an accrual basis, including, but not limited to, the following: all costs and expenses related to the Aggregator's investments, legal fees, professional fees, administration fees, custodian fees, transfer agent fees, valuation fees, insurance costs, expenses of the Board and other administrative expenses.

Net Realized Gains or Losses and Net Change in Unrealized Gain (Loss) on Investments

Net realized gains or losses will be measured as the difference between the net proceeds from the sale, repayment or disposal of an asset and the adjusted cost basis of the asset, without regard to unrealized gains or losses previously recognized. Net change in unrealized gains or losses reflects the change in investment values during the reporting period, including any reversal of previously recorded unrealized gains or losses, when gains or losses are realized.

Organizational Costs

Organizational costs are costs incidental to the organization of the Aggregator and are non-recurring in nature. Such costs are paid by the Manager and are subject to reimbursement by the Aggregator.

During the period from March 2, 2026 (commencement of operations) through March 31, 2026, the Aggregator incurred organizational costs of $2,051,260, which were expensed as incurred and are included in organizational costs in the Statement of Operations.

Income Taxes

The Aggregator has elected to be treated as a partnership for U.S. tax purposes.

The Aggregator accounts for income taxes under the provisions of ASC 740, "Income Taxes." This standard establishes consistent thresholds as it relates to accounting for income taxes. It defines the threshold for recognizing the benefits of tax-return positions in the financial statements as "more-likely-than-not" to be sustained by the taxing authority and requires measurement of a tax position meeting the more-likely-than-not criterion, based on the largest benefit that is more than fifty percent likely to be realized. The Aggregator may be subject to potential examination by certain taxing authorities in various jurisdictions. Any potential tax liability is also subject to ongoing interpretation of laws by taxing authorities. The tax years under potential examination vary by jurisdiction. The General Partner has analyzed the Aggregator's inventory of tax positions taken with respect to all applicable income tax issues for all open tax years (in each respective jurisdiction) and has concluded that no provision for income tax is required in the Aggregator's financial statements. Each partner individually may be required to report on its own tax return its pro rata share of the Aggregator's taxable income or loss.

The Aggregator may be subject to taxes imposed by countries in which it invests. Such taxes are generally based on income and/or capital gains earned or repatriated. Foreign taxes, if any, are recorded based on the tax regulations and rates that exist in the foreign markets in which the Aggregator invests. To the extent taxes are attributable to certain partners, the amounts are withheld from those partners' distributions and the withholdings are accounted for as deemed non-cash distributions to such partners. To the extent taxes are borne by the Aggregator, the amounts are accrued and applied to net investment income, net realized gains and net unrealized appreciation as such income and/or gains are earned, and the Aggregator records an estimated deferred tax liability in an amount that would be payable if the investments were disposed of on the valuation date. As of March 31, 2026, there were no deferred tax liabilities at the Aggregator level.

3. Fair Value Measurements

ASC 820 defines fair value as the value that the Aggregator would receive to sell an investment or pay to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction with an independent buyer in the principal market, or in the absence of a principal market, the most advantageous market for the asset or liability and establishes a three-level hierarchy for fair value measurements based upon the transparency of inputs to the valuation of an asset or liability. Inputs may be observable or unobservable and refer broadly to the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. Observable inputs reflect the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability based on market data obtained from sources independent of the Aggregator. Unobservable inputs reflect the Aggregator's own assumptions about the assumptions that market participants would use in valuing the asset or liability developed based on the best information available in the circumstances. The fair value hierarchy is categorized into three levels based on the inputs as follow:

Level 1: Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical investments as of the reporting date. The types of investments which would generally be included in Level 1 include listed equities, registered money market funds and short-term investment vehicles.

Level 2: Pricing inputs other than quoted prices in active markets, which are either directly or indirectly observable as of the reporting date, and fair value is determined through the use of models or other valuation methodologies. The types of investments which would generally be included in Level 2 include corporate bonds and loans and less liquid and restricted equity investments.

Level 3: Pricing inputs that are unobservable for the investment and include situations where there is little, if any, market activity for the investment. The inputs into the determination of fair value require significant management judgment and/or estimation. Those unobservable inputs, that are not corroborated by market data, generally reflect the reporting entity's own assumptions about the assumptions market participants would use in determining the fair value of the investment. The types of investments which would generally be included in Level 3 are equity and/or debt investments issued by private entities.

In accordance with ASC 820, an asset that does not have a readily determinable fair value may be measured utilizing the reported NAV (or its equivalent) as a practical expedient. If the reported practical expedient NAV is not as of the same date as the valuation date, the Aggregator is permitted under ASC 820 to adjust the most recent NAV per share (or its equivalent) as necessary in order to estimate the fair value of the investment. Investments measured using NAV as a practical expedient are excluded from the fair value hierarchy. Investments valued at NAV are included in the table below for reconciliation purposes.

The inputs or methodology used for valuing investments are not an indication of the risk associated with investing in those investments. Due to the uncertainty of estimates, fair value determinations based on estimates may materially differ from the values that would have been used had a ready market for the investments existed. The following is a summary of the Aggregator's investments classified by fair value hierarchy as of March 31, 2026:

	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Investments Valued at NAV or Adjusted NAV	Total

There were no transfers into or out of Level 3 during the period.

NAV as a Practical Expedient

As of March 31, 2026, a majority of the investments using NAV as a practical expedient may not be redeemed without the consent of a general partner's consent. Certain investments cannot be redeemed and distributions received will be a result of income and/or sales of underlying assets of each investment; however, an estimate of the period of time over which the underlying assets are expected to be liquidated for such investments cannot be made.

The following table summarizes the Aggregator's exposure in underlying investments held directly or indirectly through the interests of the Secondary Investments, which is greater than 5% of the Aggregator's total partners' capital as of March 31, 2026:

Underlying Investments
Direct Investments	Industry	Geography	Fair Value allocable to the Aggregator <sup>1</sup>

1. Investments may have been financed, in part, using leverage, and the fair value presented in the table above is not reflective of the impact of such leverage. The fair value disclosed in the Condensed Schedule of Investments takes into account such leverage.

4. Partners' Capital

Interests are offered on a monthly basis to eligible investors through each of the Limited Partners. Together, the Limited Partners will invest through the Aggregator by making capital contributions in proportion to its respective percentage interest.

For each fiscal year, net income (loss) of the Aggregator will be allocated among the capital accounts of the Limited Partners in accordance with the partnership agreement.

Limited Partners are not entitled to receive distributions, redeem or withdraw any amount from the Aggregator with respect to such Partner's Interest or withdraw from the Aggregator.

The Aggregator shall make distributions to Limited Partners from time to time and in such amounts as determined by the General Partner at its discretion. Such distributions will be made to the Limited Partners pro rata among the Limited Partners based on the percentage interest at the date which the distribution is accrued or in such other proportions as equitably determined by the General Partner; provided, that the General Partner may reinvest such proceeds in accordance with each of the partnership agreements. Such distributions may be in cash or in kind.

5. Commitments and Contingencies

The Aggregator had the following unfunded commitments as of March 31, 2026. The Aggregator intends to fulfill the unfunded commitments using proceeds from capital contributions from its Limited Partners.

Investment Type	Investment Strategy	Fair Value	Unfunded Commitments
Secondary Investments . . . . . ### 6. Financial Highlights

The financial highlights table represents the limited partners' financial performance for the period March 2, 2026 (commencement of operations) through March 31, 2026:

Total return <sup>1</sup> . . . . .	3.7%
Expense ratio <sup>2,3,4</sup> . . . . .	7.0%
Net investment loss ratio <sup>3,4,5</sup> . . . . .	(5.9)%
Portfolio turnover rate . . . . .	0.0%

- 1 Total return for periods less than twelve months have not been annualized.
- 2 The expense ratio is calculated by dividing the total expenses by the average Partners' Capital. The expense ratio attributable to an individual limited partners' account may vary based on tax-exempt status.
- 3 The ratios of expenses and net investment income or loss to average Partners' Capital do not reflect the Aggregator's proportionate share of income and expenses of underlying funds in which the Aggregator invests.
- 4 Ratios have been annualized for periods of less than twelve months, except for organizational costs which are a one-time expense.
- 5 The net investment income/(loss) ratio is calculated by dividing the net investment income/(loss) by the average Partners' Capital.

7. Indemnifications

In the normal course of business, the Aggregator may enter into contracts that contain a variety of representations and warranties and which provide for general indemnifications. The Aggregator's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Aggregator that have not yet occurred. Based on the prior experience of the General Partner, the Aggregator expects the risk of loss under these indemnifications to be remote.

SECOND AMENDED AND RESTATED LIMITED PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT

THIS SECOND AMENDED AND RESTATED LIMITED PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT OF HARBOURVEST PRIVATE EQUITY SECONDARIES FUND L.P., A DELAWARE LIMITED PARTNERSHIP (THE “PARTNERSHIP”), IS MADE AS OF [ ], 2026 (THE “EFFECTIVE DATE”).

R E C I T A L S:

WHEREAS, the Partnership was formed under the Act (as such term and certain other capitalized terms are defined in Article 14) pursuant to a Certificate of Limited Partnership filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware on September 29, 2025 (the “Commencement Date”) and since its formation has been governed by the Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership, dated September 29, 2025 (the “Original Agreement”);

WHEREAS, the parties amended and restated the Original Agreement in its entirety on March 13, 2026 (the “Prior Agreement”); and

WHEREAS, the parties hereto wish to amend and restate the Prior Agreement in its entirety and to enter into this Agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, the parties hereto hereby agree to continue the Partnership and hereby amend and restate the Original Agreement, which is replaced and superseded in its entirety by this Agreement, as follows:

Organization

1.1. Name. The name of the Partnership is “HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Fund L.P.” The General Partner is authorized to make any variations in the Partnership’s name which the General Partner may deem necessary or advisable, subject to any requirements of applicable law. In the case of a change of name of the Partnership pursuant to this section, specific references herein to the name of the Partnership shall be deemed to have been amended to the name as so changed.

1.2. Organizational Certificates and Other Filings. If requested by the General Partner, the Limited Partners shall promptly execute all certificates and other documents consistent with the terms of this Agreement necessary for the General Partner to accomplish all filing, recording, publishing and other acts that may be required to comply with all requirements for (a) the formation and operation of a limited partnership under the laws of the State of Delaware and (b) the operation of the Partnership as a limited partnership, or partnership in which the Limited Partners have limited liability, in all jurisdictions where the Partnership conducts or proposes to conduct business.

1.3. Classes of Units. The General Partner is hereby authorized to issue Units designated as set forth in the Memorandum and any other additional classes and/or series of Units with such terms, rights and obligations as determined in the sole discretion of the General Partner as set forth in Section 2.2(b) without receiving consent from the Limited Partners. The General Partner is authorized to convert Units of one Class to another Class (including combining Classes) without the consent of any Limited Partner or the Board of Directors; provided, if the terms applicable to a Limited Partner's Units will be materially worse as a result of such conversion, such Limited Partner will be required to consent to such conversion.

1.4. Character of Business. The purposes and business of the Partnership shall be making investments (indirectly through HSEC Holdings L.P., a Delaware limited partnership treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes (the "Aggregating Partnership")) in accordance with the investment objectives and policies of the Aggregating Partnership as in effect from time to time and to engage in any other lawful activity as the General Partner may from time to time determine. Subject to the provisions of this Agreement, the General Partner may from time to time adopt, amend, revise or terminate any policy or policies with respect to investments by the Partnership as it shall deem appropriate in its sole discretion. Investments may be effected on a global basis, using a wide variety of investment types and transaction structures, and may have long or short anticipated holding periods. For the avoidance of doubt, the Partnership shall carry out the purposes described in this Section 1.4 through its investment in the Aggregating Partnership and all provisions of this Agreement shall be interpreted consistently with such intent.

1.5. Registered Office and Agent in Delaware; Mailing Address. The address of the Partnership's registered office in the State of Delaware is Corporation Trust Center, 1209 Orange Street, Wilmington, New Castle County, Delaware 19801. The name of its registered agent at that address is The Corporation Trust Company. The Partnership shall from time to time have such other place or places of business within or without the State of Delaware as may be designated by the General Partner. The mailing address of the Partnership is c/o HarbourVest Partners, LLC, One Lincoln Street, Suite 1700, Boston, Massachusetts 02111 or such other place or places as the General Partner may from time to time designate by notice to the Limited Partners.

1.6. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Partnership shall end on March 31. The Partnership shall have the same fiscal year for U.S. income tax purposes and for accounting purposes.

1.7. Term. The Partnership commenced upon the Commencement Date and, unless the Partnership is earlier dissolved pursuant to Section 12.1 its term shall continue indefinitely. Following the dissolution and completion of the winding up of the Partnership, including the liquidation and distribution of the Partnership's assets in accordance with Section 12.2, the Partnership shall be terminated by filing a certificate of cancellation of the Certificate with the Delaware Secretary of State in accordance with the Act. For the avoidance of any doubt, the filing of such certificate of cancellation shall be the date on which the Partnership terminates.

1.8. Reserved.

1.9. Specific Authorization. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the General Partner, on its own behalf and on behalf of the Partnership, may execute, deliver and perform the Management Agreement (and any amendments approved in accordance with Section 9.1) and the Subscription Agreements, any amendments to such agreements and all agreements contemplated thereby and related thereto, all without any further act, approval or vote of any Partner or other Person. The General Partner is hereby authorized to enter into and perform on behalf of the Partnership the agreements described in the immediately preceding sentence, but such authorization shall not be deemed to be a restriction on the power of the General Partner to enter into other agreements on behalf of the Partnership (subject to any other restrictions expressly set forth in this Agreement).

1.10. Tax Classification of the Partnership. It is the intention of the Partners that the Partnership shall be treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The Partnership has elected, under the Code and Treasury Regulation Section 301.7701-3 thereunder to be treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes and neither the General Partner nor any Limited Partner shall take any action inconsistent with such treatment, including the filing of any election to treat the Partnership as other than a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes. To the extent not inconsistent with the preceding sentence, the General Partner shall have the authority to make or revoke, on behalf of the Partnership, any election permitted under the Code or the Treasury regulations thereunder or under the laws of any state, local or non-U.S. jurisdiction.

1.11. Parallel Funds. In addition to the Cayman Parallel Fund and the Delaware Parallel Fund, in order to facilitate the making of Portfolio Investments or sub-categories of Portfolio Investments by certain investors, the General Partner and its Affiliates may, in the sole discretion of the General Partner, establish one or more other parallel fund vehicles (each such vehicle or arrangement, each a "Parallel Fund") and any related feeder funds, including Limited Purpose Entities. To the extent reasonably practicable, taking into account applicable circumstances, each Parallel Fund shall, subject to applicable legal, tax, accounting, administrative or regulatory considerations or to relevant internal investment policy or guideline concerns of its investors, as applicable, generally (a) invest proportionately at the same time and on substantially the same terms and conditions as the Partnership, the Cayman Parallel Fund and the Delaware Parallel Fund and make and dispose of Portfolio Investments at the same time and on substantially the same terms and conditions as the Partnership, the Cayman Parallel Fund and the Delaware Parallel Fund; and (b) share proportionately in Partnership Expenses.

Subscriptions

2.1. Subscriptions. Units will be offered and investors will be admitted as Partners as of the first Business Day of each month, except that Units may be offered and investors may be admitted as Partners more or less frequently as determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion (each date on which Units are issued, a "Trade Date"). To the extent that any given Trade Date is not a first calendar day of a month, the economic effect of such Trade Date may be treated as the first calendar day of such month, as may be determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion. Each Partner, by executing a Subscription Agreement, shall be deemed to have acknowledged and consented to the risks and other considerations relating to an investment in the Partnership, including the risks and conflicts described in the Memorandum and to have agreed to the terms of this Agreement. Unless otherwise agreed with the General Partner, each initial or subsequent purchase of Units will be payable in full in a single installment which will generally be due three Business Days prior to the proposed Trade Date (the "Subscription Funding Deadline"). Each Partner's Unit holdings will be set forth opposite their names on the Partnership's books and records. The General Partner or any transfer agent or similar agent may keep the Partnership's books and records current through separate revisions that reflect periodic changes to each Limited Partner's Units (including as a result of Capital Contributions or repurchases) without preparing an amendment to this Agreement. Subscriptions may be accepted or rejected in whole or in part by the General Partner on behalf of the Partnership in its sole discretion. For the avoidance of doubt, Subscriptions will only be accepted to the extent that the Aggregating Partnership agrees to a corresponding increase in the Partnership's commitment to the Aggregating Partnership.

2.2. Issuance of Units.

(a) In connection with each Capital Contribution (or any deemed Capital Contribution) including pursuant to Section 5.5, a Partner shall be issued such number of Units the aggregate purchase price of which (as determined herein) equals such Capital Contribution (or deemed Capital Contribution). The purchase price for each Unit on a Trade Date shall be a price per Unit equal to the Net Asset Value per Unit as of the last Business Day of the immediately preceding month, unless determined otherwise by the General Partner; provided, that each Unit issued as of the first date that the Partnership issues Units shall have a price per Unit of $10. The amount of Units issued to each Partner shall be set forth in the books and records of the Partnership.

(b) The General Partner is hereby authorized to cause the Partnership to issue such additional Units for any Partnership purpose at any time or from time to time to the Partners (including the General Partner) or to other Persons for such consideration and on such terms and conditions as shall be established by the General Partner in its sole and absolute discretion (and notwithstanding anything set forth in this Agreement, amend this Agreement to implement the terms of such new classes or series), all without the consent or approval of any Limited Partners. Any additional Units issued thereby may be issued in one or more classes (including the classes specified in this Agreement or any other classes), or one or more series of any of such classes, with such designations, preferences and relative, participating, optional or other special rights, powers and duties, including rights, powers and duties senior to Units, all as shall be determined by the General Partner in its sole and absolute discretion and without the consent or approval of any Limited Partner, subject to Delaware law.

(c) Each new Limited Partner shall be admitted as a Limited Partner upon (a) the General Partner's acceptance of an executed Subscription Agreement, (b) unless otherwise agreed with the General Partner, such Person's required Capital Contribution being received by the Partnership, and (c) such Person being listed as a limited partner of the Partnership in the books and records of the Partnership. Admission of a new Limited Partner shall not cause dissolution of the Partnership.

(d) Unless otherwise agreed to by the General Partner, Capital Contributions to the Partnership must be made in cash by wire transfer of immediately available funds on or prior to the acceptance date set by the Partnership and notified to the Partners; provided, the General Partner may accept, on behalf of the Partnership, a subscription to the Partnership in the form of a non-cash contribution on terms and conditions that the General Partner deems appropriate in good faith. The value of any non-cash subscriptions by a Partner as of the date of contribution are set forth on the Partnership's books and records. No Units shall be deemed issued by the Partnership to a Partner until they are paid for in the amount and form agreed to with the General Partner. When issued pursuant to and in accordance with this Agreement, Units shall be fully paid and non-assessable, to the fullest extent permitted by law.

(e) The General Partner is authorized to issue fractional Units, and to effect the split, subdivision, combination or reclassification of Units; provided, that the proportionate interest of each Partner in the Partnership shall not be changed by any such split, subdivision, combination or reclassification. A fractional Unit shall carry proportionately all of the rights and obligations of a full Unit, including rights and obligations with respect to receipt of distributions, redemption of Units and liquidation of the Partnership. When issued pursuant to and in accordance with this Agreement, Units shall be fully paid and, to the fullest extent permitted by law, non-assessable. Each issued and outstanding Unit shall be entitled to receive allocations pursuant to Article 3 from, and including, the date on which such Unit is issued until, and including, the date on which such Unit is redeemed.

2.3. No Priorities of Limited Partners. Except as expressly provided in this Agreement, no Limited Partner shall be entitled to any return of capital, interest or compensation by reason of its subscription or by reason of serving as a Partner or have the right to demand or receive property other than cash in return for its subscription, nor shall any Limited Partner have priority over any other Partner either as to the return of its Capital Contributions or any part thereof or as to profits, losses or Distributions.

Capital Accounts and Allocations

3.1. Capital Accounts and Allocations. The Partnership shall establish and maintain for each Partner a separate capital account for partnership accounting purposes ("Capital Account") relating to the Units held by each Partner. Net Profits and Net Losses of the Partnership for each Fiscal Year shall be allocated among the Capital Accounts of the Partners in a manner that as closely as possible gives economic effect to the provisions of Article 5, Article 12 and other relevant provisions hereof.

Tax Advances and New Issues

4.1. Tax Advances. To the extent the General Partner reasonably determines that the Partnership (or any entity in which the Partnership directly or indirectly holds an interest) is required by law to withhold or to make tax payments (including interest and penalties thereon) on behalf of or with respect to any Partner or as a result of a Partner's participation in the Partnership, or as a result of or in connection with the redemption of all or a portion of a Limited Partner's Units ("Tax Advances"), the General Partner may withhold such amounts and make such tax payments as so required. All Tax Advances made on behalf of a Partner shall, at the option of the General Partner, (i) be promptly paid to the Partnership by the Partner on whose behalf such Tax Advances were made, (ii) be repaid by reducing the amount of any distributions which would otherwise have been made to such Partner or, if such distributions are not sufficient for that purpose, by so reducing the proceeds of liquidation otherwise payable to such Partner or (iii) be repaid by reducing the Units held by such Partner. Whenever the General Partner selects the option set forth in clause (ii) of the immediately preceding sentence for repayment of a Tax Advance by a Partner, for all other purposes of this Agreement such Partner shall be treated as having received all distributions unreduced by the amount of such Tax Advance. In addition, to the extent that any taxes are imposed on the Partnership (or any entity in which the Partnership directly or indirectly holds an interest and that is treated as a flow-through entity for relevant tax purposes) with respect to income of the Partnership (or such entity) in lieu of taxes imposed directly on a Partner with respect to such income (including any state or local income taxes), whether by election of the Partnership or the General Partner or otherwise, such amounts shall be deemed to have been distributed to such Partner. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary and to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, unless otherwise agreed by the General Partner in writing, each Partner hereby agrees to reimburse, indemnify and hold harmless the Partnership, the General Partner and any Related Party from and against any claim, liability and expenses of whatever nature with respect to Tax Advances payable, paid or required on behalf of or with respect to such Partner, or as a result of such Partner's participation in the Partnership. The obligations of a Partner set forth in this Section 4.1 shall survive the withdrawal of any Partner from the Partnership or any Transfer or redemption of a Limited Partner's Units. Each Partner shall furnish to the General Partner, and keep current, such information, forms and certifications as the General Partner may, in its discretion, deem necessary or advisable to comply with the regulations governing the obligations of withholding tax agents, as well as such information, forms and certifications the General Partner may, in its discretion, deem necessary or advisable to comply with any withholding taxes imposed by countries other than the United States and each Limited Partner represents and warrants that the information and forms furnished by it shall be true and accurate in all respects. The amount of any taxes paid by or withheld from receipts of the Partnership (or any entity in which the Partnership directly or indirectly holds an interest) that the General Partner reasonably determines are allocable to a Partner shall be deemed to have been distributed to each such Partner to the extent that the payment or withholding of such taxes reduced distribution proceeds otherwise distributable to such Partner as provided herein. Any taxes withheld or paid pursuant to this Section 4.1 shall be withheld or paid at the maximum applicable statutory rate under the applicable tax law, unless the General Partner shall have received an opinion of counsel or other evidence, satisfactory to the General Partner, to the effect that a lower rate is applicable or that no withholding or payment is applicable.

4.2. New Issues. Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary, any Net Profits or Net Losses attributable to a "new issue" within the meaning of Rule 5130 of the Conduct Rules of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. ("FINRA"), as modified, amended or superseded from time to time, will be allocated only to those Partners who are permitted under Rule 5130 or Rule 5131 of the Conduct Rules of FINRA to purchase such "new issue." The General Partner shall make such adjustments to the provisions of this Agreement, including to allocations and Distributions and any other items, as it shall determine to be equitable and desirable to give effect to the intent of the foregoing provision.

Distributions

1.1. Withdrawal of Capital. Except as otherwise expressly provided in Article 11, no Partner shall have the right to withdraw any amount from its Capital Account.

1.2. Distributions.

(a) Except as provided in this Section 5.2, Sections 5.5, 11.4 and 11.5, no Partner shall be entitled to receive distributions, redeem or withdraw any amount from the Partnership with respect to such Partner's Units or withdraw from the Partnership. The Partnership does not expect to make distributions to the Partners. However, to the extent the Partnership makes distributions to the Partners, other than in connection with any reinvestment program established by the Partnership, a redemption of Units or withdrawal of a Partner, as determined by the General Partner in its discretion, such distributions will be made at such times and in the same manner as distributions are received by the Partnership from the Aggregating Partnership and the Partnership will make such distributions to the Partners pro rata among the Partners based on Percentage Interests as of the date which such distribution is accrued as determined by the General Partner (taking into account factors that it determines to be necessary, appropriate and/or advisable, including the amount of any Partnership Expenses (including any accrued, contingent or anticipated expenses), payments and fees with respect to any indebtedness, the Management Fee, any Incentive Fee with respect to a Partner, anticipated investments, capital expenditures, follow-on investments, existing and anticipated redemptions, liquidity needs, reserves and any other factors determined by the Management Company), unless otherwise provided for in this Agreement or under applicable law. Subject to Section 5.5, the General Partner expects to reinvest any amounts received by the Partnership upon the disposition of a Portfolio Investment although the General Partner may use such amounts for any other purpose contemplated or permitted in this Agreement or otherwise permitted by applicable law. For the avoidance of doubt, any distributions that could otherwise be made by the Partnership may in the General Partner's discretion be used to satisfy redemptions in lieu of being distributed or deemed distributed.

(b) Although the General Partner does not intend to make distributions (other than distributions in respect of redemptions pursuant to Article 11), distributions made pursuant to this Agreement may be made in cash or in kind, or in a combination thereof, as and when received from the Aggregating Partnership to one or more of the Partners, and such distributions shall not be required to be made to all Partners. Notwithstanding the foregoing, unless otherwise agreed by the Independent Directors, distributions consisting of both cash and securities or other assets or instruments in-kind shall be made, to the extent practicable, in pro rata portions of cash and in-kind as to each Partner receiving such distributions. For the avoidance of doubt, the General Partner (or an Affiliate thereof) may in its sole discretion elect to receive all or a portion of its share of the Incentive Fee pursuant to Section 9.2 in the form of an in-kind distribution. Distributions and redemption payments in cash shall be made in U.S. dollars by wire transfer to the account specified for such Partner in the records of the Partnership.

(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth herein, the Partnership and the General Partner, on behalf of the Partnership, shall not be required to make a distribution to any Partner on account of its interest in the Partnership if, at the time of such distribution, such distribution would violate the Act or applicable law.

5.3. Information Reporting Regimes.

(a) Each Partner shall, unless otherwise agreed by the General Partner in writing, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, reimburse the Partnership, the General Partner and each Related Party for all claims, liabilities and expenses of whatever nature relating to the Partnership's, the General Partner's or such Related Party's obligation to withhold and to pay over, or otherwise pay, any withholding or other taxes payable by the Partnership, the General Partner or such Related Party, in each case, with respect to such Partner, or as a result of such Partner's participation in the Partnership.

(b) In the event that the Partnership receives a distribution or payment from or in respect of which tax has been withheld or other taxes have been paid and such tax is attributable to one or more Partners (other than any such tax or payment imposed without regard to the tax status or attributes of the Partners and that the General Partner determines is non-refundable to all Partners), the Partnership shall be deemed to have received cash in an amount equal to the amount of such withholding or other taxes, and each such Partner shall be treated as having received as a Distribution or an advance the portion of such amount that is attributable to such Partner's interest in the Partnership as equitably determined by the General Partner.

(c) Each Partner shall provide the General Partner and the Partnership with any information, representations, certificates, forms or other documentation relating to such Partner and its direct or indirect owners or account holders that are requested from time to time by the General Partner and that the General Partner determines in its sole discretion are necessary or appropriate in order for any Partnership Entity to (i) avoid any withholding required under any Information Reporting Regime (including, without limitation, any withholding upon any payments to any Partnership Entity or any of its Affiliates or to any Partner under this Agreement), (ii) comply with any reporting or withholding requirements under any Information Reporting Regime, (iii) enter into, maintain or comply with an "FFI Agreement," as defined in the Code and the Treasury Regulations thereunder (or any other agreement entered into in connection with any Information Reporting Regime), (iv) otherwise comply with any Information Reporting Regime (or allow a third party to comply with any Information Reporting Regime with respect to such Partnership Entity), or (v) determine any Partnership Entity's status under, avoid any taxes or other costs under, or comply with any laws and regulations implementing, the EU directives against tax avoidance (Directives (EU) 2016/1164 and 2017/952, as amended from time to time) and ensuring a global minimum level of taxation (Directive (EU) 2022/2523, as amended from time to time). In addition, each Partner shall take such actions as the General Partner may reasonably request in connection with the foregoing. In the event that any Partner fails to provide any of the information, representations, certificates, forms or documentation (or take any action) required under this Section 5.3(c), the General Partner shall have full authority to and may, in its sole discretion, (x) cause a transfer of all of such Partner's Units in the Partnership to a Person selected by the General Partner in a transaction that complies with Article 11 in exchange for any consideration that can be obtained for such Units or (y) take any other actions as the General Partner determines in its sole discretion are necessary or appropriate to mitigate any consequences of such Partner's failure to comply with this Section 5.3(c) to any Partnership Entities and the other Partners. The General Partner shall make such revisions to the books and records of the Partnership as may be necessary to reflect any change in Partners and Capital Contributions made pursuant to this Section 5.3(c). Each Partner shall execute any documents, opinions, instruments and certificates as the General Partner may reasonably request or that are otherwise required to effectuate any of the foregoing. Any Partner that fails to comply with this Section 5.3(c) shall, unless otherwise agreed by the General Partner in writing, to the fullest extent permitted by law, reimburse the General Partner, the Partnership, each other Partner and each other Partnership Entity for any costs or expenses arising from such failure or failures, including, without limitation, any withholding tax imposed under any Information Reporting Regime on any of the Partnership Entities and any withholding or other taxes imposed as a result of a transfer effected pursuant to this Section 5.3(c). Each Partner acknowledges and agrees that any information in respect of such Partner (and its direct or indirect owners or account holders) provided to the General Partner or the Partnership in accordance with this Section 5.3(c) and any transaction entered into by the Partnership may be disclosed to any government, taxing authority or withholding agent or any other Person to whom such disclosure is required by any Information Reporting Regime or necessary to avoid any withholding tax or penalties under any Information Reporting Regime. Each Limited Partner is hereby notified that, to the extent required under any Information Reporting Regime provision, a report pursuant to any such provision will be made in respect of any relevant Limited Partner.

(d) The obligations set forth in this Section 5.3 shall survive the dissolution and termination of the Partnership. If the Partners are required to return amounts to the Partnership pursuant to this Section 5.3 after the dissolution and termination of the Partnership, such amounts shall be paid by the Partners as directed by the General Partner or such other Person as may be appointed to oversee the winding up, dissolution and termination of the Partnership.

5.4. Net Asset Value. The value of the Partnership's investments shall be determined in good faith in accordance with the Valuation Policies. The Net Asset Value of each Unit of each class of Units is determined monthly by the General Partner in its sole discretion. For the calculation of the Partnership's Net Asset Value for financial reporting purposes, the Partnership will use accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. The Net Asset Value per Unit of each Class of Units is determined by dividing the Partnership's total assets attributable to such Class less the value of any liabilities (including accrued expenses or distributions) of such Class, by the total number of Units outstanding of such Class. As the Partnership is formed for the purpose of investing in and conducting its investment program through the Aggregating Partnership, the General Partner shall rely conclusively on the valuations reported by the Aggregating Partnership in valuing the Partnership's interest in the Aggregating Partnership.

5.5. Reinvestment Program. The Partnership does not expect to make distributions to the Partners. However, the Partnership may establish a reinvestment program with respect to all or certain of its Units upon notice to all Limited Partners or the Limited Partners holding the relevant Units, but without the consent of any other Person.

5.6. Liabilities; Reserves. Liabilities shall be determined in accordance with GAAP, applied on a consistent basis. The General Partner may, through the Aggregating Partnership, establish holdbacks and reserves (including, by setting aside cash or other assets, requiring Capital Contributions or withholding amounts from distributions at any time) to satisfy or create, in its sole discretion (even if not otherwise required by GAAP), reserves for estimated or accrued expenses, fees (including the Management Fee, the Incentive Fee and Partnership Expenses) and liabilities (including without limitation the repayment of any indebtedness of the Partnership, any Intermediate Entity or any of their investments or the funding of any guarantee), contingent or otherwise, of the Partnership (and, where determined appropriate by the General Partner in its discretion, any Parallel Fund, any Intermediate Entity or any feeder fund of the Partnership or a Parallel Fund) and future capital requirements of any kind relating to existing or future Portfolio Investments of the Partnership (and, where determined appropriate by the General Partner in its discretion, of any Parallel Fund or Intermediate Entity) as well as for any required tax withholdings, which holdbacks or reserves may, in the General Partner's discretion, be charged and accrued against the Net Asset Value of the Partnership or the net asset value of any Intermediate Entity, in proportion to each Partner's Percentage Interest in the Partnership (or indirect interest in any Intermediate Entity, if applicable), in any amounts that the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate. It is understood that such holdbacks or reserves may reduce the amount otherwise available for distribution, including upon any partial or total redemption of a Partner's Units, by an amount equal to the proportionate share charged and accrued against such redeemed Units immediately prior to such redemption in accordance with the previous sentence.

1.7. Temporary Investments. At such times as the funds of the Partnership are not invested in the Aggregating Partnership or securities received from the Aggregating Partnership, the General Partner on behalf of the Partnership may invest such funds in marketable direct obligations issued or unconditionally guaranteed by any of France, Germany, the United Kingdom or the United States of America, or issued by any agency of the United States of America, in each case, maturing within one year from the date of acquisition thereof; money market instruments such as commercial paper, asset-backed commercial paper, time deposits or other short-term debt obligations having at the date of purchase by the Partnership the highest or second highest rating obtainable from at least one U.S. nationally recognized statistical rating organization ("NRSRO"), certificates of deposit maturing within one year from the date of acquisition thereof issued by commercial banks incorporated under the laws of France, Germany, the United Kingdom or the United States of America or any state of the United States of America or the District of Columbia, each having at the date of acquisition by the Partnership combined capital and surplus of not less than $250,000,000; repurchase agreements with brokers, dealers or banks and other entities having at the date of purchase by the Partnership the highest or second highest rating obtainable from at least one NRSRO, collateralized by U.S. Treasury securities or securities issued or guaranteed by the U.S. government or by its agencies; or pooled investment funds or accounts which invest only in such securities or instruments (collectively, "Temporary Investments").

Duties and Powers of and Restrictions Upon the General Partner and the Limited Partners

6.1. Borrowing.

(a) The General Partner shall have the right, at its option at any time and from time to time through the termination of the Partnership, without the need for any further consent or other action by the Board of Directors or any Limited Partner, to cause the Partnership (including directly or indirectly through one or more special purpose vehicles or Intermediate Entities) to incur, assume, guarantee or collateralize indebtedness from any Person (including the Management Company or any Related Party), and/or provide other credit support, on such terms as the General Partner determines appropriate in its discretion, including, in each case, (i) on a joint, several, joint and several or cross-collateralized basis with one or more (A) other Partnership Entities or (B) co-invest vehicles or Other HarbourVest Entities that invest alongside the Partnership in a Portfolio Investment or (ii) in connection with and for the benefit of any Lower Entity or any Portfolio Entity, or in each case of clauses (i) and (ii) above, any Affiliate thereof, in each case for any purpose of the Partnership or any purpose related to any Portfolio Investment as directed by the General Partner, including, without limitation, (1) to provide all or a portion of the capital necessary to pay Partnership Expenses, Management Fees, Incentive Fees and any amounts necessary or appropriate to withdrawing or redeeming Partners, or to engage in restructuring of the Fund or any of its subsidiaries, and (2) to provide permanent financing or to provide interim financing to consummate the purchase of Portfolio Investments (whether or not actually purchased) prior to completion of the permanent debt financing therefor or prior to the receipt of Capital Contributions. The Partnership and the General Partner (on behalf of the Partnership) are authorized, without the need for any further consent or other action by the Board of Directors or any Limited Partner, to pledge, grant powers of attorney and create security interests in favor of the lenders and/or their agents to secure obligations under any such credit facilities with respect to any assets (including, without limitation, any depository or other accounts), rights or remedies of the Partnership, the General Partner or any other Partnership Entity, co-invest vehicle, Other HarbourVest Entity, Lower Entity or Portfolio Entity, or any Affiliate thereof. In addition, the Partnership and the General Partner (on behalf of the Partnership) are authorized to guarantee (on a secured or unsecured basis) the indebtedness and other obligations of any Parallel Fund, other Partnership Entity, co-invest vehicle, Other HarbourVest Entity, Lower Entity or Portfolio Entity, or any Affiliate thereof, incurred in connection with any such credit facility. Notwithstanding any provisions of this Agreement and without the need for any further consent or other action by the Board of Directors or any Limited Partner, in connection with any indebtedness of the Partnership, the Partnership, and the General Partner on its own behalf and/or on behalf of the Partnership, is authorized to, and shall, enter into and perform any documents or agreements contemplated thereby or related thereto and any amendments thereto. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Partners acknowledge and agree that there are no restrictions on borrowing by the Portfolio Investments.

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing, other than borrowings incurred solely to provide interim financing prior to the receipt of capital (and not for permanent or long-term financing with respect to the Portfolio Investments or the Partnership Expenses), the Partnership does not intend to create or incur indebtedness for borrowed money that would cause the aggregate amount of recourse indebtedness for borrowed money incurred by the Partnership to exceed 33 1/3% of the Partnership's total assets, measured at the time of such borrowings; provided that any guarantees by the Partnership of indebtedness shall not be taken into account for the purpose of the foregoing restriction; provided, further that with respect to any joint indebtedness of the Partnership Entities, only the Partnership's allocable share of such joint indebtedness (and not any other amounts of indebtedness of the other Partnership Entities) shall be taken into account for the purposes of the foregoing restriction, provided, further, that any investment subsidiary or other Portfolio Entity of the Partnership may incur indebtedness or provide guarantees (in each case, including in respect of any NAV facility) which shall not be taken into account for purposes of the foregoing restriction and the Limited Partners hereby expressly understand and agree that, notwithstanding the foregoing restriction, all or any portion of any indebtedness of any subsidiary or other Portfolio

Entity of the Partnership, or of any other Partnership Entity, co-invest vehicle, Other HarbourVest Entity or Lower Entity, or any Affiliate thereof, may be secured by the Portfolio Investments or other assets of the Partnership without the need for any further consent or other action by the Board of Directors or any Limited Partner. During the initial ramp-up period of the Partnership, and at other times as determined appropriate by the General Partner in its sole discretion, borrowing by the Partnership may exceed the 33 1/3% target described in this Section 6.1. Additionally, the Partnership may incur additional indebtedness for borrowed money that causes the borrowings by the Partnership to exceed the limitations described in this Section 6.1 to the extent the General Partner expects at the time of each such incurrence that the amount of borrowing by the Partnership shall be reduced to less than or equal to the stated limitations within 12 months from the date the borrowing initially exceeded such threshold.

(c) The Management Company or any Related Party may advance amounts to the Aggregating Partnership on a temporary basis in anticipation of the receipt of borrowings from third parties in order to facilitate the purposes set forth in clauses (1) and (2) of Section 6.1(a), which amounts will be reimbursed to the Management Company or the relevant Related Party at cost (without interest or other carrying charges) as and when the relevant borrowings are received. The Limited Partners hereby expressly understand and agree that, notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, (A) all or any portion of such indebtedness (including any guarantee) may be secured by the Portfolio Investments or other assets of the Aggregating Partnership, and (B) any of the entities set forth in clauses (i) or (ii) of Section 6.1(a), or any Affiliate thereof, may be jointly and severally liable on a cross-collateralized basis for the repayment of any such indebtedness (or guarantee). Without limiting the foregoing, without the need for any further consent or other action by the Board of Directors or any Limited Partner, the Partnership, and the General Partner on its own behalf and/or on behalf of the Partnership, is authorized to, and shall, enter into and perform any documents or agreements between or among any of the entities set forth in clauses (i) or (ii) of Section 6.1(a), or any Affiliate thereof, as the General Partner, in its sole discretion, deems necessary or appropriate to cause each such entity to bear its pro rata share of any indebtedness (including any guarantee) contemplated by this Agreement and incurred or guaranteed by any of them, which may be on a joint and several basis.

6.2. Powers of General Partner. The management, control, operation, conduct of business and determination of policies of the Partnership shall be vested exclusively in the General Partner, which shall have the power by itself and shall be authorized and empowered on behalf and in the name of the Partnership, to carry out any and all of the objects and purposes of the Partnership and to perform all acts and enter into and perform all contracts and other undertakings that it may in its sole discretion deem necessary or advisable in connection therewith or incidental thereto. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, the General Partner shall have all the rights and powers and be subject to all the restrictions and liabilities of a general partner in a limited partnership under the Act. To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, all references to the discretion or sole discretion of the General Partner (other than discretion or sole discretion that relates solely to the administration of the Partnership and that does not relate to the investment program of the Partnership or the Aggregating Partnership) are intended to be interpreted as the General Partner acting consistent with or at the direction of the general partner of the Aggregating Partnership.

Without limiting the foregoing general powers and duties, the General Partner is hereby authorized and empowered on behalf and in the name of the Partnership, or on its own behalf and in its own name as may be appropriate, to:

- (a) direct the formulation of investment policies and strategies for the Partnership, and select and approve the investment of Partnership funds;
- (b) acquire, hold, sell, transfer, exchange and dispose of Securities, and exercise all rights, powers, privileges and other incidents of ownership or possession with respect to Securities, including, without limitation, the voting of Securities, and at the Aggregating Partnership or Portfolio Entities, the approval of restructuring of investments in Portfolio Entities, participation in arrangements with creditors of Portfolio Entities, the institution and settlement or compromise of suits and administrative proceedings and other similar matters;
- (c) open, maintain and close bank accounts and draw checks or other orders for the payment of money and open, maintain and close brokerage, custody, mutual fund and similar accounts;
- (d) engage and terminate consultants, attorneys, accountants and such other agents and employees for itself and for the Partnership as it may deem necessary or advisable, and authorize any such agent or employee to act for and on behalf of the Partnership;
- (e) subject to its ultimate responsibility for the management of the Partnership, delegate any of its duties hereunder to the Management Company or any other Person, and in furtherance of any such delegation to appoint, employ, or contract with any Person it may in its sole discretion deem necessary or desirable for the transaction of the business of the Partnership, which Person (including the Management Company) may, under the supervision of the General Partner, provide portfolio management, valuation and administrative services for the Partnership;
- (f) subject to Section 6.1, to borrow money and make, issue, accept, endorse and execute promissory notes, drafts, bills of exchange and other instruments and evidences of indebtedness, and secure the payment thereof by mortgage, pledge or assignment of or security interest in all or any part of the securities and other property then owned or thereafter acquired by the Partnership (including on a cross-collateralized and/or joint and/or several basis with any other Partnership Entity, co-invest vehicle, Other HarbourVest Entity, Lower Entity or Portfolio Entity, or any Affiliate thereof);
- (g) subject to Section 6.1, endorse, accept or guarantee the payment of any notes, drafts or other obligations (including indebtedness) of any Person; make contracts of guaranty or suretyship, or otherwise assume liability for payment thereof; and mortgage and pledge, assign and/or otherwise collateralize any part of the securities and other property then owned or thereafter acquired by the Partnership including on a cross-collateralized basis with any Parallel Fund, Intermediate Entity, Alternative Vehicle, feeder fund, co-invest vehicle, Other HarbourVest Entity, Lower Entity or Portfolio Entity, or any Affiliate thereof (including in connection with a guarantee by the Partnership of any indebtedness or other obligation of the Partnership or any Person) to secure any or all such obligations (including indebtedness); and

(h) make and perform such other agreements and undertakings as may be necessary or advisable to the carrying out of any of the foregoing powers, objects or purposes.

The expression of any power or authority of the General Partner in this Agreement shall not in any way limit or exclude any other power or authority permitted under the Act which is not specifically or expressly set forth in this Agreement or the Management Agreement.

6.3. Allocation of Investment Opportunities. The investment opportunities deemed appropriate for the Aggregating Partnership by the General Partner or Management Company which are offered to the General Partner or the Management Company or their respective Affiliates (other than investment opportunities that are offered to (i) an Affiliate primarily as a result of such Affiliate's ownership in pre-existing investments, (ii) Separate Accounts as a result of relationships that one or more beneficial owners thereof may have with other sponsors or, for the avoidance of doubt, relationships arising from pre-existing investments by any Separate Account in which such beneficial owner participates or (iii) any Regulated HarbourVest Entity) will generally be allocated among the Aggregating Partnership and any Other HarbourVest Entities on a fair and equitable basis, in accordance with the allocation policy of the Management Company, as may be updated from time to time; provided that (a) with respect to Secondary Partnership Investments, funds comprising the Dover Program shall have investment priority over the Partnership with respect to at least 70% of any Secondary Partnership Investment, (b) the Real Assets Program shall have priority (including priority over the Dover Program) over investments in Secondary Partnership Investments which are determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion to have as their principal investment objective investing in power, energy, oil and gas, natural resources, real estate or infrastructure assets, and (c) the funds comprising the Credit Program shall have priority (including priority over the Dover Program) over investments in Secondary Partnership Investments which have as their principal investment objective investing in debt.

6.4. Other Business Relationships. Subject to the provisions of Section 6.3, the General Partner and its Affiliates may engage independently or with others in other investments or business ventures of any kind, which may be similar or dissimilar to, or in or not in competition with, the investments or business of the Partnership, and neither the Partnership nor any of the Partners shall have any rights by virtue of this Agreement in and to such investments or business ventures or the income or profits derived therefrom. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the General Partner may establish, invest in, manage or otherwise enter into contracts with other limited partnerships or other entities with the same purposes as the Partnership and in which the General Partner has substantially the same kinds of responsibilities as in this Agreement. Except as provided in Section 6.11, without the consent of the Independent Directors, neither the General Partner nor any of its Affiliates (including, without limitation, the Management Company) will sell Portfolio Investments or other Securities to, or purchase Portfolio Investments or other Securities from, the Aggregating Partnership; provided that, notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, to the extent not otherwise prohibited by law, the Aggregating Partnership may (without the consent of any Directors or any Limited Partners) sell Securities to, or purchase Securities from, an Other HarbourVest Entity (a) at fair market value as determined by the General Partner in its discretion or (b) within 24 months following the acquisition thereof by the Aggregating Partnership or such Other HarbourVest Entity, as applicable, at the Aggregating Partnership's or such Other HarbourVest Entity's, as applicable, cost (which cost shall include cost of funds and, without duplication, any interest, fees and other charges incurred by the Aggregating Partnership or such Other HarbourVest Entity, as applicable, in connection with its acquisition and holding of such Securities). For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section 6.4 shall prohibit any employee of the Management Company or any of its Affiliates from acquiring, directly or indirectly, a limited partner interest in the Partnership.

6.5. Powers of Limited Partners. No Limited Partner, as such, shall take part in or interfere in any manner with the management, conduct or control of the business or affairs of the Partnership or have any right or authority to act for or bind the Partnership. The Limited Partners, for any purpose reasonably related to their interests as limited partners of the Partnership, shall have the right to obtain information possessed by the General Partner concerning the Partnership's investments, subject to the right of the General Partner, in its sole discretion, to the fullest extent permitted by the Act, to keep confidential from the Limited Partners for such period of time as the General Partner deems reasonable any information which the General Partner reasonably believes to be in the nature of trade secrets or other information the disclosure of which the General Partner in good faith believes is not in the best interest of the Partnership or could damage the Partnership or its business or which the Partnership is required by law or by an agreement with any third party to keep confidential.

6.6. Limited Purpose Entities.

(a) A Limited Purpose Entity may, with the consent of the General Partner, participate in the Partnership through the subscription for Units in the Partnership. In applying the provisions of this Agreement, in order to determine the rights and obligations of any limited partner or equity holder of a Limited Purpose Entity (including with respect to allocations, distributions to such limited partner or other equity holder and the Management Fee and/or Incentive Fee), the General Partner may, in its discretion, treat any limited partner or equity holder of a Limited Purpose Entity as if each limited partner or equity holder owning interests in such Limited Purpose Entity were a separate Limited Partner of the Partnership that committed an amount equal to its capital contributions to such Limited Purpose Entity directly to the Partnership.

(b) On any occasion that the Limited Partners of the Partnership have the right to vote on or consent to a matter (collectively a "Vote"), the General Partner may permit any Limited Purpose Entity to divide its Vote into one or more separate Votes, including to divide its Vote so that a portion of its Units is voted for a matter, a portion is voted against the matter and a portion abstains; provided that, in all cases the aggregate of the interests voted by such Limited Purpose Entity do not exceed the amount the Limited Purpose Entity is entitled to exercise under the terms of this Agreement at such time.

(c) The General Partner may make any adjustments to the Units of a Limited Purpose Entity that the General Partner determines are reasonably necessary to accomplish the overall objectives of this Section 6.6 provided that, such adjustments shall not adversely affect the Units of any other Limited Partner and provided, further, that nothing in this Section 6.6 shall be construed as making any limited partner or equity holder of a Limited Purpose Entity a Limited Partner for any purpose.

6.7. Media Company Agreement. To facilitate investments by the Partnership in entities that, directly or indirectly, own, control or operate Media Companies, no Limited Partner (and no officer, director, partner, member, or equivalent non-corporate official of such Limited Partner) shall:

(a) act as an employee of the Partnership if such Person's functions, directly or indirectly, relate to the media enterprises of the Partnership or of any Media Company;

(b) serve, in any material capacity, as an independent contractor or agent with respect to the media enterprises of the Partnership or of any Media Company;

(c) communicate on matters pertaining to the day-to-day media operations of the Partnership or of a Media Company with (i) any officer, director, partner, member, agent, representative or employee of such Media Company, or (ii) the General Partner or the Management Company;

(d) perform any services relating to the media activities of the Partnership or of any Media Company, except that any Limited Partner may make loans to, or act as a surety for, such Media Company; or

(e) become actively involved in the management or operation of the media businesses of the Partnership or of any Media Company.

As used in this Section 6.7, "Media Company" shall mean any Portfolio Entity and any portfolio investment of such Portfolio Entity that, directly or indirectly, owns, controls or operates a broadcast radio or television station, a cable television system, a satellite master antenna television service, a "broadband radio service" or any other communications facility operated pursuant to a license granted by the Federal Communications Commission (the "FCC") and subject to the provisions of section 310(b) of the Communications Act, or any other business that is subject to the FCC Ownership Rules.

As used in this Section 6.7, "FCC Ownership Rules" shall mean the multiple and cross-ownership rules of the FCC, including 47 C.F.R. sections 27.1202, 73.3555, 76.501, 76.503 and any other regulations or written policies of the FCC that (i) limit or restrict ownership in media or communications companies on the basis of ownership in other media or communications companies and (ii) provide that limited partners may, in accordance therewith, be insulated from having attributable interests in media or communications companies in which the partnerships in which they hold limited partner interests have attributable interests, as such rules may be amended from time to time.

6.8. Limited Partners Subject to the Bank Holding Company Act. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, all BHC Partners shall be subject to the limitations on voting set forth in this Section 6.8. If at any time a BHC Partner holds an interest in the Partnership that would otherwise represent 5% or more of the total voting interests in the Partnership, such BHC Partner may not vote any portion of its interest in the Partnership representing in excess of 4.99% of the interests in the Partnership entitled to vote. Whenever the vote, consent or decision of a Limited Partner is required or permitted pursuant to this Agreement, a BHC Partner shall not be entitled to participate in such vote or consent, or to make such decision, with respect to the portion of such BHC Partner's interest in excess of 4.99% of the interests in the Partnership, and such vote, consent or decision shall be tabulated or made as if such BHC Partner were not a Partner with respect to such BHC Partner's interest in excess of 4.99% of the interests in the Partnership. Each BHC Partner hereby further irrevocably waives its corresponding right to vote for a successor general partner under the Act with respect to any non-voting interest, which waiver shall be binding upon such BHC Partner and any Person that succeeds to its interest. In the event that two or more BHC Partners are affiliated, the limitations of this Section 6.8 shall apply to the aggregate interests in the Partnership held by such BHC Partners and each such BHC Partner shall be entitled to vote its pro rata portion of 4.99% of the interests in the Partnership entitled to vote. Except as provided in this Section 6.8, any interest of a BHC Partner held as a non-voting interest shall be identical in all respects to the interests of the other Limited Partners. Any such interest held as a non-voting interest shall remain a non-voting interest in the event that the BHC Partner holding such interest ceases to be a BHC Partner and shall continue as a non-voting interest with respect to any Assignee or other transferee of such interest.

6.9. Alternative Vehicles.

(a) If the general partner of the Aggregating Partnership determines in good faith that for legal, tax, accounting, regulatory or other similar reasons it is in the best interests of some or all of the Partners that all or a portion of an investment be made through an Alternative Vehicle, the general partner of the Aggregating Partnership shall be permitted to structure and restructure all or any portion of any investment outside of the Partnership by requiring any Partner or Partners to indirectly hold such investment indirectly through a limited partnership or other vehicle or vehicles (other than the Partnership) that shall invest on a parallel basis with or in lieu of the Partnership (or transfer the investment to such vehicle after the initial consummation thereof), as the case may be (any such structure or vehicle, an "Alternative Vehicle"). The general partner of the Aggregating Partnership is expressly authorized to make capital contributions or subscriptions and take such other actions to cause each Limited Partner to be a participant in, and be bound to the governing agreement of, an Alternative Vehicle. Each such Partner shall have the same economic interest in all material respects in investments made pursuant to this Section 6.9 as such Partner would have if such investment had been made solely by the Partnership, and the other terms of such Alternative Vehicle shall be substantially the same in all material respects to those of the Partnership, to the maximum extent applicable (including, but not limited to the appointment of the general partner of the Aggregating Partnership as attorney-in-fact pursuant to Section 15.1 hereof), with such differences as may be required to accommodate legal, tax, accounting, national security, regulatory or other similar considerations; provided, that the General Partner or an Affiliate thereof shall serve as general partner or in some other similar management capacity with respect to such Alternative Vehicle; provided, further, that any Alternative Vehicle in which a Limited Partner directly invests shall provide for the limited liability of such Limited Partner as a matter of the organizational documents of such Alternative Vehicle and as a matter of local law to the same extent in all material respects as is provided to the Limited Partners under the Act and this Agreement; provided, further, that any reports relating to such Alternative Vehicle may be provided in a combined format with reports relating to the Partnership and/or any other Alternative Vehicle. Distributions of cash and other property and the allocations of income, gain, loss, deduction, expense and credit from such Alternative Vehicle shall be determined as if each investment made by such vehicle were an investment made by the Partnership. The general partner of the Aggregating Partnership shall not cause a Limited Partner to participate in an investment through an Alternative Vehicle if such Alternative Vehicle would result in material adverse consequences for such Limited Partner and such consequences would not have resulted if such investment had been made by the Partnership and not such Alternative Vehicle, other than (i) the reasonable costs of organizing such Alternative Vehicle or (ii) as a result of the incurrence of tax by an Alternative Vehicle or Intermediate Entity that is taxable as a corporation for United States federal income tax purposes or any other entity that is formed to hold interests in an Alternative Vehicle, Intermediate Entity or Portfolio Investment and is taxable as a corporation for United States federal income tax purposes. The General Partner shall provide each Limited Partner with a copy of the limited partnership agreement (or other governing documents) of any Alternative Vehicle in which such Limited Partner participates following the execution of such agreement.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, Portfolio Entities of an Alternative Vehicle will be held through a vehicle (an “Aggregating AIV”) owned by such Alternative Vehicle and the Parallel Funds in the same proportions as the Partnership and the Parallel Funds own the Aggregating Partnership. The General Partner shall use commercially reasonable efforts to ensure that any Aggregating AIV should not be deemed to constitute “plan assets” of any Limited Partner that is a “benefit plan investor” within the meaning of ERISA.

6.10. Aggregating Partnership.

(a) Subject to Section 6.9(b) and Section 6.11, Portfolio Entities will be held through the Aggregating Partnership and owned by the Partnership and the Parallel Funds. To the fullest extent permitted by law, any reference herein to the Partnership may be considered, in the sole discretion of the General Partner and as the context requires, to be a reference to the Aggregating Partnership. For the avoidance of doubt, the Aggregating Partnership may serve as an Aggregating AIV for any Portfolio Entities of an Alternative Vehicle and the General Partner shall have full authority to interpret in good faith Section 6.9(b) and Section 6.10 and the other provisions of this Agreement to give effect to the intent of such provisions.

(b) In connection with any admission of a Limited Partner or redemption of Units or Parallel Fund Units, the Parallel Funds may from time to time acquire interests in any Intermediate Entity from, or sell interests to, the Partnership or any other Parallel Fund at the most recently calculated Net Asset Value thereof (based on the most recent valuation of the Partnership’s investments required pursuant to Section 5.4 but taking into account any contributions or distributions made since such date), although neither the Partnership nor any Parallel Fund shall be under any obligation to engage in such transactions. The General Partner may, in its sole discretion, and notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, at any time permit a limited partner to redeem all or a portion of its units or other interest from any Parallel Fund and/or otherwise withdraw from such Parallel Fund and submit a subscription for Units in the Partnership (with respect to such limited partner’s units and/or interests in such Parallel Fund, or relevant portion thereof) and, in connection therewith, take any other necessary action to admit such limited partner on a priority basis and treat such subscription as though it was submitted on the date it was originally submitted and accepted by the Parallel Fund.

6.11. Intermediate Entities. The general partner of the Aggregating Partnership may, without the consent of the Limited Partners, cause the Partnership to hold certain Portfolio Investments directly or indirectly through one or more holding entities, including, without limitation, corporations, limited liability companies or limited partnerships (each such entity, including any intermediate entities (“Intermediate Entities”), designated as such by the General Partner, a “Lower Entity”) including one or more Intermediate Entities that may elect to be classified as corporations for U.S. federal income tax purposes, whether formed in a U.S. or a non-U.S. jurisdiction. Each Intermediate Entity may be owned (directly or indirectly) by one or more of the Partnership, Parallel Funds, Alternative Vehicles (if applicable), and other affiliated investment vehicles. The Parallel Funds may hold their interests indirectly in any Fund entity or entities through Intermediate Entities that may elect to be classified as corporations for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The Partnership’s interests and the interests of any other Fund entity or entities in any Intermediate Entity may fluctuate from time to time to reflect contributions and redemptions in any Intermediate Entity by the Partnership or any other Fund entity or entities. The expenses of any Intermediate Entity shall generally be allocated among the Partnership, any Parallel Fund, any Alternative Vehicle, any co-invest vehicle and any Other HarbourVest Entity pro rata based on each entity’s percentage interest in such Intermediate Entity, as reasonably determined by the General Partner taking into account any applicable variations in such percentage interest over time, or in such other equitable manner as determined by the General Partner in good faith.

6.12. ERISA. The General Partner will use commercially reasonable efforts to conduct the affairs of the Partnership so that the Aggregating Partnership’s assets should not be deemed to constitute “plan assets” of any Limited Partner that is a “benefit plan investor” within the meaning of ERISA. Each ERISA Limited Partner acknowledges and agrees that the assets of the Partnership may constitute “plan assets,” in each case within the meaning of ERISA, but it is intended that the discretion of the General Partner with respect to the management of the affairs and operations of the Partnership will be limited to take into account that the Partnership will serve as a passive conduit feeder through which investors may invest in the Aggregating Partnership. Each ERISA Limited Partner by making a capital contribution to the Partnership, shall be deemed to have (i) directed the General Partner to invest such capital contributions (other than capital contributions in respect of expenses of the Partnership) into the Aggregating Partnership, and (ii) acknowledged that during any period when the assets of the Partnership constitute “plan assets” but the assets of the Aggregating Partnership do not constitute “plan assets,” the General Partner will act as a custodian, but is not intended to be a “fiduciary” (as defined in Section 3(21) of ERISA) with respect to any ERISA Limited Partner with respect to the investment activity of the Partnership, and such ERISA Partner will at no time take a position to the contrary. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing herein is intended to limit the General Partner’s discretion as a fiduciary (as defined in Section 3(21) of ERISA) with respect to its activities under Section 6.1 of this Agreement.

Liability of Partners

7.1. Liability of General Partner, etc.

(a) To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, neither the General Partner nor any Related Party nor any Director shall be liable to the Partnership or any Limited Partner for any action taken or omitted to be taken or suffered by the General Partner, such Related Party or such Director, as the case may be, if done pursuant to the advice of legal counsel or in the absence of gross negligence, fraud, bad faith and willful and material breach of this Agreement by the General Partner or such Related Party, as the case may be. Except as otherwise provided in this Section

7.1(a), to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, neither the General Partner nor any Related Party nor any Director shall be liable to the Partnership or any Limited Partner for any mistake of fact or judgment by the General Partner, such Related Party or Director, as the case may be, in conducting the affairs of the Partnership or otherwise acting in respect of and within the scope of this Agreement.

(b) The General Partner shall not be liable for the return of all or any portion of any Limited Partner's Capital Account nor required to restore any deficit in any Limited Partner's Capital Account.

7.2. Liability of the Limited Partners; etc.

(a) The Limited Partners are liable for the repayment and discharge of all debts and obligations of the Partnership attributable to any Fiscal Year, or relevant portion thereof, during which they are Limited Partners, but only to the extent of their respective Units in the Partnership in the Fiscal Year, or relevant portion thereof, to which any such debts and obligations are attributable.

(b) The Partners shall share all losses, liabilities and expenses incurred by virtue of the operation of Section 7.2(a) in proportion to their respective Units in the Partnership for the Fiscal Year, or relevant portion thereof, to which the relevant debts or obligations of the Partnership are attributable up to the limit of their respective Units in the Partnership for that Fiscal Year, or relevant portion thereof. Except as required by the Act, other applicable law or as otherwise expressly set forth herein, in no event shall any Limited Partner be obligated to make any additional contribution whatsoever to the Partnership, or have any liability for the repayment and discharge of the debts and obligations of the Partnership (apart from its Units in the Partnership), except that a Partner may be required, for purposes of meeting such Partner's obligations under this Section 7.2, to make additional contributions or payments up to, but in no event in excess of, the aggregate amount of distributions actually received by such Partner from the Partnership during or after the Fiscal Year or relevant portion thereof to which any liability outside the ordinary course is attributable; provided, that any such additional contributions shall be made by such Partners, as applicable, pro rata in proportion to their respective Units in the Partnership for the Fiscal Year, or relevant portion thereof, to which such liabilities of the Partnership are attributable.

(c) If appropriate, the General Partner shall apply this Section 7.2 with respect to a Limited Partner that has made a Several Interest Election to the portion of such Limited Partner's Units.

(d) For purposes of this Section 7.2 only, the term "Units in the Partnership" means with respect to any Fiscal Year, or relevant portion thereof, and with respect to each Partner, the amount of cash that the Partner would have received, or did receive, pursuant to the terms and provisions of this Agreement upon withdrawal from the Partnership as of the end of that Fiscal Year, or relevant portion thereof. For the avoidance of any doubt, the provisions of Section 7.2 shall survive the termination of this Agreement, the Partnership, any Intermediate Entity and any redemption or withdrawal of a Limited Partner's investments.

(e) Nothing in this Section 7.2, express or implied, is intended or shall be construed to give any Person other than the Partnership or the Partners any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this Section 7.2 or any provisions contained herein.

7.3. No Obligation to Replenish Negative Capital Account. Except as may be otherwise required by law, no Partner shall have any obligation at any time to contribute any funds to replenish any negative balance in its Capital Account.

ARTICLE 8

Indemnification of General Partner, etc.

8.1. In General.

(a) To the fullest extent permitted by law, the General Partner, the Related Parties and each Director (the “Indemnitees”) shall be and hereby are indemnified and held harmless by the Partnership from and against any and all claims, demands, liabilities, costs, expenses, damages, losses, suits, proceedings and actions, whether judicial, administrative, investigative or otherwise, of any nature whatsoever, known or unknown, liquidated or unliquidated, that may be asserted against any Indemnitee, the Partnership or any of the Limited Partners or in which any of the Indemnitees may become involved, as a party or otherwise, arising out of the conduct of the business or affairs of the Partnership by the respective Indemnitee or otherwise relating to this Agreement (including serving on the board of directors or advisory committee or participating in the management of a Portfolio Entity or a former Portfolio Entity); provided that an Indemnitee shall not be entitled to indemnification hereunder if it shall have been finally determined by a court of competent jurisdiction that the Indemnitee (i) willfully and materially breached this Agreement, or (ii) acted so as to be liable for gross negligence, fraud or bad faith, in each case, in connection with its services to the Partnership; provided, that the termination of any proceeding by settlement shall not, of itself, create a presumption of the foregoing. Except as provided in Section 7.2, no Limited Partner shall be obligated to contribute any monies to fund any indemnification obligation of the Partnership. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, (x) any Indemnitee acting under this Agreement shall not be liable to the Partnership or to any Partner for its good faith reliance on the provisions of this Agreement and (y) except as may otherwise be provided by law, no Indemnitee shall be liable nor shall any Indemnitee be denied indemnification hereunder (1) if such Indemnitee consulted with counsel, appraisers, engineers, accountants and other skilled persons reasonably selected by such Indemnitee, caused by acts or omissions taken or omitted in good faith in reliance upon the advice of any of such persons or (2) for acts of any custodian, administrator, broker, dealer or bank or any other service provider engaged by an Indemnitee on behalf of the Partnership. Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, claims among the Indemnitees to the extent relating to or arising out of the internal affairs of the Management Company or the General Partner shall not be considered as arising out of the conduct of the business or affairs of the Partnership or otherwise relating to this Agreement and shall not be covered by this Section 8.1. The provisions of this Agreement, to the extent that they alter or eliminate the duties and liabilities of an Indemnitee otherwise existing at law or in equity, are agreed by the Partners, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, to modify or to replace, as the case may be, such other duties and liabilities of such Indemnitee.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section 8.1(b), to the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, to the extent that an Indemnitee is also entitled to be indemnified by, or receive advancement of expenses from, any potential, current or former entity in which a Portfolio Investment has been made (directly or indirectly) by the Partnership or any Intermediate Entity (a “Portfolio Company Indemnitor”) at which any Indemnitee is, was or will be serving as a director, officer, employee, partner, manager, member, trustee, agent, independent contractor or senior advisor (a “Portfolio Company Indemnified Party”) at the request of the Partnership, the General Partner, the Management Company or any of their respective Affiliates, with regards to any applicable liabilities, it is intended that (i) such Portfolio Company Indemnitor shall be the indemnitor of first resort (i.e., its obligations to such Indemnitee are primary and any obligation of the Partnership or any Intermediate Entity (or any Affiliate thereof other than such Portfolio Company Indemnitor) to provide indemnification or advancement for the same liabilities (including all interest, assessments and other charges paid or payable in connection with or in respect of such liabilities) incurred by such Indemnitee are secondary), (ii) the Partnership’s or any Intermediate Entity’s obligation, if any, to indemnify or advance expenses to any Indemnitee who is or was serving at the Partnership’s or any Intermediate Entity’s request as a Portfolio Company Indemnified Party shall be reduced by any amount that such Indemnitee collects as indemnification or advancement from the applicable Portfolio Company Indemnitor and (iii) if the Partnership or any Intermediate Entity (or any Affiliate thereof other than a Portfolio Company Indemnitor) pays or causes to be paid, for any reason, any amounts that should have been paid by a Portfolio Company Indemnitor, then (x) to the fullest extent permitted by law, the Partnership and any Intermediate Entities (or any such Affiliate thereof other than a Portfolio Company Indemnitor) shall be entitled to the benefit of all rights of the relevant Indemnitee with respect to such payment (including any amount that such Indemnitee collects as indemnification or advancement from the applicable Portfolio Company Indemnitor), and (y) each relevant Indemnitee shall assign to the Partnership (or any applicable Intermediate Entity) all of the Indemnitee’s rights to advancement or indemnification with respect to such payment from or with respect to such Portfolio Company Indemnitor.

8.2. Expenses, etc. Reasonable expenses incurred by an Indemnitee in defense or settlement of any claim that may be subject to a right of indemnification hereunder may be advanced by the Partnership prior to the final disposition thereof by a court of competent jurisdiction or as part of a settlement upon receipt of a written undertaking by or on behalf of the Indemnitee to repay such amount if it shall be determined ultimately by a court of competent jurisdiction or pursuant to the terms of a settlement agreement that the Indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified hereunder. The right of any Indemnitee to the indemnification provided herein shall be cumulative of, and in addition to, any rights to which such Indemnitee may otherwise be entitled by contract or as a matter of law and shall extend to such Indemnitee’s successors, assignees and legal representatives. Any judgments against the Partnership and the General Partner in respect of which the General Partner is entitled to indemnification shall first be satisfied from insurance proceeds, if any, and Partnership assets before the General Partner is responsible therefor.

Management Fee; Incentive Fee

9.1. Management Agreement, Management Fee, etc.

(a) The Partnership and the General Partner shall enter into a management agreement (the “Management Agreement”) with the Management Company substantially in the form of Exhibit A hereto pursuant to which the Management Company will provide portfolio management and administrative services for the Partnership and the Partnership shall pay the Management Fee to the Management Company, upon the terms and conditions set forth in Section 9.1(b). If the Management Agreement is terminated (other than pursuant to section 4(c) thereof), the General Partner shall furnish or cause an Affiliate to furnish the Partnership with the portfolio management and administrative services necessary or advisable in order for the Partnership to carry on its business, and the Partnership shall pay to the General Partner or its designee the Management Fee. The Management Agreement shall not be amended in a manner that materially adversely affects the Limited Partners without the written consent of the General Partner and the Board of Directors.

(b) The Partnership will pay the Management Company a quarterly management fee (the “Management Fee”) at the Management Fee Rate of the applicable Class, multiplied by the Partnership’s Net Asset Value in respect of such Class, calculated and accrued monthly as of the last day of each month, before giving effect to any accruals for the Management Fee, the Incentive Fee, the Servicing Fee, any subscription fees, any distributions, and without taking into account any accrued and unpaid taxes of the Partnership or any HarbourVest-controlled entity through which the Partnership directly or indirectly invests in a Portfolio Investment or any comparable entities of Other HarbourVest Entities or taxes paid by any such entity during the applicable month, as determined in the good faith judgment of the General Partner; provided, that no Management Fee will be payable with respect to Class P Units. For the avoidance of doubt, the Partnership’s Net Asset Value for purposes of the Management Fee shall be calculated without reduction for any pending redemptions that have not yet become effective. In the event the Partnership makes any investment in Other HarbourVest Entities that charge a management fee, the General Partner will seek to ensure that Limited Partners do not ultimately bear duplicative management fees by reducing the Net Asset Value of the Partnership on which the Management Fee is calculated for each applicable period by the Net Asset Value of the Partnership’s investment in any such Other HarbourVest Entity as of the applicable valuation date. The Management Company may waive, reduce or calculate differently the Management Fee with respect to one or more Limited Partners in its sole discretion.

(c) The Management Company may elect to receive the Management Fee in cash, and/or shares or units of the Partnership or a Parallel Fund. If the Management Fee is paid in Units, such Units may be redeemed at the Management Company’s request and would not be subject to the Fund-Level Limit or the Early Redemption Fee.

(d) The Management Fee payable with respect to any Class for any quarter shall be reduced, but not below zero, by such Class's share (based on the Partnership's Net Asset Value in respect of such Class) of the amount of any director's compensation and any break-up, management, consulting, monitoring, transaction or other similar fees (whether paid in cash or in kind) received in such quarter (or in the case of the first payment of the Management Fee, prior to the first day of the quarter that includes the date of such first payment as determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion) by the Management Company or the General Partner or any indirect partner of the General Partner or its/their Affiliates, other than the Partnership (or Main Fund or the Delaware Parallel Fund), from any Portfolio Entity or proposed Portfolio Entity (net of applicable taxes to the extent such fees are paid to any such Persons other than the Management Company), provided that if any other investment entity managed by the Management Company or its Affiliates owns any interest in such Portfolio Entity or proposes to own any interest in such proposed Portfolio Entity, the amount of such fees to reduce the Management Fee shall be equal to the portion of such fees obtained by dividing the Partnership's (and any Alternative Vehicle's) interest or proposed interest in such Portfolio Entity or proposed Portfolio Entity by the sum of the Partnership's (and any Alternative Vehicle's) interest or proposed interest in such Portfolio Entity or proposed Portfolio Entity plus the interests or proposed interests of all such other investment entities in such Portfolio Entity or proposed Portfolio Entity, and provided further, that the amount of any such fees that reduce the Management Fee shall not include (i) any fees received directly or indirectly from a Portfolio Entity, proposed Portfolio Entity, or any other Person in respect of any investor or potential investor in such Portfolio Entity or proposed Portfolio Entity other than the Partnership and such other investment entities managed by the Management Company or its Affiliates or (ii) for the avoidance of doubt, any amounts received directly or indirectly from a Portfolio Entity, proposed Portfolio Entity or any other Person to the extent such amounts constitute Partnership Expenses. In the event any Class's share of the management fee reduction pursuant to the first sentence of this paragraph exceeds such Class's share of the Management Fee payable for any quarter, subsequent shares of the Management Fees shall be reduced by such excess amounts until such excess amounts are fully utilized in reducing such Class's share of the Management Fee.

9.2. Incentive Fee.

(a) With respect to each Reference Period, the Partnership will pay to the Management Company or an Affiliate thereof (which, for the avoidance of doubt, may hold Units issued in respect of the Incentive Fee as a Limited Partner) (such recipient of the Incentive Fee, the "Recipient") a quarterly incentive fee ("Incentive Fee") with respect to each Class of Units, in an amount equal to the Incentive Fee Rate applicable to such Class, multiplied by the excess, if any, of (1) the Net Profit for such Class during the Reference Period over (2) the Loss Recovery Account balance for such Class for such Reference Period, in each case, except where otherwise decided by the General Partner in its full discretion; provided, that no Incentive Fee will be payable with respect to Class P Units.

(b) The Recipient will not be obligated to return any portion of the Incentive Fee paid as described herein as a result of subsequent performance of the Partnership or any Class. For the avoidance of doubt, the Net Asset Value will include any amounts that would be payable as Incentive Fees based on the Net Profits, if any, on the last day of the applicable Reference Period and Units redeemed will be subject to the Incentive Fee upon redemption. The balance of any Loss Recovery Account will have no bearing on the Net Asset Value other than for the purpose of determining the Incentive Fee. The Management Company may waive, reduce or calculate differently the Incentive Fee with respect to one or more Limited Partners in its sole discretion.

(c) The initial “Reference Period” of a Class will commence upon the commencement of such Class. Each subsequent Reference Period will commence immediately after the close of the preceding Reference Period, and end on the first to occur of: (A) the last day of the calendar quarter; (B) the date the Partnership is terminated; (C) the effective date of a Limited Partner’s full or partial withdrawal (with respect to the withdrawn amounts) with respect to such Class if that date is other than a calendar quarter end; (D) at the General Partner’s election, the effective date that a Limited Partner transfers its Units in respect of such Class if the transfer results in a change in beneficial ownership of the Units; or (E) such other date as determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion.

(d) The Incentive Fee may be calculated at the level of the Partnership or any Lower Entity (as determined by the General Partner in its discretion).

(e) The Management Company may elect for the Recipient to receive the Incentive Fee in cash and/or shares or units of the Fund. If the Incentive Fee is paid in Units, such Units may be redeemed at the Management Company request and would not be subject to the redemption limitations of the Fund’s quarterly unit redemptions and would not be subject to the Early Redemption Fee.

(f) The “Loss Recovery Account” shall, with respect to each Class of Units, have an initial balance of zero and will, with respect to any Reference Period, be: (i) increased by the amount of the Net Loss for such Class for such Reference Period or decreased (but not below zero) by the amount of the Net Profit for such Class for such Reference Period; and (ii) decreased proportionately in respect of any Units redeemed with respect to such Class during the relevant period.

Books and Records; Tax Information; Reports to Partners

10.1. Books and Records. The General Partner shall keep or cause to be kept appropriate records and books of account in accordance with the Accounting Principles.

10.2. Tax Information. The General Partner shall use commercially reasonable efforts to send to each Limited Partner (or make available to each Limited Partner on an internet portal or by other electronic means to which the Limited Partner normally has access) such non-confidential information reasonably available to the General Partner as such Limited Partner requests as may be necessary for such Limited Partner to comply with its tax reporting, tax payment or tax filing obligations, or to make claims for refunds of, exemptions from, or credits or reductions in taxes that have been withheld in connection with investments made by the Partnership, in each case at such Limited Partner’s expense unless the General Partner determines otherwise in its sole discretion.

10.3. Reports to Partners.

(a) The General Partner shall use commercially reasonable efforts to send to each Limited Partner (or make available to each Limited Partner on an internet portal or by other electronic means to which the Limited Partner normally has access) within one hundred and twenty (120) days after the end of each of the first three quarters of each Fiscal Year of the Partnership and within one hundred and fifty (150) days after the end of the last quarter of each Fiscal Year (subject to reasonable delays in the event of the late receipt of any necessary financial information from any Portfolio Entity as permitted under applicable law), the General Partner shall make available to each Person who was a Partner during such period a quarterly report and unaudited financial statements of the Partnership (which may be prepared on a combined basis with respect to the Partnership, Parallel Funds, Intermediate Entities and/or any feeder funds of the Partnership or any Parallel Fund). The filing of a Form 10-Q with the Securities and Exchange Commission that is made available on the Partnership's website will be deemed to satisfy this obligation; provided that the General Partner's obligation to send any such reports shall not begin until the year in which the earlier of the following occurs: (A) the Partnership consummates its first Portfolio Investment or (B) the Partners make their first Capital Contributions.

(b) The General Partner shall use commercially reasonable efforts to send to each Limited Partner (or make available to each Limited Partner on an internet portal or by other electronic means to which the Limited Partner normally has access) within one hundred and eighty (180) days (subject to reasonable delays in the event of the late receipt of any necessary financial information from any Portfolio Entity) after the end of each Fiscal Year of the Partnership, the General Partner shall make available to each Person who was a Partner during such Fiscal Year an annual report and audited financial statements for the Partnership (which may be prepared on a combined basis with respect to the Partnership, Parallel Funds, Intermediate Entities and/or any feeder funds of the Partnership or any Parallel Fund) prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. The filing of a Form 10-K with the Securities and Exchange Commission that is made available on the Partnership's website will be deemed to satisfy this obligation; provided that the General Partner's obligation to send any such statements and reports shall not begin until the year in which the earlier of the following occurs: (A) the Partnership consummates its first Portfolio Investment or (B) the Partners make their first Capital Contributions.

Transfers; Withdrawals

11.1. Transfer by the General Partner. Without the consent of the Independent Directors, the General Partner shall not have the right to assign or otherwise transfer its interest as the general partner of the Partnership (but may pledge its interest in connection with any Partnership borrowing, guarantees or other credit support obligations pursuant to Section 6.1 or otherwise in this Agreement) to Persons other than its Affiliates, and the General Partner shall not have the right to withdraw from the Partnership; provided, that without the consent of the Independent Directors or any other Person, the General Partner may be reconstituted or reorganized as or converted into a corporation, limited partnership or other form of entity (any such reconstituted, reorganized or converted entity being deemed to be the General Partner for all purposes hereof) by merger, consolidation, conversion or otherwise, or assign, pledge or otherwise transfer all or any part of its interest as the general partner of the Partnership to one or more of its Affiliates; provided, further, that the foregoing in no way limits the rights of redemption otherwise applicable to the General Partner (in such capacity or as a Partner more generally) as otherwise provided herein and nothing in the Agreement shall preclude changes in the composition of the members constituting the entity that is the General Partner so long as HarbourVest continues to control such entity. In the event of an assignment or other transfer by the General Partner of all of its interest as a general partner of the Partnership in accordance with this Section 11.1, upon execution of a counterpart to this Agreement, its assignee or transferee shall be substituted in its place and admitted as general partner of the Partnership effective immediately prior to such assignment or other transfer and such successor is hereby authorized to and shall continue the Partnership without dissolution, and immediately thereafter the General Partner shall withdraw as a general partner of the Partnership and cease to be a general partner of the Partnership.

11.2. Assignments/Substitutions or Withdrawals by Limited Partners.

(a) A Limited Partner may not directly or indirectly sell, exchange, assign, mortgage, hypothecate, pledge or otherwise transfer its Units (or any interest therein) in whole or in part to any Person (an “Assignee”) without the General Partner’s prior written consent; provided, that except with respect to Class I-1 Units, the General Partner’s consent shall not be required unless:

(i) such assignment or transfer would not violate the Securities Act or any state securities or “Blue Sky” laws applicable to the Partnership or the Units to be assigned or transferred;

(ii) such assignment or transfer would not cause the Partnership to become required to register under the Investment Company Act;

(iii) such assignment or transfer would not otherwise cause the Partnership to violate any applicable law, regulation, court order or judicial decree; or

(iv) such assignment or transfer would not cause all or any portion of the assets of the Partnership (or the Aggregating Partnership) to constitute “plan assets” for purposes of ERISA.

To transfer its Units, a Limited Partner shall submit an executed form to the Partnership, which form shall be provided by the Partnership upon request. Such transfer will be recorded on the books and records of the Partnership. A Person shall be admitted to the Partnership as a Substitute Limited Partner of the Partnership at the time (a) such Person shall have executed and delivered to the General Partner a signature page to the Subscription Agreement, which the General Partner on behalf of the Partnership, shall have accepted and (b) such Person shall have been listed as a limited partner of the Partnership in the books and records of the Partnership.

(b) The General Partner and/or its Affiliates may acquire Units of a transferring Limited Partner as a transferee.

(c) Any attempted assignment or substitution not made in accordance with this Section 11.2 shall be deemed cancelled.

11.3. Right of First Refusal. In the event that a Limited Partner proposes to Transfer all or a portion of its Units in the Partnership to a transferee who is unaffiliated with such Limited Partner, such Limited Partner shall give written notice of such proposed Transfer, and the proposed terms thereof (including the price and payment terms of the Units proposed to be Transferred) to the General Partner. The General Partner shall, for a period of thirty (30) days from the date that such notice was received by the General Partner, have a right (which right shall be transferable to an Affiliate of the General Partner) to elect, by giving notice in writing to such Limited Partner of such election, to purchase the Units so being transferred for the same or substantially equivalent consideration and otherwise on substantially the same terms on which such Limited Partner proposed to make such Transfer. If the General Partner elects to exercise such right of first refusal, such purchase shall be consummated within forty-five (45) days after the General Partner delivers notice that it has elected to exercise such right or, if later, by the first fiscal quarter end following such forty-five (45) day period. If the General Partner declines to exercise such right of first refusal and the General Partner consents to such Transfer, such Limited Partner shall be free to make such Transfer on terms that are no more favorable to the transferee than such proposed terms within ninety (90) days after the General Partner delivers notice that it has declined to exercise such right, subject however to the satisfaction of the conditions of Sections 11.1 and 11.2. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, any Transfer pursuant to this Section 11.3 will comply with applicable law, including, to the extent applicable, ERISA. In the event that the Transfer of the Units in the Partnership has not been consummated within the designated periods provided herein, the restrictions and procedures set forth in this Section 11.3 again shall take effect, and any Transfer of the Units shall be subject to the same right of first refusal provided herein. To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, in connection with the operation of this Section 11.3, and any actions taken thereunder, notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement or in any other agreement contemplated herein or applicable provisions of law or equity or otherwise, following any Transfer effected in accordance with this Section 11.3, none of the Partnership, the General Partner or the Management Company shall have any obligations or duties (including fiduciary duties) to the transferring Limited Partner with respect to the transferred Units in the Partnership.

11.4. Redemption of Units. Notwithstanding Section 11.2, the General Partner may make redemption offers available to Limited Partners from time to time as set forth in Exhibit B hereto; provided that such redemptions do not impair the capital or operations of the Partnership. The General Partner is permitted to make exceptions to, modify, or suspend redemptions at any time if, in its reasonable judgment it deems such action to be in the Partnership's best interest, including, but not limited to, for tax, regulatory or other structuring reasons.

11.5. Limitations on Distributions or Redemption of Units. The right of any Partner or its legal representatives to receive distributions or to have its Units redeemed is subject to (a) the limitations set forth in Section 11.4 and (b) the provision by the General Partner for all Partnership liabilities in accordance with Section 17-607 of the Act and other applicable law and for holdbacks and reserves as provided in Section 5.6 and the other terms of this Agreement. The pro rata unused portion of any reserve shall be distributed to the withdrawing Partners after the General Partner shall have determined that the need for such reserve shall have ceased. Any Units redeemed by the Partnership pursuant to this Article 11 shall be canceled unless the General Partner determines that such redeemed Units be held by the Partnership but not included in any calculation for (i) any action to be taken by a vote of Units, or (ii) any allocation or distribution under this Agreement.

11.6. Required Redemption of Limited Partners. The General Partner, in its sole discretion, may require a Limited Partner to surrender and redeem all or any portion of its Units and withdraw from the Partnership, as determined by the General Partner in good faith at any time for any reason or no reason with or without prior notice to such Limited Partner. Except as otherwise set forth herein, a Limited Partner that is required to withdraw all or a portion of its Units shall be treated in all respects in the same manner as a Limited Partner that redeems all or a portion of its Units voluntarily. A notice of mandatory redemption pursuant to this Section 11.6 shall have the same effect as a request for redemption by a Limited Partner given pursuant to Exhibit B; provided, that the mandatory redemption of all or any portion of such Limited Partner's Units shall be effective on the date determined by the General Partner and indicated in such notice and may in the General Partner's sole discretion be satisfied in priority to other requested redemptions and the withdrawal payment or payments may be made in cash, cash equivalents, in kind, or by delivery of a note (the terms of which shall be determined by the General Partner), or any combination of the foregoing, as determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion.

Duration and Termination of the Partnership

12.1. Duration. The Partnership shall continue until it is dissolved upon: (1) a determination made by the General Partner at any time in its sole discretion that the liquidation and dissolution of the Partnership is in the best interests of the Partnership, (2) the occurrence of any event that results in the General Partner ceasing to be a general partner of the Partnership under the Act (other than an assignment by the General Partner of its entire partnership interest in the Partnership and the admission of the assignee as a replacement general partner in accordance with Section 11.1), unless within 90 days thereafter all the remaining Partners agree in writing to continue the business of the Partnership and to the appointment, effective as of the date of such event, of one or more general partners, (3) the entry of a decree of dissolution of the Partnership, or (4) at any time there are no limited partners of the Partnership unless the Partnership is continued without dissolution in accordance with the Act (each, an "Event of Dissolution").

12.2. Termination.

(a) Upon dissolution of the Partnership, the Partnership shall be wound up and liquidated in accordance with the Act. In the Dissolution Sale, the General Partner or the liquidating trustee, as applicable, shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to reduce to cash and cash equivalent items such assets of the Partnership as the General Partner or such liquidating trustee shall deem it advisable to sell, subject to obtaining fair value for such assets and any tax or other legal or contractual considerations (including legal restrictions on the ability of a Limited Partner to hold any assets to be distributed in-kind). The Limited Partners acknowledge and agree that, in light of the foregoing, the Partnership may take a reasonable period of time (in consideration of market conditions and legal and contractual considerations referred to above) from the date of the occurrence of an Event of Dissolution to wind up the affairs of the Partnership and dispose of Partnership assets. The General Partner (or, if a liquidating trustee is appointed to act as a liquidating trustee, such liquidating trustee) shall make distributions out of Partnership assets in the following manner and order:

(i) first, to the satisfaction of the expenses of the winding-up, liquidation and dissolution of the Partnership and to satisfy all creditors of the Partnership, other than Partners, either by the payment thereof or the making of reasonable provision therefor, as required by the Act; and

(ii) second, to satisfy, in accordance with the terms agreed among them and otherwise on a pro rata basis, all creditors of the Partnership that are Partners, either by the payment thereof or the making of reasonable provision therefor.

The remaining proceeds, if any, plus any remaining assets of the Partnership, shall be applied and distributed, subject to Section 5.5, pro rata in accordance with Section 5.2 for the Fiscal Year during which the liquidation occurs, by the end of such Fiscal Year or, if later, within ninety (90) calendar days after the date of such liquidation. For purposes of the application of this Section 12.2 and determining Capital Accounts on liquidation, all unrealized gains, losses and accrued income and deductions of the Partnership shall be treated as realized and recognized immediately before the date of distribution.

(b) For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of this Agreement, including the provisions relating to the payment of the Management Fees and Incentive Fee shall remain in full force and effect during the period of winding up and until the filing of a certificate of cancellation of the Certificate with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware.

12.3. Restoration Obligation. No Partner shall have an obligation to restore a negative balance in its Capital Account.

Board of Directors

13.1. Board of Directors.

(a) The General Partner shall have the authority to appoint directors, including one or more directors that would be independent under the tests set out in Rule 303A.02 of the New York Stock Exchange Listed Company Manual or other policy as determined by the General Partner (each of the independent directors, an “Independent Director,” and together with the other directors, the “Board of Directors,” each, individually, a “Director”). The Board of Directors shall constitute a committee of the Partnership for purposes of the Act. The General Partner shall have the right to remove or replace any Director with or without cause.

(b) To the extent the General Partner has not appointed a Board of Directors, any matters for which the Board of Directors have authority or obligation to act pursuant to this Agreement can be effected by consent of either the General Partner or Limited Partners holding in the aggregate Percentage Interests equal to at least a majority of the total Percentage Interests, which may include Limited Partners who are affiliated with the General Partner. To the extent the General Partner has not appointed Independent Directors, any matters for which the Independent Directors have authority or obligation to act pursuant to this Agreement can be effected by consent of the Board of Directors.

13.2. Action by the Board of Directors.

(a) A majority of the Independent Directors are authorized to give or withhold the Partnership's consent or approval as an "independent client representative" with respect to matters required by Section 206(3) of the Advisers Act and certain other situations involving conflicts of interest, including with regards to the assignment or other transfer of the General Partner's Units pursuant to this Agreement (in each case where presented to such Independent Directors in the General Partner's sole discretion). In addition, the Independent Directors shall review and approve or disapprove any actual or potential conflicts of interest in any transaction or relationship between the Partnership, on the one hand, and the General Partner and/or its Affiliates, on the other hand, that the General Partner determines in its sole discretion to present to the Board of Directors. Each Limited Partner agrees that, with respect to any consent sought from the Independent Directors under this provision, such consent of the Independent Directors shall be binding upon the Partnership, and the General Partner and its Affiliates, acting in accordance with or pursuant to such consent (or such procedures or standards approved by the Independent Directors), shall, absent actual fraud or willful misconduct, be fully protected and justified in acting in reliance upon and in accordance with such consent of the Independent Directors, and the General Partner and its Affiliates shall not have any liability to the Partnership or the Limited Partners for such conflict of interest or such actions taken in good faith by them (other than such actions finally determined by a court of competent jurisdiction or in a final arbitration proceeding to constitute actual fraud or willful misconduct) and such actions shall not constitute a breach of this Agreement or any other agreement contemplated herein or of any duty or obligation of such Person at law or in equity or otherwise. Any matters for which the Board of Directors have authority to act pursuant to this Agreement can be effected by majority consent of the Board of Directors, and any matters for which the Independent Directors have authority to act pursuant to this Agreement can be effected by majority consent of the Independent Directors, as applicable. If there are only two Independent Directors, matters requiring consent or approval of a majority of the Independent Directors will require consent of both Independent Directors.

(b) Consent of the Independent Directors shall be required for any material modification to the Partnership's Valuation Policies.

(c) Each of the Directors (including the Independent Directors) shall use their reasonable business judgment to act in the best interests of the Partnership with respect to matters of the Partnership that are within the Board of Directors' authority. Except as provided for in the immediately preceding sentence, each Director (including the Independent Directors) shall, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, have no fiduciary duties to the Partnership or to any Partner.

Power of Attorney

15.1. Grant of Power. To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, each Limited Partner hereby makes, constitutes and appoints the General Partner, with full power of substitution and resubstitution, its true and lawful attorney for it and in its name, place and stead and for its use and benefit, to sign, execute, deliver, certify, acknowledge, file and record all instruments amending, restating or canceling the Certificate that may be appropriate, and to sign, execute, certify, acknowledge, file and record such agreements, instruments or documents made by or relating to the Partnership as may be necessary or advisable for any lawful purpose (a) to reflect the exercise by the General Partner of any of the powers granted to it under this Agreement, and the establishment of Alternative Vehicles pursuant to Section 6.9, including without limitation the admission of a Substitute Limited Partner in accordance with this Agreement and the transfer of Units as contemplated in Section 5.3(c); (b) which may be required of the Partnership or of the Partners by the laws of Delaware or any other jurisdiction; (c) to reflect an amendment of or modification of this Agreement or the organizational documents of such Alternative Vehicle that has been adopted in accordance with the terms of this Agreement or the organizational documents of any Alternative Vehicle, as applicable; or (d) which may be necessary to comply with any agreement or obligation applicable to the Partnership or to comply with the law of any other jurisdiction. Each Limited Partner authorizes such attorney-in-fact to take any further action which such attorney-in-fact shall consider necessary or advisable in connection with any of the foregoing, hereby giving such attorney-in-fact full power and authority to do and perform each and every act or thing whatsoever requisite or advisable to be done in and about the foregoing to effectuate the business purposes hereof, the dissolution of or the termination, liquidation or winding up of the Partnership as fully as such Limited Partner might or could do if personally present, and hereby ratifying and confirming all that such attorney-in-fact shall lawfully do or cause to be done by virtue hereof. The General Partner shall provide each Limited Partner with a copy of any agreement or instrument executed by the General Partner on behalf of such Limited Partner in accordance with the power of attorney granted by such Limited Partner under this Section 15.1.

15.2. Terms of Power. To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, the power of attorney granted pursuant to Section 15.1:

(a) is a special power of attorney coupled with an interest and, except as provided in clause (c) of this Section 15.2, is irrevocable;

(b) may be exercised by such attorney-in-fact by executing any agreement, certificate, instrument or document with the single signature of such attorney-in-fact acting as attorney-in-fact for all of the Limited Partners; and

(c) shall not be affected by subsequent disability or incapacity of the Limited Partner, but shall terminate as to such Limited Partner upon the effectiveness of the admission of a Substitute Limited Partner pursuant to Section 11.2 to the extent of the Units Transferred, except that it shall survive for the sole purpose of enabling such attorney-in-fact to execute, acknowledge and file any such agreement, certificate, instrument or document as is necessary to effect such substitution.

ARTICLE 16

Miscellaneous

16.1. Amendments.

(a) Except as required by law, this Agreement may be amended, modified or supplemented, and any provision herein may be waived, by the written consent of the General Partner (including an amendment in the form of a merger, consolidation, conversion or similar transaction into a successor entity to the Partnership); provided, that any amendment, modification or supplement (including an amendment in the form of a merger, consolidation, conversion or similar transaction into a successor entity to the Partnership) that is viewed by the General Partner in its discretion, exercised in good faith, as having a material adverse effect on the Limited Partners in the aggregate, will require the consent of the Independent Directors; provided, further, that any amendment, modification or supplement (including an amendment in the form of a merger, consolidation, conversion or similar transaction into a successor entity to the Partnership) related to Class-specific management fees or liquidity terms that is viewed by the General Partner in its discretion, exercised in good faith, as having a material adverse effect solely on the Limited Partners of a particular Class of Units in the aggregate shall require the consent of the Independent Directors, acting in the best interests of the Limited Partners in such affected Class.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 16.1(a), this Agreement may be amended from time to time by the General Partner without the consent of any Director or any Limited Partner (i) to add to the representations, duties or obligations of the General Partner, (ii) to cure any ambiguity or correct or supplement any provisions hereof that may be inconsistent with any other provision hereof, or correct any printing, stenographic or clerical errors or omissions, in each case, if such amendment is not, in the reasonable opinion of the General Partner, adverse to any Limited Partner; (iii) to admit one or more additional Limited Partners or Substitute Limited Partners, or withdraw one or more Limited Partners, in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, (iv) to provide any necessary information regarding any Partner, any additional or successor General Partner or any additional Limited Partner or Substitute Limited Partner, or to remove information regarding a withdrawn Limited Partner, (v) to reflect any change in the number or class of the Units of any Partner in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, (vi) to make amendments, which may include reorganizing or reconstituting the Partnership, forming and requiring Limited Partners to participate in feeder funds, Parallel Funds, feeder funds of parallel vehicles or other structures, (vii) to reflect any terms applicable to a Class of Units established in accordance with Section 1.3, (viii) to address any law or regulation, including changes in tax law, (ix) to reflect the waiver by the General Partner of any of its rights under this Agreement, to implement any election that is offered to all Limited Partners; provided, that such amendment is not adverse to the rights and obligations of the Limited Partners that decline to make such election; (x) to provide for changes in any Information Reporting Regimes or (xi) to make any change that is necessary or desirable to satisfy, address or otherwise be consistent with any requirements, conditions or guidelines (including any interpretation of regulatory guidance) contained in any law, opinion, directive, order, statute, ruling or regulation of any federal, state or non-U.S. court or governmental authority, agency or entity; provided, that any amendment pursuant to this Section 16.1(b) shall not, to the General Partner's knowledge, have a material adverse effect on the Limited Partners.

(c) The General Partner shall promptly send each Limited Partner a copy of any amendment adopted pursuant to this Section 16.1, which notice may be given through a 1934 Act Report.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 16.1, the General Partner may, without the consent of the Directors or any Limited Partner, amend the provisions of this Agreement or take such other actions that the General Partner believes in good faith may be reasonably necessary to prevent the Partnership or any Partner from having an attributable interest in any regulated entity (including a bank holding company as defined in Section 2(a) of the BHC Act, or a media company or other business that is subject to Federal Communications Commission regulations), including any Portfolio Entity, or to prevent the Partnership or any Partner from becoming subject to any law or regulation that the General Partner believes may adversely impact the Partnership or any Partner; provided, that, the General Partner may not amend this Agreement pursuant to this Section 16.1(d) in a manner that would reduce any Limited Partner's rights, or materially increase or adversely impact any Limited Partner's obligations, under this Agreement.

(e) Notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 16.1, the General Partner may, without the consent of the Directors or any Limited Partner, amend the provisions of this Agreement or take such other actions that the General Partner believes in good faith may be reasonably necessary in connection with the filing of a Form 10 and/or to address comments from the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

(f) Upon obtaining the requisite consent required by this Agreement (if any) and without any further action or execution by any other Person, including any Limited Partner: (i) any amendment, restatement, modification or waiver of this Agreement may be memorialized in an instrument executed solely by the General Partner; and (ii) the Limited Partners shall be deemed a party to, and bound by, such amendment.

16.2. Determination of Certain Matters. Subject to Section 5.4, all matters concerning the valuation of Partnership assets, the allocation of profits, gains and losses among the Partners including the taxes thereon, accounting procedures and tax matters, not specifically and expressly provided for by the terms of this Agreement, shall be determined by the General Partner in good faith, whose determination shall be final and conclusive. For the avoidance of doubt, (i) the term “fraud” as used in this Agreement shall require the presence of intent or scienter, (ii) the term “fiduciary duty” as used in this Agreement shall have the meaning given to such term under the laws of the State of Delaware and (iii) the exculpation provisions of this Agreement, including Section 7.1, do not restore or create, whether in contract or otherwise, any duties or liabilities. Nothing in this Agreement shall modify or purport to modify any duty or liability owed by the General Partner or its Affiliates to the Partnership or any Partner under the Advisers Act.

16.3. Waiver of Partition. Each of the Partners hereby irrevocably waives any and all rights that it may have to maintain any action for partition of any of the Partnership’s property.

16.4. Successors in Interest. Subject to the limitations set forth in Article 11, this Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the heirs, legal representatives and permitted assigns of the Partners. Except as contemplated by Section 6.1, none of the provisions of this Agreement shall be construed as being for the benefit of or as enforceable by any creditor (other than Persons entitled to indemnification hereunder) of the Partnership or of any Partner or by any other Person not a party to this Agreement.

16.5. Severability. If any clause or provision of this Agreement shall be held to be invalid or unlawful in any jurisdiction such clause or provision shall only be ineffective to the extent of such invalidity or unenforceability. The remainder of this Agreement shall not be affected thereby and shall remain in full force and effect and any such invalidity or unenforceability in any jurisdiction shall not invalidate or render unenforceable such provisions in any other jurisdiction. Furthermore, if any provision of this Agreement is held to be invalid or unenforceable but would be valid or enforceable if some part of the provision were deleted, the provision in question will apply with the minimum modifications necessary to make it valid and enforceable. Any default hereunder by a Limited Partner shall not excuse a default by any other Limited Partner.

16.6. Notice. Any notice or other communication to be given under this Agreement to the Partnership shall be in writing and may be delivered personally or by facsimile or e-mail (in the case of facsimile or e-mail, followed by written confirmation). Any notice or other communication to be given under this Agreement or otherwise to any Partner shall be in writing and may be delivered by mail, by facsimile or by e-mail at the address, facsimile number or e-mail address of such Partner as shown on the records of the Partnership, or by making the same available to such Partner on an internet portal or by other electronic means to which the Limited Partner normally has access. Each such notice shall be deemed to be effectively received by such Partner (a) upon personal delivery, (b) upon confirmed transmission by facsimile, (c) upon transmission by electronic mail, (d) five days after deposit in any United States mail box, by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, or (e) upon posting on an internet portal or by other electronic means to which the Partner normally has access. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any reports and information delivered to any Limited Partner pursuant to Section 10.3 or otherwise may be provided to such Limited Partner, whether before or after such Person is admitted to the Partnership, by (i) delivery in accordance with this Section 16.6 or (ii) being made available to such Limited Partner on an internet portal or by other electronic means to which the Limited Partner normally has access.

16.7. Delaware Office. The Partnership shall maintain a registered office in Delaware and a registered agent for service of process on the Partnership in Delaware, such office and agent to be selected by the General Partner in its sole discretion and to be set forth in the Certificate.

16.8. Certificate of Limited Partnership. The General Partner shall provide a copy of the Certificate or any amendment or restatement relating thereto to each Limited Partner that makes a request therefor, but shall not otherwise be required to provide such copies.

16.9. Confidentiality. Each Limited Partner shall keep confidential, and shall not disclose without the prior written consent of the General Partner, any information with respect to the Partnership, any prospective or actual Portfolio Entity or any Affiliate of any of the foregoing and shall only use such information for the purpose of evaluating and monitoring such Limited Partner's participation in Portfolio Investments and prospective investments by the Partnership; provided that a Limited Partner may disclose any such information (a) as has become generally available to the public other than as a result of the breach of this Section 16.9 by such Limited Partner or any agent or Affiliate of such Limited Partner, (b) that is or becomes available to such Limited Partner on a non-confidential basis from a source other than the General Partner; provided that such source is not, to such Limited Partner's knowledge, prohibited by legal, contractual or fiduciary obligations from disclosing such information, (c) as may be required or as may be appropriate to be included in any report, statement or testimony required to be submitted to any municipal, state or national regulatory body having jurisdiction over such Limited Partner, (d) as may be required or appropriate in response to any summons or subpoena or in connection with any litigation, (e) to the extent necessary in order to comply with any law, order, regulation, ruling or governmental request applicable to such Limited Partner, (f) to its Affiliates, employees and professional advisors (including auditors, counsel and, for an ERISA Limited Partner or a Limited Partner that is a governmental plan, such Persons as are necessary for the proper administration of the ERISA plan or governmental plan) (collectively, the "Representatives") who need to know such information for the purpose of evaluating and monitoring such investments and not, for the avoidance of doubt, for separate investment, advisory or other competitive purposes; provided that

(i) such Representatives are advised of the confidentiality obligations contained herein and such Limited Partner is liable for the breach of any confidentiality obligations by any such Representative (including with respect to the permitted use of such information) and (ii) if a Representative is a competitor of the Management Company or any of its Affiliates, such Representative shall have entered into a supplemental confidentiality agreement with the Management Company in form and substance satisfactory to the Management Company, and (g) as may be required in connection with an audit by any taxing authority; provided that, to the extent permitted by law, such Limited Partner shall notify the General Partner prior to making any disclosure in accordance with clause (c), (d), (e) or (g) of this Section 16.9. The foregoing shall not limit the disclosure of the tax treatment or tax structure of the Partnership (or any transactions undertaken by the Partnership). As used in this Section 16.9, the term “tax treatment” refers to the purported or claimed U.S. federal income tax treatment and the term “tax structure” refers to any fact that may be relevant to understanding the purported or claimed U.S. federal income tax treatment; provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, (i) except to the extent otherwise established in published guidance by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, tax treatment and tax structure shall not include the name of or contact information for, or any other similar identifying information regarding the Partnership or any of its investments (including the names of any employees or affiliates thereof) and (ii) nothing in this Section 16.9 shall limit the ability of a Limited Partner to make any disclosure to such Limited Partner’s tax advisors or to the U.S. Internal Revenue Service or any other taxing authority.

Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, nothing in this Agreement (including, without limitation, the confidentiality provisions in this Section 16.9 and the jurisdiction provisions in Section 16.11), or in the Subscription Agreements or any side letters, shall prohibit any individual from communicating with any U.S. federal regulatory or law enforcement agency (including, without limitation, the SEC and the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission) or, to the extent protected under applicable U.S. state or non-U.S. whistleblower provisions, communicating with the relevant U.S. state or non-U.S. regulatory or law enforcement agency, about potential violations of law without providing prior notice to the General Partner or any of its Affiliates, or receiving an award in connection with any such communications.

Each Limited Partner acknowledges, and will advise its Representatives with whom it shares confidential information, that the United States and other applicable securities laws prohibit any Person who has received any material, non-public information with respect to a company which has publicly traded securities outstanding from purchasing or selling such publicly traded securities or from communicating such information to any other Person under circumstances in which it is reasonably foreseeable that such Person is likely to purchase or sell such publicly traded securities.

Each Limited Partner acknowledges and agrees that the confidential information is proprietary and of significant importance to the conduct of the business of the Partnership and is considered a “trade secret” of the Partnership, the General Partner and the Management Company. Such Limited Partner further acknowledges that the Partnership, the General Partner and the Management Company, through policy and course of conduct, make significant efforts to maintain the privacy and non-public status of the confidential information, and that independent economic value inures to the Partnership, the General Partner and the Management Company from such non-disclosure.

If any Limited Partner or one of its Representatives is requested in a judicial, administrative or governmental proceeding or pursuant to public records laws to disclose any of the confidential information, to the extent permitted by law, such Limited Partner will promptly notify the General Partner and the Management Company so that the General Partner or the Management Company may seek a protective order or other appropriate remedy. If such protective order or other remedy is not obtained, such Limited Partner will furnish only that portion of the confidential information which is legally required and will use its best efforts to claim any relevant exception under such law or obligation which would prevent or limit public disclosure of the confidential information.

16.10. Compliance with Laws. The General Partner may disclose information concerning the Partnership or the Limited Partners as it determines in its sole discretion to be necessary or advisable under applicable laws and regulations, including any anti-money laundering, economic sanctions or anti-terrorist financing laws or regulations. Each Limited Partner hereby agrees to provide the General Partner, promptly upon request, all information that the General Partner determines in its sole discretion to be necessary or advisable to enable the Partnership and the General Partner to comply with applicable laws and regulations. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement to the contrary, the General Partner, in its own name and on behalf of the Partnership, shall be authorized, without the consent of any Person, including any Limited Partner, to take such action as it determines in its sole discretion to be necessary or advisable in light of any anti-money laundering, economic sanctions or anti-terrorist financing laws, rules, regulations, directives, sanctions or special measures to address any actual or potential consequences for the Partnership, the General Partner, the Management Company, any Portfolio Entity, any Portfolio Investment, any Limited Partner or any of their respective Affiliates, including, but not limited to (a) taking the actions contemplated by the Subscription Agreements, (b) prohibiting a Limited Partner from making further Capital Contributions, depositing in a separate account or otherwise segregating Distributions to which a Limited Partner would otherwise be entitled and/or causing the withdrawal of a Limited Partner from the Partnership, or (c) requiring a Limited Partner to forfeit all or part of its Units or Capital Account, which forfeited Units or Capital Account may be allocated among the other Limited Partners by the General Partner. The General Partner may make such adjustments to the provisions of this Agreement, including to allocations and Distributions and any other items, as it may determine in its sole discretion to be equitable and desirable to give effect to the intent of the foregoing provisions and this Section 16.10, including, without limitation, as may be required in order that, to the extent practicable, the relevant Limited Partner bears any detriment to the Partnership resulting from the application of this Section 16.10 and the other Limited Partners do not suffer any detriment as a result of such application. To comply with applicable sanctions, anti-money laundering legislation and regulations, each Limited Partner agrees that all payments by it to the Partnership and all Distributions to it from the Partnership will only be made in its name and to and from a bank account of a bank based or incorporated in or formed under the laws of the United States or a bank that is not a “foreign shell bank” within the meaning of the U.S. Bank Secrecy Act (31 U.S.C. § 5311 et seq.), as amended, and the regulations promulgated thereunder by the U.S. Department of the Treasury, as such regulations may be amended from time to time.

16.11. Applicable Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to principles of conflicts of laws. Unless the General Partner otherwise agrees in writing, any legal action or proceeding with respect to this Agreement may be brought in the courts of the State of Delaware, and, by execution and delivery of this Agreement, each Partner hereby irrevocably accepts for itself and in respect of its property, generally and unconditionally, the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the aforesaid courts, and hereby irrevocably waives any objection that it may now or hereafter have to the laying of venue of any of the aforesaid actions or proceedings arising out of or in connection with this Agreement brought in the aforesaid courts, and hereby further irrevocably waives, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, its rights to plead or claim and agrees not to plead or claim in any such court that any such action or proceeding brought in any such court has been brought in an inconvenient forum.

16.12. Waiver. To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, no failure to exercise and no delay in exercising on the part of any of the Partners any right, power or privilege under this Agreement shall operate as a waiver thereof nor shall any single or partial exercise of any right, power or privilege preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right, power or privilege. The rights and remedies provided in this Agreement are cumulative and not exclusive of any rights or remedies otherwise provided by law.

16.13. Reproduction of Documents. The Partnership, the General Partner and each Limited Partner agree and stipulate that this Agreement and all documents relating thereto, including, without limitation, any consents, waivers, amendments and modifications which may hereafter be executed, and certificates and other information previously or hereafter furnished to any Partner, may be reproduced by it by any photographic, microfilm, miniature photographic, electronic data storage or other similar process, and any Partner may destroy any original document so reproduced. The Partnership, the General Partner and each Limited Partner agree and stipulate that any such reproduction shall be as admissible in evidence as the original itself in any judicial or administrative proceeding (whether or not the original is in existence and whether or not such reproduction was made by a Partner in the regular course of business) and that enlargement, fax or further reproduction of such reproduction shall likewise be admissible in evidence.

16.14. [Reserved].

16.15. Miscellaneous. The headings in this Agreement are solely for convenience of reference and shall not affect its interpretation. This Agreement may be executed in more than one counterpart with the same effect as if the parties executed one counterpart as of the date of this Agreement. Limited Partner counterpart signature pages to each Subscription Agreement shall also constitute a counterpart to this Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt a Person's execution and delivery of this Agreement by electronic signature and electronic transmission, including via DocuSign or other similar method, shall constitute the execution and delivery of a counterpart of this Agreement by or on behalf of such Person. This Agreement, the Subscription Agreements and any side letters or similar agreements contemplated below set forth the entire understanding of all the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersede any prior agreement or understanding with respect thereto. Notwithstanding the provisions of this Agreement (including Section 16.1), or any Subscription Agreement, the General Partner on its own behalf or on behalf of the Partnership without the consent of any Limited Partner or any other Person may, and is hereby authorized to, enter into side letters or similar agreements to or with a Limited Partner

(or any Person that holds a direct or indirect interest in any Limited Partner (and any related feeder funds)) on matters relating to the Partnership and the terms of any such agreement (a) may have the effect of establishing rights under, or altering or supplementing the terms of this Agreement and of any Subscription Agreement (including providing rights to any Person that holds a direct or indirect interest in any Limited Partner (and any related feeder funds)) as between such Limited Partner (or such other Person) and the General Partner and the Partnership in any way including, without limitation, special provisions relating to (i) reporting, (ii) transfers, (iii) jurisdiction or venue, (iv) consent rights in relation to certain amendments of this Agreement, (v) the ability to disclose certain confidential information, (vi) limitations on the exercise of the General Partner's discretion under this Agreement, (vii) limitations on the General Partner's power to execute documents on behalf of the Limited Partners pursuant to Article 15, (viii) confirmations of the way in which the General Partner will carry out certain of its duties, (ix) additional warranties relating to the Partnership or its operation, (x) confirmation that the General Partner will use commercially reasonable efforts to facilitate the sale of Securities distributed in kind to the Limited Partners, (xi) confidentiality obligations in relation to information about a Limited Partner, (xii) access to information and audit rights, (xiii) confirmation that the General Partner will use commercially reasonable efforts to encourage Portfolio Entities to follow relevant ethical or governance guidelines, (xiv) grants of most favored nation provisions, (xv) special economic arrangements including reduced management fee and carried interest percentages, (xvi) co-investments, (xvii) classification of the Limited Partner or recognition of its internal policies or applicable laws or regulations, (xviii) deferring, reducing or eliminating the obligation to make Capital Contributions or other payments or establishing, modifying and/or supplementing any other rights and/or obligations of the Limited Partner under this Agreement or any Subscription Agreement, in each case, in connection with the classification of the Limited Partner or in recognition of its internal policies or applicable laws or regulations or other circumstances, or (xix) look-through default rights and/or voting rights for certain feeder funds or other conduit entities established to facilitate investment in the Partnership, (b) may give preferential treatment to one or more Limited Partners or Person(s), and (c) shall govern with respect to such Limited Partner (or such other Person) notwithstanding the provisions of this Agreement or any Subscription Agreement. The Partners confirm and agree that any such provision which is necessitated by the status of the relevant Limited Partner or other Person shall not be regarded as giving preferential treatment to the recipient.

16.16. Counsel. Each Limited Partner hereby acknowledges and agrees that Ropes & Gray LLP, Richards, Layton & Finger, P.A. (as to matters of Delaware law) and any other law firm retained by the General Partner or one of its Affiliates in connection with the organization of the Partnership, or any dispute between the General Partner or one of its Affiliates and any Limited Partner, are acting as counsel to the General Partner or one of its Affiliates and as such, except as otherwise provided by law, do not represent or owe any duty to such Limited Partner or to the Limited Partners as a group.

16.17. Currency. The functional currency of the Partnership will be the U.S. dollar. All Capital Contributions and cash distributions will be made in U.S. dollars, unless otherwise permitted by the General Partner.

16.18. Effective Date. Notwithstanding the date of execution of this Agreement, each of the parties agrees that their respective rights, duties and obligations pursuant to this Agreement shall have effect from the Effective Date, as between the parties and the parties agree to account to each other accordingly.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Agreement to be executed as of the day and year first above written.

MANAGEMENT AGREEMENT

This AMENDED AND RESTATED MANAGEMENT AGREEMENT (this “Agreement”) is entered into as of [ ], 2026 among HarbourVest Partners L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Management Company”), HarbourVest GP LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the “General Partner”), and HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Fund L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Partnership”) and amends and restates in its entirety the Management Agreement among the Management Company, the General Partner and the Partnership dated March 13, 2026. All capitalized terms not defined herein shall have the meanings set forth in the Partnership Agreement (defined below).

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, the Partnership has been formed to make investments in accordance with the Second Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership, dated as of [ ], 2026, as amended from time to time (the “Partnership Agreement”);

WHEREAS, the Partnership desires to appoint the Management Company to provide portfolio management and administrative services for the Partnership; and

WHEREAS, the Management Company desires to render such services to the Partnership.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants hereinafter contained, the Partnership, the General Partner and the Management Company agree as follows:

1. Services and Duties.

(a) To the extent permitted under the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner hereby engages and delegates the powers of the General Partner to the Management Company, and the Management Company hereby agrees, as an independent contractor, to accept such delegation and to assist the General Partner in the performance of its duties under the Partnership Agreement. The duties of the Management Company, subject to the supervision of the General Partner and to the terms of the Partnership Agreement, shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following: (i) maintaining the books and records of the Partnership; (ii) providing office space to the Partnership and the General Partner; (iii) screening and evaluating promising investment proposals and submitting such proposals to the Partnership; (iv) assisting the General Partner in transactions in which the Partnership makes investments; and (v) monitoring the Portfolio Investments; in each case if and to the extent requested by the General Partner.

(b) It is expressly understood that the management and the conduct of the activities of the Partnership shall remain the sole responsibility of the General Partner and that all decisions relating to the selection and disposition of the Partnership's investments shall be made exclusively by the General Partner.

(c) In discharging any of its duties under this Agreement, the Management Company may utilize the services of attorneys, accountants, consultants, investment bankers, brokers, appraisers and others.

(d) The general partner of the Management Company is registered as an investment adviser under the Advisers Act and the General Partner, on behalf of the Partnership, acknowledges that the books and records of the Partnership may be viewed by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") as books and records of the general partner of the Management Company and subject to examination by the SEC. The General Partner, on behalf of the Partnership, also acknowledges that the Management Company may be required to provide the SEC and other regulatory bodies, including self-regulatory organizations, with copies of the Partnership's books and records and periodic reports concerning the affairs of the Partnership.

2. Management Fee. The Partnership shall pay the Management Company an annual management fee (the "Management Fee") as set forth in the Partnership Agreement.

3. Management Company Expenses; Partnership Expenses.

(a) During the term of the Partnership, the Management Company or its designee shall bear and pay the cost of all of the following management expenses ("Management Company Expenses"):

(i) subject to the last sentence in this Section 3(a), payroll and other costs of management, administrative and clerical personnel, including but not limited to, salaries, wages, payroll taxes, bonuses, cost of employee benefit plans and temporary office help expense;

(ii) insurance premiums and fees (except for premiums or fees for directors' and officers' liability insurance and other insurance protecting the Partnership or any Indemnitee from liabilities in connection with the affairs of the Partnership);

(iii) rent, utilities, telephone, office supplies and other office expenses; and

(iv) other similar routine administrative expenses.

Notwithstanding, the foregoing, Management Company Expenses will not include expenses associated with Insourced Services (defined below) and expenses described in Section 3(b)(xv).

(b) Except as herein expressly otherwise provided, the Partnership shall bear and pay its share of all reasonable expenses of the Fund (“Partnership Expenses”) including, without limitation, the following:

(i) the Partnership’s share of all Organizational Expenses;

(ii) legal, accounting, regulatory (including expenses incurred in connection with certain filings and registrations), compliance, administrator, consulting (including expert network and media consultants), valuation, custodial, depository, auditing (including fees charged by an independent auditor in connection with in-kind subscriptions or redemptions), costs associated with any regulatory audit, investigation, settlement or review of any entity of the fund, costs incurred with any action, suit or proceeding of any kind of nature, transfer agency, third-party director, administrator and Limited Partner onboarding and servicing, banking and other external professional fees and expenses, but excluding, for the avoidance of doubt, the costs of the Management Company’s and its Affiliates’ general compliance with the Advisers Act, such as preparation and updating of Form ADV;

(iii) out-of-pocket costs of evaluating and sourcing potential Portfolio Investments (whether consummated or unconsummated) or Temporary Investments (including expenses related to meetings or conferences hosted or attended by the Management Company, its Affiliates or any of their respective employees to source investments, attendance at industry conferences and trade association memberships, and, in the case of unconsummated investments, broken-deal expenses, including break-up fees) and of making, monitoring, holding or selling Portfolio Investments (including, without limitation, expenses relating to risk assessment, due diligence or ongoing monitoring of potential and existing Portfolio Investments, including the environmental, social and governance risks related thereto) and Temporary Investments, including expenses related to the organization, maintenance or dissolution of any entity (including intermediate entities) used to acquire, hold or dispose of any Portfolio Investment or otherwise facilitate the Fund’s investment activities, record-keeping expenses, travel, hotel accommodations, meals and entertainment expenses (collectively, “Travel Expenses,” and which include expenses for first class or equivalent travel and have in the past and may in the future include the cost of non-commercial air travel), consulting fees and expenses and any finders, placement, brokerage or other similar fees and expenses;

(iv) expenses associated with the preparation of the Fund’s financial statements and tax returns, and the representation of the Fund or the Partners in tax matters and preparation of tax forms and the Fund’s Information Reporting Regime compliance;

(v) out-of-pocket costs (including Travel Expenses) of meeting with and reporting to the Limited Partners, including expenses incurred in connection with the Fund's periodic and annual meetings (including Travel Expenses of the representatives of Limited Partners, employees of the Management Company or its Affiliates, speakers and vendors);

(vi) except as otherwise provided in Section 5.3 of the Partnership Agreement, any taxes, fees or other governmental charges levied against the Fund or its income or assets or in connection with its business or operations;

(vii) Independent Directors' compensation and expenses, including expenses relating to the meetings and activities of the Board (including venue, food and beverage, travel and accommodation expenses (and any cancellation fees associated with any of the foregoing)), and fees, costs and expenses associated with any legal counsel or other third-party service providers, or advisors retained by, at the direction of or for the benefit of the Board);

(viii) costs and expenses (including any legal or other professional expenses) incurred in connection with the formation and operation of the General Partner;

(ix) the Management Fee and the Incentive Fee;

(x) interest on, and fees and expenses related to or arising from, any incurrence of indebtedness, including any credit facilities (or guarantees of indebtedness) or hedging activities of the Fund;

(xi) premiums or fees for directors' and officers' liability insurance and other insurance protecting the Fund or any Indemnitee from liabilities in connection with the affairs of the Fund;

(xii) expenses incurred in connection with complying with provisions in side letters;

(xiii) fees paid to locally licensed intermediaries or distributors required to be engaged as a result of one or more Limited Partners or limited partners of the Parallel Funds (or any feeder fund of the Partnership or a Parallel Fund) being domiciled in, or otherwise affiliated with, a particular jurisdiction;

(xiv) amounts charged to the Fund for certain reporting, legal, tax, valuation, accounting and general administrative services provided by employees of the Management Company or its affiliates in connection with the Fund's operations, including, but not limited to, services related to maintaining capital accounts and other books and records, preparing and issuing financial statements, reports and statements, annual audits, compliance with tax matters, conducting anti-money laundering, sanctions and anti-corruption related due diligence, monitoring and administration with respect to investors in connection with their investment in the Fund and the Fund's investments, preparation and delivery of capital call and distribution notices, other periodic and episodic investor communications and notices, portfolio reporting and similar investor services and treasury services ("Inourced Services");

(xv) the Fund's allocable share of salaries, wages, payroll taxes, bonuses and cost of employee benefit plans for employees of the Management Company and its Affiliates (collectively, "Employee Expenses") providing legal, compliance (including, without limitation, know-your-investment, anti-money laundering, sanctions and anti-corruption related due diligence) or tax advisory or tax structuring services in connection with the Fund's portfolio investments, including the execution, ongoing monitoring, holding and disposition of portfolio investments, where the Fund would otherwise bear any external fees, costs and expenses for such services as pursuant to Section 3(b);

(xvi) fees, costs and expenses (including the costs of any professional service providers) related to procuring, developing, implementing, maintaining, updating or transitioning information technology, data subscription and license-based services, research publications, hardware/software and other technology fees, costs and expenses relating to researching, identifying, investigating (and conducting due diligence with respect to), evaluating, monitoring, valuing, or obtaining market data in respect of, potential or existing portfolio investments (including license fees and maintenance costs for workflow technology that facilitates the closing of investments), managing allocations of investments between the Fund and Other HarbourVest Entities and accounts, investor reporting (including costs relating to the provision of access to such information and other Limited Partner communications, including through a web portal), regulatory compliance, the monitoring and administration of indebtedness, hedging activities and treasury activities and other activities of, and services provided to, the Fund as described in this Section 3(b), including the Employee Expenses of HarbourVest IT professional personnel engaged in such services;

(xviii) expenses relating to ongoing administrative, governance and compliance services necessary for the operation of the Fund (including, without limitation, expenses relating to the preparation and filing of Form PF, Exchange Act reports, filings (including tender offer filings) and registration statements (including Form 10), reports and notices to be filed with the U.S. Commodity

Futures Trading Commission, reports, filings, disclosures and notices prepared in connection with the laws and/or regulations of jurisdictions in which the Fund engages in activities and any related regulations, or the laws and/or regulations of jurisdictions in which the Partnership engages in activities and/or any other regulatory filings, notices or disclosures of the Management Company and/or its affiliates relating to the Fund and their activities, and preparing materials and coordinating meetings of the Board of Directors; and

(xix) all other costs and expenses of the Fund, the Management Company or its Affiliates in connection with the Partnership Agreement other than Management Company Expenses, such as costs of litigation or other matters that are the subject of indemnification pursuant to Article 8 of the Partnership Agreement and costs of winding-up and liquidating the Fund; and

(xx) in the case of each of the foregoing items in clauses (i) through (xix) above, all similar items in connection with any Alternative Vehicles, Portfolio Entities, or other entities in which or through which the Fund invests, to the extent not borne by such entities.

“Organizational Expenses” means all fees, costs and out-of-pocket expenses (including any legal and other professional fees and expenses and platform fees and expenses paid to placement agents and other financial intermediaries reimbursed or otherwise borne by the Fund) incurred by the Fund, the Management Company or its affiliates in connection with the formation of, and direct and indirect offering and distribution of interests in, the Fund (including all or a portion of such amounts in respect of the Fund and the development, formation and operation of investment vehicles (including, for the avoidance of doubt, actual or prospective feeder vehicles even if any such feeder vehicle does not admit investors) established to facilitate the investment by certain investors indirectly in the Fund, as well as master funds in which the Partnership or a Parallel Fund invests as a feeder fund or other vehicles through which the Partnership or a Parallel Fund makes or holds investments) and the respective general partners or equivalent (if not a partnership) of such entities, the incorporation and registration of such entities, related regulatory filings (such as Form PF and others), any related taxes, the offering and distribution of the interests therein (including jurisdictional legal and tax advice, preparation of disclosures, notifications, translations, publications (including without limitation on a website for regulatory, commercial or other purposes) and registrations for marketing required in various jurisdictions and for certain investors, negotiation of distribution arrangements, any cost relating to the initial seed asset contribution (including without limitation, advice, structuring and the cost of issuing a valuation report), for the avoidance of doubt, out-of-pocket costs and expenses (including without limitation, Travel Expenses) related to meeting with prospective and actual Limited Partners or distributors or placement agents.

Certain or all Organizational Expenses may be amortized, in the General Partner's sole and absolute discretion, for up to a 60-month period beginning from the Initial Closing Date for purposes of calculating the Fund's Net Asset Value, although U.S. generally accepted accounting principles require organizational expenses to be expensed when incurred.

Partnership Expenses may be aggregated and allocated between the Partnership and the Parallel Funds based on the relative Net Asset Value of the Partnership and each Parallel Fund, respectively, at the time of such allocation, unless the General Partner determines in good faith that a different share is appropriate. Partnership Expenses allocated to the Partnership will generally be borne by the Partners pro rata based on Percentage Interests, unless the General Partner determines in good faith that a different share is appropriate.

(c) To the extent that the Management Company or its Affiliates (i) pays or otherwise bears the costs of any Partnership Expenses or (ii) advances amounts to the Partnership on a temporary basis pursuant to Section 6.1 of the Partnership Agreement, the Partnership shall reimburse the Management Company or such Affiliate for the same.

4. Duration and Termination. This Agreement may be terminated (a) by the Partnership at any time after 90 days' written notice to the Management Company without the payment of any penalty by the General Partner or the Partnership, (b) by the Management Company after 90 days' written notice to the General Partner, without the payment of any penalty by the Management Company, or (c) by the Management Company or the Partnership immediately upon notice to the other, without payment of penalty by the Management Company or the Partnership, as the case may be, if the General Partner for any reason is no longer the general partner of the Partnership. Upon termination of this Agreement, the Management Company shall repay to the Partnership or to a replacement manager, as directed by the General Partner, the unearned portion (computed on the basis of the number of days elapsed), if any, of any Management Fees previously paid to the Management Company.

5. Miscellaneous.

(a) Services Not Exclusive. The services of the Management Company are not exclusive to the General Partner and the Partnership. The Management Company and any partner, employee or agent of the Management Company may, to the extent not prohibited by the Partnership Agreement, render similar services to others and engage in additional activities so long as the Management Company performs its obligations hereunder. The Management Company may give advice and take action with respect to other funds or clients, or for its own account, that may differ from the advice or the timing or nature of action taken with respect to the Partnership.

(b) Applicable Law. THIS AGREEMENT AND THE RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS OF THE PARTIES HEREUNDER SHALL BE GOVERNED BY AND CONSTRUED AND ENFORCED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE APPLICABLE TO AGREEMENTS MADE AND TO BE PERFORMED WHOLLY WITHIN THAT JURISDICTION; provided, however, that

nothing contained in this Agreement shall be construed in any manner as inconsistent with the Advisers Act. Each of the parties hereto agrees (i) that this Agreement involves at least $100,000.00, and (ii) that this Agreement has been entered into by the parties hereto in express reliance upon 6 Del. C. § 2708. Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably and unconditionally confirms and agrees (A) that it is and shall continue to be subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of the State of Delaware and of the federal courts sitting in the State of Delaware, and (B) that, to the fullest extent permitted by law, service of process may be made on such party by prepaid certified mail with a proof of mailing receipt validated by the U.S. Postal Service constituting evidence of valid service, and that, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, service made pursuant to this clause (B) shall have the same legal force and effect as if served upon such party personally within the State of Delaware.

(c) Successors and Assignees. To the fullest extent permitted by law, no assignment (as such term is defined in the Advisers Act) of this Agreement may be made by any party to this Agreement without the prior consent of the other parties hereto. Subject to the foregoing, this Agreement shall be binding upon the parties and their respective successors and permitted assignees. The Management Company shall notify the Partnership of any change in the members of the general partner of the Management Company within a reasonable time after such change.

(d) Severability. Every term and provision of this Agreement is intended to be severable. If any term or provision hereof is illegal or invalid for any reason whatsoever, such term or provision will be enforced to the maximum extent permitted by law and, in any event, such illegality or invalidity shall not affect the validity of the remainder of this Agreement.

(e) Entire Agreement. This Agreement and the Partnership Agreement constitute the entire agreement among the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes any prior agreement or understanding among them with respect to such subject matter.

(f) Headings. The headings of the sections of this Agreement are inserted for convenience only and shall not be deemed to constitute a part hereof or affect the interpretation thereof.

(g) Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original and all of which taken together shall constitute a single agreement.

(h) Waiver. No waiver of the provisions of this Agreement shall be valid unless in writing and signed by the party to be bound. To the fullest extent permitted by law, no failure or delay by any party in exercising any right or remedy hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof, and a waiver of a particular right or remedy on one occasion shall not be deemed a waiver of any other right or remedy or a waiver on any subsequent occasion.

(i) Conflicts. The Partnership Agreement shall govern in the event of any conflict, ambiguity or inconsistency between this Agreement and the Partnership Agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Agreement to be executed by their respective representatives hereunto duly authorized as of the date first above written.

REDEMPTIONS

The General Partner currently expects to redeem Units as of the first Business Day of each calendar quarter, with economic effect as of the first calendar day of such quarter (each, a "Redemption Date"), using a purchase price equal to the Net Asset Value per Unit of the applicable Class (the "Redemption Price") as of the last Business Day of the immediately preceding calendar quarter, or on such other date as the General Partner may determine (the "Valuation Date"); provided, the total amount of Units permitted to be redeemed per calendar quarter will generally be limited to no more than 5% of the aggregate Net Asset Value of the Partnership and the Parallel Funds, measured as of the last Business Day of the calendar quarter immediately preceding the Valuation Date (the "Fund-Level Limit"). For example, for a Redemption Date of July 1, the Valuation Date would be June 30, and the Fund-Level Limit would be measured on March 31.

In order to request a redemption of Units on a Redemption Date, a Limited Partner must submit a request to the General Partner in a form provided by the General Partner on or before the close of business 20 Business Days prior to the applicable Valuation Date (the "Redemption Notice Deadline"), unless such deadline is waived by the General Partner; provided, that Units redeemed on a Redemption Date that is within 12 months of the purchase date of such Units will be subject to the Early Redemption Fee (as defined below). Limited Partners will not know the applicable Redemption Price until after the Redemption Notice Deadline. If a redemption request is received after the Redemption Notice Deadline of the applicable calendar quarter, the redemption request generally will not be accepted, and if a Limited Partner still wishes to have its Units redeemed, must be resubmitted by the next quarterly Redemption Notice Deadline.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Partnership does not expect to make redemptions of its Units until after the 12-month anniversary of the Partnership's Initial Closing Date (excluding, for the avoidance of doubt, Units that have been issued to Other HarbourVest Entities and Seed Investors that have been admitted to the Partnership as Limited Partners). In addition, without the consent of the Independent Directors, Class P Units may not be redeemed prior to the tenth anniversary of the Trade Date on which such Class P Units were issued. Redemptions of Class P Units will not be subject to, or included in the calculation of, the redemption restrictions applicable to other Units.

If a Limited Partner has made multiple purchases of the Partnership's Units, any redemption request will be processed on a first in/first out basis.

Redemption Limitations

Subject to limited exceptions, requests for redemption are subject to an early redemption fee, for the benefit of the Partnership, of up to 5% of the applicable Redemption Price if Units are redeemed within 12 months of the purchase date of such Units (the "Early Redemption Fee"). The General Partner may, from time to time, waive or reduce the Early Redemption Fee in its discretion, including without limitation in the case of redemptions resulting from death, qualifying disability or divorce, in the case of redemptions arising from the rebalancing of a model portfolio sponsored by a financial intermediary, in the case of redemptions requested by Other HarbourVest Entities, trade or operational errors and in certain other circumstances. The Early Redemption Fee will not apply to Units acquired through the Partnership's distribution reinvestment plan, if any.

The Partnership will have no obligation to redeem Units, including if the redemption would violate the restrictions on distributions under U.S. federal law, Delaware law, Cayman Islands law or any other applicable law. Further, the General Partner is permitted to make exceptions to, modify, or suspend redemptions at any time if, in its reasonable judgment it deems such action to be in the Partnership's best interest, including, but not limited to, for tax, regulatory or other structuring reasons.

If the Fund-Level Limit described above is reached in any particular calendar quarter or the General Partner determines to redeem some but not all of the Units submitted for redemption during any quarter, Units submitted for redemption during such quarter will be redeemed on a pro rata basis after the Partnership has redeemed all Units for which redemption has been requested due to death, disability or divorce and other limited exceptions (including, without limitation, a full redemption to prevent a Limited Partner from maintaining an account balance of less than the applicable Minimum Account Balance (defined below)). Unsatisfied redemption requests will not be automatically carried over to the next redemption period and, in order for a redemption request to be reconsidered, Limited Partners must resubmit their redemption request before the next Redemption Notice Deadline.

As described in the Partnership's confidential private offering memorandum, Units held by the Management Company acquired as payment of the Management Fee or Incentive Fee may be redeemed at the Management Company's request and will not be subject to the Fund-Level Limit or the Early Redemption Fee described herein.

Minimum Account Redemptions

A Limited Partner will be required to maintain a minimum account balance equal to the minimum initial subscription for the applicable Class of Units (the "Minimum Account Balance"). Such Minimum Account Balance requirement may be waived by the General Partner, in its sole discretion. If such requirement is not waived by the General Partner, to the extent a redemption of some, but not all of a Limited Partner's Units would cause such Limited Partner to maintain an account balance of less than the applicable Minimum Account Balance, the Partnership may redeem all of the Limited Partner's Units. To the extent a Limited Partner seeks to redeem all of the Units it owns and the Partnership redeems less than the full amount of Units that the Limited Partner requests to redeem, the Limited Partner may maintain a balance of Units of less than the Minimum Account Balance following such redemption.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds

The Partnership expects to provide payment with respect to at least 95% of the redemption proceeds within ten Business Days of the Net Asset Value publication date (which is expected to be within twenty Business Days after the applicable Valuation Date), but may hold back up to 5% of redemption proceeds until after the Partnership's year-end audit. Any such proceeds that are held back generally will be paid no later than two (2) Business Days after the annual audit of the Partnership's financial statements for the fiscal year in which the applicable redemption is effected is made available to Limited Partners. However, there will be a substantial period of time between the Redemption Notice Deadline and the date Limited Partners can expect to receive payment for their Units from the Partnership. Limited Partners whose Units are redeemed bear the risk that the Partnership's Net Asset Value may fluctuate significantly between the Redemption Notice Deadline on which they submit their redemption requests and the date as of which such Units are valued for purposes of such redemptions.

The Partnership may fund redemption requests from sources other than cash flow from operations, including, without limitation, borrowings of the Aggregating Partnership, offering proceeds and the sale of its assets, and the Partnership has no limits on the amounts it may fund from such sources. In an effort to have adequate cash available to support redemptions, the Aggregating Partnership may reserve borrowing capacity under an unsecured line of credit with a third party, HarbourVest or one of its affiliates. The Aggregating Partnership could then elect to borrow against this line of credit in part to redeem Units presented for redemption during periods when the Partnership does not have sufficient proceeds from operating cash flows or the sale of Units in this continuous offering to fund all redemption requests. If the Aggregating Partnership determines to obtain a line of credit, the Aggregating Partnership expects that it would afford the Aggregating Partnership borrowing availability to fund redemptions.

The Partnership is permitted to satisfy in kind the payment of the redemption amount to any Limited Partner who requests it by allocating to the Limited Partner investments from the portfolio of assets of the Partnership equal to the value of the Units to be redeemed. The assets to be transferred in such case shall be determined on a fair and reasonable basis as determined by the General Partner, and may result in a distribution of a particular asset on a non-pro rata basis. All costs associated with a redemption in kind, including the costs of issuing a valuation report, shall be borne by the Limited Partner requesting the redemption.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

HarbourVest Partners L.P. (the “Management Company”) hereby agrees, with respect to HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Fund L.P., HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Delaware Parallel Fund L.P., HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Cayman Parallel Fund L.P., HarbourVest Private Equity Secondaries Fund (TE) L.P., and any additional Parallel Funds or Feeder Funds (collectively, the “Fund”), until March 31, 2027, unless extended pursuant hereto, (the “Limitation Period”), to waive fees that it would otherwise be paid, and/or to assume or reimburse expenses of the Fund, if required to ensure that certain Fund Expenses (excluding the Management Fee, Incentive Fee, any Servicing Fees and/or Subscription Fees, interest, taxes, brokerage commissions, fees and expenses charged to the Fund by Investments, dividend and interest expenses relating to short sales, borrowing costs, merger or reorganization expenses, unitholder meetings expenses, litigation expenses, expenses associated with the acquisition and disposition of investments (including (i) with respect to unconsummated transactions, and (ii) interest and structuring costs for borrowings and line(s) of credit), expenses related to the winding up and liquidation of the Fund, if applicable, certain insurance costs, and extraordinary expenses, if any; collectively, the “Excluded Expenses”) do not exceed 0.75% per annum of the Fund’s net asset value (“NAV”) calculated as of the last day of each month for each class of Units. The annual rate of 0.75% shall be calculated on a monthly basis by dividing 0.75% by 365 and multiplying the resulting daily rate by the actual number of days in the applicable month. Any waiver of fees or assumption or reimbursement of expenses by the Management Company under this Agreement shall be allocated among the Parallel Funds and Feeder Funds as reasonably determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion. Capitalized terms used but not defined herein have the meanings ascribed to them in the Fund’s confidential private placement memorandum.

With respect to each class of Units, the Fund agrees to repay the Management Company any fees waived or expenses assumed or reimbursed under this agreement (this “Agreement”) for such class of Units, provided the repayments do not cause Fund Expenses (excluding Excluded Expenses) for that class of Units to exceed the expense limitation in place at the time the fees were waived and/or the expenses were assumed or reimbursed, or the expense limitation in place at the time the Fund repays the Management Company, whichever is lower. Any such repayments must be made within thirty-six months after the month in which the Management Company waived the fee or assumed or reimbursed the expense. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, this paragraph shall survive any termination of this Agreement with respect to any fees waived or expenses assumed or reimbursed under this Agreement that have not been repaid by the Fund to the Management Company.

This Agreement will be governed by, construed under and interpreted and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of New York, without regard to principles of conflicts of laws of any jurisdiction to the contrary. The parties unconditionally and irrevocably consent to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts located in the State of New York and waive any objection with respect thereto, for the purpose of any action, suit or proceeding arising out of or relating to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby.

Any amendment to this Agreement shall be in writing signed by the parties hereto. This Agreement may not be terminated by the Management Company prior to the expiration of the Limitation Period without the consent of the Board. This Agreement supersedes any prior agreement with respect to the subject matter hereof.

The Management Company may extend the Limitation Period for a period of one year on an annual basis, subject to approval of the General Partner after the initial Limitation Period expires.

If you are in agreement with the foregoing, please sign the form of acceptance on the enclosed counterpart hereof and return the same to us.

Very truly yours,
